BISMARCK, D. T., JUNE 3, 1881.

MILES CITY becomes a money order office July 1st.

MURAD HALSTEAD is spoken of for the Berlin mission.

MR. TILDEN refused to become a candidate for Senator.

THE New York Evening Post cost its new managers $650,000.

IS joint convention Conkling gained one vote. Platt held his own.

MR. DORSEY has worried himself sick over the star route investigations.

GEN. SHERIDAN took part in the decoration exercises at Chippewa Falls on the 30th ult.

FRANCES KERNAN and J. C. Jacobs are the Democratic nominees for senators in New York.

GEN. SMITH, "Takin George," was killed by John O'Neil, at Brainerd last week. O'Neil was acquitted.

MR. BILLINGS is said to have received $4,500,000 for stock in the North Pacific which cost him $75,000 only a few years ago.

John Fitzpalmer and H. King, employees on the Iron Mountain road, have been arrested, charged with the robbery of Gen. Grant.

SPRINGFIELD, Dakota, indulged in the luxury of a water spout early this week. The water was eighteen feet deep on land usually dry. Two men were drowned.

OF THE 105 Republicans in the New York legislature. The administration forges count upon 57. The stalwarts mustered only thirty-six in their Monday's caucus.

IT speaks bad for Duluth that its business men do not show their appreciation of a daily paper better than their advertisements speak in the new daily, struggling for the interests of that city by the lakes.

CONKLING'S warmest friends warn him of the fate of Horace Greeley. They urge that no living man stood so well in the hearts of the masses of the Republican party as he, and yet he had little following when he stepped outside his party.

MR. BENJAMIN thinks Blaine could be purchased and is sure that Conkling could not be purchased, but he says Conkling is dictatorial, overbearing and unforgiving, that it is treason in his eyes to oppose his purpose, and never looks with any degree of allowance on any man whom he thinks has betrayed or wronged him.

THE Washington Post takes the ground that a prolonged dead lock in the New York legislature, means two Democratic Senators. That view is probably correct. It will no doubt be a source of pride to Mr. Conkling to know that if he could not control the Republicans in the Senate and administration, he could at least turn control over to the opposition.

CLARK THOMPSON, of Wells, Minnesota, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. Mr. Thompson was superintendent of the agencies at the time of the Indian outbreak in 1862. Fort Thompson was named for him. Minneapolis had better make friends with Thompson. He might be able to get away with the Capital for them if elected. He was a success in the Indian business.

DULUTH can never expect to boom or become the city which nature intended her for, so long as the business men fail to appreciate and support a daily paper, as Bismarck and Fargo papers are being supported. It takes money to run a live daily, and Duluth's business men do not seem to be far-sighted enough to see the good results to be accomplished by a live daily, which can only be made so by their united efforts.

THERE is bad blood between Conkling and Governor Cornell, stirred up largely by Mr. Arthur who has insisted that Cornell desired to defeat Conkling in order to become a candidate himself. This backbiting has made it impossible for Mr. Cornell to become a candidate for Senator without justifying the stories of bad faith on his part toward Conkling.

It now appears that the quarrel spoken of last week was between Cornell and Conkling instead of between Conkling and Arthur.

MR. CONKLING now speaks of Mr. Blaine as "that man from Maine" and does not intend to allow him to capture the party organization in New York if he can help it. Mr. Conkling says his fight is not on the Administration, but on "that man from Maine."

THE Fargo Argus says the new administration will invite J. P. Power to again take charge of the North Pacific Land Department, and that Mr. Power is now on the line of the road looking the ground over with that end in view.

THE Government does not intend to let up in the star route matter until the bottom is reached. There is little prospect now of any wrong in connection with these things escaping the attention of the Department.

THERE is a rumor of the sale of the Casselton branch to Jim Hill, of the Manitoba road. Hill will fight for the trade of every section where extra number one wheat grows. See if he don't.

No caucus, no plans, no machine, is the motto of the anti-Conkling men in the New York Legislature.

GEN. MAHONE prefers to be satisfied with his relations to the administration.

More Tasty

The Bismarck Daily Tribune is the sort of live, dashing, piquant newspaper that we delight to read.—Dakota Herald.

THE Bismarck Tribune is now issued daily. It is not a large nor a pretentious sheet, but is brim full of news, and that is the great duty of a daily.—Benton River Press.

We have just received the first copy of the Bismarck Daily Tribune, of which Col. Lounsberry, formerly connected with the Wells Atlas, is the proprietor. It is a large, handsomely printed, sparkling paper.—Wells Advocate.

We received this week the initial number of the Bismarck Daily Tribune, a four page, six column paper. It is a neat little sheet, full of news, and resembles the weekly sufficiently to be known at once as a "chip of the old block." It is the response of an enterprising publisher to the requirements of a growing young city, and will, of course, reap the reward due so good a paper as it promises to be.—Springfield Times.

Missing

The subjoined "Opinions of the Press on Kissing," relates to the text which tells us that "Jacob kissed Rachael, and lifted up his voice and wept."

