GORE AT BANQUET STARTS CAMPAIGN

Senator Comes to Lawyers' Dinner and Fires What is Construed First Shot.

GETS LIBERAL APPLAUSE

200 Attorneys at Meeting Cheer Defense Offered For Senate Course.

JUDGE WILLIAMS HONORED

New Judicial Official and Predecessor Received Tribute; Engage in Funfest.

Out of a lawyer's funfest, United States Senator Thomas F. Gore, who came in unannounced and unprogrammed last night brought his campaign for re-nomination and re-election to the senate. Whether it was intended as such or not, those who heard the senator's speech, construed it as the opening gun in his campaign for re-nomination.

Senator Gore was one of the speakers at the banquet given by the Tulsa bar association in honor of Judge Robert L. Williams. It was held at the Ketchum hotel and was scheduled for eight o'clock but an accident to the automobile which brought Judge Williams and Judge William C. Hook of the United States circuit court of appeals from Muskogee delayed the start and when finally the dinner took place at the tables, it was fully half an hour before Judges Hook and Williams reached the hotel.

It was a banquet much as any lawyers can "put on." From start to finish it was more like a grid-iron affair except during the more serious moments during the talks by Senator Gore and Judge Williams.

Gore speaks long. Senator Gore spoke for three-quarters of an hour and there had been any doubt in his mind as to the nature of the reception which would be accorded him, that doubt was soon dispelled for his remarks were frequently applauded and when he spoke of his stand in the senate on the matter of bringing about a reduction of the tax on the proceeds of sale of oil properties and of eliminating the two-cent tax on gasoline, there was no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he was making his first direct bid to the oil community for its support in the coming campaign.

He was further applauded when he declared that he had voted against the action of congress in re-nominating and re-electing the telegraph and telephone lines. A plea of justification of his course during the pro-war days was seen in his declaration that he always acted as a measure from the standpoint of good that could be accomplished by it.

All on Equal Footing. Judges and lawyers were on an equal footing last night. Gray Carroll, looking for the dignity made Judges Hook and Campbell subjects for an amusing olio which took good naturedly, although both "got back" at Mr. Carroll in a manner which was entirely pleasing to the others. Judge Williams and Judge Campbell made happy talk and N. A. Gibson of Muskogee delivered one of his usual "spicy" remarks. Clint Moss wound up the entertainment with a lament on "The Tenacity of July First."

Ed Crowland was there with his family and the banqueters found diversion in following him through the streets. He was followed by "Honey" and Judge N. E. McNeill of the state supreme court brought the thanks of "nine women in Oklahoma" for the aid of lawyers in securing the passage of a bill which increases the salaries of supreme court justices.

Nearly two hundred attorneys, including many from out of the city, attended the banquet. Present were: W. W. Smith, president and Vice-president, respectively of the bar association; Alfred F. Reichman and William S. Miller, counsel for the corporation; John T. Dooley, assistant attorney of the Northern Trust company; and J. C. R. Brumby, at one time a secret service officer.

The declaration filed by Means against the Northern Trust company to secure the conviction of Means for the murder of Mrs. King. It is further alleged the defendant carried $1,000,000 of Mrs. King estate and realize vast profits therefrom.

Tulsa Is Made Headquarters for Marine Recruiting District

Marine Leader Opens Station Here

Lieutenant H. G. Hornbostel.

Noted marine corps officer who will move to Tulsa April 15 to take charge of the newly established district of Oklahoma. Lieutenant Hornbostel, who is married and has two children, has been 19 years in the service. He is a Harvard student and has seen service all over the world on land and sea. For a number of years he was chief forester for the marines on the island of Guam, in which capacity he did much to modernize and improve the coconut industry in that far-off possession. Since the war he has achieved national fame as a recruiting officer and particularly as a publicity expert, in which line he first achieved notice at San Francisco and later at Kansas City. Taking charge of the Kansas City district when it was established in April, 1917, he succeeded in getting more recruits than any district of similar size in the United States, in record time of which he was promoted from second lieutenant to first lieutenant. In the last issue of the marine corps official magazine, Lieutenant Hornbostel is mentioned as "the chief contender for the marine corps publicity championship." He is already an enthusiastic Tulsa booster and will do much to put both Tulsa and the marine corps on the map in a way that has never been done before.

