

The Bismarck Tribune.

Capital City Chips.

Bismarck has a hand second to none in the Northwest.

The evening attraction in the city now is the driving at the park.

The Jubilee Singers give a concert in Union hall Saturday evening.

These carloads of fine sheep were shipped west yesterday morning.

Hi Henry's minstrels are coming, and they say they are as good as ever.

Day board at the Merchants for $5 per week. Board and room in proportion.

See Wilmont in his great bicycle acts this evening. He is truly wonderful.

The accommodation train between Bismarck and Mandan has been abandoned.

The addition to Mellon's bank is now nearly completed and will soon be occupied.

The Bismarck Building and Loan Association will soon be ready for permanent organization.

A soldier from Fort Lincoln furnished a case of drunk and disorderly for the police court yesterday morning.

Work will be resumed on the capitol in a few days, and that handsome structure will be pushed to completion.

The Hampton College Students in their jubilee concert at Union hall tomorrow evening should not be forgotten.

The sparring match between Fred Medford and Lily of Fort Lincoln will take place in the opera house tomorrow evening.

A fight occurred on the corner of Third and Meigs streets Sunday afternoon. The pugilists were light weights and did no harm.

The bicyclist gives another entertainment at the Athenaeum this evening, and there will be several hours for skating by the Bismarckers.

Chief of police Harper turned over all the books, accounts and documents of his office to his successor, Thos. Fortune, yesterday morning.

Thos. Keene is playing in the heavy roles of Shakespeare in the Fargo opera house and is planning a trip over the Northern Pacific to the coast.

For grace, ease, dexterity and thrilling feats, Wilmont, the bicyclist, is the chief among ten thousand. He gives another exhibition in the Athenaeum this evening.

A day of pleasant and appropriate services is expected in Bismarck on the 30th inst., Decoration day. The militia companies expect their uniforms to be here, and will parade.

A deep interest is being manifested in the Bismarck and Ellendale stage route, which is now being established, and the prospect is that numerous towns will spring up along the route.

Ma. Mitchell, of Mandan, has entered into a partnership with Judge McGlindley, and the law firm of Mitchell & McGlindley will hereafter be found in room 2, First National bank block.

Mr. Paul Heinze has just completed a map of Burleigh county, and is now at work on a birds-eye view of Bismarck. His work is excellent and these maps and views will be sought for by all.

Helena Independent: The first boat to reach the head of navigation this season is the "Helena," which arrived at Benton on Tuesday, 5th inst. She was sixteen days making the trip from Bismarck.

Running and trotting races at the race track are becoming popular and large crowds gather at that resort every evening to witness the flight of the fleet steeds as they fly around the course. That's a good way to express it, isn't it?

Mr. W. H. Dufor, Dakota agent for the Equitable Life Insurance company, of New York, now has rooms in Hunt & Foster's block on Sixth street, and will leave for the west in a few weeks to look after the business of the company.

S. G. Smith, of Menoken, desires to state to the public that his fine Clyde stallion is now standing for the season. This horse ranks among the best in the country, and it is fortunate for the farmer that so splendid an animal is at their disposal. Good stock is second in importance only to good crops.

Dr. Slaughter's horse started to run away on Main street Wednesday, and had acquired a lively speed when ex-Mayor Raymond stopped him on the Third street crossing. Mr. Raymond exhibited courage and skill in bringing the fractious animal to a halt, and elicited the plaudits of a large crowd of spectators.

Howard Eaton and the Badger Cattle company will ship from St. Cloud to-day, over the Northern Pacific to Little Missouri, 1,000 head of cattle. The latter part of the week Tuttle & Howe of Clear Lake, Iowa, will ship 1,200 head to McJellan, E. E. Strong 400 head to the same point, L. A. Padlock 400 head from Detroit and Audubon, Minn., to Little Missouri, and D. Holland 200 head to Bismarck.

If the "small boy" who attends all entertainments and sees the floor as a bass drum and his pedal appendages as drum-sticks would only contract the inflammatory rheumatism in his feet, what a boon to humanity it would be. Yes, and if the next time he whistles like a locomotive at a fire, for applause, or hoots like a coyote for variation he would get the loc-jaw, the audience might rise, and with one accord hush out, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Personals.

General Briabon went east last evening. Superintendent Graham went east last night.

