ARDMORE, THURSDAY, SEPT. 17.

New Jersey is the state where they have monopolies, trusts and other things.

An electric vehicle company has failed for five million dollars. This is a lesson to the stockholders.

South McAlester is now a town of night with electric lights. Ardmore will soon have the moon's pale rays.
That's all.

Not knowing when they have enough, the six plate workmen have decided to withdraw from the Amalgamated Association and continue the fight.

President Roosevelt has announced that George B. Condit, who served President McKinley as secretary, will be temporarily retained in that position.

A pointed look is traceable about the eyes of the vagrant and leader. To him it begins to look as if he had one of two things to do—go on the public streets or to the cotton patch.

Some Oklahoma papers are of the opinion that some changes in Oklahoma officials will take place within three months, due to Mr. Roosevelt's ascendancy.

At the request of Mrs. McKinley the funeral arrangements of the dead president have been changed so that the body will reach Canton Wednesday and lie in state there Wednesday night.

"Fool's gold," or pyrites of iron, is causing the filing of many mineral claims in the Kiowa country. A large mountain of it would be worth about a cent if there was any market for it, but there isn't.

It is predicted that there will be a general breaking up of political combinations as a result of Roosevelt's accession to the presidency. Senators Hanna and Platt are likely to suffer in loss of prestige.

In twenty years there have been 3129 lynchings in the United States.
How many legal hangings have taken place in the same time? Had there been more of the latter the former would have been fewer in number.

The claim that there are good and bad anarchists reminds the people of the same reference to the trusts. The fact is that both anarchists and trusts are inevitable, and the government should proceed to control them, both.

Any anarchist who may contemplate an attack upon the life of the man who is now president of the United States will stop and think several times, when he finds out how Teddy dealt with some bad men among the cowboys of the West.

Settlement of the steel strike is not satisfactory. It is said, to some of the men involved and they threaten not to return to work. They are, it is asserted planning to organize an independent line and continue the struggle in their own behalf, which we feel safe in saying is sheer madness.

The time given the Boats by Lord Kitchener to come in and surrender expired yesterday, but no news has been received of general haste on the part of the Transvaalers to quit the field. On the contrary they seem more determined than ever to fight on until the war ends for lack of warriors.

A Washington special says that the only hope the Indian Territory has for statehood is to be backed into Oklahoma piecemeal, the first nation being the Creek and then down in order through the Seminole, Choctaw, Chickasaw and winding up with the Cherokee. From this it would appear that the entire plan has been figured out by certain congressmen, and that all there is left to do is to say "thanks." However, there is one ray of sunlight in the proceeding. It may not be true.

OUR NEW PRESIDENT.

It is with the belief, not with the doubt, that the country now has to do, says the Fort Worth Register, Mc-Kinley is dead, but Roosevelt is President. The kind of President he will make is of more important concern to the people of the United States than questions of what McKinley would have done if he had been spared to fill out his term of office to which he was elected.

The new President is the youngest man to occupy that office in the history of our country. He is now in the forty-second year of his age. Before him, Grant was the youngest man in the office, but Grant was five years his senior at the time he was inaugurated. The question of what concern to the United States, and was immediately to the other nation of the world, is, what will be the character of the new administration?

Mr. Roosevelt is known to be a man of strong individuality, aggressive, and with a way of doing things to suit himself, without much respect for the advice of party leaders. He is known also to be an ardent supporter of the view that the United States must expand. More than McKinley does, he stands for the extension of our influence and action in the affairs of the outer world, casting behind him the old policy of looking after our home affairs and the affairs of our south American neighbors, and letting Europe and European interests alone.
Unless his new responsibility shall bring a graver and more subdued sense of statesmanship we are likely to see in the world that the new president's little finger is bigger than the index of McKinley.

What this may bring us to, is a matter beyond forecasting. With our mixing up in European politics, we are not likely to be without an opportunity for fighting or having down and Roosevelt is not the man to take down.

In home affairs we believe the new president will give the people a clean administration. He is a man of sound integrity, of a high political record, an ardent civil service reformer, and not afraid of the black politicians who look upon the president as merely a machine for the distribution of offices to men who have records as "party workers," with no thought of their duties. As a member of the national civil service commission, and as president of the board of Police Commissioners of New York City, he held to the policy of putting the best men in office and could not be controlled by the party bosses. Roosevelt the president promises to be as firm as was Roosevelt the civil service commissioner, police commissioner and governor.