If Rachael was a pretty girl and kept her face clean we can't see what Jacob had to cry about.—Daily Telegraph.

How do you know but that she slapped his face for him.—L. Y. M. C. Association News.

The cause of Jacob's weeping was the refusal of Rachael to allow him to kiss her again.—Non-Conformist.

It is our opinion that Jacob wept because he had not kissed Rachael before, and wept for the time lost.—National Reformer.

The fellow wept because the girl did not kiss him.—Fall Mall Gazette.

Jacob wept because Rachael told him to do it again, and he was afraid to.—Methodist Recorder.

Jacob cried because she threatened to tell her mother.—Christian World.

Jacob wept because there was only one Rachael to kiss.—Southwest News.

He wept for joy, because it tasted so good.—Jewish Chronicle.

We think Jacob cried because Rachael had been eating onions.—New York Standard.

A mistake. Not his eyes, but his mouth watered.—Chester Chronicle.

Our opinion is that Jacob wept because he found that it was not half what it was cracked up to be.—Manhattan Examiner and Times.

Jacob thought it was a fast color, and wept to find the paint come off.—Fine Art Gazette.

He was a fool. He did not know what was good for him.—Saturday Review.

Jacob thought that she might have a big brother.—Church Times.

Because there was no time for another.—Sword and Trowel.

When Jacob lifted up his voice and wept he found he could not get it as high as he expected.—Musical Notes.

Weeping is not unfrequently caused by extreme pleasure, joy, happiness; it might have been so in Jacob's case.—Hardwick's Science Gossip.

Perhaps it was Emma Abbott, palming herself off for Rachael on poor Joseph who had never before tasted a stago kiss.

Busted Boats.

One of the large sixty-foot boats which were built a few weeks ago on the bank of Tongue river, for the purpose of taking down several thousand buffalo hides to Bismarck, has been wrecked near Powder river. It seems that it struck a rock in mid-river and broke completely through the middle. But few hides were lost, however, as Mr. Chapman had them so tied-together that in case of accident no loss would ensue. The boat is irreparably damaged.

PURELY PERSONAL

Capt. Braithwaite is at the Merchants. Frank Brown returned from the east Tuesday.

C. P. Conkling, San Francisco, is touring in the city.

A. Ketchum, Keogh line, came in to see the boys last evening.

Geo. W. Annett, of Mount Ayr, Iowa, is taking in Bismarck.

M. E. Newton, St. Paul, was a lodger at the Merchants last night.

Mr. F. Martin, of the North Pacific management is in the city.

G. B. Garret of the Sherman House, St. Paul, came in last evening.

Dr. W. D. Wolverton, U. S. A., Fort Lincoln, visited the city Tuesday.

Geo. Bohon, the rustler of the Pioneer Press, was in the city this week.

C. M. Tennis, of Clarke, represented that lively town-site in Bismarck yesterday.

E. M. Bennett, the real estate man, left yesterday on a flying trip to Fort Yates.

Michael Keating and Sam Stibler, Mandan, were viewing the sights in the city yesterday.

W. F. Steele, with samples of wheat twenty-one inches long, came in Wednesday.

Mrs. M. A. Lutzpatrick, of Fort Benton, is at the Merchants, waiting for a Benton-bound steamer.

Geo. Vennum, one of Jamestown's prosperous representatives, came up to see the city Tuesday.

E. D. Hager, the eldest of the Mandan real estate boomers, came in from St. Paul Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Nicholls, of the Headquarters hotel, were guests of the Sheridan House this week.

Lieut. Ogle, Seventeenth Infantry, arrived last evening from Ohio, after a few weeks absence from his post, Fort Yates.

Supt. G. C. Green and the inspectors of the Western Union came in from the extension Wednesday morning and proceeded east.

Sam English, an old Bismarcker, stopped at the Merchants last night. He, in company with three others, are en route for Montana.

E. G. Macley, Cashier of the First National Bank of Benton, arrived on last evening's train just in time to miss a boat for up river.

T. B. Cumstock was one of the numerous Fargo men that arrived in Bismarck yesterday. Fargo enterprise keeps one eye on Bismarck.

Mrs. English and daughter, mother and sister of Lieutenant English, of Fort Lincoln, arrived on last evening's train and will remain during the summer.

Even Bohon, of the Pioneer Press, could not resist the temptation, and will therefore double his money in the real estate purchased at Bismarck Wednesday.

Capt. Josiah Chance says that it was by chance only that he was able to remain over and see "Camille" last evening. A broken ambulance helped the matter along.

G. K. Barnes, general Passenger and Ticket Agent of the North Pacific road, arrived at the most enterprising city on the line last evening, and registered at the Sheridan.

Rev. J. M. Bull is daily engaged in training about forty children in song services, and they will participate in the concert to be given one week from Sunday night. They meet every afternoon at the church.

Matt Gallagher, one of the most enterprising commercial travellers that visits North Dakota is in the city, representing E. B. Miller & Co., of Chicago. He gets away with all "the boys" in booking orders in Bismarck.

