

NEW DECLARATION ADOPTED BY LABOR

Reconstruction Program Approved
With Both Conservatives and Radicals Supporting It.

GREATER LIBERTY ASKED

"Better Day, Brighter Life and Greater Degree of Happiness"
Are Aims Now Set Forth.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 19—A comprehensive reconstruction program designed "to bring to all people greater hope for a better day, a brighter life, greater liberty and a larger degree of happiness" was adopted by the American Federation of Labor at today's session of its annual convention. Radicals and conservatives united in approving a report embodying reconstructive recommendations devised by the federation's executive council. The report tonight was termed by labor leaders "a new declaration of independence for the workers of America."

War Works Changes.

Developments in our social, industrial and political relations by reason of the necessities of war have been varied in nature as they have been in character," said the report. "One of the most pronounced and far-reaching results is the realization of workers' rights, duties and responsibilities in the structure of society, industry and government. Conscious, as never heretofore, of its power, labor no longer will rest content under a system which treats workers as a commodity or article of commerce. Workers have reached the status and have come to the determination which demands treatment of equality with all other men and women in modern society. They now insist on full value and fair compensation for services rendered on a basis that will enable all to enjoy the higher things in life, rather than merely exist near the line beyond which we find human misery, which spells human bankruptcy."

Many Remedies Wanted.

The reconstruction program in brief recommends remedies against unemployment, demands adequate wages, declares labor's right to fix its own working hours, demands protection of women and children in industry, favors co-operative institutions of farmers and such producing agencies favors curbing the power of the courts to make and unmake laws; favors full participation of labor in politics but disapproval of partisan politics; favors public extension of waterways and development of water power; urges a minimum of land tenancies and favors farm ownership with public aid; would curb corporate powers; insists upon a full return of freedom of speech and press; would prohibit immigration for two years and restrict thereafter; would tax in proportion to the income of persons or property; favors state colleges for orphans' children and demands a verdict for labor in conducting industrial education; urges governmental aid in building homes, opposes large standing armies, favors help for soldiers and, as an urgent and immediate remedial measure, urges the payment of salaries to returning soldiers and sailors a limited period after discharge.

"THE AUCTION OF SOULS" TO SHOW
AT ROYAL 4 DAYS; BEGINS SUNDAY

Aurora Marduganian, Sole Survivor of More Than Half Million Beautiful Armenian Girls, Takes Leading Role in Film Written From Her Own Personal Experiences.

When the first two cave-men banded together to protect their women from the ravages of savage neighbors, civilization began. And today the just measure of a nation's advancement is in proportion to the means it takes to provide for the same and Armenia is far away. And it is difficult for an American man or woman to realize or even to believe that women and girls have been subjected to such treatment at the hands of the unscrupulous Turk as we read about every day. And yet the story of Aurora Marduganian, an Armenian girl of culture and refinement, has been vouched for and proven by the investigations of Viscount Bryce, British ambassador and by the ministers and consuls of half a dozen other nations. The experiences of this girl, who has been the experience of thousands of others, more or less murdered after the Turk had finished with them, are so sensational as to completely outdo the wildest imaginations of a writer of fiction. And yet they are true. Because of this fact, the picture, "The Auction of Souls," the most sensational screen production ever made, was passed by the national board of censors after having been refused permission to be shown in America, because of the horrible, yet fascinating details with which the production is filled. Miss Marduganian herself takes the leading role in this sensational film production, which was written from her own personal experiences and those of an English nurse, Miss Graham, who accompanied her. The picture will be shown at the Royal theater, beginning with matinee Sunday, June 22, and will run during the entire week of the Armenian drive. Complying with the national censorship board's requirements, no person under 16 years of age will be admitted.

W. N. Robinson, Owner of Hotel Tulsa, Is for Spavinaw Water

"I'm for Spavinaw and good water," said Wallace N. Robinson, owner of Hotel Tulsa, who arrived in Tulsa yesterday from Kansas City. "What Tulsa needs is plenty of water and plenty of good water. Spavinaw will furnish good water and I believe that the original cost of the investment will be offset by the good that will be derived from it."

When questioned concerning the rumor that he is to build a new $1,000,000 hotel in Tulsa, Robinson stated that he had no intention of building, although he was considering the erection of an addition to Hotel Tulsa as soon as conditions become more settled. He returned to Kansas City last night. The Hotel Tulsa property is one upon which the new valuation is increased over the old assessment, but Mr. Robinson said he had no fault to find and will cheerfully pay for the enhanced value of his property.

Jestberg of Democrat,
First Victim of the Hot Weather This Summer

If a follower of hot weather records pack this date—July 19—away in your memory. For it was yesterday, July 19, that Clarence Jestberg, who lives on South Chesapeake, was ever come by heat. It was the first heat prostration in Tulsa this summer. It happened at 6 o'clock. Jestberg will be released from the Oklahoma hospital this morning, attendants said last night. He was an employee of the Democrat.

MRS. M'WILLIAMS GETS VERDICT FOR $3,500

After Six Hours' Deliberation Jury
Awards Judgment to Woman
for Death of Husband.

After being out for more than six hours in the case of Desiree McWilliams against the Hickory Coal and Mining company, in the superior court, a jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff awarding her $3,500. Mrs. McWilliams asked for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, electrocuted December 8, 1918, while operating a coal cutting machine at the mines of the defendant company, east of the city. The plaintiff maintained in her petition that her husband met his death as the result of negligence of the company inspectors in allowing a faulty splice of an electric cable to remain in a bad condition. The defense asserted that the deceased was employed as an electrician, as well as an operator of the coal-cutting machine, and that the accident in which he met his death was caused by the failure of the deceased to use the proper precautions in keeping the cable in a reasonable state of repair.

ARKANSAS MAN KILLS SELF
AFTER HE WOUNDS WOMAN

DE QUEEN, Ark., June 19—Miss Frankie Owens of Texarkana, Arkansas, telephone operator here, was shot four times and dangerously wounded this morning by Frank O'Brien, a plumber, whose father, D. H. Williams, is said to live at Sulphur Springs, Texas. O'Brien then fired one shot into his head, causing instant death. The shooting occurred in the lobby of a local hotel. A note was found in O'Brien's room in which it was declared he intended killing the girl because she refused his attentions. And the wish was expressed that he might be buried beside her.

Do You Buy a Pound of Butter or Just a Package?

EVERY carton of Armour's Cloverbloom Creamery Butter contains a full 16-ounce pound of butter—and is sold at as low a price as possible. When you are offered butter at a seemingly lower price, the package may not contain a full pound. Many brands of butter are put up in 14- and 15-ounce packages instead of pound packages. Such packages naturally cost a few cents less than a full pound, but the butter itself costs more, because you are not getting so much butter. To secure the highest quality butter in full pound packages insist on getting

Cloverbloom
BUTTER

Always Buy Cloverbloom
Even though your dealer asks a few cents more per pound, it pays to buy Cloverbloom, because you get more actual butter. For instance, at current prices you pay less, ounce for ounce, for high grade Cloverbloom than for butter packed in 14- or 15-ounce packages.
