PERSONAL LIBERTY FLEAYED Sunday Says League Members Are Black-Hearted Imps of Perdition—Then Some

Sundayisms

I hate to see a man or woman who feels that God owes them something and that salvation is a sort of a reward for merit. I've got the same vim, vigor and tobacco sauce that I had before I was converted. I haven't slowed up any—'ve only given it over to the Lord. You say, "Bill, the church is full of hypocrites." So is hell. If you don't want to spend your eternity with a bunch you don't care for, you'd better come into the church where there are a few of them for there won't be a hypocrite in heaven—they'll all be in hell. How God saves me through Jesus, I don't know. I don't worry my head—that's God's part of it. So do your part and let the Lord alone—don't butt into him. He will never explain it to you anyway, so what's the use of fooling about it. If I stand up here and tell you I am a liar, I've never ever paid any dues or been initiated, I am a liar. If you stand up and tell me that you are a Christian when you've never confessed Jesus Christ, then you are a liar. If you ever want anything not done, you just appoint a committee to do it. There'll be two or three on that committee that'll do all the work as a rule, and the rest of 'em will just loaf on the job.

The Reverend Billy Sunday swung a bayonet flush on the jaw of the Personal Liberty league last night. The Personal Liberty league and all that are therein took the count by the time the energetic evangelist got through with them. Pigeonholing the organization with his adjective method that is at the disposal of the administration of those who wear him, Sunday peeled off his coat, stamped from the platform down on to the press table at his left as he said through clenched teeth, shaking his head and his fist at whatever misguided human in the crowd belonging to the object of his scorn.

If you belong to it you're a dirty, low-down pup. Oh, I'd like to fight you, you dirty, mendacious, rapacious, black-hearted imp of perdition! And then he struggled back into his coat and turned to the platform as he said in a half aside—"I'd fix it up with the Lord afterwards. But there wouldn't need to be any fixing."

Billy is a Recruiter. The versatile Sunday's double-exposure impersonation of a drill officer and a recruit brought down the house. Rolling out fierce commands that had no more form of words than the layman is usually able to distinguish in such cases, he marched smartly back and forth across the platform, turning pathetically eager square corners after the manner of the impending rookie and painstakingly swiping in the way of his own feet as he the unhappy demise of those same newcomers to Uncle Sam's army. He was illustrating, after the Sunday pictorial fashion, this point:

My position is analogous to that of a recruiting officer in the army. It's my business to get folks to enlist. It's Christ that saves, not confession, not baptism, not religion, not walking down that aisle and taking my hand. What you do afterwards, whether you're baptised or whether you're not, depends upon the preachers here. I say, "I'm like a recruiting officer. I get folks to enlist. Then it's the preachers' business to drill 'em, just as the officer in the army"—and then followed the historic bit, to the tune of the crowd.

Crowd Cheers Allen. The song service, which the person was perhaps more than ordinarily interesting last night. John Allen, the brave soldier who saved the life of Colonel Roosevelt, Jr., and who brought back with him from France a broken neck, came

Recall Marines, Senator Urges During Hearing

SAN DOMINGO, Dec. 14.—United States Senator Mc Cormick, a member of the congressional committee investigating American military occupation of Haiti and San Domingo today went on record as favoring the withdrawal of United States marines from San Domingo.

After testimony had been taken regarding conditions in San Domingo Senator McCormick invited suggestions for future action. "I for one favor withdrawal of American troops," said the senator. Alfonso Legrono, secretary to President Jimenes, again testified that American marines had committed acts of cruelty on residents of the island. Mellaval, lawyer, another witness declared conditions did not warrant intervention. Alexander Corradin, a physician, testified that an old man had been tied to a horse by American marines and then shot. He charged further that Captain Merckle, an American officer, had killed innocent people. Pedro Ribera, charged on the witness stand that he had been a victim of the "water cure" and testified as to other forms of torture. Senator McCormick interrupted the meeting at one time to remark: "The members of this commission are ashamed and regret that such incidents took place under direction of American officers."

PACKER STRIKERS MAKE STATEMENT

State Conditions Under Which Strike Can Be Quickly Settled

WISH WAGES RESTORED

Then Willing to Submit Reductions to Arbitration; Ask Real Conference

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Declaring that striking packhouse workers are standing firm against what they term an "arbitrary reduction of wages" and denying statements by the "big five" packers that operations in Chicago are nearly normal, strike leaders in a statement tonight asserted that if there is to be a contest of endurance, it will run for months and guerrilla warfare, if that term can be used, can be expected throughout the country. The statement was given to Secretary of Labor Davis over the signature of Harry Hayes, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America.

