Box Party.
Mrs. W. D. Potter and Mrs. R. P. Poland entertained Monday afternoon with a delightful box party to the Palace Theatre, complimenting Mrs. McCamie of Gainesville, Mrs. Mooring of Louisiana, Mrs. Williamson of Kentucky, Mrs. Hard of Menrietta, Tex., and Mrs. Gregg of Cincinnati, O. The honor guests' places in the boxes were marked with large chrysanthemums tied with tulle bows. The afternoon was made extremely pleasant, not only by the hostesses, but by many delightful courtesies tendered the guests by the genial Palace managers.

A beautiful luncheon was served after the theatre, at the Gem cafe, which was decorated beautifully for the occasion with cut flowers and ferns. The guest list included Misses McCamie, Mooring, Williamson, Hard, Gregg, J. R. Pennington, B. A. Simpson, Charlie Adams, Hal Cannon, Zan Williams, W. A. Edwards, J. B.

$100 Reward $100
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the diseases, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

German Papers Suspended.
London, Nov. 29.—According to a dispatch from Copenhagen, a dozen German newspapers have been sus-pended for discussing the food ques-tion. In his newspaper, Die Siu-kanef, Maximilian Harden, says the dispatch, concludes an article on the subject with this sentence: "We must confess that the German people for the moment are suffering great want."

Beware of Cheap Substitutes
In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

FOURTEEN PRETTY GIRLS
Memory of Thanksgiving Dinner Opens Heart of Lawyer.
"Too fine for a lawyer to eat," was the remark Will Cruce made as he stooped over a bushel of pecans for which he had just paid $5 to O. K. Darden, the pecan king of Oklahoma.

"If pecans are too fine for a lawyer, they are too fine for mere men," said Will Potter, his partner, who gave a longing glance at the nuts, which were the largest ever brought to the local market. Mr. Potter offered the price of the whole bushel for half of them but at that moment an idea came to the big brain of Will Cruce and a five-dollar note did not look good to him. "I know what I will do," said Mr. Cruce. "I ate Thanksgiving dinner with just four-teen of as fine looking young women as I ever saw, and those girls shall have these pecans."
The young ladies mentioned are the nurses employed at Dr. McLain Rogers' hospital in Clinton, Okla., and before the end of the week the young ladies will have an opportunity to test the flavor of the finest pecans grown in Oklahoma.

INDEMNITIES FOR FRENCH

Special Committee to Arrange for War Indemnities.
Paris, Nov. 30.—The law providing for indemnities to French citizens for war damages, as elaborated by a special committee of the chamber of deputies, and as it will probably be enacted, proclaims "the equality of all French citizens and the solidarity of the nation in the face of the burdens of war," and declares that "damage caused in France to the property, real or personal, by acts of war gives right to indemnity."

The damages specifically named as entitling a citizen to reparation, are those caused by the authorities or the troops of the enemy, including taxes, requisitions, war contributions, fines imposed upon private individuals or communities, regardless of whether they were in conformity with the conventions of the Hague. Included also are all damages caused by the French army or its Allies.

The right of foreigners to indemnities in France, according to this project will depend upon the terms of treaties with the nations of which they are subjects. The dam-ages are to be estimated by commis-sions appointed for the purpose.

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamber-lain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with head-ache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Cham-berlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

Great Men.
The search after great men is the dream of youth and the occupation of manhood. We travel into foreign parts to find their works—if possible, to get a glimpse of them. . . . I count him a great man who inhabits a higher sphere of thought, into which other men rise with labor and with difficulty. He has but to open his eyes to see things in a true light, and in large relations; while they must make painful corrections, and keep a vigilant eye on many sources of error. But the great man must be related to us. I cannot tell what I would know; but I have observed that there are persons who, in their character and actions, answer questions which I have not skill to put. One man answers some questions which none of his contemporaries put, and is isolated.—Emerson.