Alexander McKenzie went to St. Paul Wednesday evening. Captain Barr returned with the Eclipse yesterday morning.

George Robinson, wife and boy, arrived from Fort Buford yesterday. C. O. Wenshall of the Northern Pacific left for the east last evening.

L. W. Kellogg and Miss E. Kellogg, of Newark, O., arrived yesterday morning. C. W. Watson of Chicago was among those who visited the city yesterday morning.

Postmaster Day of St. Paul passed through the city last evening, en route home, after a western trip. Governor Ordway left for St. Paul Wednesday morning, and will proceed to Yankton to attend court.

Hon. J. C. Burrows started for Michigan last evening, after a pleasant visit with friends in this city. B. Brink of Milwaukee is in the city looking over the prospects for the establishment of a branch store here.

B. M. Corning, one of Boston's citizens and most constant admirers, was an arrival in the city yesterday morning. Mrs. G. F. Bell, Miss E. Lowell, and Mrs. L. Lamb of Fort Buford came down on the Eclipse, arriving yesterday morning.

B. M. McCarty, of San Francisco, was paralyzing time in the capital city yesterday. After an enjoyable visit he left for the west. County Commissioner E. S. Neal, Superintendent of schools W. G. Winchester, Attorney J. F. Philbrick and Eugene Smith, left for Washburn this morning.

Dr. Fraser of Washington, Ia., who was in Bismarck last year, arrived Wednesday morning and has rented a house on Second street preparatory to the arrival of his family, who will reach the city in a few days. Mr. Chas. A. Boyle, of Pierre, whose general philz, assisted in the general shed of sunshine on the capital city streets last fall arrived in the city yesterday morning to visit his sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. He will remain a few days and then return to Pierre.

The Sensation Revived.

The lively little episode mentioned in the TRIBUNE last summer, in which a very respectable lady and gentleman of the capital city were involved, and a visiting youth was the disturbing element, was revived Wednesday morning by the arrival of the young "masher" from the east. The scribe happened to meet him just as he stepped from the car, and the expression which danced over his countenance as he gazed with ire and fiery snapping eyes at the "fellow who wrote him up," were indeed suggestive of deep guilt and an uneasy conscience. But more fun followed the first meeting. The destroyer of family happiness and marital peace had his little grip, containing a celluloid collar and a faded buttonhole bouquet, in his hand and was strutting rapidly for the hotel, when he came to a halt with such immediate and sudden promptness as to nearly snap off his brainless head. There was sufficient cause for his hesitancy, as was soon developed. The husband of the lady appeared in the motley gang on the platform, and the hurrying arrival stopped to reflect as their gaze met. He concluded that he wouldn't stop this time, and rushed back to his seat in the car, where he squeezed down as small as possible, and nervously awaited the departure of the train and an early arrival in a more congenial clime. It was evident that he did not expect to find the "old man" at home, and his disappointment and chagrin were beyond description.

The reporter went into the car to "shake," which he did, saying, "Charley, you appear disappointed?"

"Yes, d--n you, you've played h--l haven't you?"

The writer reached for his pencil with which to defend himself and knock the duce more completely insensible if an attack should be made. The remainder of the conversation was in keeping with the weather--warm and invigorating, and at times the foiled young social viper would almost boil over. It is fortunate for all concerned that the gentlemanly husband appeared on the platform, and it will also be for the best interests of all for "Charley" to go home via the Union Pacific, after sniffing the bracing breezes of the Pacific coast.

City Council.

Council met Wednesday evening. Present, his honor, the mayor, and Aldermen Leo, Holmebaek, Cauby, Peterson and Malloy.

The report of City Justice Hare for the month ending April 30, was submitted and approved. The following bills were referred to the committee on claims:

Edward Sloan, one day clerk of registration..... $2 00 C. S. Weaver, three days election service. 6 00

BILLS ALLOWED.

Robert Macmider, merchandise..... $3 90 Malloy & Stoyell, team at Proctor fire... 10 00

On motion of Alderman Leo, the salary of city attorney for the ensuing year was fixed at $400.

The mayor appointed M. J. Edgerly as city attorney, and the appointment was unanimously confirmed.

Thomas Fortune was appointed chief of police, which appointment was also unanimously confirmed.

