VOL. X.

BISMARCK, D. T., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1882.

NO. 19.

THE ENLARGED WEEKLY.

The WEEKLY TRIBUNE appears to-day considerably enlarged and greatly improved in form, being neatly cut and pasted. It now contains forty-eight columns of matter, thirty-eight of them being purely reading matter. It contains all the important news of the week—local, river and telegraphic—and is a first rate paper to send east to parties wishing information concerning Dakota and the slope. The WEEKLY TRIBUNE makes friends readily with all new comers, and so it happens that it goes into the family of nearly every farmer of Burleigh county. It also goes to all the northwest military posts, and to many subscribers in "the states." The attention of advertisers is respectfully called to these facts. Copies of the paper may be procured at the TRIBUNE counting room.

PUBLIC PRINTER Rounds is one of the most popular officials in Washington.

The Jamestown Capital boldly advances the theory that honesty is creditable in politics.

Some newspapers are publishing nonsense about the critical physical condition of President Arthur.

BUTTE is credited with possessing more musical and literary taste than any other town in Montana.

C. S. BARTLETT, late editor of the Fargo Bee, has accepted a position on the staff of the Jamestown Aert.

A SHORTAGE of nearly $800 has been found in the accounts of Police Justice Outis, of Grand Forks. His friends are trying to let him down easy by pleading that he is in very poor health, and that he will make restitution.

It was an "off year" in Ohio, anyway, the fight being only for a few inconsequential state offices. The republican gun is loaded for larger game. The "party of great ideas" usually wins wherever it is worth while to make a fight.

With a feeling of great mortification and chagrin Showman Barnum beholds the public gazing nightly, free of charge, at the comet. The fact of no moon sight-seeing going on without profits to him seems to him like an invasion of his rights; and he is sad.

PIONEER PRESS: The latest ambition attributed to Vanderbilt is to acquire the North Pacific and hit it to the tail of his trunk lines by means of the Northwestern, and so secure the first complete transcontinental line. It is a worthy ambition, but there is a difficulty in the way, called Henry Villard.

The TRIBUNE is sorry to say that wheat in the shock is badly grown in the vicinity of Casselton, where there has been an excessive fall of rain during the past two weeks. A Casselton telegram to the St. Paul papers says a quarter of the wheat crop and three-quarters of the oat crop there is still in the shock or stack.

The Minneapolis Evening Journal has a dispatch from Portland, Ore., stating that 2,500 white construction employees of the North Pacific in Montana struck Saturday on account of a raise in board of a half dollar a week. There is no violence. The supervising engineer telegraphed that low board rates must be maintained and it is thought the men will return to work. The Chinese, numbering 6,000 were not in the strike.

A MEMBER of Beecher's congregation who dissented from the Plymouth pastor's recent anti-Folger sermon, sent him a note saying: "Dear Mr. Beecher: You made an ass of yourself yesterday." To which Mr. Beecher very promptly replied: "Dear Sir: The Lord saved you the trouble of making an ass of yourself by making you an ass at the beginning, and his work stands sure." This terminated the correspondence.

In the house of representatives a few years ago, James G. Blaine and the late Senator Hill, of Georgia, both brilliant in debate and repartee, were frequently pitted against each other in fierce, partisan discussion. A few years later, when both had reached the senate, there sprang up between them a personal friendship that endured to the day of Senator Hill's death. Mr. Blaine has just sent $50 to the fund for a monument to the memory of his dead friend.

In view of the evident inability of Missourians to express the admiration which they feel for the eminent outlaw, Frank James, the TRIBUNE would suggest that the Missouri democracy might bring him forward for the presidency—when he gets out of jail. The endorsement of the solid bonorbony of the great commonwealth of Missouri would be a compliment which a gentleman entertaining Mr. James' peculiar ideas of glory could not fail to appreciate.

There is now pending before the supreme court at Yankton, a case brought by one Francis Peronto, who claims to have a legal title to a quarter section of land upon which the business portion of the city of Fargo now stands. His claim is based on a pre-emption filing alleged to have been made prior to the grant which gave the North Pacific company possession of the property. The railroad company is fighting the claim, and whichever side wins, the case will go to the U. S. supreme court.

