

SOCIAL DOINGS OF THE CITY OF GRAND FORKS AND THROUGHOUT THE STATE

MRS. A. F. PAGE, SOCIETY EDITOR. Office Telephone, 378 Northwestern, 28 1/2 St. Louis.

White Europe's eye is fixed on mighty things. The fate of empires and the fall of kingdoms. White queens of state must each produce his plan. And even children lip the rights of man. Amid this mighty fuss just let me mention. The rights of woman merit some attention. —Burns.

Miss Florence Marion Pace has been with us again this year. She spent the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Pace, on Sixth street. It was a great disappointment to her many friends that while here she would not appear more in a musical and social way as heretofore, but she came for a much needed rest.

She now has full charge of the vocal department at Rockford college, Rockford, Illinois, and takes great delight in her work. Her greatest pride is the Glee club of the college which her local admirers claim has never accomplished as good work before. Miss Pace still continues her studies under Miss Lella Breed of Chicago, and is preparing for high class concert work.

Dr. and Mrs. Eckman spent the holidays with friends and relatives in Minneapolis.

One of the most interesting of the many social events of the week at Lakota was the informal reception on Tuesday, at the home of F. P. Root, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Captain and Mrs. Peter LaTourette, father and mother of Mrs. Root.

They kept open house all day and evening and were a very imposing looking couple as they stood receiving their guests, being remarkably well preserved both physically and mentally—a grand old gentleman and lady, of whom the whole state feels justly proud. The dining room was very prettily decorated in red and green. All were served with refreshments, delicious and dainty.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable gifts. The event was a very happy and enjoyable one and will long be remembered by the guests.

Those present from out of town were: Mrs. Hall of New York, sister of the groom; Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Merrifield of Grand Forks; Mr. and Mrs. Ten Eyck La Tourette of Petersburg.

The La Tourettes are well known in the state and the occasion was one of congratulations from near and afar.

Society in general will be pleased to know that Robert H. Bosard has decided to remain in Grand Forks instead of moving to the city as planned. Both young people were reared in Grand Forks and are noted for their hospitality. They could ill be lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy entertained a delightful dinner party at the Hotel Dacotah Christmas evening. The table was decorated with cut flowers and a large center piece in roses of great beauty. The dinner was served as much as possible in home style. Mr. McCoy himself doing the carving of the enormous turkey. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Pagan, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Bolton, Miss Beatrice Bolton, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Mix and Miss Alta Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gowran entertained Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clifford left Thursday evening for Minneapolis, for a short visit with the family of Fred Clifford. From there they go south and will spend the greater part of the winter in Nassau, Bahamas islands. Mrs. Clifford's health is such that her physicians advised a milder climate for the winter. It is hoped she will return in the spring greatly benefited.

The Pioneer club at Larimore was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Fuller Friday evening.

Mrs. Adelbert D. Baughman of Minneapolis will be a welcome addition to Grand Forks this winter especially in literary and musical circles. She is a cultured woman and an accomplished musician.

At the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Louis Watson, in Bathgate township, on Wednesday, Dec. 27th, at 12 m., occurred the wedding of Mr. William Brown of Hampean, N. D., and Miss May Lovette Kirkby, daughter of Major Kirkby, Rev. S. Y. Tassel officiating. The bride and groom have known each other from childhood, having grown up together in the same community in this county. They have many friends by whom they are highly esteemed, and all join in wishes to the happy couple for a wedded life of unalloyed bliss.—Cavalier Chronicle.

Mr. H. Bendeke entertained a small party of friends Thursday evening, at a musicale. Miss Florence Marion Pace, the gifted young soprano now of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois, furnished the program, assisted by Miss Marion Titus as piano accompanist and Professor Sheffstad on the violin. The evening was one of unusual pleasure and great delight was evinced by all fortunate enough to be present at the splendid musical numbers rendered. Mrs. Pace and her daughters assisted Mr. Bendeke as hostesses. Light refreshments were served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Bangs, Mrs. Miller, Miss Bessie Bull, Miss Marion Green, Dr. J. D. Taylor, Mrs. Van Cleave, Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. Ray Jackson, President of Mrs. Merrifield, Mr. and Mrs. S. Titus, Professor Sheffstad, Miss Francis Pace.

Miss Jessie Lord is home with her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lord at Park River for the holidays. She is a student at Knoxville, Ill.

January 7 W. H. Mann and wife of New Salem leave for a European trip. They go to Hamburg and from there to the old home at Leipzig. Before returning they will visit other German cities. They will be accompanied as far as Hamburg by Wm. Lanterman and daughter of Mandan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leistikow of Grand Forks are spending the holidays in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Married:—Cupid played a pleasant game which was ended last Thursday at Spokane, Washington, with the marriage of Robert W. Lovell and Miss Nora Bruyere who is well known, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bruyere of Larimore, North Dakota, and has grown from a child to womanhood in that vicinity. The groom is a well to do lumberman in the west. They will make their future home at Milan, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Quistgaard entertained at dinner Christmas evening. A full six-course dinner was served in the hostess's inimitable style, for she is noted for her housewifery and hospitality, and Mr. Quistgaard in a splendid host, so the occasion was one to be remembered by those present. The guests were Dr. Melby and Dr. Bratrud of Warren, Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. Glenmacker and Dr. and Mrs. Bates of this city.

