

THE GREAT BUILDING BOOM PREDICTED IS NOW ON--WATCH GRAND FORKS GROW

What Stanchfield Says

"SNOW, MY COUNTRY 'TIS OF THEE"

Now don't get worried. Don't get out your muffer and your winter cap, for tomorrow you may need a Panama Hat. But today you had better wear your Cravenette Overcoat. In case you have not got one come in on the corner and get fixed out tonight for these sudden changes. Yes from $10 to $22 protects you from chill, rain and snow and affords you an ideal Overcoat for dress wear or Sunshine days walking, driving, or the Auto it's all the same.

"MY FAITH LOOKS GOOD TO ME"

Despite the weather the first half today I have heard the cash register do its favorite "ringing stunt" and that goes to prove that rain or shine makes no diff. The case is this: If a man has but one Summer Suit, it ought to be a Blue Serge. If you have two or more let one of them be Blue Serge. My $18.00 Suits are custom made all the way through, with best Alpaca lining, and don't forget, it's your money that talks, not the "other fellow's" when you buy of me. I deal you an open hand. No crossed fingers here.

"EVERY DAY'LL BE SUNDAY SOON"

Did you see Jack coming down the street with the Tall Girl that won out? Well, Jack had on one of those French Flannel Vests $2.50, and the pair looked like Broadway's Evening Stars. Tomorrow is a good day to break in a Roswell Hat, $3.00. The best ever—a new one for every one that goes wrong—that's going some. Imported Madras Shirts, 3 for $5.00. Take off your coat and show your friends how they fit.

WOMAN LOTHARO.

Led a Life of Debauchery According to the Complaint.

Crookston Journal: Papers are being filed today in the case of Len E. Hunter vs. Lizzie Hunter and the case is scheduled to be tried this afternoon before Judge Watts. As far as has been learned the defendant in the case will not appear or file and answer to the complaint.

Len E. Hunter is a resident of this city, being employed at the Crookston Lumber company. He is an expert woodsman and during the logging of the past winter has spent the most of his time with the lumber crews of the Shevlin concern in the tall pines of the northern forests. The defendant is at present in Iowa, just where does not occur.

The charges that are brought as the grounds of the divorce are desertion and an alleged series of adulteries that would shame the face of Eve. The couple were married in Worthington, Minn., Nov. 9, 1897, and from that place moved into the north country. The wife was an Iowa woman. She had relatives living in that state. The most serious charges that are brought against the woman in the case is that of adultery and various other activities during her frequent excursions from the Crookston home into the state of Iowa. The complaint states several instances giving with an acute detail all the names in the various alleged episodes. The date of the first record in the diary of the charges is Sept. 2, 1902, when it appears that the woman began living with certain parties known to the husband, on a farm in the northern part of the state of Iowa. Since that time the complaint gives detail after detail with an incalculable and array of particulars, making it the most startling record of shameless debauchery in the records of the county.

A Beautiful Mansion.

Architect W. J. Edwards is preparing plans for a residence for Banker Kirk of Niagara, which will be a typical palace. It will be of colonial style, but this will be modified to suit the personal taste of the owner and his wife, and as a result the plan will be different from any other, so far as known. The finish will be of the very finest character and the windows, doors, stairway and many other arrangements will be both original and unique. The designs required a large amount of originality and versatility and the fact that Mr. Edwards was selected by Mr. and Mrs. Kirk, who are artistic critics, is quite a compliment.

For Lack of Space.

The results of the Anatomical law which was passed at the last session of the legislature, are amply shown by the amount of material in evidence and the offer of many other subjects which had to be declined on account of lack of space in the dissecting laboratories of the department. By another year the Medical department will be in excellent shape owing to increased resources and to a larger force of teachers. Dr. Robert F. Young, a graduate from the University of Pennsylvania, has been appointed to the instructorship in Biology and his engagement assures the highest quality of work in the subject referred to.

WAR ON WHITE PLAGUE

Stringent Rules to be Enforced in Connection With Maintenance of Grand Forks Federal Building—C. P. Rice of Washington Here.

As soon as completed and ready for occupancy the Grand Forks federal building will be placarded with signs to be received from Washington, D. C., which will read as follows:

"Do Not Spit on the Floor—To Do So Is To Spread Disease."

This is a part of the government's method of assisting in the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis, according to C. P. Rice, an attaché of the treasury department at Washington, who is in the city for the purpose, so it is stated, of inspecting thoroughly the new structure and of recommending the acceptance or rejection of the work of the contractors.

The new regulations for the building will stipulate that all persons in the employ of the government are positively forbidden to spit upon floors, rooms, hallways, corridors, lavatories, shall be cleaned once a day, not during working hours; floors of wood must be scrubbed and floors of tiling scoured frequently; dust must be removed and spittoons cleaned daily, and other precautions taken to prevent contagion.

Heavy penalties, including forfeit of position, are imposed on government employees who fail to follow out the regulations to the letter. Mr. Rice was in consultation today with E. N. Ball, the supervising architect, and so far as known, no material discrepancies or improper performance on the part of the contractors was discovered. The structure will probably be accepted and in shape for occupation by the last of the current month. In this event there will be a term of court held therein the first week in June.

VISIT POLAR REGIONS

V. Stefansson, Graduate of Peabody Museum at Harvard, Visits in City Enroute to Far Distant Arctic.

Where He Will Spend Three Years.