GRAND FORKS PLAINDEALER: The bonanza farmers have made a good deal of money, more from the increase in the value of their railroads are endeavoring to have them divided up and put in the hands of actual settlers. Having served their day and generation as an advertisement of their obituary in order, and will be read with pleasure by thousands of Dakotians.

The case of Crow Dog, who killed Spotted Tail, is now before the Dakota supreme court. Crow Dog's attorney takes the ground that Indians are not subjects of the United States; that the government recognizes their tribal relations, makes treaties with them, etc., consequently the courts have no jurisdiction over offenses committed where all parties thereto are Indians. It is held that Crow Dog's case was disposed of by his own people in their own peculiar way, and that the United States has nothing to do with it.

MOOREHEAD ENTERPRISE: The surrender of Frank James is believed to be the first time in our history when the lawfully constituted authorities of a state have acknowledged that they were not able to cope with a few bandits. It is a shameful acknowledgement of impotency, and ought to be viewed as such by every citizen of this country. If that gang of outlaws could only be induced to attack a Minnesota bank again, Missouri would be relieved of the humiliating spectacle of the entire state government prostrate at the feet of a lifelong outlaw, murderer and robber.

A LONDON dispatch says the comet is all the talk in scientific circles, where the phenomenon is regarded with considerable apprehension, many of the most eminent scientists of the day, notably C. Piazza Smith, astronomer royal for Scotland, make no secret of their belief that the comet will return sometime during the coming year and fall into the sun, with disastrous results to our planet. On the other hand Professor Swift, the Rochester astronomer, says no danger need be apprehended, as the comet has made its nearest approach to the sun, and is now receding.

ENGINEER MELVILLE says that if nothing else was shown by the voyage of the Jeannette, at least it was discovered that an arctic voyage can be made for over two years without one of the officers or crew being afflicted with scurvy. Such a thing has never before been known in all the expeditions sent out by Austria, France, Denmark or England. The fact that thirty-three men withstood up his voyage to the north, confinement in arctic regions in the very best physical health is something that seems to have been lost sight of in the shadow of sorrow which the loss of so many of the men cast upon the history of the expedition.

An old friend of ex-Secretary Blaine, speaking of the story that Blaine is out of the presidential field, says: "If Blaine followed his own inclinations he would renounce his political aspirations. He is not as ambitious as many people think, but Blaine wishes to see him occupy the presidential chair and will spare no pains to make it so every time. When worried with the cares of his last office, and looking physically worn out, he was kept to the sticking point by his wife's indomitable will power. I could relate scores of instances where she almost dragged him to the carriage and, so to speak, fastidiously up his courage to attend to his important reception. Blaine is not out of the field, and what is more, never will be out until elected president, for which end his wife will continue to labor with quiet determination. This has more effect on his political and political ambition than all the ornaments or pleasures of power."

A St. Louis dispatch relates the story of Frank James' surrender as follows: "There was quite a dramatic scene at the governor's residence in Jefferson City last night. The sun was just declining as Maj. John N. Edwards, editor of the Sedalia Democrat, a life-long friend of the James boys, walked up to the front gate of the governor's manse. He was accompanied by a man a little above the medium height, with dark eyes and brown hair, and who walked a trifle lame. The two entered the yard in front of the governor's residence and walked right into the office. The governor was in at the time, and to the outsider it would appear that the whole action was a preconceived one. Maj. Edwards entered the office first, and as the man behind him followed the major shook hands with the governor, and then wheeled about, saying: "Gov. Crittenden, allow me to introduce you to Frank James." The governor advanced and accepted the proffered hand. Then Frank unbuckled his belt and, handing it to his revolver to the governor, he said: "No living man but me has had hand on this revolver since 1851."

