Illinois Governor Files as a Candidate in South Dakota Contest.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 16.—(Ma)j. Leonard Wood, who arrived in Denver late today, declined to discuss a dispatch from Pierre, S. D., outlining the attorney general's ruling that the general would like to have me talk about the office if he signed acceptance of the republican nomination for president in South Dakota.

The general was asked: "Will you accept the party nomination, general, if it is offered to you at the national convention?"

He replied: "I can't answer that. I know the position a newspaper man is in and just what would be the result of my accepting it. I haven't done so and I won't."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senators Harding of Ohio, formally announced tonight his candidacy for the republican presidential nomination in 1920. The announcement was made in a letter to Charles Hughes of Tulsa, Okla., chairman of the Tulsa county republican committee, advising him of the senator's intention of accepting the nomination.

Senator Harding is the third republican senator to make known his presidential aspirations. Senators Feinsinger of Washington, and Johnson of California, already have formally announced their candidacy and a formal boom for Senator Rutherford of West Virginia, also has been inaugurated.

Senator Harding said he had "the personal preference in the matter," but would gladly cooperate in "making effective the manifest wish of the republicans of the state." He added, however, that he would announce no platform, as that was the duty of the national convention. The senator said he would not make a personal pre-convention campaign because it would constitute neglect of his state duties.

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 16.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois today filed as an independent republican candidate for president at the next primary election in this state. The filing was made at the independent candidate's office in South Dakota, at a meeting of the state republican committee, which was held at the home of Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Wood.

According to word from New York Mr. Gerard said he would not be a candidate if President Wilson decided to run again. His filing yesterday was only a precautionary measure in case the South Dakota vote on the first three roll calls in the national convention if President Wilson should not seek a third term.

Today was the last day minority candidates named by protesting republican men could file. However, other persons desiring to be candidates could file up to January 1 by petition of voters. Under a ruling by the state attorney general, candidates nominated by the conventions are until January 1 to send in their names. However, the attorney general held that the section of the primary law concerning persons nominated or endorsed by the convention is not constitutional when it applies to officials serving the people under oath and therefore Mr. Wilson and Governor Wood could not be compelled to file their names.

Governor Lowden's nominating petition was filed by a group of republican proposal men who "protested" the endorsement of Wood.

The keynote of Governor Lowden's platform is "economy, efficiency, peace and one flag."

Draft Men Relieved.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—All of the selective service men who have been drafted in Siberia have been released by voluntary order of the government. The release of the men will arrive at San Francisco about January 1 on the trans-Pacific steamer.

Moore's Motion to Allow
12 to Go Free Overruled by Court.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 16.—Counsel for 32 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, on trial in federal court in Kansas City, charged with violation of the espionage act, suddenly rested their case today without offering any testimony. The government had rested shortly before noon.

By agreement arguments were then begun, each side being allotted four hours. Fred Robertson, United States district attorney for Kansas, opened for the government. Action of the defense, government attorneys said, was a great surprise to them, as it had been expected that they or more witnesses would be called.

Before resting, Fred Moore of Seattle, chief counsel for the defense, filed a motion asking that 12 of the defendants be discharged, on the ground that they had not been connected by the evidence with the alleged conspiracy. The motion was overruled by Judge John C. Pollock.

Evidence was introduced at the hearing by the government to show that the I. W. W. organization sought control of the food and fuel production of Kansas and Oklahoma, and that there was an organized conspiracy to evade service in the army. Among the defendants are a number who were arrested in Tulsa. Trial of the case originally set for hearing at Wichita, Kan., was transferred to Kansas City.

The case is expected to go to the jury today.

Four Indicted at Kansas City on Charge of Getting Money Illegally

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 16.—The Jackson county grand jury returned indictments today charging Samuel T. Trainin and his wife, Mrs. Emma Trainin, and H. E. Smith and his wife, Mrs. Amanda H. Smith, with obtaining money under false pretenses. The indictments were returned by the grand jury after a hearing on the case by Judge John C. Pollock.

The county prosecutor filed information against the Trainins and the Smiths some weeks ago, charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses. In view of the fact that the grand jury today returned indictments, it is believed that the case will be tried in the near future.

Wilson Waits for Return of Palmer Before Announcing Wage Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The senate coal investigation committee, resuming today its inquiry into the administration of the coal strike settlement agreement, was told by Tracy W. Guthrie, president of the Hillman Coal & Coke Co., that one clause in President Wilson's proposal would "bring about an increase in the miners' wages at least doubling the 14 percent which Dr. H. A. Garfield, resigned fuel administrator, thought justified."

While the senate committee was pursuing its inquiry, the railroad administration withdrew the last semblance of the restrictions on fuel and began delivering coal to the west. The committee, however, is expected to report on the matter later.

At the white house today it was said that President Wilson would not appoint the commission provided in the strike settlement proposal until Attorney General Palmer returns to Washington late this week. The senatorial inquiry was reopened with the calling of H. V. Norris, engineer for the fuel administration, who was conducted by Senator Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, chairman of the committee, and Senator Townsend, Michigan, through a maze of statistics bearing on labor costs and prices of necessities.

"Secretary of Labor Wilson proposed that the miners be given an increase of 31.67 percent," Mr. Norris explained, "because he based his calculations on the pay paid pick miners in 1917, when the coal mine miners were reeducated, the pick miners were getting the greatest amount, and the scales were balanced by giving them a lesser increase than other classes of labor around the mines. This was necessary in order to induce men to do the other work."

"Doctor Garfield decided that a particular wage group ought not to serve now as a basis for calculations, and took the average wage of all workers. After arriving at that figure, he said, 'Let's give 14 percent to the earnings would compensate them for the cost of living since the last adjustments were made.'"

Mr. O'Dell, in a formal statement, pointed out that the present government insurance laws were founded were designed by Mr. O'Dell as being "entirely sound," but the existing legislation "entirely inadequate." He added that as a result of informal conferences today between members of congress and delegates to the convention, it was evident that "congress is not yet alive to the necessities of the situation."

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer today mapped out the program of the department of justice to bring down the cost of living at a meeting of 400 city officials, heads of civic organizations and club women of Illinois, called by Gov. Frank O. Lowden.

Pledging the full power of his department in the prosecution of hoarders and profiteers, Mr. Palmer called for the assistance of every man and woman in the country for a national fight against high prices.

Explaining the plan of action whereby fair price committees in every community become agents of the federal government in enforcing its decrees, Mr. Palmer laid down a program of five things which, if carried out, he thought, would do much to deal a death blow to the high cost of living. They are:

1. Organization of fair price committees in every city and county, backed by mayors and prosecuting attorneys, with committee support in United States district attorneys.

2. Organization of women to refuse to buy but actual necessities until the prices come down.

3. Holding of "conservation and economy" meetings in every community under the auspices of civic bodies.

4. Influence of mayors and prosecutors to be brought to bear on the "hoarding elements" to prevent "hoarding" in industries and commercial districts, and to enforce industrial peace of at least six months' duration.

5. Remobilization of the "four minute men" to deliver work and addresses in theaters each night.

"Despite all objections and obstacles I purpose to go through with this campaign," Mr. Palmer said. "I intend to continue until the high cost of living has been brought under control."

The chief cause of the high cost of living, he said, was decreased production, not only in the war in Europe, but in the home front. He charged, were passed on by business men to the ultimate consumer.

Activities of the department of justice, he said, had already uncovered 219 cases against food hoarders which had resulted in the seizure and distribution in 14 states of millions of dollars worth of food. Ninety-eight cases had been brought against profiteers, many of whom were indicted and some of whom were serving sentences.
