WHY

Schnapps

cheers chewers more than any other sort of chewing tobacco. It will also show you why there are more chewers, and more pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population in those States where "Schnapps" Tobacco was first sold, than there are in the States where "Schnapps" has not yet been offered to the trade.

SOME NEWSPAPER CHAFF.

O, Fate I ask of thee but this,
From all thy varied store, Give me to work with all my heart.
Till I can work no more.
And when my task I must lay down, At life's slow set of sun, Grant me the sleep, serene and sweet, That comes from work well done.
So many strive to scale fame's height,
To set the floods on fire,
That there is need of modest souls More humbly to aspire.
So this the plea I make mine own, Give me the spirit true, That knows the work its own reward And asks but more to do!— John Coleman in Chicago Tribune.

"Tommy won't take milk at all now.
He doesn't seem to like it as much as he did," said Mrs. Poppley.
"No replied Poppley, "and it's all on account of your imprudence."
"My imprudence?"
"Yes; he overheard you saying it was good for him."—Philadelphia Press.

It was in a country tavern where a rowdy arrived commercial traveler was building forth.
"I'll bet my case of samples," he said, "that I've got the hardest name of anybody in this town."
An old farmer in the background shifted his feet to a warmer part of the stove.
"Ye will, will ye?" he drawled.
"Waal I'll have to take ye up. I'll bet $10 against your samples that my name'll beat yours."
"Done," cried the salesman. "I've got the hardest name in the country.
It is such a—"
The old man expectorated.
"Mine," he said, "is Harder."—New York Telegraph.

A worthy squire had a cow that at ways kicked and roared when milked.
He decided to get rid of it, and calling one of his farm hands told him to take it to market.
"Sell the henny," he said, "but mind you, tell no liek. I've been unlucky in no 'cubase, but that's no reason why I should deceive others." Two hours later the man returned from market with a larger sum than the squire expected. "I'm sure you killed about that cow," he said.
"Not a bit of it," replied the man.
"Every time I was asked if she was a good milker, I simply said, 'You'll get dead tired of milking her before you get all her milk.'—Exchange.

Felix McCuskey, a Brooklyn Democratic politician, used to be an official at the capital. When the late Lord Randolph Churchill brought his American wife, who was a Miss Jerome of New York, to Washington on a bridal tour, he was shown around the great building by McCuskey. The Englishman was particularly struck by the machinery in the sub-basement of the capital, and remarked to Mc-

Cluskey:

"It must take an immense horsepower to run this machinery."

"Horsepower, is it, ye ignorant Britisher! Horsepower be blanked! It's steam power, ye greenhorn—steam power, and ye American bridle there ought to teach ye a few things about her country before ye take her across the water!"—Exchange.

It is said of General Lee in a paper in Lippincott's Magazine that, though invariably considerate to his subordinates, he could be drastic and dictatorial when it became necessary.

Jefferson Davis always claimed that he himself was intended for a soldier not a president, and he was fond of being under fire. If he could not get behind the guns. One day he came out on the field during a battle. Lee turned to him and asked:

"Mr. President, am I in command here?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Davis.

"Then sir," Lee replied, "I forbid you to stand here under the enemy's guns. I order you off the field!"

The president went.

Justice Maule is regarded as the leading judicial wit in England. He had doubts as to the credibility of a witness on one occasion, and the man declared that he had been "wedded truth" from infancy.

"That may be," said the justice,

"but the question is how long have you been divorced?"

A little girl was a witness before him, and he proceeded to ascertain whether she knew the nature of an oath. The child, in answer to questions, said she would go to heaven if she told the truth, but would go to the other place if she told lies.

"Are you sure of that, my dear?"

Justice Maule asked.

"Yes, sir, quite sure."

"Let her be sworn," said the court,

"she knows more than I do."

—Houston Post.

Callie: "What's the matter, old man? Has anything happened?"

Hosie (groaning): "Oh, nothing—he will be all right in a short time."

