

THE WEATHER.
OKLAHOMA—Probably fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.
TULSA, June 19.—Temperature: Maximum 84, minimum 64. Wind: light and variable. Precipitation 1.

TULSA MORNING WORLD

PROSPERITY TALK
For the first time in the history of the Western association the Tulsa Producers are more than paying for their own and their neighbors' insurance. This year they are a money making institution.

VOL. XI, NO. 237 TULSA, OKLAHOMA, TUESDAY JUNE 20, 1916 12 PAGES PRICE FIVE CENTS

SHIPS TO MEXICO; TROOPS MOBILIZE, SAY WAR DECLARED

WASHINGTON IS PREPARING FOR OPEN WARFARE

Officials Believe That American Note Will Be Final Straw.

U. S. CITIZENS IN GREAT DANGER

100,000 Troops Now Being Mobilized Will Be Held in Readiness.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Upon General Carranza's reception of a stern refusal to heed his demands for recall of American troops from Mexico hangs the question of a Mexican war, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers. They were prepared tonight for the possibility of open hostility after the note which will be sent forward tomorrow has reached Carranza's hands.

No indication has come that the first chief's attitude of implacable hostility would be shaken by the reiterated declaration of the latest communication that the United States has no aggressive or warlike purpose toward Mexico, but is firmly resolved to protect her borders and end brigandage in the border zone.

The reply to Carranza's note demanding recall of General Pershing's expedition was in the hands of the government printer tonight, preparatory to its delivery and publication tomorrow. Secretary Lansing had intended to send it forward today, but at the last moment minor changes and additions to the six thousand word document retarded delay. Although it had been planned to send it by special messenger to Mexico City, the situation has changed, and it probably will be handed to Eusebio Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate.

Notes Stirred.
While the diplomatic steps were in progress today the nation was stirring throughout its width and breadth with the movement of national guardsmen to the border. At least a hundred thousand and possibly a far larger number were preparing for active service under President Wilson's call. For the present their primary duty is purely one of defense, but should war come they will be ready also for that. No marching orders for the new forces had gone out tonight. They will not be assigned for border duty until summoned into the federal service.

Even when mobilization is completed, only such units will be ordered south as General Pershing deems to fill the gap in his 1,500-mile guard line. The remainder will rest on their arms at the state mobilization camps for the present awaiting the turn of events.

Mexico Seething.
Official reports from many quarters show that a flame of popular feeling against the United States is being kindled throughout Mexico. Apparently it is being done with the sanction of General Carranza, for the acts in many cases are those of his authorized military or civil agents.

From Juarez to the west coast, of Mexico posters have appeared calling the people to arms and asserting that the United States is preparing to hurt its armies into Mexico. Chaotic conditions prevail everywhere. It is said, clashes such as that between Mexican troops and American bluejackets at Mazatlan yesterday show that relations are strained to the breaking point. The act of a subordinate commander anywhere may bring on fighting that will result in war.

So far as officials here are aware, General Carranza is taking no strong measures to curb his soldiers and people. Upon this fact many founded their belief that he is determined to force matters to an issue unless the American troops are withdrawn.

What Are Motives?
Neither state department officials nor members of the diplomatic corps here have been able to satisfy themselves as to Carranza's motives. There are some, however, who believe he hopes to ride into popularity by a diplomatic triumph over his powerful northern neighbor or upon a war wave which might establish his tottering government in popular estimation. Once the war was on and the certain defeat of his armies foreshadowed, these observers say, Carranza might sue for peace, trusting to the magnanimity of the Washington government to leave him in power.

Increasing uneasiness over the plight of some five thousand American civilians now in Mexico was manifested today in official quarters. Approximately 1,200 of that number are in Mexico City despite warning after warning through American consuls and other officials. Another emphatic message advising them to leave Mexico immediately was sent by the state department through Special Agent Rodgers a day or two ago.

Officials do not believe the Carranza government would sanction an attack upon American residents or that other foreigners would be involved in any case. A weapon of terrible possibility is being forged in Mexico, however, with the attempts to incite the ignorant poor population to a warlike feeling against the

AMBASSADORS OPPOSE U. S. INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Intervention by the United States in Mexico now seems certain, according to administration officials.

President Wilson, it is stated, is prepared for this move, as it is expected his reply to Carranza, refusing to withdraw the American troops, will be followed by an attack on the Pershing expedition.

Pleas against intervention are understood to have been made to Secretary Lansing by the British and Brazilian ambassadors today. It is known that the British government is strongly opposed to such a course for fear it might affect the oil supply of the British fleet. Ambassador de Gama has also been a strong anti-interventionist.

The ministers of Honduras and Costa Rica are believed to have made similar representations to Secretary Lansing.

