

THE PHILOSOPHY OF WHIST.

The road of life is but a game, Where some thirst for power and fame.

Some men assume the part of trade, Some turn the soil with active spade.

While some to wealth incline,
And making into earth their way,

Some men have their parts assigned,
And ranks throughout the world we find.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Some men will shuffle through their day,
Unmindful how their partners play.

Unmindful how their partners play.

ally conceded that they are the remain of other celestial planets, probably those of a destroyed planet. In such meteoric stones the eminent German geologist, Dr.
Hahn, has recently discovered an entire set of organic remains, identified as belonging to the different classes of sponges corals and crinoids. So far not a single trace has been found of a higher animal form but all the discovered organisms evidently indicate the primary formation of the celestial body from which they came.

A Torpedo Chicken.

Further reports were submitted regarding the torpedo chicken, lately invented in Mobile. A specimen chicken has been secured by the committee and its workings exhibited. The invention is not as deadly as at first supposed. It is loaded with four ounces of bird shot and two of powder, and placed on the roost.
When it is reached for a catch is thrown out of place, a powerful spring set in motion, and a hammer strikes and explodes a percussion cap. The shot are thrown out in every direction, and within ten seconds after the explosion a dark figure is seen galloping down the alley, and a husky voice is heard enquiring, "Foh, de Lawd! but what de white folks got hold of now?" The committee closed its report as follows: "Having passed de investigation, an' kivered all de groun', we beg leave to be discharged from further consideration of de subject, an' to respectfully inquir of our respected president: 'Kin dis torpedo chicken be suppressed?' If not, whall will we do?
An' we will eber pray."

"As to suppressin' de invenshun, I see no way to accomplish it," replied Brother Gardner. "As to what shall we do, I have been serusly reflectin' fur de last ten minits, an' it am my solemn belief dat de best thing the culled race kin do am to cultivate a taste for some odder sort o' meat."

Pacific Railway Snow Sheds.

These wonderful wooden tunnels cover forty miles of the Central Pacific railway.
They were first suggested by its practical vice president, Charles Crocker, but his companions hesitated through fear of their impracticability and expense. They are of two kinds, one with very steep roofs and the other with flat roofs. They cost per mile from $8,000 to $12,000, and in some places, where heavy masonry was needed, the cost reached $30,000 a mile.
They are firmly constructed to support the great weight of snow and resist the rush of avalanches. Corrugated plates of iron separate the buildings into sections, and in the great ten mile shed there are automatic electric fire alarms. At the summit is an engine and tank always ready to flood the ignited spot in an instant.
These sheds shut in the view of the great Sierras, but without them winter travel would be impossible. Sometimes five feet of snow fall upon them in a day, and often thirty feet lie upon the ground at one time, and in many cases snow accumulates to the depth of fifty feet above these great wooden arches.

He Changed His Mind.

A man had a curious race for life near Meridian, Conn. He swallowed a large dose of morphine, intending suicide, but quickly changed his mind, and started for the nearest doctor, who was two miles away. He felt the dangerous drowsiness stealing over him, and ran with all his might, but his mouth became parched, his eyes filmy and his strength less.
He stopped to pray, but an instant of delay warned him that unless he depended upon miraculous help, there was no time to be lost on his knees. He at length stumbled into the doctor's office and fell senseless on the floor, but was saved by energetic treatment.

Sleep.

Plenty of sleep is requisite to health, particularly in the case of brain workers.
The more sleep the brain gets the better does the brain work. All great brain workers have been great sleepers. Sir Walter Scott could never do with less than ten hours. A fool may want eight hours, as George III said, but a philosopher wants nine. The men who have been the greatest generals are the men who could sleep at will. Thus it was with both Wellington and Napoleon. The greatest sleepers of the house of commons have been the men who go to sleep there as much as they like. This explained the juvenility of the aged Palmerston. Sleep is in many cases the best medicine. When you take to your bed, get all the sleep you can out of your bedstead, even though, to quote Dick Swialer's saying, you have to pay for a doublebedded room, confessing that you have taken a most unreasonable amount of sleep out of a single bed. You will be banking a whole store of recuperative energy. It is safe to say of any man that if he sleeps he will do well.

About Walking.

No two of us walk alike. The hinges of our gates turn the same way, but with different results.

The baby strikes out a toddle because it hasn't strength enough to walk, but it has the underlying principle of a natural walk, because it "toes in." "Toeing out" is a military artifice invented for the purpose of showing how much more a man knew than the Lord did.

The hippity, hoppity, skip, and jump is peculiarly the little girl's gait. Uneasy and restless, the fluttering budget seems determined to wear the sole of her shoe and the soul of her mother out at the same time: but she is the prettiest picture of animation humanity can show.

The dead run, all out of breath, is the small boy's gait. You can set down the boy who so far forgets himself as to walk as already in his dotage.

The bound-to-have-it gait is a rapid, straight-forward stride, never turning to the right or left. The man who has it knocks over children, barks his shins against market-baskets, and stubs his toe against everything on the walk. But he gets there, and his coat-tail arrives about two minutes later.

There is the slow, measured gait, tread, tread, all day long. The man who carries the hod has this peculiarity down fine. He would run to a fire in the same step, and get there—possibly.

The long lope, thirty-four inches to the step, with a sag to the knee-joint, a vigorous swing of the arms, is that of a man from ruraldom. He gets the walk from going over rough ground, and anybody that gets the best of him has got rough ground to go over.

The quick, sharp and spiteful gait, with the little metallic heels ringing on the pavement is the gait of the smart, young miss with bright eyes and lots of vivac-ity. The young man who intends to keep company with her for life must make up his mind to train to her step; she will never train to his.