Major Brotherton again expresses a firm conviction that Sitting Bull is about to surrender, and has said to a newspaper correspondent that he would not be surprised if he should be aboard a boat for Fort Yates within fifteen days.

N. B. Parkins, of Standing Rock, who came in from the east Tuesday, says a ride over the line will convince anyone of the superiority of the Missouri river slope. Wheat west of of Jamestown is further advanced by ten days than that of the Red River valley.

Opium Smoking Ladies.

A reporter of the Chicago Telegraph visited an establishment kept for the exclusive use of ladies, in the neighborhood of Clark and Van Buren streets. It was with no little difficulty that an entrance was effected. Once inside the apartment, or, more properly, "reception room," the reporter was lost in astonishment and in admiration. The ceiling was beautifully frescoed in Chinese designs, the tapestry with which the walls were hung was ornamented with birds and flowers wrought with threads of gold and silver; pendant from the ceiling swung a massive chandelier of unique pattern, through the many colored globes of which the subdued light fell warm and richly on the scenes below. Parting the silken curtains at one end of the apartment, the "opium room" revealed itself, furnished on a scale no less grand than the room just described. In this department, so it was stated, many ladies of fashion meet and hold high carnival until the powerful effects of the drug, to which they have become slaves, deprives them of reason. The reporter saw three of these women lying upon the silken couches, lost to the realities of the world, through the medium of that subtle narcotic, opium. Stranger stories than this can be told of the opium dens of Chicago stories, perhaps, of crime. Unlike the gambling rooms or other money-making luxuries of the Americans, the wise Chinaman keeps his business as much as possible a secret from the police.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Condensed from Regular Associated Press Dispatches Received Last Night.

Police commissioner Hydoine was suspended from duty yesterday by Mayor Murphy, of Troy, N. Y.

Conkling left Albany last night for New York being called away by legal business. He will return to Albany as soon as the business is completed.

The Treasury Department yesterday purchased 400,000 ounces of fine silver, for delivery at the San Francisco, Carson and Philadelphia mines.

At a meeting of the Anti-Slavery Trade Society, at Madrid yesterday, a resolution was passed demanding the abolition of capitol punishment and the immediate liberation of all slaves in Antilles.

It is very generally expected that D. S. Alexander, of Indiana, will be appointed Fifth Auditor of the Treasury Department, in place of Ela, to be transported to the position of Pay Auditor.

A Berlin dispatch from Grandenz, a fortified town in western Prussia, says that during artillery practice, a shot fell and burst in the midst of the marching party. Three captains and two gunners were killed.

Samples of flour or other powdered substances, were, by the department at Washington, yesterday declared unmarketable, except when put up in transparent bags, and sealed so that no particle can sift through. The bags must be enclosed in boxes, or tubs made of hard wood or metal, with side or clasp screw lids, and without sharp corners.

The Treasury department will to-day issue another circular letter relative to excursion steamers, for officers and inspectors of the service as well as for the information of the travelling public, who are invited to present to the proper officers authenticated proofs of violations of the steamboat laws in order that the offenders may be prosecuted.

The Principal Reason Removed.

[Fargo Argus.]

The Pioneer Press thinks that explanations would seem to be in order, because whereas Father Stephan authorized a statement to the P. P. to the effect that he had resigned the Indian agency at Standing Rock, no record of such resignation had been received at the department, according to the P. P. correspondent, up to Saturday. Father Stephan did resign, nevertheless, and his letter is doubtless to be found in the archives of the bureau of Catholic missions at Washington. It has not been presented because the succession is yet in doubt. Father Stephan was anxious that Major James McLaughlin, of Devil's Lake agency, should succeed him, and an arrangement to that effect was in progress at the time Father Stephan was in St. Paul, but the health of Major McLaughlin's family may preclude a removal to the Missouri river, and in that case it is probable that the distinguished priest will remain where he is especially since the new assignment of Gen. Carlisle removes the principal reason he had for resigning.

The Colored Elder's Qualifications.

In one of the southern presbyteries, composed of colored members, there was a lively canvass for the choice of an elder to go to Buffalo to the general assembly. Several candidates were urged on the ground that they were lawyers and able speakers. A brother objected to them. They were not, he said, representative men. His favorite was a rough, uncultivated specimen, such as the southern fields produce in plenty. He would make a true and honest, if not an eloquent delegate. Other speakers added their views, and finally a brother brought down, the house by urging the eminent qualifications of an elder who had served a term in the penitentiary! He was now a truly reformed man, and thus entitled to the pre-eminence, as illustrating in his own person and history what the gospel could do for the colored man.

Better Than Rain.

[Helena Herald, May 24.]

More than six inches of snow fell in Helena on Sunday last. The valleys and hills in the vicinity were covered to the depth of several inches. It was as good as two or three heavy rains and highly beneficial to farmers, miners and stock growers. The snow had all disappeared from the valleys and low hills by yesterday noon, leaving the ground in excellent condition for the growth of all kinds of vegetation.