The following liquor bonds were presented and approved: Andrew Holt & Co., Bogus & Kibm, Ida Lewis, Joseph Fox, Wise & Goodkind, Leo & Sexton, E. H. Bly, John P. Gannon, M. L. Marsh, Sharpless Bros. & Co., Hugh McGarvey & John Little, Emerson & Wakeman, Thomas Cauby, Charles K. Williams & Co., Joseph Bruder, L. N. Griffin and Louis Peterson.

The petition of the Garfield Light Guard, asking for aid in the purchase of band instruments was reported back by the committee on ways and means, with the recommendation that the request be not granted. The report of the committee was adopted.

The petition of Charles Lewis asking the appointment as census compiler was reported back and rejected.

The oath of office was administered to members of the board of education as follows: J. D. Wakeman, second Ward; Israel P. Hunt, Third Ward.

Adjourned.

North Dakota Firemen's Association.

W. D. Fenton, of Fargo, has issued a circular to the various fire departments of north Dakota with reference to the organization of a North Dakota Firemen's association. The scheme is a good one and meets with the approval of the Bismarck department, and no doubt will receive encouragement and hearty support from every company in north Dakota. The following is a copy of the circular issued:

DEAR SIR: The Fargo fire department has the honor to respectfully present for your consideration the following proposition, to wit: First, The propriety of organizing the various fire departments of north Dakota into a society or organization, to be called North Dakota Firemen's Association.

Second, If your answer to the above be in the affirmative, the propriety of sending representatives from your company to meet with the fire department of this city, in convention, is suggested. Should your company be in favor of the said organization on the plan proposed, please inform us as soon as practicable. Each company will be allowed three delegates, and should it be possible to send but one delegate from each company, the remaining two can vote by proxy.

It is the intention of this department to entertain all delegates while in the city. Any suggestions looking to the end we have in view will be thankfully received.

W. D. FENTON, Sec'y pro tem, Fargo Fire Department.

The convention will be held at Fargo on June 4th, when it is desired that every company be represented by delegates. The members of the Fargo department announce that they will entertain the delegates while the convention is in session, and all who have ever enjoyed the hospitality of the Fargo "boys" know that they will be royally treated while there.

Time For Reform.

A passenger on the east-bound train Wednesday morning was attacked by delirium tremens just as the train reached Bismarck and imagined that every one of his fellow passengers was either a huge serpent, crocodile or alligator, while the lumps of rubbish and dirt on the floor were transformed into playful rats and mice. After dancing the highland fling around the car awhile, supplementing his squirmings and his rapid spring-bals symptoms with the most facetious and varied facial expressions, he was given a drink of "fury-rod" by an acquaintance and soon regained his senses. Then he looked cheap, and said to a stranger that he would never drink again. This was his second experience of the kind and he is determined to sever his relationship with snakes and creeping things, but as to devoting his future spare hours to temperance lectures he did not say.

Vicissitudes of Love.

The trouble concomitant with the joys and pleasures of love's dreams and pleasant little flirtations never ceases to swim to the surface and floats like an ominous spectre on all the lakes and bays and flowing rivulets of love's deep, ebbing waters. In Bismarck this fact is as apparent and oft confirmed as in any city in the country, and now comes an occasion when it is a matter of interest to a certain number and of curiosity to all. A very prepossessing little fair-haired dame recently arrived from a well known agency down river, and has since been stopping at one of the best hotels in the city. The first few days of her residence in the capital city were passed in tripping gaily about the streets, eliciting compliments from the bystanders and corner loafers, and frequently the usual remark of the straggler--"Ain't she a daisy?"--was heard from the lips of those whose only duty appeared to be a general "hanging on." After "siring up the town" and selecting her "mashe", the little blonde settled down to the work of capturing those whom she might devour--financially. Her first victim was a good looking and respectable clerk. He is a young gentleman of more than ordinary intelligence, quiet, unassuming and popular among his associates. While passing near the scribe one evening, the little blonde was observed to toss a daintily folded note out on to the sidewalk. The young man, by instinct, knew that the note was for him. He returned and raised it from the walk. As soon as he found a secluded spot he opened the letter and read with great interest. Then he would refold it, unfold it, and read it again. He posed in a dazed sort of a mode, but it was soon evident that she told him to meet her. At all events he did meet her--several times and on several occasions. He was chuckling to himself over his "solid girl" Wednesday afternoon, when another dashing young Bismarcker was seen walking around the corner of a certain popular street, arm in arm with the young lady. Then a gentleman of hotel proclivities became interested in the complex amour, and now several others of Bismarck's gallant youths and wooers have slipped from the same inexhaustible cup of love. It was understood yesterday morning that the authorities were about to make overtures to the bewitching little amorosa, which, if true, will cause a pang of piercing pain to dart through the sympathetic and nervous systems of those who have paraded with her on the public streets. Perhaps they were duped--perhaps not.