The every day business gait. Going right along with your feet, and your thoughts in the office, store or whatever it is. You never know how far the walk, nor how long it takes you to cover it. It is an indefinite, and frequently the only aid to good digestion.

The take-it-easy, don't-care-a-cent sort of a gait, with a cane twirling e'er his finger, is a typical man of the world. He leads a life of leisure and wouldn't hurry himself. As a consequence he grows fat, rheumatic and gouty, and in later years walks with two canes and tremulous limbs. It doesn't pay to bunch your pleasure.

The slow gait. For further particulars send a small boy on an errand.

Big Crops.

The papers of the territory have been blowing a good deal this fall about big crops but the highwood valley has not yet been heard from. Dexter arrived there recently with his thrasher and the returns are just coming in. Patrick Woods & Sons had 2,700 bushels of oats on their small ranche, and C. H. Boyle, 2,100—both big yields. Steve J. Stoner had twenty acres of that grain which yielded 93 bushels and 17lbs to the acre.
As far as heard from in the territory Steve takes the palm. Hon. James Arnoux has not threshed yet, but he has $100 to wager that his crop will average 100 bushels to the acre.

Affection for the Dead.

Claims for office upon the estate of the late president are now being filed in the newspapers. Nothing can more faithfully demonstrate the affection which some people had for the dead president than the eagerness with which they assert that when he was shot he was about to bestow office upon them. The delicacy which is displayed by a man who asks the public to listen to the tale of President Garfield's longing to give him an of-ice, which he had not time to do, is only euated by that of the man who wanted permission to erect a soda fountain and cigar stand inside the gate of a cemetery.

If there is any nauseating method which has not been resorted to by human buzzards for the purpose of making money out of the assassination of the 2d of July it is because the ravenous desire has not been able to make the invention. How long will public opinion suffer the shameless prosecution of these sorry enterprises?

An inquisitive young man of this city a few days ago, asked his fair one if she had read "Hare Upon the Stomach?"
"Have I red hair upon the stomach?" shrieked the exasperated female. "Get out of this house instantly, you infernal low-lived puppy! How dare you talk so to me!" That was the reply he got to his innocent inquiry if the lady had read a certain book treating of the human system. He went.

TESTIMONIALS FROM THE PEOPLE.
"Judge Buchanan, Lawyer, Toledo, O., says:
"Ome of Prof. Guilmette's French Kidney Pads cured me of Lumbago in three weeks' time. My case had been given up by the best doctors as incurable. During all this time I suffered untold agony and had paid out large sums of money.
George J. Venter, A. P., Toledo, O., says: I suffered for three years with Sciatica and Kidney Disease, and often had to go about on crutches.
I was entirely and permanently cured after wearing Prof. Guilmette's French Kidney Pad four weeks.
Squire N. G. Scott, Sylvania, O., writes: I have been a great sufferer for 15 years with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. For weeks at a time was unable to get out of bed; took barrels of medicine, but they gave me only temporary relief. I wore two of Prof. Guilmette's Kidney Pads six weeks, and now I know I am entirely cured.
Mrs. Hellen Jerome, Toledo, O., says: For years I had been confined, a great part of the time to my bed with Lumbago and female weakness: I wore one of Guilmette's Kidney Pads and was cured in one month.
H. B. Grier, wholesale grocer, Findlay, O., writes: I was a sufferer for years with lame back and in three weeks was permanently cured by wearing one of Prof. Guilmette's Kidney Pads.
B. F. Keesling, M. D. Druggist, Logansport, Ind., when sending in an order for Kidney Pads, writes: I wore one of the first ones we had and I received more benefit from it than anything I ever used. In fact the Pads give better general satisfaction than any Kidney remedy we ever sold.
Ray & Shoemaker, Druggists, Hannibal, Mo.
We are now working up a lively trade in your Pads, and are hearing of good results from them every day.

UNITED STATES of America, Third judicial district of Dakota, ss.

Whereas a libel has been filed in the district court of the United States for the Third judicial district of the territory of Dakota on the 12th day of October, 1881, by John A. McLean and Robert Mcnelder, copartners as said Libellants & Mac-nelder, libellants, against the steamer Fenian, her tackle, apparel and furniture, alleging in substance that on or about the 20th day of August, 1881, said steambot was lying at the port of Bismarck, in said district, standing in need of stores, provisions and other necessaries, and that said libellants, at the request of the master of said steambot, furnished and delivered to said steambot, stores, provisions and other necessaries to enable said steambot to pursue her intended voyage, amounting to the sum of eight hundred and ninety-three dollars and fifty-one cents, no part of which has been paid, and praying process against said steambot, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and that the same may be condemned and sold to pay such libellant's demand, with costs, charges and expenses. Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under the seal of the said court to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said steambot, her tackle, apparel and furniture or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said district court, to be held at the city of Fargo, in and for the Third judicial district of Dakota on the first Tuesday of December, 1881, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise on the next day of jurisdiction, then and there to prove their claims, and to make their allegations in that behalf.
JOHN B. RAYMOND, U. S. Marshal.
Alexander McKenzie, Deputy.
Dated Oct. 20, 1881.
John E. Carland, Proctor for libellants. 20-25

Everybody who knows anything of Hon. Jas.
D. Parker, knows his word is as good as his bond, and either is as good as gold. He says in a recent letter: "The Guilmette Pad has cured me of a severe case of inflammation of the Kidneys and that too, after I had paid out about ninety dollars for other remedies and treatment."
