We Want Better Roads.

With automobiles in large numbers feasting through the country at thirty miles an hour, and the ordinary traffic increasing steadily, the matter of better country roads is becoming a vital question with every rural community in the country.

The size of our crops is not the only thing to be considered when speculating upon the future prosperity of the nation. The matter of getting those crops to market in the quickest possible time and at least expense, is one of the most important problems we have to deal with today.

It is an indisputable fact that automobile traffic cuts great ruts in our country roads, tears them to pieces, and renders the hauling of heavy loads of farm produce doubly difficult.

But there is a remedy, and it should be applied.

We should build better roads—HARD ROADS.

It requires a bond issue to do it, then let us have the bonds.

The increased facilities for marketing products, and the increase in acreage as a result of improved road conditions, would more than offset the small interest on the bonds.

It is a cold, sane, hard-headed proposition for the material welfare of the whole community, and should be taken up and carried through to completion by the proper authorities without loss of time.

Wherever you find high grade country roads, there you will invariably find a prosperous class of people.

We need them here, and we can accommodate all of the prosperity that follows in their wake.—Capital Democrat, Tishomingo.

TEMPORARILY INSANE MAN KILLS FRIEND

DEAD MAN WAS WAITING ON THE OTHER WHO HAD BECOME SICK. CORONER'S JURY ADJUDGED SLAYER INSANE.

Pauls Valley, Okla., Aug. 10.—Laboring under temporary insanity, G. R. McLaughlin killed his friend, R. S. Hurley, near Civil, a hamlet a few miles east of Pauls Valley, early Tuesday morning, shooting Hurley in the breast at close range, with a single load from a shot gun. Hurley died instantly. Both were middle-aged men, neighbors, and had large families.

A coroner's jury following the killing adjudged the slayer insane, and he is being held in the Pauls Valley jail, from which he will be taken to the asylum at Norman Wednesday morning.

The two men had been to town with a load of oats Monday. On the return McLaughlin fell sick, and Hurley agreed to remain with him during Monday night, it is said. About 4:00 o'clock Tuesday morning Hurley rose and stepped outside the front door. McLaughlin jumped up instantly, grasped a shotgun and killed his friend as he re-entered the door.

The slayer immediately fled, mounted his horse, and escaped to his home, which was a mile distant. His wife, who apparently realized his condition, and whom he also tried to kill, secured the insane slayer until the arrival of officers from Pauls Valley.

Both families are poor. McLaughlin has four children and the man he killed leaves a widow and seven children.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. Among inorganic substances lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance. . . . but if the salts are not in organic combination it is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Eckman's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Doan's Alternative has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alternative.

As it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Your druggist will order it for you or you can send direct.

State Game and Fish Warden Noble issued the following statement as a preface to the state laws issued in pamphlet form that may be obtained at the county clerk's office.

It is the purpose of this pamphlet to give in concise form, as nearly as possible, all of the information the general public may need to fully understand our game laws.

In order that you may understand the conflict in our state laws and the regulations of the federal government, it is only necessary to say that where there is a conflict, that the federal laws take precedence over any state laws. The government claims to own and have control of certain kinds of birds, migratory, water fowls, shore birds, or such birds as do not remain in any particular locality during all the year, or that migrate south in the cold season and return to the north in warm weather to rear its young. It is absolutely necessary that the authority to protect them should be vested in someone. Many of our states have no statutes as to the season in which they can be taken, nor the bag limit. Millions of these birds are annually killed by "Game Hogs" for profit, and by a greater number of ignorant persons who neither think nor care what their work of destruction really means. Therefore it was thought best to vest this authority in our federal government in order that the necessary protection and conservation should be enforced in all of our states.

Our game laws are not a joke. It is as much a crime to kill and eat a wild turkey out of season, as it is to kill and eat your neighbor's hog. It is as much a law violation to exceed the bag limit on quail as it is to steal chickens. Morally, it is a greater crime to dynamite our streams than it is to carry a pistol illegally, and yet there are those who hesitate to report violators of our game laws. Why? Why do you? All good people (and they are in the majority), will respect you for your clear cut ideas about enforcing our game laws. Only the bad and ignorant man will chide you.

It shall be the policy of this department to teach our people to respect and obey all of our laws, more especially our game laws, and to create an interest in our wild game and birds, in order that in later years we can each have his proper credit for having done his part in protecting our wild life, and in doing that, to have worked out the theory that we kept mankind from being exterminated by protecting our game and birds.

We ask earnest co-operation of all good people. We demand the observance of these laws by the wicked.

GEO. B. NOBLE,
State Game and Fish Warden.

Notice of Application for Parole.

Notice is hereby given that I will on the 24th day of August, 1915, make application to the governor of the state of Oklahoma for a parole from a conviction for forgery in the May term of the district court of Carter county, Oklahoma.

The grounds upon which I will make this application is that I was not of sound mind when the offense was committed.

Dated this 24th day of July, 1915.

FEDERAL GAME LAWS TAKE PRECEDENCE

WHERE THE STATE LAW CONFLICTS OR IS SILENT. QUAIL BAG LIMIT HAS BEEN REDUCED IN OKLAHOMA.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Sportsmen are warned by the United States department of agriculture that federal regulations as to migratory birds will apply to the exclusion of state regulations. The department will consider recommendations submitted in good faith, for amendment of the regulations, but will hold no public hearings, nor will it amend the regulations prior to October 15.

The open season for water fowl in Oklahoma, Sept. 15 to Feb. 1; Arkansas, Oct. 1 to Jan. 16; rails, coots, gallinules, all states, Sept. 1 to Dec. 1, save Louisiana, where the open season is from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1; woodcock, all states, Nov. 1 to Jan. 1; shore birds, including black-breasted and golden plover, jacksnipe, yellow-legs, etc., all states from Sept. 1 to Dec. 16, save Louisiana and Texas, where the open season is from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1. Insectivorous birds are protected indefinitely. Band tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlews and smaller shore birds protected until September 1, 1918. Shooting is prohibited between sunrise and sunset, or at any time on the Mississippi river between Minneapolis and Memphis after Jan. 1, 1915.

State Game and Fish Warden Noble issued the following statement as a preface to the state laws issued in pamphlet form that may be obtained at the county clerk's office.

GEO. B. NOBLE,
State Game and Fish Warden.

The open season for Doves, according to the federal laws is from Aug. 15 to Nov. 1, in this state, although the state law is silent upon the subject. The open season for deer is Nov. 15 to Dec. 15; turkey, Nov. 15 to Jan. 1; quail, Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, bag limit, ten per day, 100 for the season.

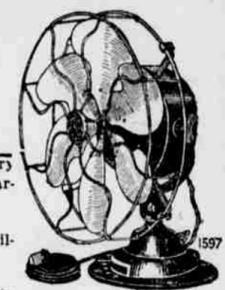

Capt. Pulliam has resigned as deputy game warden under the department of the interior, effective Aug. 15.

State Fair of Texas.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 11.—The 1915 State Fair of Texas promises to be the greatest exposition of Texas farm resources ever held. Forty to fifty county exhibits, a splendid array of individual farm exhibits, displays of boys' and girls' clubs of the state, will fill the great agricultural building to overflowing. Texas farmers as a rule are now working to a higher standard of cultivation, and their representation at the State Fair will be a decided evidence of the advanced work they are now doing.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