PARDONS ASKED FOR BEALL AND GUINN
Washington, Nov. 29.—Congressman Jim McClintic called at the White House today and presented applica-tion of J. J. Beall and Frank Guinn for pardons. Secretary Tumulty stated that he could see no reason why the same should not be granted and immediately asked that records be sent him in order that they might be presented to the president. Congress-man McClintic presented statements from Gov. R. L. Williams, members of supreme court, criminal court of appeals, and Attorney General Freeling, asking that these pardons be granted.

Maternity! The Word of Words

It is written into life's expectations that motherhood is the one sublime accom-plishment. And if there is anything, no matter how simple, how apparently trivial it may seem, if it can aid, help, assist or in any way comfort the expectant mother, it is a blessing. And such is a remedy called "Mother's Friend." You apply it over the stomach muscles. It is gently rubbed on the surface, and makes the muscles pliant; this relieves the strain on ligaments, natural expansion takes place without undue effect upon the nerves. And as the time ap-proaches, the mind has gone through a pe-riod of repose, of gentle expectancy, and this has an unquestioned influence upon the future child. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that three generations of mothers have used and recommended "Mother's Friend." Ask your nearest druggist for a bottle of this splendid remedy. He will get it for you. And then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 407 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book of information to prospective mothers. It is mailed free. Write today. It is a book you will enjoy.

Tonsils and Rheumatism Dangerous.
Rheumatism in its many forms is, according to a famous British specialist, the most dangerous disease with which physicians have to deal, more dangerous than even tuberculosis, cancer or blood disease. He notes that 75 per cent of young patients who are the victims of acute rheumatism also suffer from diseased tonsils, and asserts that "rheumatism affecting young children or adolescents leaves mitral stenosis (contraction of the mitral valve of the heart) as its most frequent and crippling valvular affec-tion."

Agricultural Advice.
Nothing should be allowed to go to waste on the farm. A considerable saving can be made in the matter of medicine, for example. Such portions of remedies as may be left over after a long spell of illness, the contents of various bottles in the cupboard from which the labels have been lost, and the sample remedial agents that are left at the house from time to time, should be poured into a jar and the hired man dosed with the mixture whenever he complains of being so run down that he must take a day off to go to town. One dose will probably not kill him and the same hired man has never been known to desire a second dose.—Kansas City Star.

Conventionality a Tyrant.
There is little doubt that one of the most oppressive, injurious, detestable forces in the world is the force of conventionality, that instinct which makes men judge character and an ac-tion, not by its beauty or its merits, but by comparing it with the standard of how the normal man would regard it, writes Arthur C. Benson. This vast and intolerable medium of dullness, which penetrates our lives like a thick, dark mist, allowing us only to see the object in range of an immediate vision, hostile to all originality, crushingly respectable, that dictates our homes, our occupations, our amusements, our emotions, our religion, is the most ruthless and tyrannical thing in the world.

Wireless Telephony.
Wireless telephony means that the billion and a half people living on this planet have been virtually gathered into one room where they can listen to one man's voice. The human race has snuggled together like a family about a fireside on a cold evening and can chat comfortably with one an-other. When print became popular it was said that the human voice had lost its power. But we see, on the contrary, that its range has been ex-tended indefinitely. The vibrations of the air expelled from the mouth, too faint to be felt and speedily quenched, can be magnified and borne by the waves of the frictionless ether to the ends of the earth, there to be recon-verted into audibility. The sound passes through the silence as the rays of the sun can pass through a lens of ice and set a piece of wood on fire.

