SIoux CITY, July 29.—The Packers won the deciding game of the series with Tulsa by a 4 to 3 score here today in a thrilling ninth-inning rally. A base on balls off Morris in the last of the ninth forced in the tying run, and Crouch's single immediately thereafter, scored the winning run. It was a wonderfully played game of ball, despite the fact that four errors charged up against the players. The majority of the chances were difficult to handle. Weber, the Tulsa hurler, looked like the real goods and deserved to win his game. In the eighth and one-third innings which he pitched he allowed eight hits but kept them fairly well scattered. He had wonderful control and struck out nine Sioux City batters. Lyons the Sioux City mound selection allowed ten bingles but good support by his teammates prevented an effective attack.

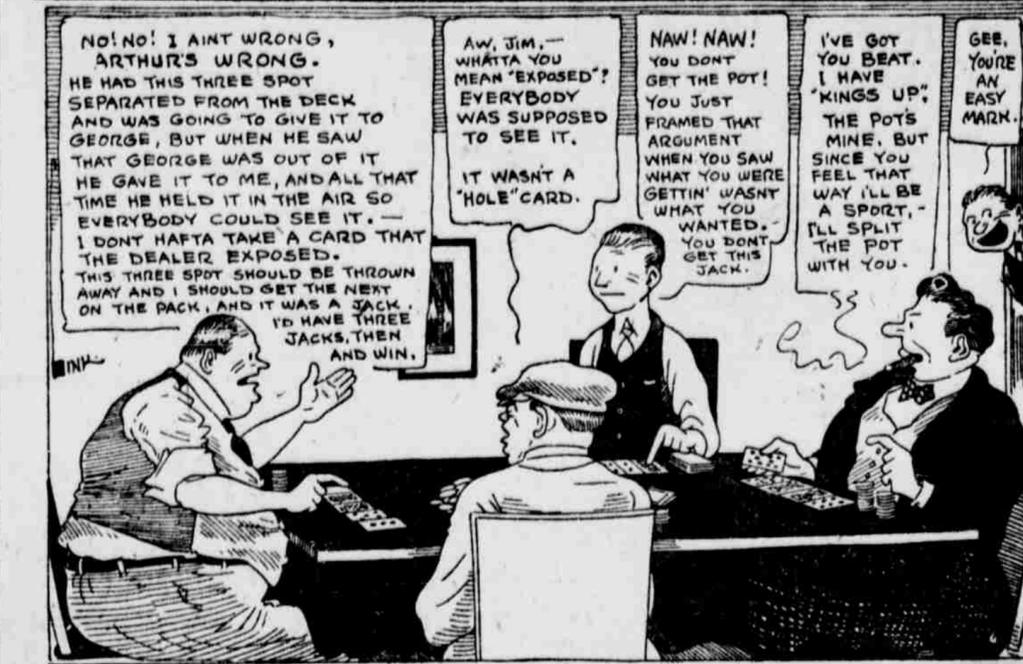

The first two innings were scoreless, then Sioux City hung up a marker as the result of Cooney's double to left field, followed by Spellman's single. The score remained deadlocked until the sixth when Tulsa went into the lead as the result of a home run in succession by Wuffli and McManus. Wuffli's drive sent the ball against the wire of the left field fence with such force that it caught in the wire and went over the home runs in the bag. McManus followed him to the plate and laid on the first ball delivered. It sailed along the path of Wuffli's hit, but cleared the fence about three feet from the point where Wuffli's ball had struck. Another Tulsa run resulted in the seventh when Davis hit the ball over the right field fence into the Missouri river but kept them fairly well scattered. He had wonderful control and struck out nine Sioux City batters. Lyons the Sioux City mound selection allowed ten bingles but good support by his teammates prevented an effective attack.

MONROE LETTER READ AT PICNIC

In the evidence, Johns has leased the place to Neal and he is the one directly charged with possession of the liquor.
Monroe's statement.
When interviewed by The World last night County Attorney Monroe said he had written the letter, a copy of which he says is on file in his office. He said that under the same circumstances he would write the same letter again.
"I first met Neal here nine years ago," said Monroe, "when he was employed by the National Supply company and known as a good fellow. I have met him off and on since then and never heard that he was connected with anything but a respectable business. There are no charges of any kind against him in the county courts or other courts so far as I know."
"Some time in April I met him on the street and he told me he was living in Kansas City. He invited me to visit him when I should have occasion to pass through there. On May 1 it became known to me that he had returned to Tulsa to take some depositions in the Dudd Moore case. Roy McGuire was on the same train and we rode together. McGuire stopped in Kansas City while I went on to Leavenworth. When I returned to Leavenworth I met McGuire and Neal and Neal took us for a ride over the city in his car. Then he took us out to his fine home and later we were his guests at dinner at the McHugh hotel. McGuire will verify everything that I have stated. That was the extent of my relations with Neal in Kansas City."
"When I returned to Tulsa I felt it proper to write Neal a letter of appreciation for his kindness. The term 'official or otherwise' is peculiar to my correspondence. I suppose that I have 50 letters on file in my office containing that expression."
"So far as Springer's possession of the letter is concerned it was the property of Neal and he could have secured it in but one of two ways. Either it was deliberately stolen from Neal or turned over by him to my enemies, which I do not fear its effects when the public has been given my explanation."
There was considerable comment during and following the picnic speaking regarding the alleged "frameup" on Senator Gore. Mrs. O'Hannon first announced that Ferris's representative would speak first and Gore second. She gave an unexplained reason, and before Judge Seary even started for the platform, she reversed her announcement, stating that she should have accorded Senator Gore first honors because of his political station.
In accordance with her previous announcement, to the effect that no "man singing" would be tolerated from speakers, the senator delivered what was considered a dignified, gentlemanly and clean address, touching only lightly on his race. Using this apparent advantage, Judge Seary jumped on the speaker figuratively with both feet, denouncing him as un-American, and scattering political "mud" over a great portion of the platform.
"If he had allowed Gore to speak last, as was the first intention, he would have had an opportunity to answer some of the vituperations made against him," one bystander remarked. "It looks to me as though he was treated extremely unfair. According to alphabetical order, Ferris would be first. That is the usual custom anyway. I don't think Gore lost any votes through the deal, whether it was intentional or unintentional."
The applause given Gore and Seary was about the same.
To prevent fires in motor vehicles an automatic sprinkler has been invented, to be mounted under a hood in such a position that it sprays the motor with a chemical solution when it becomes overheated and melts a fuse.