Secretary Davis, in Chicago, on his return to Washington from Milwaukee, asked the strike leaders for a statement of their side of the issue. The conditions upon which they said the strike can be settled, were named by the union:

First. That the packers rescind the wage reduction put into effect November 26.

Second. That the packers agree to submit the question of wage reduction to arbitration. The statement declared that at no time have the representatives of the "industrial relation plan," by which the packers claim to have negotiated the reduction, their rights assembled, conferred with their fellow workers. "The packers so-called industrial relation plan," the statement declared, "is a device of the packers in any department of the packing plants," the statement continues.

"Up to date the plants in Chicago have a normal working force of 30 per cent of their normal killing and they have made no attempt to save the byproducts such as edible fats and case which they have not very successful.

"Our union has exerted every effort to prevent disturbances since the strike. However, that the men and women workers, together with their dependents, are so increased and aroused, the action of the packers arbitrarily reducing wages prior to the holidays that it is difficult for any agency to maintain peace."

Sheriff at Pittsburg Says He Cannot Handle Situation Without Assistance

WOMEN CONTINUE MARCHING

Led by Band, Cohorts of 'General' Stovich Say They Will Storm Every Kansas Mine

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 14.—The Kansas national guards was ordered into the Pittsburg coal field tonight. The time of the departure of the troops was delayed by a joint arrival, as well as the points from which they came were not officially announced.

It is known, however, that the machine gun company from the 127th infantry, Lawrence, four troops of the 14th cavalry from Yates center, Col. J. M. Gray Center and Co. sanitary detachment from Hutchinson, headquarters detachment from Salina and a supply detachment from Topeka, are included in the list. A law will be declared, officials said. New Orders to Troops. Additional orders for the mobilization of troops were issued tonight.

Three companies of the 127th infantry and a detachment of company H, a machine gun company at Lawrence, were ordered to mobilize, but no orders for entrainment were issued. The three infantry companies will carry four days' rations and field equipment. Headquarters of the 127th infantry, at Council Grove.

The order for troops to the coal field followed the appeal made today from Sheriff Milt Gould of Crawford county.

Orders for members of the national guard to be in readiness to entrain to handle the situation were issued by Col. J. M. Gray, acting adjutant general, Governor Allen, speaking over the long distance telephone from Topeka, Kan., to the sheriff.

Col. Willie McD. Rowan of the 130th infantry, acting adjutant general, is in command of the troops, although their disposal will largely be at the desire of Sheriff Gould.

The men will carry four days' rations and field equipment for an indefinite period. In an addition to the telegram from Sheriff Gould, stating that the situation here is serious, the following orders were received by state officials from Crawford county citizens and officers of business locally: "The situation here is serious and the federal government should take immediate action to protect the coal miners."

BODY NOW IDENTIFIED

All Doubt Removed Over Brother-in-Law's Slaying. Fred Smith of Atoka. OKMULGEE, Dec. 14.—All doubt as to the identity of the body of a man who was slain in a mine west of Beggs, a victim of what officers say apparently is one of the most brutal murders in criminal annals in this country, was dispelled today when Harry Cotter of Atoka positively identified it as that of his brother-in-law, Fred Smith, 17 years old.

The body had been identified yesterday by two boys, Lee Estes and Marvin Briggs, but other identifications left the true identity in doubt until the arrival today of Cotter.

With the arrival of Cotter it was learned that Smith, several months ago, went down in an abandoned mine near Atoka where Steve Sabot, who is alleged to have killed his niece, Sophie, 15, had taken refuge and brought him out when scores of other men refused to go. The crowd made up $42 and gave to Smith for the act. Sabot was found by Smith unconscious from gas fumes.

END RED RIVER ARGUMENTS

Freezing Presents Claims of Oklahoma Before U. S. Supreme Court. WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Attorney General S. P. Freeling of Oklahoma closed today the oral argument in the case presenting the competing claims of ownership of the bed of the Red river between Texas and the state. Citations from writings of explorers and historians and from the testimony of witnesses were presented by Mr. Freeling to support his contention that following the line of decisions of the supreme court the Red river is a navigable stream and that its bed belongs to the state of Oklahoma. He contended that the federal government had repeatedly treated it as a navigable stream in the river and harbor improvements and in the building of bridges across it and that, in fact, it is navigable today in places.

World Empty Stocking Fund Passes Mark of 500 Dollars

We're on our way! Tulsa has caught her stride. Yesterday's donations bore the World Empty Stocking fund well over the $500 mark, demonstrating that generous Tulsans intend beyond a doubt to gladden the hearts of the city's poor at Christmas time.

