When the Fire Spreads

good resolutions among the uninsured are as numerous as the sparks that fly upward. But like the smoke, these resolutions die out with the fire and the next conflagration destroys a lot of uninsured property.

Why Not Insure Now?

tomorrow or the day after may be too late. There may be nothing to insure then.

A RIOT OVER FOOTBALL.

Sherman and McKinney Teams Mixup. Fourteen Men Injured.

McKinney, Tex., Oct. 26.—Fourteen men painfully bruised and five seriously beaten in the score of a football game in McKinney today.

The McKinney Y. M. C. A. team and the Sherman city team were on the gridiron and in the first rush the Sherman team handled the McKinney boys roughly. Two of the men got into a dispute that developed into a fight. Others joined in the affair and the fight became general. Two men were soon involved in a fist fight. Bystanders from both cities joined in the affair with clubs and several men were frightfully beaten. Police and deputies rushed in and after some time succeeded in quelling the riot. Roy Runnels and Mansfield of Sherman and Weeden, Franklin and Guy Rambo of McKinney were unconscious on the ground. Four others were badly beaten and bruised.

The sheriff arrested both teams and has them under guard awaiting trial tomorrow.

Rambo, Franklin, Runnels and Mansfield were taken to the hospital, where they will remain tonight. Runnels is in an unconscious condition.

When the crowd reached the police station the fight was renewed, but the officers stopped it before anybody was hurt.

TRIED TO KILL TURNER.

Frank Jones Cuts Him in Many Places With a Knife.

Yesterday morning Frank Jones was over on J. F. Turner's place, about eight miles northwest of Ardmore. Several other gentlemen were present, among them old man Grogen.

From some cause or other Jones and Grogen got to talking. Frank had out his knife and was making some demonstrations toward Grogen, as if to cut him.

Mr. Turner walked up and requested him not to do Mr. Grogen any harm, when Jones turned and remarked: "Maybe you want some of it, G—d d—n you." Mr. Turner told him no, that he did not want to have any difficulty with him, whereupon Jones remarked that he would give him some of it anyhow, and at the same time made a slash at him, cutting an ugly gash on the left cheek. Jones did not stop here, but kept up the assault, cutting him again across the forehead and again in the side, inflicting some ugly wounds.

Mr. Turner was in town this morning and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Jones, and told the Ardmoreite reported the above statement.

BEFORE JUDGE GALT.

Some Drunks, Some Otherwise—City's Exchequer Strengthened.

Several of the boys were up before Judge Galt this morning, most of whom were charged with being drunk. The judge felt his best as he sat at his desk and saw the boys come up and plead guilty, and best of all, they had the money to pay their fines.

Jim Rector, Jack Douglas and Dudley Slaughter all contributed $8.40 each. Joe White, who was charged with assault and battery, pleaded guilty and paid $8.15 in to the city treasury.

Ernest Thompson, a negro, who arrived in the city this morning at 12:25 and would have been allowed to continue his journey north had he been a little more particular as to his manner of riding on the train.

Passengers generally when they board a train go on the inside, but perhaps the coach was crowded when Ernest got on and he got on top. One of our city officers spied him as the train pulled into the depot, and thinking he might fall off, took him in charge, and for fear he might attempt it again locked him up for the night.

Ernest was taken before Judge Galt this morning and was told it was against the laws of this city for people to ride on the top of a train, and he would be required to donate $8.20 toward working our streets, etc., for such conduct. Ernest did not have the change so he asked permission to work it out on the streets, which was granted.

During the night some time, some of the inmates of the calaboose set fire to the same and hollered fire manfully, but the trash at their command was not sufficient to ignite the wall and the blaze fizzled out.

STOLE THE OLD MAN'S MONEY.

Cut a Hole Through the Wall to Get the Cash.

J. R. Rudd is an honest old man, and runs a little grocery about two miles south of Overbrook in the country. Many people come and patronize the old man and he is thus enabled to make a living for himself and family.