But we do not expect the same hardly treatment of the South from the new president that we had from him who has been torn from us by an anarchist's bullet. His utterances and actions show him to be in sympathy with those Republicans who are moving to have Southern representation reduced in congress and in the electoral college because of laws passed by some of the Southern states striking individually at negro voters. Beyond question such a proposition will be brought up in the next congress. It was attempted in the last, and had strong adherents, but President McKinley was not friendly to it, and the effort fell through. With a president favoring such legislation, and men of such commanding influence as Hanna, Foraker, Hoar and other leaders, urgently pressing it, the South may as well prepare to have laws to act upon through congress and fewer votes in the election of a candidate, or change its laws to their bettering upon negro voters, and make both races equal at the ballot box at least as far as the written law can make them.

The new president will have a lot of heavy work to do, and a lot to do, and in that time he can do a great deal of good or of harm. We credit him with a sincere desire to do the best for his country, and the South will stand by him in every effort to that end.

Moved to the action by the assassination of President Carnot of France in 1894, Senator David B. Hill, then representing New York in the United States senate, proposed a bill for the exclusion of alien anarchists from this country. It also provided for the deportation of anarchists then in the country, who gave offense to the laws by their teachings. This bill passed the senate. When it got to the house it encountered the opposition of a few members of that class who are afraid to have a change made in the laws for fear that something will happen, and failed. Had such a law been in force, anarchists of the Goldman type could not have stayed here and taught murder, exciting such men as Coolsaet to crazy deeds. The men who cannot see any need of locking the stable door until a horse is stolen are well represented in congress.

The fact that your promises have not been visited by the night prowler is not a guarantee that they will not.
Keep your shotgun handy and shoot straight when he does call on you.

NOTORIOUS MILLER GANG.

Have Returned to Their Old Haunts in the Creek Nation.
The shooting of two men in the northwest part of the Creek Nation last week is being investigated by the officers and friends of the men that were wounded and it shows that one of the outlaw gangs that once made Indian Territory famous as the resort of the most desperate class of men in the world, has returned to their old haunts on Turkey Patch and has begun to settle scores with those who were instrumental in compelling them to leave this portion of the country and to find other places where they could be secure after committing their depravities.

The two men who were shot last week, Newt Carlisle and McElroy, are two of the men who were prominent in the movement in 1894 to compel the famous Miller and Trappett gangs to leave the country and in the fight that followed the determination of the settlers here at that time there were several of the Millers killed and the houses that they occupied were burned and a number of arrests were made that afterward resulted in one of the most famous trials in the criminal court presided over by Judge I. G. Parker at Ft. Smith which was the worst that had transpired over all of the Indian Territory at that time.

Turkey Patch, where the famous Tom Hall cave is located, is about 25 miles from Pawnee and twenty miles from Sapulpa, I. T., and it has been the retreat of outlaws since 1894 when the regulators in southern Kansas drove the Millers and other outlaw gangs from their section into the Indian Territory. They landed at Turkey Patch and began a series of petty theft among the Indians and settlers there that lasted for years and was ended because they realized their depravities to petty thieving and made their great crimes in other parts of the country.

The original gang of outlaws was remained at different times by the famous, the James boys, Doc Holliday, the Trappett gang and in later years Bill Austin, Scar Face Chavez and Old Cole, and their gangs made the country their retreat. Tom Hall cave is a small depression in the limestone rocks along the bed of the river and got its name because of the outlaw who called himself Tom Hall having put his name in the interior of the cave a great many years ago. This cave was the principal retreat of the criminals and on its walls the greatest of the old-time outlaws have left their names carved beside that of Tom Hall. Officers were at the cave this week and found signs of its recent occupation and the belief is current that Ben Craven has been making his headquarters there.

McElroy, who was shot, was a witness against the Strood bank robbers a few weeks ago and was also instrumental in the capture of several of the outlaws of the years around '90. He was sitting at his home Tuesday of last week when some miscreant stepped to the window of the room and fired a Winchester at him and the bullet plowed through his arm. The man fled and in an hour afterward arrived at the home of Newt Carlisle and there went to the window of the room in which Carlisle was sleeping and shot him in the side. Fortunately the bullet struck a rib and passed around the body and out without inflicting a fatal wound. Word was at once sent to the friends of the men and the officers and the investigation was begun that will end in the ridding of this section of these outlaws for the last time as they will all be arrested, or if they resist, as is probable, there will be several funerals that will have but few mourners in this section.

