

DRASTIC WEDDING LAW IS PROPOSED

Application for Licenses Advertised Sixty Days Under Its Terms

UP TO LEGISLATURE

Measure to Be Submitted at Next Oklahoma Session to Provide Other Changes

By Associated Press State Wire.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7.—A bill providing that applications for marriage licenses in Oklahoma be advertised for 60 days before marriage will be presented to the state legislature in January by the Rev. E. D. Cameron of Henryetta, president of the National Anti-Divorce League of the United States. He made this announcement here today. The bill will require that a petition be filed in the county court specifying sex, domicile, whether married previously, if so, or former wife's death or divorce and if divorced, a certificate from a reputable physician must accompany the application, it is provided, showing that neither party has a contagious or infectious disease. The petition would be submitted to the press and advertised for 60 days before marriage took place. The proposed bill further provides that all marriages be performed by ordained ministers, eliminating marriages by justices of the peace. Mr. Cameron declared today that if the bill is refused by the legislature he will submit it to the electors of Oklahoma by an initiative petition. The anti-divorce league of the United States, chartered under the laws of that state, launched yesterday a campaign to rectify divorce laws and do away with alleged divorce mills in Oklahoma, according to Mr. Cameron. The initiative petition later will be extended to other states, he added.

FARMER AID MOVE FAILS IN SENATE

that the foundations should be laid through committee consideration for prompt action after March 4.

The committee report, the president said, marks out America's duty in both foreign and domestic affairs. By this faith alone, he said, can the world be lifted out of its present state of "confusion and despair." The president himself summed up his message in its final paragraph: "I have not so much laid before you a series of bills as I have presented to you a series of principles. I believe that the faith of the future, the faith of the future, and of all the victories which await national action in days to come, whether in America or elsewhere." The ways and means committee will have before it a wide range of proposals for bills already presented, which include measures providing all the way from far reaching tax and tariff reforms and agricultural relief to aid or protection to limited groups of industries.

May Probe Unemployment.
Some measures would direct congressional investigation of unemployment. Among such measures was a resolution providing for a special resolution committee investigations and a conference of governors and federal officials to ascertain facts and make recommendations. The resolution set forth that there were more than 2,000,000 unemployed in the United States. Permission to deduct income taxes paid this year from next year's assessable income was proposed as a business relief measure by Representative Ackerman, republican, New Jersey, who declared the burden of taxes should not further be increased by taxing money already paid or to be paid into the treasury.

Many Bills in Senate.
Bills were offered in the senate in large numbers with the general aim of stimulating business. The program of Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, for farm relief legislation found expression in several measures to be introduced today. One was Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, introduced bills to prohibit importation for one year of grain and grain products and livestock and other food commodities and appointment by the president of a commission to prepare for carrying a system of co-operative marketing.

Co-operative Marketing.
Co-operative marketing also was dealt with in house bills. Means of making care of the surplus of cotton crops and assuring the farmers of proper sale of their products was the stated object of a bill by Representative Christopherson, republican, South Dakota, who proposed to revive the United States farm corporation, which had been authorized to handle the farm surplus. All the measures dealing with relief for farmers were designed, their sponsors declared, to aid the cotton farmer as well as the producer, but the urban members were not overlooking opportunities to render assistance by legislation where possible. The finance manufacturing through passage in the federal reserve act and banking laws.

Southern Business Men Favor Finance Board.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7.—Resolution of the war finance corporation was endorsed at a conference today of bankers, merchants and planters from all of the cotton growing states as an effective method of immediately remedying the present distressed condition in the cotton market and committees were named to perfect plans to bring about a drastic curtailment in production next year as a means of permanently stabilizing the cotton-growing industry.

Original Declaration of Independence Is in Actual Danger of Fire

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The original copies of the "declaration of independence" and the constitution are in grave danger from fire or other mishap, Secretary Coby declares in a memorandum transmitted to congress in which he asks for an appropriation of $25,000 to be used not only to provide protection against "fire, water and violence," but in exhibiting them "during business hours" to the public.

The documents, the secretary says, are stored "in an ordinary safe of thin steel, proof against neither fire nor water which stands in the library of the state department," necessarily surrounded on all sides with the combustible material usually found in libraries.