Arctic and Antarctic Icebergs.
It is not generally known, even to sailors, that there is a marked differ-ence between icebergs in the Arctic and Antarctic circles. Those of the Arctic ocean are irregular in shape with lofty pinnacles, cloud-capped towers and glittering domes, whereas the southern icebergs are flat-topped and solid-looking. The former reach the shore by narrow fords, but the formation of the latter is more regu-lar. The northern are neither so large nor so numerous as those met with in the southern ocean. In 1855 an im-mense berg was sighted in 42 degrees south latitude, which drifted about for several months, and was sighted by many ships. It was 300 feet high, 60 miles long, and 40 miles wide, and was in shape like a horseshoe. Its two sides inclosed a sheltered bay measuring 40 miles across. A large emigrant ship ran into this bay and was lost, with all on board. Only about one-ninth of an iceberg is vis-ible above the water. There are sev-eral well-authenticated accounts of icebergs 1,000 feet high having been sighted in the southern ocean. This would make their total height 2,000 feet, or nearly two miles.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION
"Pape's Diapepsin" fixes sour, gassy, upset stomachs in five minutes.
If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate, sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five min-utes.
Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin then you will understand why dys-peptic troubles of all kinds must go and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harm-less; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the food all the food you eat; and besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to re-sort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.
This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be en-thusiastic about this splendid stom-ach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heart-burn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.
Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

GERMANS SHOT NURSE AS SHE LAY IN FAINT

New York, Nov. 29.—An entirely new and circumstantial story of the execution of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse, as a spy by the Germans in Belgium, has reached this city through Frederick Schwed, a wealthy young broker, who, having made a lot of money last spring in war stocks, went abroad to see at first hand what war was really like. His information was secured in Berlin.

Miss Cavell was killed while lying on the ground in a faint.
All of official Germany deplores her execution—not on moral grounds, but because it was a stupid thing.
In this case, 30 soldiers were assigned to do the killing. Twenty of the rifles were loaded with blank car-tridges, the men were told, in order to lessen the individual responsibility. They led her to the court yard where she was to sit upon a chair, but before she reached the chair, she fainted and fell on the paving.

So, when they saw Miss Cavell fall to the ground unconscious, the com-mon soldiers, the privates, surrounded their officers and begged that they be allowed to shoot the woman right away, if they must shoot her at all.
The officers were obliged to capitulate and tell the men that they might go ahead and fire at Miss Cavell while she lay senseless upon the ground. The routine was carried through hurriedly. The soldiers got their orders—"Ready, aim, fire."
There was a great volley, but when Miss Cavell's body was examined, it was found that it had been penetrated by only one single bullet from the ten loaded rifles. This had gone through the head.
All the other shots had missed.

MOTHER OF 18 NOT AFRAID OF HIGH COST OF LIVING.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Casimiro Pera, of San Francisco, re-cently gave birth to her 18th child. Of this number nine have lived and are doing well.
Mrs. Pera doesn't understand that she, with her prolific brood, forms an item of interest in these times when European savants are discussing the problem of restocking a population de-pleted by war.
To her there is nothing unusual in the fact that she is only 38 and has mothered nearly a score of babies. To her the last little one means merely one more to love and cherish. She has her own viewpoint of life and its prob-lems and is satisfied with her solu-tion. She is content with her humble station as the wife of an Italian la-borer.

She loves her children. She is happy with them clinging to her skirts. She would be lonesome without their childish clamor. Tony manages with his wage of $15 a week, when he works to keep them in food and clothes. All the mother has to do is to see that they are fed and dressed and do not get run over by the jitney fleet. Life, after all, is exceedingly simple. What

How To Make the Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy
Much Better Than the Ready-Made Kind and You Save $2. Fully Guaranteed.

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and cer-tainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colic, is really remark-able. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Suffering, too, for bron-chitis, spasmodic cough, bronchial asthma and winter cough.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granu-lated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 54 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.00. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Fill directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heats the inflamed mem-branes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the per-sistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine ex-tract, rich in pinic acid, which is so heal-ing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces Pinex," and don't accept any thing else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

more could one want? Mrs. Pera thinks of nothing.
The high cost of living does not bother her.
"Cheapsa da milk," she explains. "Da childer lika da bread and milk. Getta da fat," she smiled. "Tony, he works hard all da time. Da childer go to da school, learna to spit English. They sell macaroni 'n da store when they grow up. So nice, heh?"