Marietta.
Special Corr. correspondance.

Marietta, I. T., Sept. 17.—The weather is cool and pleasant. Farmers are busy picking cotton and gathering corn. The majority of the farmers say that the cotton crop will be light here, but there crop made than expected.

There has been about 600 bales of cotton sold here to date.

Chas. D. Freeman has moved his place of business to the new brick building of J. C. Washington, on Main street.

The phone line by the way of Rat-Holder and Lebanon is not yet ready for use, but will be completed in a few days.

The seven-year-old son of B. H. As-

TUESDAY.

CHAGRIN.

Quite a norther came up last night about 8 o'clock, accompanied by a sand storm.

Several parties are hauling hay here from the Washington ranch.
Ginning is rather slow this week.

The cotton crop in this section will be about one-half as much as last year.

Reports were received here yesterday and also this morning that work on the Arkansas and Choctaw railroad would begin within the next two weeks between here and Cornish. The surveyed line of this road runs south of this place and north of Cornish, missing each town a few miles, but near Cornish than here.

MARLOW.

R. D. Gorse, the young man from Seymour, Tex., who was reported killed by an Alabamian at McKnight a few days ago, is not dead as was at first reported. He is badly injured, however, and is now under medical care at Fort Worth, to which place he was taken yesterday. Colonel Howie, who shot him, was formerly a prominent republican politician of Alabama, having resided at Dadeville, that state. Colonel Howie and a brother, who was present when the crime was committed, are now under arrest at Lawton.

Contractor Swiney, who has the contract for grading the Arkansas and Choctaw line from a point three miles east through this place five miles west, went out today to begin work on the eastern end of his contract.

A Bad Disease.

There is a certain disease that has come down to us through many centuries and is older than history itself, yet very few outside of those who have learned from bitter experience know anything of its nature or characteristics. At first a little ulcer or sore appears, then glands of the neck or groins swell; pimples break out on the breast, back or some other part of the body and fill with yellow pustular matter; the mouth and throat become sore and the tongue is at all times badly coated.
Headaches are frequent, and muscles and joints throb and hurt, especially during damp, rainy weather. These are some of the symptoms of that most loathsome of all diseases, Contagious Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison.

This strange poison does not affect all alike; some are literally eaten up with it within a short time after being inoculated, while others show but slight evidence of any taint for a long time after exposure, but its tendency in every case is to complete destruction of the physical system, sooner or later.
S. S. S. is a safe and infallible cure for this bad disease—the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures Contagious Blood Poison in every form and stage thoroughly and permanently. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other harmful materials, but is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1,000.00 reward for proof that it is not.

OUR MEDICAL DEPARTMENT. which was established years ago, is doing a noble work in relieving suffering. Give our physicians a short history of your case and get their advice. This will cost you nothing, and what you say will be held in strictest confidence. With their help and a copy of our book on Contagious Blood Poison, you can manage your own case and cure yourself at home.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely de-range the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces.
Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, and the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

H. C. Watkins, sexton of the Meth-was much better, and was completely

DR. MCKINLEY DIES SUDDENLY.

Distant Relative of the Late President.

Succumbs to Excitement.
Franklin, Pa., Sept. 16.—Late last night Dr. William McKinley, one of the best practicing physicians in this country, and a relative of the late president McKinley, was found dead at his home in Polk, a few miles from this city.

On Saturday Dr. McKinley was in Franklin and with much emotion discussed the shooting and death of the late president with friends here. He is of a highly nervous disposition and at different times during these discussions he became greatly excited over the assassination. In the evening he returned to Polk and a few hours after his arrival there his dead body was found by a member of his family, lying on the ground in the rear of his residence. The physicians who were summoned
brought on by the excitement of the day.

Doctor McKinley was one of the late president's warmest admirers in this section and he was deeply affected by the assassination. He was a graduate of the Baltimore Medical college and was 44 years of age.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Hough and Tar, it cured me, and I have not been troubled since. Bonner & Bonner."
