TWO HORSES STOLEN

EIGHT WIRE FENCE CUT NEAR LONE GROVE—HORSES AND SADDLES TAKEN.

Lee Coffey was in the city this morning and reported to the sheriff's office that two horses were stolen from him last night, also two saddles were taken. At an early hour Sunday night two men came to Mr. Coffey's pasture and cut the fence built of eight strands of barbed wire and led out two of his brown horses. They had already stolen the saddles and at once they made their getaway. The animals were missed this morning and Mr. Coffey tracked them to Ardmore and a short distance east of Polkmen King and Rodman, where, on their beats last night, saw two men ride down Main street, going east at about 11 o'clock. They were riding horses that suit the description of those stolen and they are of the opinion that the two thieves really had the nerve to ride down Main street within an hour after they had stolen the horses.

Every effort will be made to catch the fellows and restore the horses. The sheriff's force is busy today in the search.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ARDMORE

You have all had ample time to study my proposition to get cheap gas for Ardmore. We must all pull together in this matter and every property owner should help. You are not doing your duty if you do not help. The very moment we start the drill going, property in Ardmore will begin to take on value. Don't tell me that you have no money—that you owe more than you can pay now, and that you can't sell anything; it is the property owner who can not sell, or whose property is depreciating in value that should come forward and push. With free gas, Ardmore will go to the front. We will then get factories and railroads. Oklahoma City would have to look to her laurels or we would go ahead of her. During this week I shall try to see you all, and when I publish the names of the "Ardmore Boosters" next Sunday, I hope I will show enough subscribers to call our first meeting and organize for business and a greater Ardmore. If I do not see you, drop me a postal signifying your willingness, and I will put your name on the honor roll. If you are a property owner and not willing to help, but have a good and sufficient reason, drop me a line so that I can eliminate you from my "moosback" list.

Yours Truly,
W. P. POLAND.

REMAINS LAID AWAY

REMAINS OF MISS MARY CARR ARRIVED HERE YESTERDAY FROM PORTLAND, ORE.

The remains of Miss Mary Carr were tenderly laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Rose Hill cemetery. The remains were taken from the union depot to the home of the parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Carr, on north Washington street. At three o'clock they were borne to the First Presbyterian church where services were conducted by Dr. C. C. Weith. He spoke from John 19:10, and his words served in a measure to take away the sting of death by an eloquent portrayal of "life more abundantly." The pall bearers were young men selected from the personal friends of the brother, Fred C. Carr, who accompanied the remains from Portland, Oregon, to Ardmore. They were Olin Wolverton, J. C. King, Everett Noble, Chas. Dibrell, Les Kearney and George Williams. A large number of friends were in attendance and the church was filled with floral decorations.

WOODMEN UNVEILING

AN IDEAL AFTERNOON AND WOODMEN SERVICES BROUGHT CROWDS TO CEMETERY.

Ideal weather prevailed yesterday afternoon and the Woodmen and their friends turned out en masse to attend the unveiling ceremonies at Rose Hill cemetery. The members convened in their hall at 1:30 and completed arrangements for the ceremonies and at 3 o'clock retired to the cemetery. Many handsome flowers were in evidence and the graves of the deceased sovereigns were covered. N. E. Martin, past consul commander, was chosen to act as master of ceremonies, and Jake Williams was marshal of the day. The ceremonies were impressive and the ritualistic work was carried out in a very pleasing manner. Monuments were unveiled over the graves of Merle McCoy, John Caudle, B. F. Cox and E. M. Vaughan.

FEDERAL COURT CONVENED

A NUMBER OF OFFICIALS HERE. GRAND JURY APPEARED AND ONLY ONE EXCUSED.

The first term of the federal court held in this city since statehood, convened here this morning. This court is a combined term of the district and circuit courts. The court officials arrived here yesterday and the term was called at 10 o'clock this morning. Among the officials in attendance are: Judge Ralph E. Campbell, U. S. judge, clerk of the circuit court; D. P. Dickey, deputy clerk of the district court; S. G. Victor, United States marshal; William J. Gregg, district attorney; Frank Lee, assistant attorney, and William Ervin, district revenue inspector.

When the term was called this morning, Judge Campbell made a brief talk, in which he said many good things for Ardmore, and for the hospitable manner in which he had been treated since he arrived in the city. He especially said good things about Judge Stillwell H. Russell, who had turned over to him the district court room for the holding of the federal term. But few of the lawyers here had been admitted to practice before the federal court and about thirty members of the bar were sworn in as attorneys to practice before the federal court and each was required to pay a fee of $2. On account of some records having been checked out wrong at McAlester, no proceedings could be had until this morning.

Only one member of the grand jury was released from service.

"The docket is rather a heavy one," said Judge Campbell last night, "and the court will be in session here two weeks."

Federal court convened promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon and all grand and petit jurors were excused until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Judge Campbell stated that one of the inconveniences the court would have to put up with was the keeping of the records in one place and the holding of court in another. He made the important announcement that within three months would be changed and the records would be kept where the term of court was held. This evidently means that provisions will be made for deputy clerks to be appointed at every court town.

Court was declared open for any matters that could come before it, but nothing was brought up and after the bailiffs were sworn in, court was adjourned subject to call. The court is not in possession of the names of those who have been summoned as jurors and other papers needful to the court have not arrived.

The bailiffs sworn in are: J. B. Doyle, H. W. Robertson and J. A. Leatherman.

ADVERTISING THE SOUTHWEST

JOHN SEBASTIAN OF THE ROCK ISLAND WILL PORTRAY THIS COUNTRY IN MAGAZINE.

John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager of the Rock Island, is preparing an advertising campaign of the southwest. He will use principally as his medium the Saturday Evening Post. Copies of the advertising has been sent to the Ardmore Commercial club. These advertisements set out the advantages of the southwest and deal particularly with the Indian Territory portion of the state of Oklahoma. The fact that the selling restrictions have been removed from the lands is particularly brought out and the prices at which these lands are selling are given. This class of advertising will serve to attract the attention of many people and the original inquiries will be sent to the commercial clubs in this section of the country. John Sebastian has done more to advertise this section than any other one man. Thousand of inquiries have been sent to this town direct from him and what is true with respect from him and what is true with other towns on the Rock Island lines in the southwest.

HAD YOU THOUGHT

ARDMORE HAS GREATEST WHITE POPULATION OF ANY TOWN IN EASTERN OKLAHOMA.

"I am preparing a booklet," says H. G. Spaulding, secretary of the commercial club this morning, "to send out to prospectors and I have been searching for something new and now what do you think I have discovered? There are larger towns in the eastern district of Oklahoma than Ardmore, but according to the last federal census Ardmore has the greatest white population of any town in old Indian Territory."

The observation in favor of Ardmore is a good one. It is a good advertising point. It seems that no one else had ever thought of it. Anyway, that is Spaulding's business and he is on to his job.

Muskogee has the reputation of being a bigger town than Ardmore and so it is, but the census here shows that the town has about 20,000 people and the larger portion, or at least half that number belongs to the negro race. While in Ardmore, the total population is not so great, but the negro population is so much smaller that the net white population in Ardmore is greater than it is in Muskogee.
