Towel and Table Cloth.

I will continue this week to supply you with Towel and Table Cloth bargains, and 30c, 35c and 42 1/2c will buy the fine bleached Linen Damask, 58, 62 and 74 inches wide.

And better, larger, finer and more Towels, both Linen and Cotton, will be shown this week than ever before. The former advertised prices will hold good.

Making it one of the busiest weeks for the Cashier and Salespeople since the great bargain attraction was inaugurated March 1st. Familiar faces and dozens of new, appreciative patrons were to be found dally in my store, using their good judgment and spending their good money, knowing that more than value received was obtained with every purchase.

The only drawback to the most successful week of my Sale was the absence of many staple articles that had become exhausted, and the only disappointed ones were those who came for some special, particular article desired --at Fire Sale price. The goods most frequently called for were Ladies', Misses' and Children's Slippers and Shoes. We now have them.

tment was more liberally patronized and went down faster than the Towel, Table Linen and White Goods counters, including the quick selling values in Sheetings, bleach Muslins, Embroideries and Laces, white Lawns and India Linens.

Slippers and Shoes.

The stylish, wearable, durable, up to date kind. I now have them.

Every pair a good one and a beauty. All toes, all lasts, all shapes heels, toes and tops, plain and fancy, to please the most fastidious and exacting buyer. I did not buy them to make money, nor do I sell them at a profit. They are given at actual cost price. That means much to you. Investigate.

India Linens.

These lines were rapidly diminished, yet you will find Monday and all next week every vacancy in pattern, style or value replenished and filled to overflowing, with the prices made even a shade lower than last week. Investigate this also.

A Large Order

For Ladies', Misses' and Children's Trimmed Hats was countermanded and ordered "don't ship" several weeks ago. They are here, however, and I own them, at my own price, too. They are stylishly trimmed and fine goods—too fine to be shown in my present smoked and smutty surrounding. Ladies, you will find nothing to criticize or object to in this line of Millinery but the ridiculously low prices asked for them. They must be sold this week.

No Man Has Been So Selfish or Bold

As to ask one penny off of any Suit, Trousers, Shirts, Hats or Underwear. Their only request was to "Please find my size." Toward the end of the week many sizes were sold out, but the tables are cleared and ready for about 75 dozen more of the following:

30 dozen Men's Pants costing from $1.25 to $2.50 a pair.

5 dozen (60) Men's Suits; maker's cost $4.87 to $8.50.

25 dozen more Shirts and find Underwear, same as described last week, and priced 34c and 44c.

15 dozen Men's and Boys' Hats, all grades and styles. If half value price is appreciated come and see these goods. You may price elsewhere, price anywhere; you will buy here.

Ridiculously Absurd, but True.

Children's Shoes.....15c and 25c
Men's Hats—good ones.....35c