Mr. Rudd has no big iron safe in his house like some of our merchants—he hasn't even got a money drawer under the counter, but puts his money in a tin cup which he keeps sitting on a shelf near the rear wall.

Some one of his visitors who had not the fear of God about him, and who knew just where to locate the treasure, stole up to the store late Saturday night, and cutting a hole large enough to admit his hand and arm, reached in and took his money, cup and all.

An old whet-rock was found outside where he had sharpened his knife in order that the work might be expedited. Only a few dollars in small change was taken. No clue.

WOMAN'S STRANGE ACTIONS.

Some Thought They Were Shop Lifters—Their Short Stay.

Friday, when the northbound train passed Overbrook, two women boarded the train and came to Ardmore. One of them was an elderly looking woman, while the other was young and handsome. They were both dressed in black. We understand they were mother and daughter. Whether or not they did anything in Ardmore that was wrong we are not able to say, but from what we are told, their actions were certainly peculiar.

One Main street clerk said to the Ardmoreite reporter that he watched them go across the street and they seemed to have nothing with them, he noticed, however, a bulky package, as if something was hidden under the clothing. The woman stooped down in front of a store on the opposite side of the street and as she raised up had a package of goods in her arms. It is said when they came here they had a kodak and had three of them when they left.

The old lady left Friday afternoon on the southbound train. When she entered the depot prior to the arrival of the train she was void of any wraps, such as cape, cloak, or such like. When she emerged from the depot to board the train she was dressed with a beautifully beaded cape.

The two women told a passenger on the train that they lived in Dallas and had driven through the country to Overbrook and had there taken the train to visit Ardmore. The actions of the two were peculiar, to say the least.

GOVERNOR'S SALARY RAISED.

Legislature Acted at Once on the Executive's Suggestion.

Governor D. H. Johnston of the Chickasaw Nation sent to the legislature a message stating that his salary of $1,500 was inadequate. The legislature immediately enacted the following: "That from and after the expiration of the term of the present incumbent in office the salary of the governor of the Chickasaw Nation shall be $4,000 per annum. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed."

Everything Ready for Czolgosz.

Special to the Ardmoreite.
Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The prison officials have begun arrangements for the execution of Czolgosz, which is expected to take place tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock.

The assassin declined to see his brother today.

His health and general demeanor is unchanged.

Every precaution has been taken to prevent the rescue or injury of the prisoner.

Immediately after the execution the clothing of the murderer, with the vast accumulation of letters that came to the prison for him, will be burned and if possible the request of the parents of the dead man for his remains will be evaded. It is feared that the removal of his body to Cleveland would lead to scenes of an unfortunate nature and the prison officials are very anxious to avoid anything of the kind. The plan of burning the clothing and letters of the murderer will prevent the exhibition of relics by those who pander to the morbid.

Schley Still Testifies.

Special to the Ardmoreite.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Admiral Schley resumed the stand this morning and was reminded by Admiral Dewey that he was still under oath.

Raynor asked him about a conversation which witnesses for the navy department had testified having had with him. Especial stress was laid on a conversation alleged to have taken place between him and Admiral (then captain) Evans of the Iowa and Commander Shaw of the Vixen.

Schley's version of these interviews differs considerably from that of others.

Young Negress from Texas is the Bone of Contention.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—"Co-Eds" of Northwestern University have drawn the color line. Unless Elizabeth Ellis of San Antonio, Tex., the young negress who was recently assigned to a room in the dormitory, is immediately rejected the young women say they will leave Chapin hall and secure rooms elsewhere in Evanston. This ultimatum was delivered today to Mrs. Simpson, the matron, by a committee, representing the girl students. They said that personally they had nothing against the negress. The principal grievance is that the Ellis girl is allowed to eat at the same table with them. It is thought that the faculty of the institution will refuse to oust her.
