

PRESS ONWARD IN SPITE OF PERILS

Tulsa Missionary and Family Undaunted by Adversity

DESTINATION THIBET

Mother of J. R. Morse Is Apprehensive as to His Safety

Somewhere in western China a Tulsa missionary, his young wife and three small children are pressing on toward Thibet. They are undaunted by the perils that surround them. They are pressing on toward Thibet. They are undaunted by the perils that surround them. They are pressing on toward Thibet. They are undaunted by the perils that surround them.

Before them lies the known danger of a fresh revolt of Thibetans against the Chinese government. They know that Missionary Parkes and his wife were held in Thibet for several months by one of the most ferocious bands of Thibetans and that the Forel Christian Missionary society of the Disciples of Christ in this country has had no word since last April from its two missionary families in Thibet, who wrote them that they hoped to escape India from the oncoming forces by a neutral attitude and that the revolting Thibetans had so far displayed no animosity toward the Christian missionaries.

Doctor Shelton, head of the party in which the Tulsa trio are members, gave orders for their advance into Thibet in spite of the new outbreak only because the delicate condition of Mrs. Duncan necessitated early arrival at the mission station in Batang. Thibet, Doctor Shelton has had actual experience with Thibetans in the spring of 1913 when he and his family were on the first lap of their journey back to America. He was held for several days in the hands of Thibetans who were carrying him on the pretext of giving medical relief to a sick member of the band and was made captive, while his wife and two daughters in the caravan narrowly escaped death from the hail of bullets from the bandits' hiding place in the hills. Doctor Shelton was held prisoner for 72 days the ransom price being governmental clemency for the outlawed robber chief. When he became too ill to be transported rapidly from place to place and pursued by Chinese troops, he was left by the band in a rice straw stack with three robbers on guard and was finally rescued by the soldiers.

Soldiers Accompany Caravan. Morse wrote that Chinese soldiers were to accompany his party's caravan into Thibet. For the caravan 20 mules and 100 yaks or oxen were needed. The men were to ride mules and women were to occupy sedan chairs, while the baby was to be carried in a basket swung between animals.

It was expected that the caravan could not make more than 10 miles a day in journeying from Yunnan-fu to Batang over 14 ranges of the Himalayas, some seventeen thousand feet high.

Young Morse's mother, Mrs. Frank E. Morse, is showing a Spartan courage in the midst of suspense as to the safety of her son and his family. At this time it seems likely that she will not even know when they reach their destination as mail runners no longer make the 500-mile trip on account of unsettled conditions. Mrs. Morse has written the Forel Christian Missionary society as to the possibility of obtaining Christmas greetings to her son at Batang.

The "ambassador of Jesus Christ to the Thibetans" spent his last day on American soil for eight years on August 12, the last day waving good-bye to his mother on the docks at Vancouver from aboard the Empress of China. During the sea trip Doctor Shelton learned that the party had as pilots two women missionaries of their own denomination. At Shanghai, Mrs. Shelton separated from the party and started for India where this institution is a labor of love for the Thibetans. The two Shelton girls, both born in Thibet, are now studying in Pomona, Cal., the elder to be a medical missionary.

The Sheltons left Thibet partly to bring their girls back home and to avoid unpleasant relations with the Chinese consul, who wished to see both his son to the older girl.

Represents End Church. Morse is a Tulsa of long standing and a member of the First Christian church. He graduated from Phillips university at Enid and is representing the Enid church, where he made ministerial preparation, in accordance with his wish and that of his mother that he go to the foreign field. During Doctor Shelton's furlough in America he became interested in going to Thibet, that practically untouched field between India and Siberia. He is representing the Christian church of Enid.

Eight-month-old Baby Eugene was standing the trip admirably at last reports.

Capital Police Hold Man Who Talked in Thousands And Engineered 'Big Deal'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3.—An alleged huge financial bubble burst here today with the arrest of R. N. De Cordova, said by the police to have talked so easily of hundreds of thousands of dollars that he enlisted the support of a number of Oklahoma Cityans in oil promotion scheme when he himself had no funds.

De Cordova was arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check. According to the police De Cordova, after gaining the confidence of the Oklahoma City men, organized in addition to the oil company, an engineering firm which was to develop an oil location in Colorado.

The police said De Cordova displayed two deposit slips on a Texas bank, one for $150,000, the other for $250,000. The slips worked wonders, they said. De Cordova was alleged to have agreed to the purchase of one-third of a 32,000-acre tract in Colorado which the company formed here was to develop. He presented a check for $15,000 police said, asking that it be held a few days until his father, whom he described as a millionaire, 19-year-old high school girl and a married woman. The police said that the prisoner is the adopted son of a wealthy contractor and that his real name is Alexander Warren.

He answers in part the description of a man seen at the Hoxie home on the day of the crime.

WANTS RACIAL EQUALITY

Jap Says This Is the Only Solution of International Disharmony.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—A strong appeal for racial equality and a warning that above all issues now before the conference that of racial equality must ultimately be the only real solution of international disharmony, was made here today by Sennosuke Yokota, president of the Japanese board of legislation.

Yokota declared that America alone can solve the great problem of mankind—that of racial equality because "the creator had bestowed such special blessings upon the American people in the richness and varied resources of her vast territory."

Orders were given for the erection of the plant on the Colorado land and De Cordova announced that he would buy an automobile for each officer in the new formed company. It was alleged. Automobile salesmen swarmed about him, and he had cars delivered, police said.

Plans for the Colorado project reached a state at which De Cordova was obliged to show some funds, according to the police version. He didn't and a demand was made on him that he open an account with a local bank. He agreed to deposit $100,000, police stated, and a check, drawn on another Oklahoma City bank was deposited. The next day it was placed for collection. The president of the bank on which it was drawn announced he had never heard of De Cordova. His arrest followed.

He was taken to the police station and released in custody of a plain clothes man. The automobile he had delivered was returned to the dealers today.
