Had Sketches of Cities

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Secret service men opened today a trunk left in lieu of a board bill at a hotel here just before the outbreak of the war by a man who registered as Carl Schubert.

The hotel received a remittance yesterday for the amount of the bill with the request that the trunk be forwarded to San Francisco. In the trunk were found carefully drawn sketches of the chief Canadian cities, and of many portions of the boundary line between the Dominion and the United States. There also were maps with note books containing descriptions written in German.

Organizing to Fight Bryan

St. Louis, Feb. 7.—Supporters of the president are working hard today in preparation of the meeting of the subcommittee on arrangements of the democratic national committee to be held here tomorrow. William Jennings Bryan wants to be temporary chairman of the democratic national convention, or failing in this, he is willing to accept the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions. Tomorrow's meeting will furnish the opening test of the former secretary of state to deliver the keynote speech of democracy. It is believed that national chairman Wm. F. Combs is working solely in the interest of the White House and he will lead the fight for the election of a temporary chairman. If the vote is to be close or there seems to be danger that Combs has a chance to put over his proposition, it is reported that a letter will be read that will be quoted as authority that President Wilson's political managers do not wish to have the temporary

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

chairman selected so far ahead of the date of the national convention. Mr. Bryan, the story runs, is not only willing, but anxious to take the temporary chairmanship provided he can get it tomorrow. It is figured from this viewpoint that Mr. Bryan would be in a commanding position all the way through the period while national convention delegates are being elected. It is also figured that influence strength would be added to the campaign for delegates backed openly by Mr. Bryan that are opposing delegates' tickets named by state organizations that Mr. Bryan fought bitterly in the Ballfourn convention four years ago, such as the Sullivan ticket in Illinois, the Murphy ticket in New York and the Tazart ticket in Indiana.

Do You Find Fault With Everybody?
An irritable, fault-finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently benefited by Chamberlain's Tablets after years of suffering. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.

CANADIAN MUNITIONS FACTORY BLOWN UP.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—A report that the Jardine munitions factory at Hespeler, Waterloo County, Ont., has been blown up, has been received by the militia department. A request has been made to have ordered out an overseas regiment stationed in the neighborhood.

Hespeler is situated in a remote part of Waterloo County, and the militia department has been unable thus far to obtain details regarding the reported explosion. The town is twelve miles southeast of Berlin, which is sixty-two miles west of Toronto. The population is about 5,000, and there are several factories in the place.

How Mr. Davis Got Rid of a Bad Cough.

"Some time ago I had a very bad cough," writes Lewis T. Davis, Blackwater, Del. "My brother, McCabe Davis gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After taking this I bought half a dozen bottles of it but only used one of them as the cough left me and I have not been troubled since." Obtainable everywhere.

OWNERSHIP OF APPAM NOT YET DETERMINED

Washington, Feb. 6.—The question of ownership of the British steamer Appam, brought into Hampton Roads by a German prize crew, may remain an open issue until the end of the war, with the ship meantime held in the custody of the American officials at Newport News.

Conflicting German and English claims are being considered by the state department and the neutrality board, but no decision has been announced. Officials generally believe, however that the case must be governed by the Prussian treaty of 1828, which grants Prussian prizes free entry to American ports and declares that they "may freely be carried out again at any time by their captors to the places expressed in their commissions." A literal construction of that provision would permit the Appam to remain indefinitely at Newport News.

FEDERAL AID AND THE GOOD ROADS QUESTION.

Washington, D. C., February 7.—"Gradually and insistently the federal aid in good roads question has approached a definite expression which will be embodied in legislation adopted by the present congress," is the comment of chairman George C. Diehl of A. A. National Good Roads Board, in reference to the multiplicity of highways measures which are going through the nation's legislative mill in Washington.

"The concern of the motorcar owner, despite any assertion to the contrary and borne out by the exact facts, is the same as that of any other citizen. Because of greater opportunity of observation and a yearly mileage which disregards township, county and state lines, the user of the self-propelled vehicle has realized in advance of other road travelers that multiplying population and the increasing requirements of the comprehensive intercourse have revolutionized highways construction and maintenance methods.

"The state must now approach the problem from the viewpoint, first, of the necessities of the commonwealth and must relieve the counties of those thoroughfares the cost of which has become exceedingly burdensome through the swelling streams of travel from tributary roads, making imperative modern building and upkeep. So great has this call from the counties accumulated that the states new approach the federal source for a co-operation essential to the healthful development of the nation. Neighborliness once restricted itself to localities within the ability of the mule-drawn vehicle. But a new and economical form of transportation for humans and the exchange of commodities is astoundingly accelerating road maintenance and social amenity. Not to reckon with the changed condition, is worse than standing still.

"The bills now pending in congress very properly provide that only those highways shall be improved which are agreed upon between the state authority and the federal authority. The purpose of this, of course, is to make for a connected and well-developed system, and it is comparatively easy for the federal official to reject an application from a state because it is not on a main thoroughfare. But it would be next to impossible for him to reject an application for a maintenance expenditure for the same reason. I view at this time with much concern the employment of federal money for maintenance purposes."

The so-called Shackelford bill which passed in the house of representatives now rests with the committee on agriculture, of which Senator Gore of Oklahoma is the chairman.

In a recent address Senator Gore thus commented upon the new roads question. "The general government should co-operate with the state governments, paying dollar for dollar, in the establishment and construction of a system of national highways. The expenditure should be dollar for dollar in order to safeguard against the 'pork barrel'."

"A federal revenue of $25,000,000 a year from inheritances would pay the interest on $500,000,000 of state bonds. This amount judiciously and jointly expended by the federal and state governments would render possible the early construction of an unequalled system of local and national highways. With such a system of highways the self-propelled vehicle would revolutionize rural transportation in the United States. This is an automobile age, and this is entitled to be an automobile country."

The Health Alarm

often sounds first in the doctor's office when some healthy looking specimen of humanity, undergoing examination for life insurance, is told that his blood pressure is too high.

Increased blood pressure is no longer confined to old age; it is frequently found in men in their 40's who are otherwise healthy. In such cases it points to approaching degeneration of the arteries—a condition which in turn indicates those errors of diet that often end in various diseases of the stomach, kidneys, liver, nerves and heart.

Among these errors of diet is coffee drinking, because of the drug, caffeine, in coffee, the constant use of which weakens the walls of arteries. Medical authorities now insist that in all cases of high blood pressure there must be total abstinence from coffee, tea and other harmful beverages.

Hard to give up coffee? Not at all, when one uses instead the pure food-drink—

Instant Postum

This delicious beverage is made of wheat, roasted with a little wholesome molasses. It is then reduced to a soluble powder, a level teaspoonful of which with hot water makes a perfect cup instantly.

Instant Postum tastes much like mild Java coffee, but is absolutely free from the drug, caffeine, or any harmful ingredient. It does contain those vitalizing elements of the grain which make for normal balance of the system.