'EMPIRE' FOR MARINE

Reports of Sergeant Inheriting Domain of South Sea Sultan Confirmed by War Department

WENTHAM, Mass., Dec. 7.—The palm tree of Liang Liang, a small island south of the Philippines, are ready to wave a welcome and 1,500 natives wait the chance to jabber a greeting to a sergeant of the United States marines whom they regard as their sultan, according to a war department announcement that Robert A. McClain, a machinist of this town, thinks applies to him.

For the old man, it is said, and McClain said he was made his son by adoption, and by right of inheritance, is ruler of the island. The war department announcement says that McClain, who saw service at Liang Liang in 1910, received a reply confirming the report of the sultan's death and saying that his claim would be referred to the bureau of insular affairs which would advise him later. Ten years ago McClain, as a marine sergeant on duty at Liang Liang to subdue a Moro uprising, saved the aged ruler from a party of marines who were treating him without consideration for his royal estate. McClain said he carried the sultan to the royal grass bed chamber, made him comfortable and forgot the incident. But the sultan remembered it and a few days later assembled the head men of the tribe and proclaimed the adoption of his white benefactor as a son. He said he lifted out of his palm trees and a baron in addition to the royal palace and other things for the harem McClain makes no claim he says.

WITNESSES TELL OF TOOMEY FIGHT

Misunderstanding Led to Altercation and Case in Police Court

The prosecution in the Tulsa police court of Paul Toomey, manager of a South Main street restaurant, for disturbance of the peace as the result of a fight between Toomey and J. C. Archer Saturday afternoon, was explained by eye witnesses of the affair. Tuesday Toomey was fined $10 and costs for assaulting Archer, when the latter resented what he termed seditious remarks made by Toomey.

Information obtained by a local attorney indicates that Toomey had been talking with several men concerning the flood of immigrants being allowed to enter this country during a time when work was scarce and had voiced his opposition for such actions by the government. Incidentally he mentioned that if Greeks and others were allowed to come to America as in former years, Americans would have to leave the country.

It was at this juncture that Archer, a stranger to Toomey and not among the persons addressed by the latter, accused Toomey of uttering unpatriotic statements and attacked the latter. Although a much smaller man than his antagonist, Toomey was getting the best of the argument when he was arrested.

Witnesses said several persons who witnessed the fight stated to the attorney that Toomey was attacked because Archer jumped at the conclusion that the former was making unpatriotic utterances, whereas Toomey was condemning the action of the government for allowing the influx of more foreigners, especially of the lower classes.

TRINITY BAZAR A SUCCESS

All Articles Offered For Sale By Church Disposed of by Evening

A Christmas bazar which proved successful in every particular was held by members of Trinity Episcopal church Tuesday at Convention hall, the attendance being so good that practically all supplies, both of "etables" and hand work, were disposed of by evening. Women and young women of the congregation were busy during the day. The bazar closed with a dance. To satisfy the proverbial "sweet tooth," there were in operation a lunch and tea room, a booth for the sale of homemade candies, a booth for the sale of the "salt water taffy" from the "boardwalk" at Atlantic City and a delicatessen.

Campbell of Sapulpa, and the Hennessy Oil company of Tulsa, charging that an oil well in Okmulgee county, known as the Isaac Boone well, was not properly plugged, as provided by the corporation commission's order. The citation instructs the defendants to appear before the commission to show cause why they should not be fined.

SALMON RESENTS CAPITAL NEWS

Says He Was Victim of Circumstances in Oil Booze Case

"I was a victim of circumstantial evidence," declared T. U. Salmon Tuesday in commenting on a special dispatch from Washington announcing that the supreme court had refused to review the testimony of the case against R. L. Ammerman, J. O. Ammerman, Walter Sharp and T. U. Salmon, convicted in the federal court of the western district of Oklahoma of a conspiracy to introduce liquor into Indian territory in 1915. Salmon was express agent at Key Stone at the time it is charged the conspiracy was formed, and he insists that he followed the rules strictly in delivering packages to consignees. He states that the press dispatches from Washington are in error in saying that liquor was delivered to fictitious persons as a part of the conspiracy charged. Salmon declares that if he did not know the person claiming a package that he required an affidavit setting out that the payment was the bona fide consignee, and that his conviction was the result of his relying upon information given him that he was to be used as a witness only. Relying upon such information he did not prepare for trial and did not