The Female Absconder.

The public was somewhat surprised but not seriously startled Wednesday morning, by the report that Mrs. Von Duren had left the city, taking with her three mortgaged horses, in an effort to defraud William H. Branch and other creditors. Investigation proved that the lady left Bismarck between 12 o'clock Tuesday night and five o'clock Wednesday morning, but did not, as was first believed, take the horse upon which the First National bank had a mortgage. Deputy Sheriff Griffin left for Sterling Wednesday, it having been learned that the woman and horses arrived at that point Wednesday morning.

Not Captured.

Mrs. Von Duren is still at large with her horses and up till last evening she had not been overtaken. The report reached Bismarck yesterday afternoon that she had left Sterling and had asked for a car at Driscoll. Mr. Branch heard of this and started for Driscoll. Mrs. Von Duren has the sympathy of many in her effort to retain possession of her little riding pony, as it was her pet, but her manner and hour of leaving the city are against her. She wanted the car from Driscoll to Miles City, which confirms the statement that her husband was aiding her in her escape.

Work for Men.

While there has been a cry sent up that men could not secure work in Bismarck, the fact is nevertheless established that contractors and employers are at present advertising for men. This morning appears an advertisement for men to work in the bone yard at $2 per day. The general depression throughout the country has indirectly affected the northwest, and in the most remote degree Dakota has suffered. All along the line of the Northern Pacific it is comparatively dull, i. e. dull compared with the past. But the traveling men and tourists throughout the country, who come this way, unite in the expression of faith in Bismarck against all other towns in the country and say that the city is as solid and as firmly established as any from the lakes to the coast, and from the Maximilian borders to her majesty's domain. It is a fact worthy of special mention that while failures have been reported from every section of the country, and exceptionally along the line of the Northern Pacific, Bismarck has not had a business failure since the beginning of the year, and every business man in the city is "as good as the wheat." The TRIBUNE predicts that in less than thirty days dirt will begin to fly faster than ever in the work of excavation for brick blocks and residences, and the capital city will still march on.

Wilmont on Wheels.

As neat artistic and praiseworthy an entertainment as was ever given in Bismarck was that by Prof. Wilmont on the bicycle last evening. After skating had been enjoyed by the crowd for an hour and a half, Prof. Wilmont appeared with applause. His first act was "Learning to Ride," in which he very accurately pictured the trials and vicissitudes of the beginner. But the interest was somewhat lagging until the professor appeared in tights and began his wonderful performance. Among the apparently most difficult feats were those of the "upside down" and "tumble down" movements, his obstacle riding in which he went over counting and logs as though they were made of feather. But his crowning act is that of a single wheel or monocycle, made by running the rear wheel, back-bone and saddle, and thus riding around the rink as, as has been aptly said "without visible means of support." Prof. Wilmont is indeed "a case on wheels" and has a just claim to the championship in bicycle riding as far as heard from. He gives exhibitions in the Athenaeum this evening and tomorrow evening and all should attend.

A Beer Garden.

And now Bismarck is to have a beer garden. Joe, Fox is arranging a cool, shady nook at the rear of his saloon where his customers may drink their ale and lager beneath the swaying boughs, and be fanned by balmy zephyrs, from the chinook-famed regions of the Pacific's blooming, garden-washed slope. Mr. Fox will furnish the water in an appropriate and inviting manner and assures the public that it will not be a resort for brawls and hideous tumult, but will be kept for the accommodation of those who enjoy a cool, refreshing, quiet, but pleasant rest.

Mr. G. P. Williams, missionary of the American Sunday School Union for North Dakota with headquarters at Bismarck, is ready to assist in establishing union Sabbath schools and to supply them with the necessary literature. He invites the correspondence of parties in all parts of North Dakota who desire his presence and services in the Sunday school work. Address G. P. Williams, Bismarck. North Dakota papers please copy. 47-50
