A dear girl and a fine piano. The dear girl may be your wife, your sister your sweetheart or your daughter. But she's all the dearer if she has

A Piano

with which to make you forget the cares and worries of everyday life.
And what a beautiful accomplishment it is for a girl to be able to play well! We do our part by furnishing you with a splendid mellow-toned instrument.

EASTER NOVELTIES

No one knows just how the pretty little custom of giving remembrances at Easter time originated, but it has become a recognized feature, especially among the little folks. This year we have a fine line of Easter novelties, cards, booklets, etc., in fact the best and largest assortment of these goods ever in this section. None of them are very expensive, but all of them are worthy of giving, and the higher priced ones, imported from Germany, are really artistic. However, it is not the price that counts but the good will that goes with the remembrance. When buying these things you might as well select from a fine, large stock like ours, especially so, as we save you something on the price.

Always Glad to Show Things

Main-Caddo Sts. F. J. RAMSEY, Druggist, Telephone No. 30

He Explains Further.

J. L. Tyer asks us to state a little more definitely how it is that he is a member of the Chickasaw G in Club lake, and says that he holds a receipt from W. P. Poland for a membership in the lake, which he has also for eight months. He said that when Robert Poland & Bruce sold out to W.
S. Wolverton & Son he asked if his membership had been arranged for and was told that it had been attended to, and Fendle Wolverton said "you are entitled to a key," and handed him one. Under such circumstances Mr. Tyer thought he had as much right to the lake as anyone.

A small blaze was discovered in the rear of the dining room at the Morgan hotel Sunday morning damaging the ceiling a little. The cause of the fire was a gasoline stove used in keeping the coffee urn hot. The dining room is the property of J. F.
Gwinn, and his damage will be about $25, covered by insurance.

A Fine Bridle.

Rev. G. T. Black has received a very fine riding bridle woven of horse hair in fancy colors and adorned with handsome ornaments. The bridle was made by a man confined in a Federal prison and was sent here to be sold. The proceeds is to be used in the prisoner's efforts to get a new trial. The bridle, also the riding switch of the same material accompanying it, may be seen in the display window at the Cincinnati Racket store. The bridle is valued at $25.

Boys Gone Wrong.

Jim A. Stokes and Ben S. Gilmore, two boys who came here from Alabama about a year ago, left Sunday for parts unknown.

The boys came here unemployed but had succeeded in building very good reputations for business, especially Stokes.

They managed to get two or three suits of clothes on credit and borrowed all the cash they could from their friends.

Stokes threw up a good position at the Burton-Peel Dry Goods company, besides betraying the confidence of his employer.

The last heard of, they were in Fort Worth, but it is said they came back through here on a northbound Santa Fe train.

If it's a place to rest you are in search of, go to Kahn's parlor. 27-3

King Cole will be here tonight. 29

A Business Transfer.

Herbert E. Foster of the Ardmore Ice company has consummated a deal by which his company has become the owner of the Ardmore Bottling Works. The plant will be operated at its present site for a while and will be moved to the ice plant as soon as the proper buildings are constructed. J. T. Orr, one of the best known bottling works men in this country, has been employed as manager.

Sockwell Bros., sold the plant.
All retire from business here. They came here to no conclusion yet, as to what business they will engage in.

John K. Randolph.

The Ardmoreite's professional column today contains the card of John K. Randolph, attorney at law. Mr.
Randolph has been a successful lawyer of Cleveland, Tenn., for nine reason that this town offers greater field for litigation than the Tennessee town. Mr. Randolph is an able lawyer and we are glad to number him among the permanent citizens of the town.