United States. Note formed by half starved natives, who have been told that all of Mexico's accumulated troubles are traceable to the Americans, might well precipitate a situation beyond the control of the government.

Protecting Colony.
Careful preparations have been made for the protection of the big American colony near Tampico. In numbers it exceeds that in the capital, but it is near the sea and gunboats and light craft already have been designated to offer prompt aid. If necessary small landing parties would be sent to open a way to the boats.

For the Mexico City problem, however, no such solution presents itself. It was suggested to one official today that an expeditionary force might be pushed to the relief of Americans there. He replied that it would mean moving an army of fifty thousand or perhaps a hundred thousand men and would take at least two months to get there.

Although practically no details concerning the mobilization of national guardsmen reached the war department today, acknowledgments of the orders came from every governor with word that the troops had been ordered under arms. In several instances a request that the state be allowed to send its full contingent to the border instead of the regiments or brigades called for, accompanied the acknowledgment. Governor Dunne of Illinois was one of those who made this request.

Want Draft in Force.
Secretary Baker announced during the day that he had asked Representative Hay and Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the house and senate military committees, to endeavor to bring about the adoption by congress of a resolution putting into immediate effect the militia draft provisions of the new army organization bill which will become effective July 1. The resolution probably will be presented tomorrow in both houses.

With this information came also the statement that the orders calling out the state troops were so framed as to make it possible to compel the presence at the border of at least every man enrolled. They were summoned as national guardsmen, in which status they bear a distinct relation to the federal government and by law are the first source for obtaining volunteers who have no connection with the states; they were also summoned as members of the organized militia, and as such cannot be used beyond the border, though available for any duty within the United States.

Ships to Sea.
SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 19.—The United States destroyers Hull, Hopkins and Truxtun sailed from here today to accompany the flagship San Diego which is to sail at midnight for ports on the west coast of Mexico. The cruiser Milwaukee will follow in a few days when necessary repairs are completed.

Sharp Clash.
WASHINGTON, June 19.—Admiral Winslow at San Diego, reporting late today on the clash between American seamen and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday said, Boatwain Mate I. M. Laughter was gravely wounded and Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowat were taken prisoners by the Mexicans. The admiral made no mention of the subsequent release of the officers, as announced to the state department by the Mexican embassy, but it is presumed this occurred after the report on which his message was based was sent.

Admiral Winslow's brief dispatch follows:

"The Annapolis at Mazatlan reports that a boat went in shore for parcels with Messrs. Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowat taken prisoners. Boat crew I. M. Laughter gravely wounded."

Commander of Okla. National Guard.
SAN ANTONIO, June 19.—While one hundred thousand members of the militia were being mobilized to the border for any indication of hostility on the part of Carranza's troops, officers commanding patrols along the Rio Grande from Brownsville to El Paso secured what information they could concerning the movements on the Mexican side both of bandits and government troops, but no official report reached army headquarters here of any incident that appeared likely to disturb the delicately balanced relations between the soldiery of the two countries facing each other across the international line.

General Pershing's reports indicated that General Jacinto Trevino's troops had not yet made any aggressive move, and army officials believed it improbable that they would, unless Trevino received special orders from Mexico City.

Stiff Situation.
Such information as reached General Funston concerning the movements of Mexican troops indicated the adoption of a plan not to maintain heavy garrisons at border points, but to hold the bulk of the border army some miles south of the Rio Grande. The garrison at Laredo, Mexico, was strengthened by a mere handful of men, but at Lompasa, between Laredo and Monterrey, there were held five thousand Mexican troops. The garrison at Laredo tonight was less than one thousand. At Piedras Negras, the Mexican town opposite Eagle Pass, the Mexican garrison has been busy leaving all day. Tonight a considerable force was remained, but the larger part had moved to points south, where they were incorporated with other bodies of troops. Before leaving Piedras Negras the Mexicans dismantled the machine shops, removing large quantities of the material to the interior.

The concentration of heavy forces to the south of Juarez also was reported. The only point where concentration at a border town was being effected was at Ojinaga, opposite Presidio. There not more than five hundred were stationed, but the American force at Presidio also is small.

State Adds Link in Orpet Chain.
Phone Operators Tell of Conversation Orpet and Lambert Girl Held.

Waukegan, June 19.—Two telephone operators who occasionally relieved the monotony on the night watch by "listening in" on the wire were unexpectedly produced by the state today in the case of William H. Orpet, the university student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, a Lake Forest high school girl.

The new witnesses, Miss Mary Dunn and Mrs. Edith Kennedy, testified that they heard of the conversation over the telephone wire between young Orpet and Marion on the night

One of the Oklahomans who commanded a regiment of volunteers in the Spanish-American war and a high officer in the Oklahoma National Guard ever since its organization, Colonel Hoffman, whose home is at Chandler where the mobilization is taking place, probably will be chief in command of the troops from this state when they leave for the Mexican border.

