"THE GIRL AND THE TRAMP"

The following letter telegram was received by a Chicago tailoring firm the other day: "Don't start suit. Saw 'The Girl and the Tramp' the other night and am still laughing and taking on flesh. Will call in about thirty days for new measurement."

If you want to laugh and grow fat, see "The Girl and the Tramp" at the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night. Tickets now selling at Bomar's.

STREET STORIES

A number of local Shriners will leave here tonight for Oklahoma City, where India Temple will entertain brethren from all over the state tomorrow.

There has been a noticeable falling off in the number of "vags" caught in the police dragnet since the crusade started. The never-sweats are beginning to learn that the city police and commissioners mean business and are giving the town a wide berth.

"Taxable values will be materially increased another year if people render according to the figures they filed for claims against the railroad company," remarked one of the claim agents this morning, as he was commenting upon some of the settlements made for property loss.

A GOOD SHOW

Bushy's Minstrels played to a crowded tent last night. They were by far the best minstrels that ever visited the city under canvas. They have an excellent performance, especially the dancing, while the old time minstrel performance and songs delighted the audience. They carry a fine band and are a fun-loving, musical, talented crowd. —Yates Center Advocate.

EVERY ONE IN ARDMORE MAY BE THANKFUL

THAT THEY ARE ENJOYING HEALTH ON THIS THANKSGIVING DAY—HAVE MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR—ARE YOU?

Are you thankful?

If so, how are you going to show it? If ever a people had cause to give thanks, it is the people of Ardmore. It seems a miracle that so few lost their lives in the explosion. Are you who escaped, thankful? Do you appreciate the fact that our city is more prosperous commercially than it has been in years. Merchants report good business, work is abundant and well paid. Are you thankful? If you are, stop your festivities long enough to attend Thanksgiving services tomorrow. Come, for we pastors are going to expect you. A cordial invitation is extended to every one by the Pastor's Association of Ardmore.

CHAS. C. WEITH, Pres. J. W. BURNS, Secretary.

SPECIAL MATINEE

"The Girl and Tramp" Company will play special matinee tomorrow (Thanksgiving) at the Opera House.

Mrs. Cheney Improved.

Mrs. Ida Cheney, who has been seriously ill, is reported very much improved today. Her son, Ed Cheney, who came from Fort Worth to see her, has returned home. Other children here are Mrs. Reed McLamore of Abilene, and Miss Lou Cheney, who has been visiting with her, and Mrs. Hubert Horne of Hugo, accompanied by her little daughter.

Recovered Health.

Miss Lou Cheney, former cashier at Madden's, and who left here for Abilene, Texas, to rest after a severe attack of illness, is back at home now. She came on account of the serious illness of her mother, Miss Cheney recovered twelve perfectly good pounds of her lost weight, and is feeling well.

Athleticism in China.

The following item from a Chinese journal would indicate an increasing fondness in China for athletics: "Under the supervision of the ministry of interior the temple of agriculture is being converted into a beautiful park. In the forest of evergreen trees an inclosure has been built to keep 140 deer from the summer palace in Jehol. There will be tennis courts, football grounds and lily ponds. Several pavilions have been erected at different points in the large compound inside the temple grounds, some built according to old Chinese fashions and others in accordance with modern forms. The museum in which ancient sacrificial instruments are kept will also be open to the visitors."

Cost of Dress in Days of Old.

We have wandered away from the old plan of making gowns last for generations; but, then, the brocades were simply everlasting, says a fashion correspondent. Nor do we demand of our clothes that they should serve from season to season; we can have no standbys. We read in the chronicles of old families of some rich dresses lasting a lifetime and descending to a daughter. Elizabeth, the virgin queen, introduced much extravagance in costume which the chroniclers did not forget and rather amplified. But none of the Stuart queens left, as did Queen Bess, one hundred gowns and more in her wardrobe of hand-woven and exquisite materials, richly embroidered, with jewels intermixed.

Excellent Substitute.

In the good old days which poets praise there were in the average village few bathtubs and not many calendars. But the absence of the former made up in a measure for the paucity of the latter. Any prominent citizen going home in the evening and noticing the residence of one of our first families trembling like the fabled aspen, would readily recognize the symptoms. He would know beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the time was Saturday night and the cause was Elihu or Irving or Zach enduring his weekly bath by the kitchen stove, standing up in a tub and shivering until the whole house shook, while he gave himself a lick and a promise.—Kansas City Star.

From New York Office.

D. H. Strachan of the New York office of the Dundee, Samoset and Alma Oil companies is a visitor to the Ardmore offices of these companies, and will remain here for several days. Mr. Strachan will take part in the golf match tomorrow at Dornick Hills.

Bar Practice.

A cockney solicitor, who was characteristically mixed up in the use of his "his" happened to meet one of the wits of the American bar. The Englishman, commenting on the legal profession of Philadelphia, said that its members were very proficient and learned, but that they were absolutely ignorant on the subject of "hentials." "Ah," answered the American, "my dear sir, we may be ignorant of the 'hential,' but our knowledge of the 'cocktail' is unsurpassed." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.
