Monkeys Refused To Pick Weevils From Off Cotton

Special to The World.

MALESTER, June 28.—After attending the county meeting here Saturday and listening to the various methods suggested by government representatives and others for the extermination of the boll weevil, a cotton raiser reading near here thought he had solved the problem and that his name would soon be honored all over the south. Having visited a band of gypsies camped near his farm, he observed that several monkeys, owned by the gypsies, were very fond of picking bolls from bushes as well as the weeviled bolls of the young gypsies. Why not turn the monkeys loose in his cotton field and let their nimble fingers pick the boll weevils from his cotton? He hired the monkeys for the experiment and they were turned loose in his cotton field but after what appeared to be a caucus among the monkeys they struck and refused to pick the cotton. He immediately declared war on a pack of hounds. The gypsy owner of the monkeys, later explained that the monkeys were raised in New York and farm work was perhaps asking too much of city-bred monkeys.

City of Tulsa Loses In 2 Court Decisions

How to conduct the affairs of a growing city without money was the problem that occupied the mayor and commissioners most of Wednesday. For several hours they sat in the mayor's office considering the city's budget that must be presented to the county excise board July 1 for approval.

As it stood Wednesday, the amount asked by the present commission was approximately $200,000 more than was granted to the Evans administration in 1931. Although some departments asked a few dollars less than the amount approved by the excise board last year, most departments have asked for substantial increases.

The commission announced Wednesday evening after a hard day's work that the amount to be asked will be determined Thursday morning, when another pruning conference is to be held.

WHEAT GROWERS ARE UP IN ARMS

Promises of Greater Income for Grain Not Realized

Special to The World.

PONCA CITY, June 28.—The first snag in the operation of the Wheat Growers' association program for increased marketing and central sales agency, plan was struck here and is still threatening progress today because of a result on the part of numerous members of the local organization claiming that the amount of money advanced to them per bushel for their present wheat crop is considerably less than was promised them by the promoters of the plan, and also that they are being "dicked" too heavily on the grading of wheat.

An S. O. S. call for Wheat Growers' "cooperators" was issued, and Monday night W. A. Paul Valley, came here to help unravel the problem and still the trouble. Several sessions of the growers were held here yesterday and today at the elevator where the growers "presently" bought wheat.

The local price for wheat has been running from 93 to 98 cents and the price has been paid by the Wheat Growers' association. However, it is claimed by the farmers in revolt that they are being advanced only 60 per cent of the price the elevator is paying. The elevator maintains they were sold back to finance the Wheat Growers' plan. The complaint also sets forth that they are being "dicked" for mixed and red wheat to such an extent that their 60 per cent advance is not material.

It is claimed that as much as 7 cents a bushel is being charged for mixed wheat. The Wheat Growers' association claim they are receiving only from 48 to 55 cents a bushel advance. This caused the revolt and the sending out of the S. O. S. call. Members maintain they were sold their advance would be to 60 per cent.

In numerous places throughout the wheat belt of northern Oklahoma and southern Kansas, the Farmers Union and the Co-operative farmer organization has elevators, and attempts have been made by the Wheat Growers' association to plant in order to carry out the Wheat Growers' program. In some instances this has been successful, a rental or commission figure being secured upon one co-operative elevator in this section is asking 5 cents a bushel to handle the wheat. Growers' members, "Wheat" which reached its highest mark here today when the elevator paid $1 per bushel for No. 2 wheat.

Special to The World.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 28.—An anti-nepotism proposal providing that state officers and employees cannot appoint their relatives to office was ordered in the constitutional convention by Norman A. Cox of Joplin.

The proposal prohibits the appointment of a relative of the third degree. The proposal is significant inasmuch as a number of the delegates to the convention have named relatives as their private secretaries. However, it is during the legislature that members elect their wives, daughters and sons with the state payroll.

Mrs. M. E. Morrow of West Plains introduced a proposal providing that no person can be hired for contempt of court for more than 30 days out of the presence of the court until by a jury.