A SPECIAL telegram from New York to the Chicago Times says: Joseph Kantz, an educated German, claims to have invented two machines by which the air is to be navigated with such facility and at such a small cost that after their practical introduction railroads and steamers will go out of existence. His advertisements have recently appeared in the New York papers, his present object being to secure the pecuniary assistance of capitalists. To a world reporter to-day he said that the first invention is a balloon, with a ship attached to it. It will be so thoroughly under control that it can be steered with or against the wind at any speed, and can be made to stand still in the air without any loss of gas. The ship attachment is not a necessary part of the machine, but only a means of safety in case of accident over mid-ocean. The second invention is a regular flying machine, to be lifted mainly by gas, but to be propelled by steam. It will carry large loads of freight. The speed of this machine is estimated at one hundred miles an hour in quiet weather. Even when it is stormy, by drawing off the gas from the main balloon and relying entirely on the steam wings, very rapid progress will be made. There will be no danger of explosion, as there is to be supplementary bags of silk into which the gas can be drawn. By means of silk channels the gas can be returned to the balloon again, so there will be no loss of the lifting power. The general shape of the machine will be that of a fish. This will be combined the greatest solidity and strength with the least loss by resistance of the air. Only two men will be required to manage the locomotive, and the passengers will not be obliged to remain exposed to the rare upper air, but can retire to the state

BROUGHT TO BISMARCK FOR THE TRIBUNE READERS.

Remarkably Bold Highway Robbery in Wisconsin—Serious Troubles Among the N. P. Construction Laborers—Etc.

A Cashier's Costly Adventure.

LEBANON, Pa., Oct. 12.—About 8 this evening, George D. Rice, cashier of the Lebanon Dime Savings bank, was robbed of a satchel containing $30,000. He had just returned from Philadelphia, and before going to the bank stopped at his home for supper. While on his way to the bank, after supper, and when about a square from his house he was passed by two men, and directly afterwards received a stunning blow, knocking him into the gutter. He held on to the satchel and cried murder. The robbers, who had been beating and kicking him all the while, fearing his cries would bring assistance, moved off a short distance but returned, and wrenching the handles off the satchel, secured it and fled. Rice was covered with blood. The robbers ran into a vacant lot near by and were hailed by another citizen curious to know the cause of their hurry. There is no further clue. The money belonged to the bank. A reward has been offered.

Big Haul of Counterfeiters.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—A large gang of counterfeiters were arrested in Tipton last night, and were brought to the city to-day by the sheriff of Tipton county. About a year ago a man named Hobbs gave information to the secret service of the existence of a gang of counterfeiters in Tipton county, and a detective was sent there by the government to work up the case, which resulted in the arrest of the following parties last night and to-day, under the direction of a special agent: James Small, Jacob Masters, Chas. A. Masters, William Shape, Jacob Johnson, A. A. Smith, Jasper N. Wright, George King, Joseph Small, Chas. Orth, John L. Small and Loren Havond. These men were brought to the city at noon to-day and lodged in jail. Two days ago Special Agent Rothman and Detectives Kinnoch and Hobbs arrested James Campbell, Harvey Gerpster and Wm. Greelo, members of the same gang, who were on a train going to Logansport. These men were brought to this city.

The N. P. Strike Becoming Serious.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—The strike on the North Pacific assumed serious shape yesterday. After the rate of board had been fixed at $1.50 per day, the men demanded $2.50 per day instead of $2, as heretofore. This was refused by Hallet, superintendent of construction.

All the Chinamen were then drawn from the work, and Hallet is understood to have telegraphed to Missoula for troops. Whether the commanding officer furnished them cannot be learned this morning. The ringleaders of the mob threatened to hang many of the Chinamen, with the paymaster, started to the front this morning with a large sum and an escort of twenty-five soldiers. While the men on the construction, as a rule, are well disposed, there are probably 200 ex-convicts and many fugitives from justice in the crowd, to say nothing of the band of desperadoes and camp followers, and there is good grounds for fearing violence.

A Dangerous Crank.