What will be the total today? If every person who wishes to fill some little heart with joy and a little face with sunshine when Christmas morning dawns and to secure a Christmas dinner for the poverty-stricken will mail just one check to the Empty Stocking fund Wednesday, all the money needed by the Tulsa Humane society for this fine Yuletide work will be raised in a day. If the employees of all the large concerns would do today as did the employees in the Wilcox building Tuesday, take up a general collection for the fund, why Humane agent A. M. Welch would not need to worry about how large an advance order to place for groceries, fruits and toys.

JOINT COMMITTEE 'FRAMEUP' SEEN IN RAIL RULING

Makes Recommendations for Legislation After a Probe

FAVORS CO-OPERATION

Also Proposes to Establish in Europe, Agriculture Attaches to Help Market

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The American farmers' "bill of rights" was submitted to congress today as the outgrowth of the weeks of investigation "into what is wrong with agriculture," conducted by a joint committee of the house and senate. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin presented the preliminary report to the senate. Chief among its recommendations is one that cooperation marketing and combinations of farmers for marketing their produce be "affirmatively legalized" by the government. The commission also recommended:

- 1. That the farmer's requirements for credit corresponding to his turnover be met by the creation of a present bank system to furnish credit of such a character.
- 2. That there be a warehouse system which will provide a uniform liability on the part of the warehouse men and in which the moral and financial hazards are fully insured. To this end, the commission suggests the extension of the existing federal warehouse law and the passage by the several states of uniform laws, regulating the liabilities of the warehouse men and the services rendered by them.
- 3. That an immediate reduction of freight rates on farm products is absolutely necessary to a renewal of normal agricultural operations and prosperity by prompt action by the railroad and constituted public authority to that end.
- 4. That there be an extension of the statistical organization of the federal government, particularly along the lines of procurement.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 14.—An increase in gas rates for industrial use in Blackwell was ordered into effect yesterday by the state engineer today. The petition of the Blackwell Oil & Gas company. The increase was granted through reinstatement of rates in effect prior to May 4 of this year. When a reduction was made at the time the rates were lowered the commission announced its action was based on the fact that the price of fuel oil was low. The action yesterday followed a rise in oil.

ULSTER REJECTS PEACE PROPOSAL, REPORTS CLAIM

Note Said to Protest on the Handling of Ulster Without Consent

PREMIER SEES DANGER

In Speech in House of Commons He Urges Ratification of Treaty With Ireland—

DAIL SESSIONS IN SECRET

Clash Between Collins and De Valera Features Opening of Irish Law Body

By Associated Press. BELFAST, Dec. 14.—The Ulster cabinet's reply to Premier Lloyd George's letter of December 5 which will be made public officially tomorrow, definitely rejects the invitation to enter the Irish free state. It protests against Ulster's interests being involved in the Irish settlement without Ulster being consulted.

BELFAST, Dec. 14.—All possibility of Ulster joining the Irish free state this year ended today when Ulster parliament was prorogued until February 2. It is necessary for Ulster parliament to ratify peace settlement before Ulster can join.

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—A breach of Irish armistice was reported today just after dawn stream went into session. A sergeant of the royal Irish constabulary was fired upon and killed. Several injuries were inflicted with police were rushed to the scene.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—"There are still dangers menacing the British empire," Premier Lloyd George told the house of commons this afternoon, in a ringing speech, asking for ratification of the Irish peace treaty.

"When the danger will come and when I cannot say. But I am glad to state that when they do come Ireland will be here to help her sister races. Our fears will be her anxieties; our victory will be her joy."

The premier indicated his confidence that both the British parliament and the Irish free state would ratify the Irish peace settlement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Charges that the railroad executives are seeking to force a nationwide strike as a test of strength with organized labor, were made here today by James H. Noonan, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, in discussing the closing of numerous railroad shops and the order of the railroad labor board which practically eliminates the 8-hour day.

"It is all part of a movement to force a strike again," said Noonan. "The elimination of the 8-hour day will be strenuously opposed."

"This is a direct slap at the American Federation of Labor," said A. B. Hayes, secretary of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor, commenting on the railroad labor board order. "It ought to be fought to a finish. It is an attack on the basic principles of the labor movement."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—"A pacific strike" by common labor on the railroads against attempted enforcement of the "8-hour day" was predicted today by William H. Johnston, president of the International Machinists Union. Johnston decried the labor board's decision as a "nullification of the eight-hour day" and as an action "induced by the railroads."

