Ardmore, Sunday, February 2, 1908.

Now you can relate the ground-hog story.

With the fuel and winter problems solved, Ardmore is away ahead of many towns with inducements for capital to be invested here.

The Cleveland judge that called women "cats" and that Richmond professor that says women are far inferior to men, must have run up against a queer lot of women.

Four hundred students in the University of Pennsylvania engaged in a free-for-all fight the other day. And yet there are those who profess to believe that college athletics are useless.

Some patriots have started a revolution in Hayti. Get out the big stick Teddy and give 'em a whack. Revolutions are obsolete, for if Washington had lived in these days he would be called an anarchist, or at least a very undesirable citizen.

Ardmore asphalt is being advertised abroad in no uncertain terms, but the very best advertisement that could be made in its favor, is to pave every street in Ardmore with the goods. It then becomes self-advertising.

Another member of congress, a republican, broke loose from his fetters and declared in committee of the whole: "You cannot restore the confidence of the American people in the house of representatives by humbug legislation." This truth-teller was Gardner of Massachusetts.

An Illinois woman has given $4,000,000 to Chicago University. So long as she must have known that the college does not really need the money, there is no other explanation than that she desired to make Rockefeller's recent $2,000,000 gift look cheap.

COLD WAVE HIT US

GOVERNMENT THERMOMETER
REGISTERED 14 DEGREES
SATURDAY MORNING.

The thermometer registered 14 degrees above zero Saturday morning. This is the lowest that it has registered either this winter or last winter, and all who had their overcoats at their uncle's during the recent rainy weather were compelled to dig down in their closets and produce the necessary coat of the realm and get their coats out. And those who were so unfortunate as not to own any overcoat either in back or out of back, were compelled to shiver and let the cool air blow gentle zephyrs through their marrow bones.

This weather is exceptional for this section of the country in as much as the thermometer very rarely ever gets below freezing point.

BOLD MESSAGE
SAYS BRYAN

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE COMMENTED ON.

WAS NEEDED AT THIS TIME

Bryan Says the President Has Discovered the Running Sore in Our National Life—Warnings Similar to Those of Democrats.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 1.—It is a brave message and needed at this time," said William J. Bryan, after reading President Roosevelt's special message to congress. "All friends of reform have reason to rejoice that the president has used his high position to call attention to the wrongs that need to be remedied. He has discovered the running sore in our national life. He has pointed out the corrupting influence that flows from predatory wealth."

and from the monopolistic enterprises which have given unearned riches to the few, who, by controlling the great industries of the nation, have seized control on the whole country. "His warnings are entirely in harmony with the warnings which democrats have been uttering for more than a decade and I hope that the democrats in the senate and house will promptly challenge the republicans to meet the issues presented by the president."

"There ought to be enough of Roosevelt republicans in the two houses to join with the democrats and make some remedial legislation at this session. If there is not, the public ought to know it, so that when the next republican national convention indorses the present administration the hypocrisy of the indorsement will be understood."

"The president has discussed the relative spheres of the state and the nation. I hope that in the measures which may be introduced in response to his appeal there will be no attempt to take from the states any powers that they now have."

"The democrats are in favor of the fullest employment of the power vested in congress, but they want national remedies added to state remedies, and not substituted for them."

"The president has issued a call to arms. Now let the battle begin and we will soon be able to pick out the purchased newspaper and the purchased legislator described by the president, but not specifically named."

Pave every street in Ardmore with asphalt.

February this year is a remarkable month, although the shortest on the calendar, it means more than it has for forty years to the laborer who receives his pay every Saturday having five Saturdays. This similarity occurred in 1868 and will occur again in 1948. The present month contains twenty-nine days and among them we find Washington's birthday, Lincoln's birthday and St. Valentine's day. The month came in on Saturday and goes out on Saturday.

CYCLONE IN MISSISSIPPI

FAST PROPERTY LAID WASTE IN FARMING SECTION.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST IN STORM

Which Devastated for Twenty Miles a Prosperous Section of the Country—Physicians Respond to Appeal for Aid.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 1.—A cyclone of terrific force passed a few miles below Hazlehurst, the county seat of Copiah county, and thirty-three miles south of this place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. An immense amount of property damage was done and at least twelve persons had their lives.

Dwellings, farm houses, schools and cotton gins were destroyed in large numbers and livestock suffered to a great degree. On several places nearly every head of stock was killed and in some not one was left. The storm came from the south-west striking Mississippi's place, some twelve miles from Hazlehurst, where a large cotton gin was destroyed, several negroes were badly hurt and a large number of stock killed.

Traveling in a northerly direction, the cyclone, blowing from a great revolving cloud, illuminated by a constant play of lightning, crossed the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad about three miles south of Hazlehurst, and limbs of trees several feet long, portions of destroyed buildings and other evidence of the storm's power, were scattered from one end of the little city to the other during the passage of the storm, whose howling winds could be distinctly heard. Near where the railroad was crossed lived Ben Martin, a farmer, and his wife, brother and two children, were instantly killed, as were also several negroes whose names it has been impossible to obtain. Hazlehurst is the nearest town to the path of the cyclone, and messengers were rushed along its path to the town for doctors, and every one in the town has gone to the scene of the disaster.

Crossing the railroad, the storm continued its work of destruction. The storm here entered a thickly settled and prosperous section and the property damage it did is almost incalculable. Striking the plantation of Ben Middleton, it completely wrecked his home, entangling his family beneath the debris, fatally injuring him and breaking the back of one of the lady members of his family. Several of his negro tenants were injured and one or two others in that vicinity killed. That neighborhood has also called for medical aid, but the extent of its damage cannot be ascertained, telephone communication being completely cut off. Telegraph wires are also down between here and Hazlehurst, as they are on the south of that place.

Just below Hazlehurst stood a large house in the path of the storm, and it was completely carried away, with the four negro children who were in it at the time, and no trace of either the house or its occupants has been found.

This is the fourth cyclone that has passed through this section in the past twenty-five years, the last one claiming about 100 victims.
