Ardmore, Thursday, August 31, 1916.

Since Ed Trapp saved Tulsa its prize fight that city will want to make him governor next time.

The allies are buying more horses in the United States. This would indicate that immediate peace is not expected.

Culberson has a perfect right to love and adore the double primary. It saved him his seat in the United States senate.

Democrats have no occasion for any alarm concerning the report that there will be a fusion of republicans and socialists. The socialists will decline to fuse, and republican leaders who would agree to a fusion would lose the respect of their party.

Vice-President Marshall when asked what he thought of Judge Hughes' Detroit speech, gave the best description of it we have heard up to this writing. He said: "Should we judge this speech by its length and the number of objections it contains it might be mistaken for a dissenting opinion."

Socialists at Waco are urging Wilson to take over the railroads and operate them, and place the revenue arising from such operation into the federal treasury. If all railroad property is valued according to the Frisco's holdings in its new organization, Mr. Wilson would have to raise more money than the country has to make the purchase of the roads.

THEY JES' LAUGH

Senator John S. Williams of Mississippi, was asked for an opinion on the speech of Mr. Hughes and he said it reminded him of an appointment of a man some years ago as attorney general of the United States, who had never been able to make a living at home; so after he had been in office awhile he went back home and walked around through the country dressed like a farmer, and asked what had become of so and so (naming himself). The first old farmer replied that he had been appointed attorney general of the United States. "Well," says the disguised attorney general, "what do the people around here think of the appointment?" The old farmer says: "They jes' laugh."—Guyton Advocate.

FAMOUS EDITOR FOR WILSON.

With accustomed accuracy and under the editor of the Springfield Republican of Springfield, Mass., has reviewed the public careers of Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes with the earnest purpose of deciding upon the editorial policy of that newspaper in the present campaign.

The Republican is one of the most ably edited and famous newspapers in America. Its editor has watched in the present campaign to hear both candidates before taking sides.

Like a candid, broadminded publicist he yields that measure of praise to Mr. Hughes he thinks his public acts must claim, but like a true patriot he announces his allegiance to the country's present policies, and pledges his splendid talents henceforth to the re-election of Woodrow Wilson.

The Republican's editorial, making President Wilson the candidate of his choice, has already become a notable bit of literature in the campaign. It says in part:

Mr. Wilson in the face of difficulties and criticism such as have confronted no president since Lincoln, has accomplished much. To declare his foreign policy futile is idle. The conclusive answer is contained in the bitter protests of the radical faction in Germany that the German submarines have been caught "in a net of notes." The outstanding fact is that Mr. Wilson, without bringing the United States into war, has forced a recognition of neutral right.

With relation to Mexico, Mr. Wilson has grasped the underlying principle that we shall not have a permanently peaceful neighbor to the south of us until the most patent wrongs under which the masses of the Mexican people have suffered are righted through their own efforts. The recognition of this principle in the long run means the minimum of evil to this country from the Mexican problem. It is to Mr. Wilson's everlasting credit that in spite of difficulties, discouragements, and possibly of incidental mistakes, he has not wavered in his endeavor to apply this principle to the changing circumstances of the times.

CHAMP CLARK IN THE STATE OF MAINE

Speaker Clark has carried the democratic fire into the trenches of the enemy.

He has successfully stormed the citadel of the republicans in New England. He has made a very decided impression, according to the reports from Portland.

One fact he emphasized without fear of contradiction, and if any section of the country is in a position to appreciate it it is New England.

Democratic administrative measures and the fact and discretion of Woodrow Wilson have made it possible in this period of crisis to open the closed mills of New England. Not only have the mills been opened, but they are being operated night and day with double and triple shifts being employed. President Wilson has made it possible for a tidal wave of gold to sweep gently over the eastern states.

The fact that the republican national committee saw fit to send Charles Evans Hughes to the distant western states, while the democrats have been satisfied to open the campaign in the east, is a tacit acknowledgment that if gains are expected by Hughes he must look for them in the west and not in the east.

We do not pretend to say that Curtis in Maine will be elected but it must be remembered that Maine is the very keystone and foundation of republicanism. That the democrats hope to break the strength of the state and secure the national electoral vote, just as Wilson did four years ago, is a foregone conclusion.

A republican governor may be elected. This is a matter of doubt. At the same time, admitting the election of a republican, so long as the democrats of Maine can retain and hold the democratic strength it will be a telling indication as to what will be done in the east.

The two points made by Champ Clark are points that can not be consistently answered. He frankly asks what the republican party has done to warrant the election of Charles Evans Hughes, and he asks also what the democratic party has done to warrant the defeat of Woodrow Wilson.

He has pointed out the man's magnificent achievements since he has been the nation's chief executive, he tells of the vast amount of constructive legislation he has made possible and he sounds the keynote of the campaign he declares that in the midst of plenty and prosperity the American people should not clamor for a change.—Commercial Appeal.

Mr. T. E. Bridgman, City

Dear Mr. Bridgman:-

I acknowledge receipt of draft for $3000.00 payment in full for fire loss sustained by me to my new dwelling house which burned on the nineteenth instant and insured under policy #5069 of the Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania.

