

SAYS AMENDMENT HURTS EFFICIENCY

Daniels Against Provision Which Would Cripple Navy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Secretary Daniels sent to the house today a report from a special board of naval officers expressing the opinion that the navy's preparedness for war would be jeopardized by the Hobson amendment to the pending naval appropriation bill forbidding the purchase of twelve or fourteen-inch armor piercing shells unless it is demonstrated that they can pierce ten-inch armor at 12,000 yards.

This amendment was adopted by the house several days ago, but probably will be voted on again when the bill is advanced to the point of final passage. The house spent all of today on the measure and remained in session until late tonight, most of the debate centering upon the provision which would abolish the so-called "plucking board."

In its report on the Hobson amendment the special board, which is headed by Rear Admiral Fliske, said: "The board is of the opinion that such a provision would jeopardize the readiness of the navy for war. We believe that our armor piercing shells are as good as any that any anti-air-

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

SAYS EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIC ACID IS CAUSE OF INDIGESTION.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—and stomach acidity is not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food elements. In changing seasons fat foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements.

This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.

BRITISH BRIDE SUFFERS SECOND HEART WRENCH

The photograph above, writes Mary Boyle O'Reilly, our London representative, is a common sight there now. The young English matron courageously hides her tears while sending her husband off to the trenches after a furlough at home. The first time they parted was hard enough to bear, but after a brief reunion the parting soldier-husband and his wife find the second heart wrench even harder to endure.

WHOLE TOWNSITE CHANGES HANDS

Heirs of Ira Hathaway Are Again in Possession of Their Inheritance.

Special to The World. OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 2.—In reversing the judgment of the district court of Coal county, the supreme court today, in an opinion by Justice Brown, directed that deeds to a tract of ground on which the town of Clarissa in Coal county, is situated, be cancelled and the possession of the land returned to the minor heirs of Ira Hathaway, deceased.

The case is that of Ira Hathaway et al. vs. John W. Hoffman et al., from district court of Coal county. The question considered by the court was, could a guardian appointed for the minor children of the deceased in one county execute a sale of land located in another county, on the theory that the residence of the heirs was in the county in which the guardian was appointed, when in fact their residence had not at the time been abrogated in the county where the land sold was located.

Hathaway had land in both Atoka and Coal counties. He died in Atoka county. The widow of Hathaway allowed the appointment of a guardian of the children by the county court of Atoka county. While the guardian for the children was appointed in Atoka county while they still held residence there, the sale of the land was made by this guardian, but after the mother had remarried and removed to Coal county. It was claimed that the sale was legal because the residence of the family had been changed to Coal county. This was not disputed, but the high court held that the guardian appointed by the county court of one county could not legally execute sale of land in another county.

There are about forty defendants interested in the case, as the tract of land has now become valuable, by reason of it being a townsite. The judgment of the lower court is reversed and the case remanded with directions that the deeds given be cancelled and the possession of the land be restored to the Hathaway heirs.

ALL CORRESPONDENCE SECRET

No Publicity on Notes Between United States and England.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—President Wilson advised the senate today that the secretary of state held that it would not be compatible with the public interest to make public correspondence between the United States and British governments regarding the latter's action in declaring turpentine and rosin contraband of war. A resolution by Senator Harwick of Georgia asking that this correspondence be furnished, if not incompatible with the public interest, was adopted recently by the senate.

German Gunboat Sunk. LONDON, Feb. 3.—(2:59 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Petrograd says that Russian submarines, besides seriously damaging the German cruiser Gazelle, recently in the Baltic, also sank a German gunboat and that as a result of their activity the German warships are no longer moving about in the Baltic with their former freedom.

Kitchen Reparto. Mrs. Brown was in the kitchen helping Nora, the cook, prepare supper.

"It's an old saying," she remarked to Nora, "that 'too many cooks spoil the broth.' What do you think?" "Sure, ma'am," she replied, "there's nothing to worry about—there's only wan cook here."

Etiquette a Benefit. Perhaps the statement that well-bred people never gossip, that is in a harmful way, about other people's affairs, would be entirely too strong, but to say that those who do so gossip are not polite is the truth, and politeness means good breeding.

A sense of confidence is inspired by those who turn the conversation in a tactful way from the subject of the affairs of others, while its opposite, a feeling of insecurity, comes when listening to invidious or sarcastic remarks about absent acquaintances. The listener can not but feel that in his or her absence similar remarks may be made concerning the absentee, and this, to say the least, is far from comfortable.

To gain a reputation for saying "bright things," each of which has a sting somewhere concealed in its words, is not enviable, although the person who has this reputation is courted and sought. Really a fear of that cutting wit is at the bottom of such popularity.

Gentle birth and breeding are both signified by agreeable manners, no matter how or where one may be. Manners and speech are both cultivated or expressed under any and all circumstances, even where anger is strong, unless, indeed, occasion calls for decisive action or words to show a proper sense of indignation. But such occasions rarely arise in social intercourse; the veneer of outward politeness is nearly always assumed, even if not natural. And this is really better, even if artificial, than abruptness, rudeness and a disagreeable

The Man-Who-Never Eats-Breakfast-Foods sat down the other day to a dish of KRUMBLES.

He puckered his lips and scowled.

"How do you eat the stuff?" he asked.

"Here's the cream," said mother.

He took a mouthful doubtfully. Then another. He tried to hide the grin, but couldn't.

And now he insists on KRUMBLES every morning.

What do you think of that?
