THE PROPOSITION OFFERED BY W. P. POLAND

Below is the new proposition I offer the citizens of Ardmore in which to take stock:

Ardmore must have cheap fuel gas to induce factories to locate here. Ask the secretary of the Commercial club if this is not a fact. Ardmore has progressed to the extent of her agricultural possibilities. We need cheap gas to bring in other factors that will make Ardmore the pride of the state. We have the crude material at our doors. Shall we develop them?

The lot that you get for your $100 is worth more than you pay for it, if we fail on gas and oil.

W. P. POLAND.

The Proposition

We, the undersigned hereby agree to pay such an amount set opposite our name to such a trustee as we may hereafter select for the purpose of buying one hundred and twenty eight (128) lots, seventy feet by one hundred and forty feet each, in what is known as the Poland and Anderson addition located in Carter County, Oklahoma, south and adjoining the City Park of Ardmore. The consideration for the one hundred and twenty-eight lots is to be one hundred dollars ($100.00) each and each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or multiple thereof shall represent a share in a company hereafter to be formed for the purpose of prospecting for oil and gas on said one hundred and twenty-eight lots. No payments are to be made by us or any of us until all lots are subscribed, when fifteen per cent of same shall become due and the balance in 8 and one half monthly payments of $10 per month per share. Five thousand dollars ($5,000) shall be used under our direction for prospecting for oil and gas and in the event that oil or gas is found in quantities to supply factory demands, then and in that event, the balance of the money less advertising and agents expenses will be donated, say $3,000 to beautifying the City Park and $3,000 will be given to the four ward schools for beautifying their school grounds, but in the event no gas or oil is found, the balance of the money shall be applied on purchase price of the 128 lots.

Divorcees Live Together.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 3.—Living together peacefully for eleven years after their divorce the grass widow acting as salaried housekeeper for her former husband and both contributing for the raising of their daughter, now 18, is the story of James and Olga Huston of this city. For eleven years after the divorce decree the couple lived contentedly, and all was merry as a marriage bell, until one day recently Huston alleged his housekeeper temporarily forgot their unmarried condition and assumed the wifely prerogative of making him the target of the dinner dishes and slashing his scalp with a carving knife. Just for that he had her arrested and in police court told the story of his matrimonial career. The case will come up again Monday, but it is rumored that the Huston's have affected a reconciliation, and that Mrs. Huston has solemnly promised to remember that she is only a housekeeper and not a wife, and hence not privileged to break dishes or smash the furniture.

HE WON'T LEAVE JAIL

MUSKOGEE MONTENGRIN REMAINS AND PAYS HIS BOARD.

ONLY CASE OF THE KIND

Two Years Ago He Confessed to Killing a Man, No One Appeared Against Him, and He Has Been Ordered Released.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 4.—After admitting that he killed a man and after being in jail two years without a witness against him, George Rolich, a Montengrin, is a free man. But his two years in jail has worked a wonderful change in him. He went this morning to the sheriff of Muskogee county and asked to be allowed to remain in the jail as a permanent boarder. He promised to pay forty cents a day, which is the legal rate for keeping prisoners. He says that the jail is more like home to him than any other place. He has $215 in money and some other resources besides.

He was offered work at $1.75 a day but declined it. He said he preferred to enjoy his freedom a few weeks before he went to work again. He is registered at the jail as a special guest of Sheriff Ramsey. He will be allowed to occupy the jail the same as a prisoner. Such a case never before came before the officials and they were surprised into granting the request when it was made.

Rolich killed a man named Berovitch, also an alien and admits it. He says that he killed him in self defense and that in Montenegro he would not be punished for such an offense. He was arrested and sent to jail, and there he remained two years while the officers sought to find some one who would appear against him as a witness. Failing in this, Judge Carruthers ordered the man released from custody, because he could not go on the witness stand and testify against himself.

Dr. Ambrosia, who lives in Muskogee, can speak the Montengrin language, and he acted as interpreter for Rolich both in court and when he made application to become a regular boarder at the county jail. He is the only man in Okmulgee or Muskogee county who can converse with Rolich. Rolich says that he will go to Chicago, where there are a few of his countrymen, when he gets tired of staying in his jail hotel in Muskogee.

Pipe Line Bursted.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 4.—A short distance from this side of the military reservation this morning the city's pipe line to the mountains bursted and the immense pressure from the mountain streams immediately shot water out through the ground and all the morning flooded the entire surrounding farms and lowlands, starting in the midst of the prairie a rushing mountain torrent. The water was quickly cut off above and workmen have been busy ever since repairing the damage.

CHIEF RE-ELECTED

QUANAH PARKER CHOSEN BY COMMANCHES AND AHPEATONE BY KIOWA TRIBE.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 4.—Some little surprise was manifested amongst the Indian agents and Indian department officials of the Anadarko agency and the Washington headquarters tonight when the final honors of the great intertribal council of the Kiowas, Commanches and Apaches were reached. The greatest surprise was in the re-election of Chief Ahpeatone of the Kiowa tribe, who yesterday seemed to be slated for defeat. But a secret caucus night put different color into the voting. Lone Wolf, who has long been known as Chief, did not have the required votes necessary to elect. However, Delos, Lone Wolf and Lucius Aitson, in conjunction with Ahpeatone, will act as committeemen.

Chief Quanah Parker of the Commanches, had no opposition in the council. Apache John was re-elected as the head of the Apache branch, which affiliates with the Kiowas and Commanches. The Indians were informed by the agent as to the amount of money they had on hand. Indian agent Stoker announced that as there were more than 20,000 babies born since the last alloting in 1896, and not an equal number of quarter sections remaining for them, that the land would be alloted by drawing. Consequently, this matter of all Indians owning land will soon be a thing of the past. This alloting will take place at Anadarko at a business council in the near future.

Ruling on Liquor Question.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 1.—It is a violation of the prohibition law for a transfer man or any other person to convey liquor from the depot. Liquor shipped from without the state ceases to be interstate commerce after it leaves the carrier's hands. This is the opinion of County Judge J. H. Wolverton of this city, who is president of the County Judges' Association of the state. Judge Wolverton took this view of the law in the case against the proprietor of the Haynes Transfer Company, and he was convicted upon the charge. Mr. Haynes will appeal the case.
