

BIRTH REGISTRY IS INCOMPLETE

State Health Campaign Has Been Prepared by State Department

PROGRAM FOR WEEK

Safety and Sanitation Battle Cry for Last Week in Month of April

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23.—Oklahomans are asked to observe the week beginning April 23 as "birth week" in a proclamation issued by Governor Robertson upon request of the state health department. A full program for observation of the week has been arranged, and an outline for the organization of all civic agencies to aid in the health campaign has been prepared by the health department.

Particular stress is to be laid during the week on the necessity of more thorough birth registration in Oklahoma. Commenting on this feature of the week, the announcement of the health department said:

"It is a sad fact that Oklahoma has not yet been accepted into the United States registration area for birth because the registration in the state is less than 99 per cent complete.

The announcement then adds that approximately 3,000 babies die annually in Oklahoma before reaching the age of 1 year, more than half these deaths is preventable, it declares.

The daily program throughout the week is as follows:

Monday, April 24.—Community clean-up day, when all premises are to be cleaned of all litter and debris accumulated over winter.

Tuesday, April 25.—Fire day, when trash gathered on the previous day is to be burned.

Wednesday, April 26.—Fly, rat and insect extermination day, when a drive is to be made on these pests and methods of permanent eradication studied.

Thursday, April 27.—Birth registration day, when an effort will be made not only to secure registration of births in the community up to date, but also to spread intensively the doctrine of birth registration.

Friday, April 28.—School children's day, which will be observed with programs and fitting ceremonies.

Saturday, April 29.—Medical examination day, when all who have not been recently examined will be urged to do so that insipient diseases may be discovered and checked.