A pleasant occasion at Buxton, North Dakota, was that of Tuesday evening when the Woman's League presented the school with Da Forli's "Angel of the Violin." Mrs. Gould at the same time presented Miss Savage's room with Watts' "Sir Galahad." Both pictures came from Beard's art galleries in Minneapolis and are gems of art. An interesting and instructive program was rendered.

The Sunshine club of Park River held their first meeting of the season last week at the home of Mayor J. J. Dougherty, Mrs. J. O'Brien of Grafton, who is visiting in the city, was a guest of honor. On Wednesday, of this week, the club was entertained by Attorney and Mrs. Joel Myers.

Mr. Joseph Nelson and daughter Miss Irene of Orr, North Dakota, were in town the latter part of the week; guests of Mr. Nelson's niece, Mrs. Adelbert D. Baughman.

Mr. Earl Nelson of Orr, will leave shortly for the Pacific coast where he will visit some time.

At five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 20th, 1905, at Wapello, Iowa, occurred the marriage of Mr. David Kirk, cashier of the Bank of Niagara, Niagara, N. D., to Miss Helen Regina Ronald, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. O. P. Smith, in that city.

Mrs. George Schosser was at Fargo to be present at a meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Schosser was one of the delegates from this state to the national convention held a few weeks ago at Los Angeles, California.

At Crookston on Friday Miss Love Braley entertained at five o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for eight and among the guests were Misses Clara and Sarah Williams, and Ruth Coulter of Grand Forks who are guests of Miss Dona Lyan.

Naomi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Schuchter, and Alvin, son of Hon. and Mrs. E. H. Estmayer, were married at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. E. J. Bechtel on December 20th. The married pair took their honeymoon trip to Toronto and other eastern cities, and will return in the spring and reside on the farm of the groom near Cavalier.—Pembina Express.

Mrs. Dr. W. H. Bates leaves next week to visit relatives in New York city. She will remain until spring.

Invitations have been issued to the wedding of Miss Hannah T. Nelson to Mr. Carl Rosholt for Monday, Jan. 8th, at the Lutheran Synod church, this city. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Nelson, the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosholt, both families being prominent among the well known of Mayville township.—Mayville Tribune.

Lafayette Cowden and Miss Viola S. Miller, two popular young people of Larimore were married at the Baptist parsonage in this city Thursday afternoon by Rev. Frank E. R. Miller. They will reside in Larimore.

The Elks gave a "Little German Party" in Elk's hall Friday evening.

About sixty couple were present. Hall's full orchestra furnished the music for dancing. For refreshments everything pertaining to a Dutch lunch was served. Among the out of town people present were twelve couples from Larimore. The Elks announced their intention of giving a "Snowball Party" next in a fortnight from now, when all guests, ladies and gentlemen, will be expected to appear in raiment of purest white.

Mrs. Thos. J. Baird and son Tom came home from Springfield, Ill., to spend the holidays at Lakota with Mr. Thos. J. Baird, senior.

Mr. Homer Resler, a young attorney and proprietor of the Stark-weather Times, was married December 20 to Miss Adele C. Romstad at the bride's home, by Rev. Andrew, of the Methodist church.

Mrs. George Elise who will move shortly to Minot will be greatly missed by her friends, especially in W. C. T. U. circles where she has taken a prominent part.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burke had a family reunion at their home for Christmas, all their children being present except Judge E. T. Burke, of Valley City. Atty. J. E. Burke, of Velva, arrived from Fargo on Monday, but had to leave for home that evening. Prof. T. H. Burke is here from Bowbells, where he is very creditably filling the position of principal of the city schools, and Misses Emma and Viola are having their vacation enjoyment of the gathering was marred by the sickness of Miss Viola, who is suffering from a severe attack of quinsy.—Sheldon Progress.

At Beauty's door of glass, Where wealth and wit once stood, They asked her "Which will you?" She answered, "He who could." With golden key wealth thought to pass, but would not do; While wit a diamond brought which cut his bright way through.

So here's to her who long hath waked the poet's slumber, and the girl who gave to song What gold can never buy. —Moore.

On January — At three-thirty in the afternoon in the parlors of the Dacotah will occur a quiet wedding witnessed only by a few intimate relatives and friends. The happy couple will be Charles S. Taylor who will wed Miss Evie Gould. Mr. Taylor is the popular clerk in the ticket offices of the Great Northern in this city while Miss Gould is one of Grand Forks most charming young women. After an eastern trip to St. Paul, Chicago and Pittsburg, they will return and be at home at 707 University avenue.

A wedding of unusual interest to residents of Cavalier county was that of Miss Rhoda Radford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Radford, of Stillwell to Mr. Rasmus Larson. The wedding occurred at the Radford home at Stillwell where the bride was born and where her father is a prominent merchant and postmaster. Mr. Larson, the groom, is a son of prominent Cavalier county people and a young man of sterling worth.