MEXICO DEFILES UNITED STATES; FIRES ON SHIP

One Soldier Is Wounded and Two Are Taken Prisoners in Clash.

ORDER ARREST OF U. S. CITIZENS

Border Tense as War Clouds Roll Over; American Generals Ready.

SAN DIEGO, June 19.—The governor of the state of Sinaloa has declared war on the United States, according to a radiogram from Commander Arthur Kavanaugh of the gunboat Annapolis now at Mazatlan. No further details of the alleged declaration of hostilities were given in the message, which was directed to Admiral Winslow of the Pacific fleet here.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 19.—The Mexican government in Yucatan has issued a proclamation ordering all Americans out of Mexico, and declaring a state of war existing between the two countries, according to passengers arriving here this morning on the Norwegian steamer Nils from Progresso, Americans and other foreigners are being taken on board an American gunboat at Progresso. Great excitement is said to prevail.

Detachments Ready.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 19.—The cruiser San Diego, flagship of the 10th fleet with Admiral Cameron McIlwain on board, was prepared to leave at midnight tonight for either Guaymas or Mazatlan. The cruiser Chattanooga left at 7 p. m. for Annapolis and the cruiser Dewey and Cleveland left soon afterwards for Salina Cruz.

Ships to Sea.
SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 19.—The United States destroyers Hull, Hopkins and Truxtun sailed from here today to accompany the flagship San Diego which is to sail at midnight for ports on the west coast of Mexico. The cruiser Milwaukee will follow in a few days when necessary repairs are completed.

Sharp Clash.
WASHINGTON, June 19.—Admiral Winslow at San Diego, reporting late today on the clash between American seamen and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday said, Boatwain Mate I. M. Laughter was gravely wounded and Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowat were taken prisoners by the Mexicans. The admiral made no mention of the subsequent release of the officers, as announced to the state department by the Mexican embassy, but it is presumed this occurred after the report on which his message was based was sent.

Admiral Winslow's brief dispatch follows:

"The Annapolis at Mazatlan reports that a boat went in shore for parcels with Messrs. Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowat taken prisoners. Boat crew I. M. Laughter gravely wounded."

Stiff Situation.
Such information as reached General Funston concerning the movements of Mexican troops indicated the adoption of a plan not to maintain heavy garrisons at border points, but to hold the bulk of the border army some miles south of the Rio Grande. The garrison at Laredo, Mexico, was strengthened by a mere handful of men, but at Lompasa, between Laredo and Monterrey, there were held five thousand Mexican troops. The garrison at Laredo tonight was less than one thousand. At Piedras Negras, the Mexican town opposite Eagle Pass, the Mexican garrison has been busy leaving all day. Tonight a considerable force was remained, but the larger part had moved to points south, where they were incorporated with other bodies of troops. Before leaving Piedras Negras the Mexicans dismantled the machine shops, removing large quantities of the material to the interior.

The concentration of heavy forces to the south of Juarez also was reported. The only point where concentration at a border town was being effected was at Ojinaga, opposite Presidio. There not more than five hundred were stationed, but the American force at Presidio also is small.

State Adds Link in Orpet Chain.
Phone Operators Tell of Conversation Orpet and Lambert Girl Held.

Waukegan, June 19.—Two telephone operators who occasionally relieved the monotony on the night watch by "listening in" on the wire were unexpectedly produced by the state today in the case of William H. Orpet, the university student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, a Lake Forest high school girl.

The new witnesses, Miss Mary Dunn and Mrs. Edith Kennedy, testified that they heard of the conversation over the telephone wire between young Orpet and Marion on the night

One of the Oklahomans who commanded a regiment of volunteers in the Spanish-American war and a high officer in the Oklahoma National Guard ever since its organization, Colonel Hoffman, whose home is at Chandler where the mobilization is taking place, probably will be chief in command of the troops from this state when they leave for the Mexican border.

One of the Oklahomans who commanded a regiment of volunteers in the Spanish-American war and a high officer in the Oklahoma National Guard ever since its organization, Colonel Hoffman, whose home is at Chandler where the mobilization is taking place, probably will be chief in command of the troops from this state when they leave for the Mexican border.

TULSA HEARS NATIONAL CALL FOR SOLDIERS

To Organize Troop of Cavalry and Two Companies of Infantry.

WILL BE READY TO GO IN WEEK

Major Alva Niles to Head Cavalry; Initial Plans Made Last Night.

IMMEDIATELY upon receipt of word in Tulsa yesterday that President Wilson had issued, through Secretary of War Baker, a call for the mobilization of all national guardsmen in the United States for immediate service on the Mexican border, plans were formulated in this city for the organization of a troop of cavalry and two companies of infantry.

