Your Carriage or Wagon Axles Repaired
so that the Wheels will run as well as when new.

WHEN the Wheel of a Carriage or Wagon has too much play on the axle, the axle should be shortened so as to stop the disagreeable rattling and wobbling of the wheels. Have the undersigned examine your vehicle and he will inform you of the cost of putting the running gear in first-class order and explain the workings of the machine. All work full satisfactory or no pay.
We have an invention by which we can take the dish out of a wheel and make them as true as ever and for a very small price.

POWERS ARE READY

To Stop the War When Either Turk or Greek Says "Enough"—Turkey Has the Worst of It So Far.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary Sherman has received a brief cablegram from Minister Terrell at Constantinople, under date of yesterday, stating that Osman Pasha, the old hero of the Turkish defense at Plevna, left Constantinople last night to assume command of the Turkish army in the field. The cablegram is regarded here as significant of some change of plans on the part of the Turks.

RUMOR OF ARMISTICE.

Berlin, April 23.—Business on the bourse here today improved on the rumor that an armistice between the Greeks and Turks was being arranged.

NATIVE GREEKS.

Niagara Falls, April 23.—Nine native Greeks passed through this city en route from Minneapolis to New York on their way home to take part in the war against the Turks. A party of fifty passed through from Chicago today.

HELD BY TURKS.

Berlin, April 23.—A telegram received from Constantinople says that while it is true that the town of Prevesa has been partially destroyed by the guns of the Greek warships and those of a battery which the Greeks erected, the town of Prevesa is not damaged and is still held by the Turks.

TURKISH DEFEAT.

Berlin, April 23.—The Frankfurt Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Constantinople, dated midnight Thursday, saying that the news of the Turkish defeat in Greece has just reached that city. The dispatch adds that Osman Pasha, the hero of Plevna, has been dispatched to the frontier.

AGAINST THE GREEKS.

London, April 23.—According to a special dispatch from Athens, fighting has occurred in the olive groves near Prevesa between the Turks and native Christians. The Greek forces, it is added, while on their way to Filipada passed a number of charred corpses.

The inhabitants of Lakka and Samarina have risen against the Greeks and have welcomed the Turks with enthusiasm.

WESTERN SQUADRON.

Corfu, April 23.—The western Greek squadron of warships has suspended the bombardment of Prevesa, the Turkish position north of the entrance of the gulf of Arta, and left this morning for Santi Quaranta. On arrival there the war vessels began bombarding the Turkish blockhouse.

POWERS ARE AGREED.

Brussels, April 23.—Le Nord today announces that all the powers have given their adhesion to the note of the Russian minister of foreign affairs, Count Mouravieff, assuring the Greeks and Turks of the friendly interference of the powers in the present struggle so soon as asked for by either side.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Clarence B. Douglas in an Interview Talks of the Situation at the National Capital.

Clarence B. Douglas, who left Atoka some three weeks ago for Washington city on important business connected with towasite matters, returned to this city Friday evening. Mr. Douglas' business in Washington city was before the interior and Indian departments, and he feels highly gratified with the result of his visit, as he believes his mission was an unqualified success. To an ARDMOREITE reporter yesterday he said:

"My opinion is, that the Dawes commission will be re-organized to a certain extent, and the indications are that Mr. Needles of Illinois, is a certainty as the successor of one of the present incumbents. Mr. Flynn is also regarded by the knowing ones as certain for a place on the commission. Just who of the present incumbents will remain is a matter of some uncertainty. The congressional and senatorial friends of Mr. Cabiness, in an interview with the secretary, requested his retention as a member of the commission. However, this was not done until after his resignation had been asked for and the matter thus disposed of. I am of the opinion," said Mr. Douglas, "that General Armstrong will be continued. His long and efficient official service in the Indian department has made for him a very bright record indeed, in Washington city among the officials. He is regarded by them in fact as an expert on all matters pertaining to Indian legislation, and it is very probable that he will not be removed.

"I had a very pleasant interview with the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of Indian affairs and the assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, during which the situation in the Indian Territory was discussed at considerable length. They all seemed to agree that the present conditions should be changed, and that as speedily as possible.

"The Indian appropriation bill, as you know, was amended in the senate, with a provision for two additional judges. This amendment was disagreed to by the house as a whole, before the conferees from the house were appointed."

Speaking of the political situation, Mr. Douglas said: "There seems to be absolutely no opposition whatever to the appointment of Messrs. Hammer, Campbell, Johnson and Humphreys to the respective positions for which they are applicants, local rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. In fact, none of them have opposition, except Capt. Hammer, who is opposed by Mr. John Coyle. Mr. Coyle at one time withdrew from the race, promising to support Capt. Hammer for the position, but has reconsidered the matter and is now an applicant, with very little chance for success.

"I do not believe removals will be made in the Indian Territory until after the passage of the tariff, as just at the present time the administration is not offending any of the gentlemen who happen to be in the United States senate. All of the votes possible to count will be necessary at that end of the capital when the tariff bill comes up for final action. When this bill does pass, however, I believe, as does most everyone who has been on the ground and considered the situation, that changes will be made from chief justice to jail guard. Personalities will not, I think, enter very largely into this fight. The mere fact that the democratic party has had control of the official patronage of this territory for four years being considered a sufficient reason why they should be succeeded by republicans."

Speaking of the treaty just signed by the Dawes and Indian commissions, at Atoka, Mr. Douglas said: "It is simply a command to throw up your hands and stand and deliver to the owners of the town-site, and a request to the farmer to 'get off the earth.' I believe that where a man has annually paid a tax to the Indian government of more than double the value of the lot which he now occupies, where he has expressed a willingness to pay from twenty-five to three hundred times its original value to get the title and bring about a settlement of the panicky conditions that exist, that he is then doing more than justice would demand of him. The proposition to make them pay at the rate, for instance in Ardmore, of $62.50 a front foot for land worth originally $1.25 an acre, is absurd in the extreme. If the proper representations are made, no member of congress, familiar with the situation, will countenance such a high-handed proceeding. It is a case of fight. We have got some force and some power, and we can use it where it will do a great deal of good. Every man who is opposed to having his possessions absolutely confiscated will when the time comes line up and make that power felt."

Mr. Douglas is looking well and enjoyed his trip very much.
