

NO OCCASION FOR AN EXTRA SESSION NOW

REPUBLICAN LEGISLATOR OF NOBLE COUNTY OPPOSES EXTRA SESSION—SAYS 'GRANDFATHER' LAW IS NOT NEEDED.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 10.—In line with other republican members of the legislature, representative Tom Testerman, republican member of the house from Noble county, has written Gov. R. L. Williams a letter in which he opposes the calling of an extra session of the legislature in January. The letter is in reply to the query sent out by the governor several days ago, soliciting views of the legislators upon the advisability of an extra session. Other republicans who have responded to the governor's query have assumed the same position.

Only one of the probable subjects of legislation suggested by the governor is approved by Testerman. That is a law authorizing the establishment of industrial enterprises at the state prisons. This, however, he says is not of sufficient importance to justify an extra session, and can be taken care of by the next regular general assembly. With reference to proposed anti-usury legislation, Testerman says, the present laws limiting the legal rate of interest to 10 per cent per annum, are sufficient if properly enforced.

Relative to proposed amendments to election laws, which will supplant the defeated "grandfather" section of the constitution, Mr. Testerman says: "Your fifth proposition suggests an amendment to the election law. As I understand it, an attempt to amend the present election law is for the purpose only of evading the decision of the cases from Maryland and Blaine counties, where the supreme court of the United States held that the election law was in conflict with the constitution of the United States, which constitution you and I, as well as all the members of the legislature, have taken oath to uphold and defend. Besides, there has been a petition filed with the required number of signatures, giving the people of this state the opportunity to enact a fair election law. Therefore, I can see no reason why the legislature should be convened to tamper with this law and deprive some citizens of the right of franchise who is entitled to same under the federal government.

"On the other hand, there is no question but what the establishment of these enterprises at the state prison, as you have suggested, would be very helpful to the citizens of our state by manufacturing articles that are not produced in the state and furnishing them to a consumer at a lower price than is charged by the trust companies. However, again can I see no reason for assembling the legislature merely to establish such enterprises when we have had session after session and this very important need seemed to receive very little earnest attention or consideration from the body. But should you deem it justifiable in calling a special session, rest assured I shall do all I can to assist in establishing these industries along the lines suggested.

"Trusting you will command me at any time I can be of service to you, I am, Yours obediently, TOM TESTERMAN, Representative from Noble county."

SCHOOLHOUSE SANITATION

Forty states of the union have taken some legal action toward safeguarding the sanitation of public school buildings, according to a bulletin on "Schoolhouse Sanitation," just issued by the Bureau of Education of the U. S. department of the interior.

"Probably nine-tenths of the existing regulation of this sort has come within the past decade," declares the bulletin. "Each state profits by the experience of 47 others. A law passed in one extreme of the country today is copied next month or next year by a state 2,000 or 3,000 miles distant."

Thirty-eight states have some legal provision regarding the school site according to the bulletin. Nearly all of these provisions are state-wide in their application, and are mandatory in character. These provisions include the proximity of "nuisances" availability of the site, and size of the site. Nineteen states have laws prohibiting the location of school buildings within a specified distance from places where liquor is sold, from gambling houses, houses of prostitution, and noisy or smoky factories.

Thirty of the states have sought to regulate the water supply of the public school. "The revolt against the common drinking cup," says the bulletin, "has come within the past five years. Kansas was the pioneer, but other states followed rapidly, so that now half of the entire number have either a law or a regulation regarding drinking cups."

Some form of protection against fire and panic is found in 36 states. Blanket regulations, or the power to make such regulations, exist in 12 states. General or special construction with a view to fire prevention is dealt with in 10 states. Thirteen of the states have something to say as to corridors and inner stairways; 24 have regulations as to exits, and 25 as to exterior escapes; 10 mention alarm and fire-fighting apparatus; and 11 states provide by law or regulations for fire drills. Less than half the states, according to the bulletin, have any legal word or ventilation. Thirty cubic feet of fresh air per pupil per minute is the conventional amount specified.

In the matter of cleaning and disinfecting, slightly more than one-fourth of the states have regulations which control conditions to any degree outside the districts themselves. Some of the laws and regulations are almost model; others are wholly inadequate. A few state boards of health have done notable work in this particular. Special cleaning and disinfecting follow in seven states immediately upon discovery in any school of any of a certain class of diseases. "Three of the states have a special list of specific diseases that call at once for action. This list includes scarlet fever, smallpox, and diphtheria in all three states, measles in two, and infantile paralysis, epidemic spinal meningitis, and bubonic plague in one each."

The Carter County Educational Rally is not a scheme for increasing the taxes but to use economically the money that has already been appropriated for school purposes in the various districts. It is not economy to employ a teacher for eight months to teach in a district where the scholastic enumeration shows fifty pupils between the ages of 6 and 21 unless the entire fifty pupils are in school the entire eight months. The main object of Rally Week in Carter County is to see that every pupil of school age receives the instruction that has already been provided.

PRUSSIAN LOSS ALONE IS OVER TWO MILLION MEN

The total Prussian losses to date, the paper says, have been 2,099,454, not including 230 Bavarian, 293 Wurttemberg, 280 Saxon and fifty navy lists, and the lists of officers and non-commissioned officers who have been lost while fighting with the Turks.

HOW STOMACH ACIDS CAUSE INDIGESTION

Sweeten Your Stomach, Dissolve the Acid and Sourness, Gas, Pain, etc., Will Promptly Stop

"If thine eye offend thee, pluck it out." That's the way a good many people treat their stomachs. They eat food that doesn't agree with them, that ferments, sours and causes sharp biting acid to form in their stomachs, which then begins to burn, blost and belch gas and wind. This they call indigestion and use some digestive pill to stop the pain and get the food digested out of the stomach. Artificial digestion pushes this food, still sour on and into the intestines where the discomfort and pain stop, but the damage still goes on. Frequent forcing into the intestines of improperly digested sour acid food means future intestinal disorders. Every time you take a remedy that artificially digests food you are weakening your stomach by denying it needful exercise. It should be made to do its own work and will if you will let it. To relieve stomach distress after eating, merely take some simple antacid that on reaching the disordered stomach will neutralize and sweeten all its food contents. Dissolve the acid, and pain belching, burning, etc., will promptly cease and healthy, natural, normal digestion quickly follow. You can easily and quickly prove this by simply taking a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in a quarter glass of hot water the very next time your stomach troubles you. As there are several forms of magnesia you should ask distinctly for bisurated magnesia which can be obtained from Bomar Drug Co., T. N. Coleman, Rexall, Campbell's and druggists everywhere, and which will sweeten the acid in your stomach and relieve all distress and is moreover entirely harmless. Some druggists keep the bisurated magnesia in tablet form as well. This is equally valuable and sometimes more convenient to take.