Butchers to Boycott Big Five Meat Products

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Four local unions of butchers employed in retail stores have voted to boycott products of the "big five" packers in support of the strike of employees in the big five plants. It was announced today by the union.

The decision, it was stated, affects 5,800 clerks employed in meat markets in all parts of the city. It will be easy to distinguish the products because the boycotters will refuse to handle, it was said, as all are stamped with the name of the producer.

Quarantine Against Cotton. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 14.—A quarantine against all of the New Mexico cotton and cottonseed and extending to pink bollworm infested territories in Louisiana and other states was adopted today at a meeting of the Arkansas state plant board.

To Jail for Sellout Rogar. EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 14.—Because he sold a quantity of sugar to alleged moonshiners, H. Goldberg, a grocer of Fairmont City, was convicted of violating the prohibition law by a jury in Federal district court here late yesterday.

Iowan Confesses Killing Teacher After Rejection

WATKON, Iowa, Dec. 14.—Earl Throst confessed today that he murdered Miss Inga Magnusson, pretty 24-year-old school teacher, in her isolated country schoolhouse near Dorchester.

Throst's confession came after six hours of grilling by the county authorities after his arrest late yesterday at Postville. Throst told Allamakee county authorities:

"I killed her because she turned me down." Throst told Miss Magnusson and the two had attended country school together.

According to the confession, Throst went to the schoolhouse late Monday and asked Miss Magnusson to marry him. She refused and he went over to the house where he was living with his father, who came to seek her when she did not return from school.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—A world conference to discuss economic and financial readjustments will be called within 90 days after the adjournment of congress, according to the beliefs privately expressed today by influential European statesmen now in Washington. Their beliefs are shared by some high officials of the Harding administration.

Whether the proposed conference will be in Washington, in London, or in Paris, remains to be determined, but the view is held that one of the three capitals will witness the assembly of the world's leading financial and economic figures before March 1.

Washington After It. Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon President Harding and members of his cabinet to call the conference in Washington. Foreign visitors now here have gone so far as to impress upon American officials that the success of such a conference depends largely upon America's taking the initiative.

Thus far administration officials have refused to commit themselves. They have indicated, however, that they sympathetically to the proposals that have been made informally but have said little. President Harding has been asked to call the conference in Washington. Foreign visitors now here have gone so far as to impress upon American officials that the success of such a conference depends largely upon America's taking the initiative.

Details Not Made Clear. What the details are that are being held up as the reason for not made clear. It was stated officially, however, that an important announcement may be forthcoming very shortly.

Earlier in the day authentic information was put out of British and Japanese headquarters that the naval ratio question between Japan and the United States is on the verge of settlement and that it now "only a matter of hours and details" until complete settlement is effected.

Based on 5-5-3 Plan. It is understood that the settlement practically agreed upon refers solely to 5-5-3 ratio as between the United States, Great Britain and Japan and does not refer to the Italian and French ratios, which will be determined upon later.

In view of the department's progress today, the prospect of an open session the latter part of this week is regarded favorable.

FOCH STARTING HOME

Is Wrapped in American Flag Given to Him by City of New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Wrapped in an American flag, a gift to him from the city of New York, Marshal Foch today was wished "bon voyage" by the city and the nation as he started on his return voyage to France. In a farewell address to him, made by Rodman Wamsamaker, the marshal was hailed as "the Napoleon of Napoleons."

Following a ceremony at City hall, in which the marshal was again presented by Mayor Hylan with a scroll representing the freedom of the city, Marshal Foch reviewed the fifth regiment of the New York guard, the only unit of the American army which served continuously with the French. He was escorted by the same body of troops through cheering lines of people to the French line piers, where he sailed for home aboard the Paris.

The French marshal carried with him a diamond brooch for Madame Foch, presented to him for her by the city.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelloug of this place. The train was coming into town and rounding a dangerous curve when the little one got in front of the locomotive. There was no chance to avoid the accident, even though the speed of the train was slow. The engineer stopped as soon as possible, but the body was found in two under the second coach.

Burial will occur Thursday, but particulars have not been arranged.

NO TRACE OF TOM O'CONNOR

Police Continue Search for Man Sentenced to Die Today.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Knowledge that a gun had been smuggled into the county jail was in possession of guards two days before Tommy O'Connor and two other prisoners escaped from the county jail. The escape was made in court today by David Strauss, one of the guards who is being held in connection with the spectacular jail delivery. Strauss appeared in court at a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus filed to obtain his release. The writ was denied.
