Advance Fall Footwear.

The short, full skirts of nineteen-sixteen, have certainly given to high-top shoes, over slippers; a performance unthought of in other summer seasons.

The late-spring boots held the sway much longer than even the most far-sighted style authorities predicted. Now again after a few short weeks of slipper wear, Mi-lady of Fashion is once more interested in the High Boot showing; and the advance fall styles, more artistic, more beautiful than ever bid fair to displace the cooler footwear even before the hottest of the summer days are upon us. A new boot of brown and ivory kid stocks very harmoniously combined. A Brooklyn Boot from the factory of Griffin-White, is being shown for the first time at Madden's. The quarter heel and ball strap are of brown, while the vamp and the eight inch top are of ivory. The heel