The members of the Langdon "Dramatic club" were entertained at a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gardner Saturday evening. Plans were made to put on another play in the near future.

Saturday afternoon a most notable society function will take place in Langdon. The Langdon Women's club will give a large reception in the library rooms in the afternoon and evening. Refreshments will be served. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Bosard and children returned home from Minneapolis Sunday morning where Mrs. Bosard has been visiting three weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Miller. Mr. Bosard went down to spend Christmas and return with his family.

Mrs. W. S. Lyan of Crookston will spend three weeks with her mother at Traverse City, Michigan.

One of the many pleasant Christmas day features at Langdon, North Dakota was the five o'clock dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Boyd, at which Messrs. H. D. Parsons, J. Danley and H. E. Burritt, three well known local veterans of the civil war, were the guests of honor. The event was not planned as an elaborate society function, but everything possible done that thought could suggest to make the day one of enjoyment and jollity to a trio of old veterans who well and worthily fought for their country at a time when patriotism was at a premium.

E. C. Carruth, formerly manager of the Plaindealer here, passed through yesterday enroute to Crookston to eat New Year's dinner with W. E. McKenzia. He will spend a couple of days in the city before returning to Havre Montana.

Hon. and Mrs. George M. Young, of Valley City are away on a two months' visit at St. Charles, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Doyan and daughter, of Doyan, North Dakota, spent Christmas with Mrs. Doyan's mother, Mrs. Mary Ashbrooke at Kentucky Farm, Larimore, North Dakota.

A happy Christmas day wedding at Fargo was that of Miss Roberta E. Van Horn, who was married to Mr. Fred J. Pritchard B. S. Assistant to Prof. Bolley in the department of botany and bacteriology at the Agricultural College. An unusual feature of the wedding was the performing of the ceremony by the bride's father, Rev. W. L. Van Horn. Only members of the family were present.

The most brilliant social event of the year in Grand Forks will be this evening, when the annual ball of the Pioneer Club takes place at the Commercial club rooms. Hall's full orchestra furnishes the music. There will be some magnificent new evening gowns worn. A number of out of town guests will be in attendance.

The Coterie club, of Fargo, gave a splendid full dress party at Pirie's Hall Wednesday evening. There assembled a large and brilliant company. The occasion was practically the opening of the social season.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Rusk, of Tenth street, Fargo, entertained at a handsomely appointed dinner Christmas day. The guests of honor were Supreme Foreman Koch, of the Yeoman lodge, and William Newton, of Devils Lake.

With the exception of the dances given, Grand Forks society has been unusually dull during the holidays, but we have notice of some quite elaborate functions to be given between now and Lent. A reception, some card parties and a big house warming are on the list and there will also be the usual number of small luncheons and afternoon parties.

Why He Buys Cigars. Judge McLaughlin tells a story of a German friend who never mentioned the idea of returning to his native land. One evening while a number of friends were waiting the hours away in the smoke clouds of fragrant Havanas, the German was pressed for an explanation as to why he never visited the scenes of his childhood. "Ach, Got in Himmel!" exclaimed the German. And then followed the explanation that he had deserted from the German army and would be arrested should he ever set foot on German soil. It was then that the crowd decided to play a trick on the German, and after a generous supply of the liquid that has made Milwaukee famous one of the number, who was something of an actor, disguised himself as a German army officer and arrested the man as a deserter. The friends offered to bribe the officer into releasing the prisoner, and this was finally and reluctantly granted upon the condition that the German sign an oath of allegiance without reading. This he did, and the paper, which proved to be a scathing accusation of the character of the man who had fled the army, has been the cause of the payment of many cigars.

Ring out old strifes of foul disease, Ring out the narrow lust of gold, Ring out the thousand wars of old, Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring out the slowly dying cause, Ring in the noble's modes of life, With sweeter manners, purer laws.

TELL HIM SO. When you see a fellow striving in a way that pleases you, If you think his work is worthy and believe his purpose true, Let him know. He will do it all the better for the kindly word you said. It will give him double courage for the task he has ahead. And his heart will glow with thankfulness for such many, many days.

For there's nothing boosts a fellow like a little bit of praise. If your sweetheart, wife or mother looks as pretty as can be, Tell her so. If she has a dress or bonnet fitting most becomingly, You'll find it costs you nothing and it pleases her a lot. For a woman likes a compliment—and who of us do not?—So tell her all the pleasant things about her winning ways—For there's nothing gets a woman like a little bit of praise.

When a fellow's made a failure, but has done the best he can, Tell him so. Slap him kindly on the shoulder, say "You've done your best, old man."

Let him know That a fight is worth the fighting if it's only on the square, That he isn't down forever, that he still can do and dare; And the world will seem more glowing to his once discouraged gaze.

For there's a nothing helps a fellow like a little bit of praise. Butcher, baker, lawyer, workman, if you think his work is good, Let him know! No one ever gained a penny by withholding words of praise. Appreciation is just as heartening as a frosty autumn breeze. To keep the spirits tingling and the cheerful tones to raise. There's nothing any better than a little bit of praise. —Barton Bravley.