Next day the doctor called again, when Mrs. Bradley opened the door to him, her face beaming with smiles.

"Sure, that was a wonderful week up of paper you left yesterday," she exclaimed. "William is better today."

"I'm glad to hear that," said the much pleased medical man. "Not but what I hadn't a big job to get him to swallow it," went on the wife, "but, sure,

I just wrapped up the box all of paper quite small and cut it in a spoonful of jam, and William swallowed it unbeknownst, and by night he was entirely better."

A well known business man in a town not far from Cincinnati discovered one morning recently in entering his office that his safe was open.

He immediately telegraphed to Philadelphia for an expert.

When the latter arrived he found that the safe, an old-fashioned affair locked with a key, could not be opened. After a hasty examination the expert, taking a piece of wire, dug out from the key a mass of dust and lint. He then opened the safe in a twinkling of an eye. The business man swore a sickly oath as he asked meekly:

"How much?"

"Forty dollars."

"Do any of your firm's patrons here know of your visit?"

"Not a soul out yourself."

"Then," added the business man, "here's $60. I'll take it to be a great favor if you'll hustle out by the first train. If any one in this town knew that I had paid a man $40 to dig dirt out of a key for me I'd never do another dollar's worth of business in the whole state."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Among lawyers there is a saying that in the trial of a case an attorney, if light on facts, must be heavy on law. The other day an attorney was preparing to leave his office in one of the big office buildings, as he went to the court house to try a case. From his shelves of his library he had Indiana. This fellow went on a hunting trip accompanied by his faithful retriever. Things went on finely up to a certain point; then the expedition suddenly ended in disaster. The dog undertook to jump over a deep well in two jumps."—Lippincott's.

Mrs. Frederick Schoff, at a meeting of a mother's club in Philadelphia, talked of the training of children.
"Just as smallpox and yellow fever are quite rare diseases," she said, "so will bad children be rare when proper attention is given to the cause of bad ness. Men will not take any part in correcting or training children, though when the children turn out well they are willing enough to take the credit.
They remind me in this of a certain landlord. He called on a tenant one day and said: 'Jones, I'm going to raise your rent.' 'What for?' Jones asked, anxiously. 'Have taxes gone up?' 'No, not at all,' the landlord answered; 'but I see you've painted the house and put in a new range and bath. That of course, ought to make it bring more.'—Argonaut.

FLEEING TO TEXAS

Influx of Mexicans Follows Surrender of Senor Arredondo, Denounced as Traitor—Prediction Made That He Will Not Live Long.

San Antonio, Tex., May 23.—The report that the surrender of Juan Jose Arredondo, leader of the Jiminez (Mex.) revolutionists, to the authorities at C. P. Diaz caused great consternation among the Mexican border, it being confirmed by late arrivals here. A large number of wealthy citizens of Conhulla have fled to Eagle Pass, Del Rio, San Antonio or to St.
Louis for protection. They do not know what charge may be brought against them. In many instances their flight was followed by the confiscation of their property to the government.

Jose G. Garza arrived in this city yesterday. He is en route to St.
Louis. He is bitter in his denunciation of Arredondo. He said:

"Juan Jose Arredondo is a traitor to his cause and will suffer for it."

Mr. Garza, in speaking of the surrender of Arredondo to the Mexican authorities at C. P. Diaz last week, said:

"It was known for a week at Eagle Pass that Col. Arredondo, who led the revolutionary forces at Jiminez, Mex., would soon arrive there and be placed under arrest. Word was passed down the line and prominent and wealthy Mexicans in Northern Mexico came to this side to escape arrest.

Many of them are now in San Antonio, but all real estate and other property they left behind has been confiscated by the Mexican government.

"It is the intention to bring Arrendondo to the City of Mexico and there to have him tell the full story of the plot to overthrow the Diaz administration and the names of the men who were instrumental in starting the movement.

"There is no doubt," continued Mr.