The adjuster for your company called on me the third day after the fire occurred and his treatment of me was both fair and courteous. The loss was settled and paid with such promptness and your service in the matter was so entirely satisfactory that I desire to express my sincere appreciation of same and to assure you that it will be my pleasure to recommend you and the above mentioned company to my friends.

Very truly Yours,

Palace.

What critics everywhere are proclaiming is the best motion picture novel yet offered the public is coming to the Palace theatre on Friday. Its title is "Gloria's Romance," and the star of this much heralded attraction is none other than Billie Burke, famous star of "Jerry" and a half dozen famous productions of the speaking stage. The story of the new film novel is from the pen of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, who are famous for such tales as "What Will People Say?" "Clipped Wings," and "The Thirteenth Commandment," and is said to be absolutely logical throughout and of real literary merit, not at all like the slap-dash, blood-and-thunder films that have sometimes been shown in theatres of a lower class.

Manager Harry Lowenstein of the Palace theatre is ready to personally guarantee the quality of "Gloria's Romance," for he has seen the early chapters of the story and was amazed to find how much above the ordinary run of films it is. All the pretty little mannerisms of Miss Burke that made her so attractive on the speaking stage is retained by the camera, and many are of the opinion that Billie will score an even greater triumph in films than she did before she decided to sign a contract calling for $4,000 per week as a picture player.

CLEAR SKIN COMES FROM WITHIN

It is foolish to think you can gain a good clear complexion by the use of face powder. Get at the root of the trouble and thoroughly cleanse the system with a treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Gentle and mild in action, do not gripe, yet they relieve the liver by their action on the bowels. Good for young, adults and aged. Go after a clear complexion today. 25c at your druggist.

MEXICAN RAILWAY TO BE TURNED TO STOCKHOLDERS.

Mexico City, Aug. 31.—All accounts against the Mexican National Railway company to be met by the Mexican National treasury were closed today. A joint commission is working on the plan for the government to return the line to its stockholders. After September 1, a reciprocal charge of 50 cents Mexican gold daily will be made for the use of the cars. As it is impossible for the company to run night trains at present, the government will use the company's Pullman's for one year, unless the government can make arrangements for cars with the Pullman company.

Appalling Sneezing Statistics.

Bethlehem, N. H., Aug. 30.—Nobody knows just how many members of the National Hay Fever Association will get here in time to attend the annual convention of the organization tomorrow, but they are arriving rapidly today. There are 200,000 sneezers and sneezerettes enrolled and they live in all parts of the country. According to the report of President, John R. Plavover, these sneezers sneeze some seventy-three sneezes a day, for an average of forty-one sneeze days a year. This gives 6,003,200,000 sneezes for 1916.

Most of the young explosionists usually select the middle of the minister's prayer or some such place before giving expression to their sneezes. In volume of noise these sneezes are equal to seventeen European wars and a municipal trolley system. They necessitate the use of six handkerchiefs per day a sneezer, a total of 1,200,000 mouchirs a day for the 200,000, or 30,000,000 handkerchiefs to register the hay fever vote of ayes and noes for the reason of forty-one days. Present and sneezing at the convention will be Henry Altman of New York, the noblest sneezer of them all. Altman has tried 100 remedies, including psych-analysis, suggestive therapy, Yohimism, Yogillism, astrology, osteopathy, bleeding, hypnotism, auto-suggestions and automobiling, singing, science and scores of others.

Cure for Cholera Morbus.

"When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Sidney Simmons, Fair Haven, N. Y. "Since then other members of my family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit." Obtainable everywhere.

Probable Increase in Bread Price.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 31.—Local bakers declared they will be forced to increase the price of bread immediately unless the present unusually high price of flour decreases.

It is planned to arrange a meeting for all local bakers soon in an effort to get concerted action on the problem now confronting them. It is said, a standard raise adhered to by all the local bakeries will be declared.

OUR FREE COUNTY FAIR.

Carter County Fair Will Build Ardmore, Says Mack, of Hugo.

Special to the Ardmoreite. Hugo, Okla., Aug. 31.—Secretary T. W. Mack, of the Choctaw county fair says that our fair move now under way, is not only progressive but constructive for the very best interest of every citizen in Carter county, and this is not all, it's going to be put through, and become one of the leading factors in a Greater Ardmore and Carter county.

By experience with fairs and the proper management of same, they have proven to be of great value for many reasons, and the three leading features are the exploitation of the products of the varied soils, progress along the lines of better stock, and especially the social features they afford for both the old and the young, causing a general meet of all citizens of the county once a year, and visits of friends and relatives during fair dates. Yes push that fair move to a successful termination.

We hold in this city our first free county fair, Sept. 11-12-13, and every citizen in the county is arranging to be at it, and inviting his out country friends and state friends.

We want to compliment your chamber for its activity for the results of the kind that are lasting and are constructive, in behalf of your city and county. We note with pleasure that it does not chase the "sunbeams" but only goes for something of a permanent and lasting character.

When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are pleasant to take and mild and gentle in effect. Obtainable everywhere.
