

ANOTHER SUBWAY CAVES IN; 3 HURT

One Killed and Three Injured When Supports Weakened.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—One death and the injury of three other persons resulted from the caving in of the street over the new subway in Broadway near Thirty-eighth street tonight.

An unidentified woman, who was caught in the falling debris, died later in a hospital. The others injured were men. The police and firemen continued their search for several workmen reported missing.

The police were confident that no one had been killed, but with foremen continued to search the debris for several workmen reported missing.

The accident occurred a few blocks from the heart of the theater district shortly before 8 o'clock, when Broadway was crowded with people. Weakened supports in the subway are supposed to have caused the superstructure to collapse.

A hole was made about fifty feet long, running north from the west side of Broadway at Thirty-eighth street and extending about half way across Broadway. The pit was about thirty feet deep.

A crowded street car was approaching the spot just prior to the caving when the motorman saw the car tracks ahead stop and applied the brakes in time to prevent the car from being carried down.

Passengers Hysterical. Many of the passengers in the car became hysterical as they saw the street collapse before them and at least a score of persons carried down with the mass of twisted timbers. Police reserves and firemen were called out and nearly a dozen ambulances were soon on the scene.

The majority of persons were pulled out of the pit without difficulty. Travis H. Whitney, secretary of the public service commission, after a preliminary examination said the accident was caused by a caving of the earth outside the work of construction.

Secretary Whitney said that the timber construction was inspected yesterday and announced to be in good condition.

Tonight's accident occurred less than a mile from that of Wednesday when the superstructure of the new subway at Seventh avenue and Twenty-fifth street collapsed, causing seven deaths.

PLOT IS DISCLOSED IN MEXICAN LETTER

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 25.—Acting upon information of a plot contained in a letter written by a Mexican, the federal authorities have arrested Pietro Garcia on a charge of inciting insurrection against the law and order of the United States.

Warrants have been issued for five more men and the department of justice officials say the plot involves a large number of other Mexicans. The letter written in this city and addressed to a man in Hidalgo county was found on the addressee and through him traced to the author. Among other things the communication contains the following:

"We now have 200 rifles and 4,000 rounds of ammunition."

Continuing, the communication says in part:

"Be prepared for the days as the revolution is breaking and they continue to come in. We are assured of support. And say, get the dynamite, but keep it secret and destroy this letter as soon as you have read it. Let us not lose hope. This land will soon be ours."

NEWS OF DEATH NEARLY KILLS

DRUMRIGHT, Sept. 25.—"Say, Mrs. Cavely, did you know your husband had been dead for two months?" was the abrupt announcement made to Mrs. L. J. Cavely Thursday night in a crowd in front of the Alhambra theater. Not having heard from her husband in about ten weeks, Mrs. Cavely had started a search for him which thus far had been fruitless.

The bad news came near causing Mrs. Cavely's death. She fell back unconscious and only after two hours of diligent work by two doctors was her consciousness restored.

Three months ago Mr. and Mrs. Cavely were living in Texarkana, Ark. when Cavely decided to leave home and go to the oil field in search of work. He never wrote his wife, or at any rate she never heard from him until she decided to go out in search for him herself. Just after the boxing bout was over in the afternoon a man who had known the family in Arkansas was coming out of the crowded door and saw the sad little woman several feet away. He knew how Cavely had gone to Tyler, Texas, instead of to Drumright, and there had gotten sick and died, two weeks after his arrival.

In the excitement the old friend shouted to his dead companion's widow, telling her the whole story in one breath. The shock was too much for her, and her falling body was caught in the arms of some alert man behind her. She was taken to her room in the Harper house, where she had stayed during her three days' stay in town. At first it was feared that she would not recover from the shock but physicians pronounced her much better Friday morning.

DISMISS CHARGES TO START A NEW CASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—On motion of United States District Attorney Frank C. Dalley the cases of Ricardo Hernandez of Colón, Panama, and John Burke of Indianapolis, indicted last June for alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States were dismissed in the federal court here today. Dalley assured the government had been satisfied the men will be dealt with by the courts of Panama.

Bernandez and Jacob L. Salas sold supplies to John Burke, manager of the commissary department of the Panama railroad. It was charged that Hernandez paid Burke about twenty thousand dollars for the contracts to supply the government with certain merchandise.

Burke, whose home is in Indianapolis, is said to have cashed drafts received from Hernandez at local banks.

HAS LANDED A BIG CONTRACT Oklahoma Iron Works to Install Complete Gas Plant.

C. M. Pritchard of the Oklahoma iron works, one of Tulsa's largest industries, has just returned from a trip to Texas, where he landed the contract for his firm to build a modern gas plant in the city of Henrietta, Texas. The work will cost $30,000. The Oklahoma iron works is rapidly becoming one of the biggest firms of its kind in the central west and hardly any construction work of any size in the entire southwest is let without this firm having a bid in for the work.

Cardin Has Miraculous Growth. Special to The World.

MIAMI, Okla., Sept. 25.—Cardin is considered the miracle mining town of Ottawa county and has experienced a growth seldom witnessed even in mining regions. Only a few weeks ago where the present town stands was a shaft house; now there is a thriving little town with an estimated population of from five hundred to one thousand five hundred. There are not sufficient accommodations for the people already on the grounds and many families are living in tents. Operators have been building cheap houses and investors are not slow to see the big profits in cheap rent houses, and so it is expected that there will be sufficient houses to house the people before the cold weather sets in.
