DENISON A DRY TOWN.

Saloons Closed--All Did a Big Business on Last Day.

For the first time in its interesting history Denison is a "dry town," the saloons having closed their doors at midnight last night in compliance with the local option law.

Yesterday was pay day on the Katy and this money placed in circulation was a fortunate feature for the saloon men, who endeavored to close out their stocks as nearly as possible by selling in quantities at reduced prices. Business was very fair throughout the day, and in the evening, as the closing hour approached, there was a genuine bargain sale rush many availing themselves of this last opportunity to lay in a supply for use in cases of sickness or "snake bites" and the extensive precautionary preparations indicated the fear of a great pestilence in the immediate future.

All the Main street places were crowded with a brisk business going on, but there was no disorder, and as the clock struck twelve the bargain sales ceased, the doors were quietly closed and prohibition prevailed.

The history of some of the places closed are closely allied with that of the city, having been established when Denison was a frontier village.

Some of the saloon men are arranging for the immediate removal of their stocks and fixtures to other towns and cities; others will store their goods until some disposition may be had, while still others will remain in Denison.--Denison Herald.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

Incriminate Two Attorneys in Case of Territory vs. Ellington.

Enid, Ok., Jan. 21.--Seven witnesses in a preliminary hearing before Probate Judge Garber, Tuesday, gave evidence in the case of the Territory vs. David Ellington, charged with removing and secreting depositions from the district clerk's office, taken in the case of Sugg vs. Kirk, a suit on attachment. The evidence incriminates Rush & Steen, attorneys for the creditors of F. S. Kirk, bankrupt, J. D. Sugg, and an El Reno attorney. The defendant will present his case January 28.

Ellington is charged with taking depositions in the Sugg vs. Ellington case, and then inviting Harry Royer and Jacob Turner to testify against Kirk in the case, when it comes to trial. Royer and Turner were two of the men who made the depositions. Turner was to have $1,000, a man by the name of Lindsay was to get $500 and Ellington was to get a certain unnamed sum for his share of the work.

The depositions were removed from the office of the district clerk by attorneys Rush and Steen, and charged to Mr. Steen by the district clerk. One page of the depositions is missing.

F. S. Kirk was a former implement dealer in this city, and last fall was made the defendant in several suits by his creditors. It has been stated that some one took $20,000 from his cash drawer, but he didn't know who. The case against Ellington has the appearance of being only a small portion of the sensationalism that may follow in the developments.

MONEY FOUND AMONG RUINS.

Debris at Ironworks Theater Proving a Municipal Placer Mine.

Chicago, Jan. 21.--The municipal placer mine in the debris removed from the Ironworks theater is panning out better than at first expected. Up to the present an average of $100 a day has been extracted from the refuse.

As far as possible all articles found are returned to owners, but all loose money, which it is impossible to identify, will be applied to the police pension fund.

Eight more churches and a number of halls were closed today by order of Chief Building Commissioner Williams for violation of the city ordinance.

The police tonight arrested Frank Uhler, a printer, 19 years of age, on a charge of robbing the dead after the fire in the Ironworks theater. Uhler attempted to dispose of a diamond ring valued at $800 and when taken into custody confessed that he had stolen it from the hand of a dead man which was hanging over the edge of a wagon when the load of corpses was backed up in front of the morgue.

Fatal kidney and bladder troubles can always be prevented by the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. Bonner & Bonner.