New York, Oct. 11.—An extraordinary occurrence took place to-day on Fourteenth street at about 2 this afternoon, when the street is most thronged with shoppers. A demented Frenchman ran amuck through the crowded thoroughfare, and with a pair of sharp pointed carpenter's compasses stabbed about and left his victims all being men. The wife of a policeman named Hanly, who patrols the block, was one of the victims, and when the policeman captured the lunatic the compasses were covered with his wife's blood. The lunatic's name is Ernest Dodgins, a half insane painter, whose crazy freaks have for years made him a conspicuous character. His victims were more or less severely hurt. Their names are: Mrs. Stobenberg, Mrs. Louise Checker, Miss M. L. King, Mrs. Pauline Fuller, Mrs. Thomas W. North, Mrs. Mary Hanly, the policeman's wife, received two stab wounds in the left breast, and is possibly fatally injured.

The President in Massachusetts.

MARSHFIELD, Mass., Oct. 12.—The train bearing President Arthur and members of the cabinet, and other distinguished guests, arrived at 11:30 a. m., and stopped at the platform, where an immense crowd had gathered. The president's party, upon leaving the cars, took carriages for the Webster mansion, the first being occupied by President Arthur, Gov. Long and the Hon. Stephen A. Allen. During the march the presidential carriage was flanked by a guard composed of the Worcester Continentals. It was nearly 3 when the exercises at the tomb were finished. The party then took up the line of march to a field near by, where were pitched tents, in which dinner was to take place. The scene of the ceremony resembled a miniature camp.

The Egyptian Crisis.

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 12.—The following pashas will be arranged with Arabi Pasha for trial: Touba, Alimeh, Madmoud, Fahmy, Abdal, Somy, Yakoob, Omar, Rahmy, Bonty and Said. The list of prisoners awaiting court martial has been handed the British consul. It contains 113 names, exclusive of prisoners in the provinces, who number 30. Gen. Alison is appointed to be the chief command of the army of occupation. Generals Hamley and Willis have sailed for England.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 12.—Thirty-two Euro-

An Interesting Land Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The commissioner of the land office, in his annual report, states that the land now embraced within the limits of the public domain amount to 900,000,000 acres, including Alaska. He recommends that the preemption laws be abolished, as the homestead laws cover all cases now arising. Public sales of lands for the past year amounted to 1,333 acres, embracing $5,016 acres near Toledo, O., which were sold for $14,736 an average of $338 per acre.

Monument for Sale Cheap.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 12.—An Amsterdam, Montgomery county, special to the Argus says: "The grave of John Knox, in the cemetery at West Charlton, has been robbed. There are no traces of the remains. The robbery was discovered by the opening of the grave to change the position of the body preparatory to the erection of a monument. Knox, in life, was a prominent citizen of Amsterdam."

The Wapaca Tragedy.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—Two packages of notes taken from Mead, the murdered banker of Wapaca, Wis., have been found—one the day after the deed, in an alley in the rear of the bank, and the other yesterday, on a road leading out of the village. The exact amount of cash taken is ascertained to be only $334. The amount of bonds and notes taken cannot be estimated, yet, as most of them belong to depositors. The rewards for the apprehension of the perpetrator amount to $2,000.

The Leavenworth Shoot.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 11.—The three days division contest for places on the army rifle teams, which shoot at Ft. Peavensworth three days commencing on the 25th, closed to-day. Lt. Bartello, of the Texas team, who was No. 1 on the division dropped down to 8 in this contest. This is the first defeat Bartello has sustained. The shooting was poor on all sides, the wind and weather being unfavorable.

Stabbed in the Leg.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—August Breuker, stabbed Cornelius W. Reilly, outside the city limits this afternoon, the knife entering his left leg and severing an artery. Reilly died in three minutes. Both men are inmates of the soldiers' home, and aged men. Breuker was slightly intoxicated. The murder was wholly unprovoked. Breuker is now under arrest.

Murdered by a Drunken Policeman.

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 12.—Anthony Baccio, policeman, while drinking, shortly after midnight last night entered the saloon of Adam Daller, on Broadway, near Court, and being refused drink by Mrs. Daller, became abusive. Mrs. Daller attempted to expell him, but Baccio fired two shots, which proved fatal, Daller dying within an hour. Baccio was too drunk when arrested to give any account of the murder.

