The Lyman Twins.

The famous comedians "The Lyman Twin Brothers" who appear here soon with their big company in "At the Races" are remarkable fellows, being not only comedians who rank among the best, but show qualifications as managers which is seldom seen in the theatrical business.

At the close of their tour last season and before producing their new piece "At the Races" which is strictly a musical comedy in every sense of the word, they immediately went to New York City to get new ideas for their coming production, visiting all of the big productions of this order then playing there and obtaining much from them which put together with their own remarkable genius which has marked all their former successes, have brought out an attraction in the so called "At the Races" which is far superior to anything of its class yet produced. They have supplied this production with a large and excellent cast, a dainty chorus of pretty girls and carry expensive and beautiful scenic equipment complete together all mechanical and electrical effects entirely original with this attraction, which has been doing an enormous business and meeting with unbounded success everywhere.

"It goes to show," said the Twins in a newspaper man lately, "that if you bring the attraction the American people will support it."

The Passing of Dan Green. F. J. Ramsey and Mervin Barron returned yesterday from St. Louis. They were there when Dan R. Green of Gainesville committed suicide. Mr. Ramsey stated that Green came up here Saturday evening, Nov. 12, from Gainesville and he and Green and Barron left for St. Louis that night and reached there Monday and secured rooms; that Green had a room next to his and Barron's; that he and Barron went to the fair grounds but Green did not go, and sometime during the night it is supposed Green shot himself as he was found the next morning lying on the bed with a 45-caliber pistol in his hand and a bullet hole in his right temple which extended through the head the bullet coming out on the left side.

Green was a druggist at Gainesville in the employ of J. T. Edwards and his body was shipped to that place.

No cause can be assigned for the act.

"Alphonse and Gaston" that musical farce which has kept the American people on the qui vive of expectancy for its production will be seen at the opera house, Tuesday night, November 22. "Alphonse and Gaston" as every newspaper reader from Eastport, Maine, to the Golden Gate of California, knows of the two mythical Frenchmen whose ultra politeness places them in the most absurd and ridiculous positions imaginable. The characters of Alphonse and Gaston are assumed by those favorite and well known comedians Mr. Jack Collins and Mr. Henry Olive assisted by such artists as Mr. James Gibson as "Happy Hooligan" and Miss Florence Nash as "Mother Katsenjammer" and others. The musical numbers as sung by a competent chorus of pretty girls are gems chosen from the most popular authors of the day. "Alphonse and Gaston" is a stupendous production of stage, scenic effects and costume splendor, abounding with hilarious situations, bywords and witticisms that will become the popular fad of the day.