'Ghost' Returns to New York to Prosecute Suit for Libel

NEW YORK, April 5.—The "ghost" of John Armstrong, former lieutenant governor of New York and great-grandson of John Jacob Astor, said he found New York little changed since his sensational disappearance more than two decades ago. He asserted he had no desire to make his home here again as he did not "fit" with "high society." Mr. Chaloner, formerly chairman of the Virginia courts, pronounced him sane, because of his belief that members of his family had brought about his incarceration. Since his escape from Bloomingdale he has made persistent efforts to have the insanity judgment against him here invalidated in order that he might regain a fortune of $1,500,000 of which he was deprived at the time of his commitment. This fortune, however, still is withheld from him.

By The Associated Press. PARIS, April 5.—It was officially announced this morning that arrangements for landing at Danzig of Polish troops now in France and their transport along other lines proposed by Germany, had been arranged to the entire satisfaction of the allied powers.

The result was made known with the giving out of a communication received by the allied governments from Gen. Marshal Foch, the allied commander-in-chief, and his aides have been in conference with German representatives.

The communication reads: "SFA, April 4, 1919 p. m.—In conformity with the decision of the allied and associated governments, the right given the allies by the armistice convention signed November 11 to land the Polish troops in France at Danzig, has been completely maintained.

At First Refused. The conference at Spa between Marshal Foch and Matthias Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, was a tentative refusal of the Germans to meet the demand of the allied powers that the three divisions of Polish troops in France under General Haller be permitted to go to Poland through the port of Danzig.

Report From Council Is Agreement Comes by Saturday.

DEBATE REPARATIONS

Conclusion Not Reached, But Progress Made by Delegates.

WILSON IS STILL IMPROVING

President May Be Able to Resume Discussions at Monday Meeting.

LEAGUE MEETING TUESDAY

Final Revision Will Be Made—Hitchcock Gets Amendments.

London, April 5.—The Sunday Observer, in leaded type, says it has the best reasons for stating that the pessimistic reports regarding the peace conference are entirely unfounded.

Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson are doing everything together for a peace which it will be possible for the English speaking democracies to guarantee, and it is authoritatively expected that the preliminaries will be finally settled within three or four days.

By The Associated Press. PARIS, April 5.—At the conclusion of today's meeting of the council of four it was stated that reparations had been discussed all day without final result, but that the progress made was such as to warrant the belief that an agreement would be reached by next Saturday on all the remaining questions, including the Rhine frontier, the Saar valley and reparations. The following week will be devoted to drafting the final text of the treaty.

A plenary session has been decided upon for the coming week for the consideration of labor questions. Col. E. M. House asserted tonight that President Wilson was feeling cheerful during the visit today of the president of France, Great Britain and Italy and himself. He was sitting up in bed, Colonel House said, and would probably be able to resume his place in the council on Monday.

League Meeting Tuesday. A meeting of the league of nations commission will be called on Tuesday night, if the president is well enough to attend, for the final passage of the revised covenant. Reports that the Italians intend withdrawing are dismissed as groundless.

After the session of Colonel House this afternoon Admiral Grayson again closed the president's door to callers, insisting that the patient must not be disturbed more than was absolutely necessary.

While the afternoon bulletin showed an improvement in President Wilson's condition all precautions are being taken against anything which might lower his vitality.

Told of Proceedings. The president during the day read a little and chatted with Mrs. Wilson but contented himself with receiving from Colonel House a brief account of the proceedings of the council of four.

While callers were not permitted, messages in large number were received, extending sympathy, both personal and official, from friends, the various members of the conference and diplomatic representatives.

HITCHCOCK GETS COPY OF REVISION. WASHINGTON, April 5.—Changes which have been made in the covenant of the league of nations at Paris have been made in revision, the various members of the conference and diplomatic representatives.

Senator Hitchcock is regarded generally as the chief spokesman of the protest made in revising the league constitution, but also revision expected to be made.