A Passenger "Lams" Into a Freight.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 12.—News is just received of a terrible collision on the road from here to Atlanta, which was opened yesterday. A freight train on the main track was run into by a passenger train. The engineer and fireman are known to have been killed and two children fatally injured.

Terrible Ravages of Diphtheria.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 12.—Diphtheria in certain localities of Pittsboro county has reached an alarming extent. Nearly 200 deaths have occurred within sixty days. Not a family escaped. Twenty pupils in one school district have died. Sunday three children were lying dead in one house.

Miss Sally Bronson, well connected, a Sunday school teacher and highly esteemed, jumped from a steamer into the lake near Detroit, Mich., and was drowned. Temporary aberration is suspected.

Lucy King, who has just escaped from an insane asylum at Milwaukee, claims that she has been falsely imprisoned in various asylums for five years, in order to enable him to secure her fortune of $25,000, left her by her husband. She talks sanely and her story is credited.

Bismarck at St. Louis.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of the 4th helps well the boom for Bismarck and Burleigh county, as follows, in speaking of the St. Louis fair:

One of the most magnificent and elaborate displays in the Geological and Mineral Department is that made by the North Pacific Railway, on the east of the centre aisle of the hall. It was a whole exhibition in itself, covering as it did a large space with the finest cereals, vegetables and coals that the eye ever saw. The arrangement was artistic, and yet there seemed no effort at effect, the numerous articles of exhibition being so placed as to show their excellence and dimensions, that they might be judged on their merits. They were gathered almost indiscriminately from the so-called "North Pacific country," which embraces the states and territories of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Samples of cereals are shown, and the following facts appear: In Minnesota and Dakota, thirty-five to forty bushels per acre of wheat garnered, weighing from 60 to 64 pounds per bushel. In portions of Oregon and Washington specimens of wheat are shown reaching 60 bushels per acre. Oats from Dakota show 110 bushels per acre, and a weight of 39 to 47 pounds per bushel; barley, 45 to 50 bushels per acre and 5 to 58 pounds per bushel; rye, 45 to 54 bushels per acre, and 48 to 58 pounds per bushel. Of potato, samples are shown which have reached 400 bushels per acre on old ground and 150 bushels on the sod. The corn ranges from 60 to 100 bushels per acre and the grasses are nutritive and immense. The beets, onions and other specimens of the vegetable kingdom are magnificent in quality and proportion, and show what denizens on the line of the great North Pacific may realize in their efforts to raise self-sustaining food in an early settlement. In the way of fuel, the best qualities of lignite coal, mined forty miles west of Bismarck, Burleigh county, is shown, and the beds are said to be inexhaustible, being from two to six feet in thickness—in places running as high as seventeen feet—and extending all through Dakota and Montana west of the Missouri river. Mr. P. Groat, well and favorably known in St. Louis and the Mississippi valley, the emigration agent of the North Pacific, has charge of the display. Messrs. J. A. Field and Wm. Thompson, residents of Bismarck, are in attendance at the fair, and of course interested in the exhibition of the products from their region. Visitors at the fair will be richly rewarded by an inspection of the display of the North Pacific.

Money in Addition Property.

It is a well known fact that residence property in Bismarck is selling for lower figures than is the same, relatively situated, in any other town of 1,500 or over on the line of the North Pacific. Last winter lots in Williams and Sturgis additions were sold and brought from $25 to $50; now they are selling for $75 to $150, and still they are cheap. Last spring the second North Pacific addition was laid out and lots have more than doubled in value. Later the McKenzie addition was thrown into the market and the early buyers have already more than doubled their money. Lots are still selling in this addition for $75 to $175, and every lot is bound to double within the next eight months. This addition lies between Bismarck and the river. It has the advantage of excellent drainage and because of the commanding view it must become a favorite residence portion of the town. Next season street cars will be running from the main part of Bismarck to the bridge and steamboat landing. The track will run through one of the streets of McKenzie's addition, thus making a possible business street to the river. To show the confidence which the owners of this addition have in the property they have already offered several parties who have purchased lots there double their money, and are now offering a large percentage for the bargains several have made in that part of the town during the season. There is big money in addition property, as everyone who has invested in Bismarck this year will testify.