Heavyweights Conclude Work In Tulsa for Wednesday Bout

Sam McVea Due Today; Meets Langford Here

McVea and Langford to Finish Training at Simm's Gym

NURDIN TO BOX JACKS

American Meets Englishman at End; Traineau Recovering

By LARRY DAILEY.
Sam McVea, giant negro heavyweight who still has Sam Langford, great Boston "war baby" in a 16-round bout at Convention hall next Wednesday night is due to arrive in Tulsa today. McVea will train while in Tulsa starting work today or tomorrow.

Langford is to arrive this week-end and he will add finishing touches to his work while here. Langford should be in good condition, having beaten "Pinky" Lewis at Memphis last Monday night.

Tulsa fight enthusiasts are greatly interested in Wednesday night's scrap as it brings together two of the foremost heavyweights. Tulsa, too, there is a possibility the winner will meet Harry Wills, recognized negro heavyweight champion, and who knocked out Fred Fulton in three rounds Monday night.

McVea and Langford, last of the old ring gladiators during the time of Jack Johnson's reign as world's champion are still in the leading ranks. With the exception of Dempsey and Willis, and possibly Mike and Brennan they are yet despite their years of battling without an equal.

Britt Simms, well known Tulsa negro middleweight today opens a gymnasium for the use of white and negro boxers, on Greenwood and Archer streets. Simms has a modern gymnasium, with rowing apparatus, pulleys, sand bags, punching bags, sufficient space to box, showers and other conveniences for boxers. Simms, an expert trainer and rubber will personally direct the gymnasium. McVea and Langford are to do their conditioning in Simms' gymnasium.

"Pinky" Lewis, rugged Tulsa negro heavyweight who was knocked out in seven rounds by Sam Langford Monday night, but who made a splendid impression on Memphis boxing enthusiasts and writers returned to Tulsa yesterday.

Fred Jacks, an English featherweight claiming the championship of that country in his division, is to meet Frankie Nurdin in a 12-round bout at End, August 6. Vernon Nichols, Kansas and Jimmy Hill of End, clash in the semi-windup. Nichols is a featherweight and was to have met Kid Spack of Tulsa, but was forced to make 115-pounds for the local bantam.

Carl Traineau, great bantam, who lost an opportunity to fight for the 114-pound title when he was stricken with an attack of appendicitis on the eve of his July 8 engagement with Pete Herman at Cleveland, was not forced to submit to an operation as at first reported and will be ready to re-enter the ring in September.

Morris Lux, Kansas City welterweight who boxed a 10-round draw with Harvey Thorp at Kansas City early this month, is to meet Ray Long in a 10-round go August 15 at Frontenac, Kansas. Thorp and Lux are scheduled to step 10 rounds in an American legion show September 9 at St. Joseph.

HAROLD LLOYD'S LAMPS ARE THE LAMPS OF LAUGHTER

Do you know who made shell rimmed glasses famous?
Do you know who can be funny without being fat or skinny, or without wearing grotesque moustaches or wigs, or without wearing misfit clothes?
Answer: Harold Lloyd!
For five years Harold Lloyd has been handing the public a laugh every week—an unheard of record!
Recently it was decided to make the Harold Lloyd comedies two reels in length, instead of one, and to make room for the laughs which will come with more frequency and verve.
Clean, wholesome comedies is the aim of Hal E. Roach, the Rollin comedy producer responsible for every picture Harold Lloyd has been in during these past five years.
"Captain Kidd's Kids," the second of the $100,000 two-reelers, hits the bull's eye. It boasts of a real plot embellished with scores of beautiful girls who make the most delectable prizes you ever saw, a riot of comedy action, and comedy titles that only H. M. Walker knows how to write.
Harold Lloyd plays the role of the boy who celebrated well, but unwisely, on the eve of his wedding day. Bebe Daniels is the girl who is taken by her mother to the Canary Island to forget Harry Pollard is Lloyd's valet and heavy of blonde, brunettes and salmon pink are the pirates who figure conspicuously and pulchritudinally in the plot.
The Lyric theater announces that "Captain Kidd's Kids," will be shown there on Saturday.—Adv.