Garza, "but what Arredondo can supply all the needed information, and that he will be well paid for his service, for he seems to have plenty of money even now for all his comforts and will make the City of Mexico his home in order to secure protection from the government. His family, which is now at Eagle Pass, will soon follow Arredondo to the City of Mexico and join him there. I predict however, that Arredondo will not live long after telling his story, as some secret service man of the revolutionists will kill him for exposing the secrets of the junta."

It is understood that the headquarters of the Mexican junta, which were moved from St. Louis to Del Rio at the time of the revolution, have been again established at St.

Louis and will again direct operations

Drink the old original Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, the blend of Brazilian coffees, most wholesome and stimulating, as well as most economical. Anything dearer than Arbuckles' ARIOSA is extravagant and no one can sell as good coffee for the same price. People who drink Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee are not dyspeptics with fashionable nerves who take vacations in Sanitariums, on featherweight rations, but the healthy vigorous manhood and womanhood that constitute the useful majority. The first roasted packaged coffee; sales of Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee for 37 years, exceed the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees.

In sealed packages only for your protection. Don't buy loose coffee out of a bag, bin or tin that the roaster is ashamed to seal in a package with his name on it.

NEW STATE NOTES

The tax payers of Checotah, I. T., have by an almost unanimous vote voted waterworks bonds to the extent of $65,000. The contract for the installation of the system has been let and soon the residents of that enterprising little city will be well supplied with water.

The members of the Typographical Union of Oklahoma City have placed the name of one of their number, J. J. Trinnett before the voters as a candidate for representative to the first legislature. The Oklahoman says Mr. Trinnett has been a member of the Union 20 years and is at present secretary of the Chapel in that office. As Union printers usually hold together in all matters the printer candidate will poll a good vote.

Judge C. B. Stuart of South McAlester has resigned the position of General Attorney for the Rock Island in Oklahoma and Indian Territory effective June 1. J. O. Blake of El Reno has been appointed his successor, and the legal department of the line will be moved to that city.

The schools of the new state will all have adjourned by the end of the present month, and the play world will once more echo to the ring of the small boy and girl. Vacation time beckons to a student, and all over the state, papers are filled with reports of school exercises and the awarding of medals.

The Muskogee papers are responsible for the story that Communist Tams Bixby is to leave in a few days for an overland trip in an automobile to his old home in Red Wing, Minn. This will be one of the longest trips of its kind on record.

Hon. Brandt Kirk of Oklahoma City, former candidate for the nomination of U. S. Senator, withdrew from the race because the cost of making the campaign was so great. That such conditions exist is to be regretted but exist they do.

The McAlester Daily News says the opera house in that city is to be turned into a business house, and if the McAlester residents don't get busy they will be without shows next season. The News forgets there is the over popular circus, whose management has supplied themselves with canvas tents.

Negro Strike Breakers Attacked.

New York, May 23.—One hundred negroes, who were engaged to take the places made vacant by the striking longshoremen at the Atlantic docks in Brooklyn were attacked by about an equal number of strikers or sympathizers, including a number of Italians, when the strike breakers reported for work today in a body.

The strikers first attempted to persuade the negroes to keep off the docks, but in the argument that ensued some member of the opposing forces became involved in a fight, which quickly included the whole number on both sides. During the fight that followed one negro fired his revolver, without injuring any one. The police dispersed the rioters and arrested the negro who did the shooting.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup is best for women and children. It's mild action and pleasant taste makes it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Get the booklet and a sample of Orino at Hoffman Drug Co., and City Drug Store.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenwood, W. Va., says—

"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in my family."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

Bottles only. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, headache, etc.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE MARKET

(Quotations Furnished by the Empire Produce Company.)

There has been a slight falling off in the wholesale produce market in the last few days except for spring chickens and ucks, which are slightly higher with a strong demand. The price of eggs shows a decrease of 7 cents owing to the hot weather but the demand is good. Turkeys are quoted at several cents lower, but these are holding up fairly well with a fair demand.