Another Wreck.

About 11 o'clock last night news was received that Conductor Reynolds

OHIO'S HARD COREL.

A DISGRACEFUL EXAMPLE SET HER SISTERS STATES.

The President in Mass.—The Ohio Election—Comet News—The Jeannette Investigation—Arabi Pasha Examined.

The President in Mass.
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 11.—The reception to the president at Faneuil hall this afternoon was attended by an immense throng. He was introduced by Mayor Green and spoke as follows:

"You have my most sincere gratitude for your cordial and enthusiastic reception. I know well that these demonstrations with which the day has been opened do not proceed from personal feeling for me. They only give voice to the universal loyalty of Boston and Massachusetts to the government of the United States (applause). I know they show the respect that the citizens of this grand old commonwealth, and of this magnificent city have for the federal authority, which they have helped to constitute, and in this short opportunity I thank you for your gracious greetings.

As soon as the president ceased speaking, there were loud cheers for Secretary Chandler and Lancola, who were both present. In the evening an elaborate and informal banquet was given by the city government to the president.

A reception was given to the president to-night at Hotel Brantford, but 20 persons being present. It was generally a full dress entertainment, and many of the toilets were elaborate and costly. Mayor Green introduced the guests to the president. To-morrow morning the Ancient and Honorable artillery will escort the president to the depot, where the train will take him to Marbletown. At the conclusion of the exercises at Webster's farm the president will return to Boston.

The Ohio Election.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Returns to-day from the state election have been meagre, and no systematic effort has been made to figure on the majority on the state ticket. The democrats, however, claim the state by 25,000 or more, though the republicans think it will not exceed 20,000. The congressional delegation will probably stand six to fifteen in favor of the democrats. The republicans claim to have elected Keifer, Money, Updegraff, Morley, McClellan and McKinney. The democrats claim the election of Follett in the First, Jordan in the Second, Murray in the Third, Le Flore in the Fifth, Hill in the Sixth, Hess in the Eleventh, Nois in the Twelfth, Chavers in the Thirteenth, Good in the Fourteenth, Warner in the Fifteenth, Wright in the Sixteenth, Walker in the Seventeenth, Page in the Eighteenth, McClure in the Nineteenth, Warner in the Twentieth, Reed in the Twenty-first. It is anticipated that Reed is re-elected in the Seventh, Keifer in the Eighth, Robinson in the Ninth, McClure in the Eleventh, Updegraff in the Seventeenth, Taylor in the Nineteenth.

The Jeannette Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The board appointed to investigate the conduct of the Jeannette investigation held a session this afternoon. Commodore Calhoun, who was commander at Mare Island navy yard, where the Jeannette was fitted out, and stated that all the repairs recommended were made, and that at the time she sailed he regarded the Jeannette as perfectly seaworthy. He acquiesced, however, in the opinion expressed by the board in their report to the navy department at that time, that from her construction it was not possible to make her particularly adapted for a long cruise in the Arctic regions. Capt. Johnson was further examined and corroborated the statements of Commodore Calhoun. Both gentlemen are of the opinion "that it would be impossible to construct a vessel of either iron or wood that could successfully withstand the strain to which the Jeannette was subjected."

Comet News.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Dr. Lewis Swift, director of the Warren Observatory, says: The comet discovered by Dr. Schmidt, of Athens, is unquestionably a fragment of the great comet which passed so near to our planet. This proves that the great comet must have grazed the earth in the construction of a terrible crisis. This is the second instance on record, where a comet has been disturbed, the first one being the comet of 1811.

Terrors From Fog.

EVANVILLE, Ind., Oct. 11.—Reports floating about here are that an armed mob of 500 men, headed by Posey county to-night, are on their way to Evansville. The sheriff is here preparing to meet them with an armed force.
