

"I WANT TO DIE," MAN TELLS POLICE

Orvie Smith Grew Dependent Over Love of Unworthy Woman.

TOOK DEADLY DRUG

Is Hanging Between Life and Death While Police Officers Watch.

"I'm sorry it didn't do it quicker, that's all. Oh, yes, I know I'm going to die but why should I have to wait? Put it down as a love affair and let it go at that."

Orvie Smith, a young man, lay on a cot in the basement of the police station last night, and in a faint voice told why he had swallowed six anti-epileptic tablets, as a result of which there is little hope for his recovery.

"Flo Smith, that's her name," the man told officers. "I guess I fell for her pretty hard. Anyway I loved her better than anything. But somehow I got tired of living. I wasn't working, either, I kinda felt bad about that too, so I decided that the best thing to do was to give up."

"I'm sorry it didn't do it quicker, that's all," the man said. The woman the police describe as an inmate of a house in the east end; a woman who has been in police court on several occasions, and one whose appearance is anything but attractive. She seemed to be the dominating thought in the mind of the man as he lay on what may be his death bed. "She was a pretty good girl. But you know a woman," the boy continued to the officers.

It was as Kipling said in his "Vampire" a man's devotion to a bone, a rag and a hank of hair. Smith had loved, not wisely, but too well. And his fate lies in the success of the first aid rendered him by City Superintendent of Health DeZell Hawley and members of the fire department, who were summoned.

LONDON ANXIOUS ABOUT EPIDEMIC

Times Urges Government to Enforce Rigid Quarantine Against Plague.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(2:38 a. m.)—The Times today urges the government to enforce a most rigid quarantine against infantile paralysis now prevalent in New York.

At the moment when we have huge armies of men in training," says the Times, "an outbreak of this disease would be a great disaster. For the sake of our children, we must take due precautions. Quarantine regulations should be enforced on passengers coming from New York and other infected areas and a thorough disinfection carried out in all cases where a shadow of doubt exists. If we neglect precautions and the epidemic spreads here, we shall have only ourselves to blame."

BRISTOW, Okla., Aug. 16.—It is reported that the merchants of this city are laying in a large supply of the necessities of life in anticipation of the impending railroad strike. There is one thing certain, and that is, that the railroad is running about four trains a day now where they did one this time a month ago. Everything is being stored away that is not perishable.

LABOR FEDERATION WILL NAME QUEEN

Interest in Coming Celebration Heightened by Announced Contest.

FIVE GIRLS IN RACE

Promises To Be One of the Warmest Fights in Local History.

Interest in the round of merriment which is to crowd the days of the State Federation of Labor convention which opens in Tulsa on next Monday, has been greatly stimulated by the inauguration of a labor day queen contest, into which contestants have entered from almost every craft.

Although labor day does not occur until September 4, the contest is expected to develop to its maximum during the coming labor convention, and impetus is expected from the preceding convention of the carpenters, a national meeting for which Tulsa was secured as the convention city, sessions beginning in Convention hall, August 15.

Five candidates have been entered for the honors of labor day queen, the typographical union, the bakers, carpenters, plumbers and painters, each being represented by a popular young woman.

Miss Fanny Thomas is endorsed by the members of the typographical union, and the members of this organization are working hard to put her over a winner.

Miss Helen Davis is a representative of the bakers union and Miss Lucile Warren is candidate for the carpenters union.

The plumbers union is represented by Miss Lynn Monaghan and Miss Alma Robbins is entered in the contest from the painters union. All are receiving the hearty support of the union men of Tulsa, and the contest promises to be one of the warmest fought for the honors in several years.

MISS CORSON SUES THEATRICAL HEADS

Vaudeville Star and Union Principal Alleges $20,000 Damages for Libel.

Special to The World.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 15.—Through her attorneys today, Miss Cora Youngblood Corson, prominent vaudeville performer and organizer for the White Rats Actors' union, who has been assisting the union stage hands and musicians in their strike here, filed suit for $20,000 damages against the theatrical managers association of this city.

Miss Corson asks for $10,000 actual and $10,000 exemplary damages. The suit is the result of an article appearing in a local paper several days ago signed by the association, and which it is alleged reflected on Miss Corson. The petition filed in the suit alleges that there is a theatrical trust in the city. Managers of the Metropolitan and Dreamland, two houses which signed the new wage schedule of union stage hands before the strike occurred, are not included in the suit.

RAISE HOWL OVER NEW PARKING RULE

Jim Pilkington Gets Censure by Denizens of Third Street District.

Following the erroneous announcement that Traffic Sergeant Jim Pilkington was fathering an ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles on Third from Cincinnati to Boston, there has descended about the head of the big traffic officer a storm of protests from physicians and office occupants of buildings on that street, which promised to drive him to the hills for an alibi or to hiring a special press agent to "put him right."

According to Jim and the majority of the people along Third, an ordinance including that street in the thirty minute parking zone would work a hardship on them which is unnecessary in enforcement of the laws provided for regulating down-town traffic. "The office people in the buildings, especially the doctors, would be hard hit by such a law," said Jim yesterday. "These doctors use their cars a great part of the time, and when they need them, it is usually an important matter to get to them quickly. Such a law would make them park their cars several blocks from the buildings in which they office, and they would lose much time in getting to and from their cars."

NAME COMMITTEE IN DANISH SALE

Landsting Considers the Proposed Treaty With United States Behind Closed Doors.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 16.—(9:50 p. m.)—The landsting, the upper house of the Danish parliament, tonight appointed a committee of fifteen members to consider the matter of the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. This action was taken after the entire membership in the landsting had held a closed meeting since early in the morning. Consideration of the sale by the landsting probably will be retarded and it is not known when the landsting will hold open meetings to discuss the subject. The attitude of the members of the various political parties in the landsting tonight was more uncertain than it was yesterday.

SULLIVAN ACCUSES OWEN OF FALSEHOOD

FORMER CONGRESSMAN SAYS OKLAHOMAN WRONGFULLY ACCUSES WILSON.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Roger C. Sullivan, former Democratic national committeeman from Illinois and one of the party leaders in the middle west, will not take an active part in the management of the western campaign headquarters of the Democratic national campaign this fall, according to a report here today. None of Mr. Sullivan's close political friends will be given positions in the western headquarters, according to the same report.

According to the story, influential friends of President Wilson are inclined to blame Mr. Sullivan for Raymond Robins' support of Charles E. Hughes, despite the fact that Representatives of Mr. Sullivan offered the support of the regular state organization to Mr. Robins if he would run for governor against Edward F. Dunne, the incumbent.

According to the report, those who will be the principal assistants to Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana in the management of the western headquarters of the Democratic national committee are Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Irving Shuman, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, and Morgan Davies of Illinois.

BURNING ITCHING ECZEMA ON BABY

Appeared On Cheeks, Spread Over Face, Neck and Behind Ears. Pimples Would Turn to Blisters.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"When my baby was about two months old eczema appeared on her cheeks. It continued to spread over her face, neck and behind her ears. It appeared in pimples first, and would itch and turn to blisters. The itching and burning were so intense she would fret and cry, and could not sleep. I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it did good. One large box of Ointment and one large cake of Soap healed her." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Barefield, Bergant, Ala., April 2, '16.