When the news of the action of the secretary of war became known, Major Alva Niles, a former officer in the United States army and at present on the reserve list of the adjutant general's staff, began plans for the organization of a troop of cavalry, of which there are but two in the state at the present time, one at Oklahoma City and the other at Okemah.

For several years Tulsa was represented among the national guard organizations of the state by a company of infantry, but this was disbanded and mustered out a few months ago. It is now the intention of several of the leading business men of the city who have had military experience to recruit one, or perhaps two companies of infantry after which they will be brought up to full war strength and held in readiness for instructions from the adjutant general's office.

Already every military organization in the state is in receipt of instructions to mobilize at Chandler, where the general mobilization will take place and from where the troops will entrain for the border.

Among the organizations which will leave for Chandler within the next three days Tulsa will not be represented.

At the present time Oklahoma City has one company of infantry, one troop of cavalry, a field hospital

Satisfied with Hughes.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 18. Eugene Lorton, editor The World, Tulsa, Okla., My Dear Mr. Lorton: Accept my most cordial thanks for your friendliness at Chicago and in the days preceding the convention. I shall remember my meeting with you at Tulsa. I am entirely satisfied with the nomination of Mr. Hughes. He will make a strong candidate; I am confident he will be elected and that he will make a great president. If ever I visit Tulsa, I hope I shall have the pleasure of seeing you again. With kindest regards, I am Very sincerely yours, T. E. BURTON.

County Valuation Now Sixty Million.
Lists Just Completed by R. E. Curran Show Total of $60,516,788.

Increase Enormous.
Almost 10 Millions Greater Than Last Year; 13,000 Head of Cattle.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

TULSA HEARS NATIONAL CALL FOR SOLDIERS

To Organize Troop of Cavalry and Two Companies of Infantry.

WILL BE READY TO GO IN WEEK

Major Alva Niles to Head Cavalry; Initial Plans Made Last Night.

IMMEDIATELY upon receipt of word in Tulsa yesterday that President Wilson had issued, through Secretary of War Baker, a call for the mobilization of all national guardsmen in the United States for immediate service on the Mexican border, plans were formulated in this city for the organization of a troop of cavalry and two companies of infantry.

When the news of the action of the secretary of war became known, Major Alva Niles, a former officer in the United States army and at present on the reserve list of the adjutant general's staff, began plans for the organization of a troop of cavalry, of which there are but two in the state at the present time, one at Oklahoma City and the other at Okemah.

For several years Tulsa was represented among the national guard organizations of the state by a company of infantry, but this was disbanded and mustered out a few months ago. It is now the intention of several of the leading business men of the city who have had military experience to recruit one, or perhaps two companies of infantry after which they will be brought up to full war strength and held in readiness for instructions from the adjutant general's office.

Already every military organization in the state is in receipt of instructions to mobilize at Chandler, where the general mobilization will take place and from where the troops will entrain for the border.

Among the organizations which will leave for Chandler within the next three days Tulsa will not be represented.

At the present time Oklahoma City has one company of infantry, one troop of cavalry, a field hospital

Satisfied with Hughes.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 18. Eugene Lorton, editor The World, Tulsa, Okla., My Dear Mr. Lorton: Accept my most cordial thanks for your friendliness at Chicago and in the days preceding the convention. I shall remember my meeting with you at Tulsa. I am entirely satisfied with the nomination of Mr. Hughes. He will make a strong candidate; I am confident he will be elected and that he will make a great president. If ever I visit Tulsa, I hope I shall have the pleasure of seeing you again. With kindest regards, I am Very sincerely yours, T. E. BURTON.

County Valuation Now Sixty Million.
Lists Just Completed by R. E. Curran Show Total of $60,516,788.

Increase Enormous.
Almost 10 Millions Greater Than Last Year; 13,000 Head of Cattle.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,796, but of this amount $511,190 is exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $17,833,606. There are 31,996 lots in the city of Tulsa, with an average valuation of $589.25 and a total valuation of $9,531,191. Improvements are estimated at $9,222,370, bringing the grand total up to nearly eighteen and a half million dollars.

Land Values.
Land in Tulsa county is valued, on an average, at $27.10 an acre and there are 272,693 acres in the county. The total value is $7,389,540.

Statisticians have attempted to figure out the wealth of Tulsa county; newspapers have printed columns telling of its marvelous growth, its unequalled prosperity; her praise has been sung in song and told in story, but the most amazing of all remained for the county assessor to tell. According to the assessment lists, completed Saturday after weeks of hard labor, Tulsa county is worth $60,516,788. The total valuation of the county last year was $48,805,382, showing thereby a gain of $9,711,406 for the year.

Personal property alone shows a valuation of $18,344,79