Vinjanur Stefansson, a former student of the university, now an associate in anthropology at Harvard, was a visitor in the city over night, enroute to the distant northland. Mr. Stefansson will take a three years' cruise in the Arctic regions as ethnologist of the Anglo-American Polar expedition. Recently he has taken three years' course in the famous Peabody museum at Harvard, and from a technical standpoint is admirably fitted to investigate the people inhabiting the region north of us. Preferring travel by land, he will go north from this city and leave the railroad at Edmonton in the Canadian northwest. Thence he will proceed to a hitherto uninvestigated strip of land lying back of Banks Land, from Cape Salthurst to Coronation gulf, and inhabited by a strange race of Eskimos.

It will be remembered that "Stef," as he is familiarly called, was in the city during the winter and entertained the students of the university at chapel exercises. He also delivered a series of lectures in the Winnipeg opera house two or three months ago.

MAY ELEVATE TRACKS

Civic Council of Winnipeg Takes Up Matter of Compelling "Midland Railway of Manitoba" to Build Elevated Tracks into That City.

Special to The Evening Times. Winnipeg, Man., May 5.—At the meeting of the civic board of public works yesterday a communication was received from Andrew A. Hunt, calling attention to the probability of the "Midland Railway of Manitoba," which was "another name for the Great Northern," entering the city and taking up the responsibility of compelling that its tracks be elevated, so as to do away with level crossings. These, it is argued, would be an inconvenience to the public as well as to the railway company.

It has been suggested that the tracks should be elevated from 14 to 16 feet above prairie level. A special committee of the board has been appointed to investigate the matter.

The above telegram is confirmatory of the exclusive story produced by these columns Thursday evening to the effect that the Great Northern railway this summer intended to extend its line from this city to Neche, northward into the state of North Dakota, a $5,000,000 treaty is reported to have been recently purchased for the use of this and other branches contemplated.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION.

The preparations for the May 17th play "Jeppa paa Berget" are going on apace and the play promises to be one of the best local attractions ever put on in the city. Mr. Anton Sannes, who gave the recital in one of the churches a short time ago, is actively engaged in drilling the players and when asked as to the progress of the work he expressed his entire satisfaction.

The leading roles are well taken care of. Mrs. N. A. Burdette, Westergaard and Hanson bring out the characters remarkably well considering their experience. The other university boys who take part are Mr. N. O. Dolan, Martin Rund, Ingvald Knudson, Magnus Rund, Reuben Stee, Henry Kylio and Morris Nelson.

An English translation is in progress and it is expected that this will be printed for the benefit of those who do not understand the Scandinavian language and wish to see the appearance.

The trades unions of San Francisco and vicinity have won much praise throughout the country for their decision to waive all union rules that might interfere with the successful and rapid rebuilding of the ruined city. San Francisco has always been one of the most strongly organized cities in the country.

KORSMO WAS WRATHY

Commissioner From Fourth District Angry at Inability to Secure Approprations for Steel Bridges in His District.

The members of the board of county commissioners who are in session today indulged in a little tete a tete this morning over the matter of bridges.

Commissioner P. N. Korsmo became somewhat wrathful because the board did not see fit to authorize the construction of several steel bridges which he claims are badly needed in his district. He states that the city of Grand Forks which does not contribute a penny toward the construction of bridges in the county, was able to secure what it wanted but when it came to getting an appropriation for his district, he was not able to do so. A steel bridge is desired at Larimore over the ravine between that city and the cemetery and another over the Mouse river near Northwood.

The county board as a whole has not felt like expending large sums of money for steel bridges at the present time when wooden structures that are ready as serviceable can be constructed for about half the money. This morning, however, the board awarded the contract for construction of whatever steel bridges may be built in the county during the ensuing year to the Fargo Bridge & Iron Co. The above discussion followed the awarding of the contract. This afternoon the board is considering bids for printing supplies for the year.

The contract for making books for the county is a message of the Evening Times Publishing company and for election supplies to the Herald and printing to Wheeler & Co.

is taught, and requests from these institutions for plans and specifications are frequent and numerous. In a recent address to the class of engineers at the University of Washington, Mr. E. C. Fowler, one of Seattle's prominent civil engineers and the author of several works on engineering, declared that the specifications of the reclamation service are the best and fairest he has ever seen. He recommended the students to study them carefully.

ELECT SCHOOL OFFICERS

Annual County Elections to be Held Tuesday, June 5, When Directors and Treasurer Are to be Chosen—Supt. McLain Gives Instructions.

The annual election of school officers in Grand Forks county falls this year upon Tuesday, June 5. The elections will be held in every district, whether village or township, excepting the Grand Forks district, which is independent. There are to be elected directors and treasurers.

The taking of the annual school census has also been ordered and Supt. J. F. McLain has today sending out notices to the clerks of school boards and boards of education, instructing them to proceed with the work. The census must be taken carefully as the amount of school aid to be received by Grand Forks county will depend altogether upon the returns. Only pupils who have attended school for a period of not less than sixty days in the school year are entitled to share in the appropriation. The county superintendent also demands a list of pupils who are eligible to school attendance and who have not done so. This action is according to Sec. 707 of the revised codes, 1899.

"FIFTY, FIFTY" GAME

Carl Nimloo Arrives in Grand Forks From Fargo Where Yesterday He Was Fleeced Out of $50 by Two Men Who Were "Fat and Slim."

Carl Nimloo of 216 Corn Exchange, Minneapolis, an arrival in the city last night, was the victim of the "fifty fifty" game, the victim of the "fifty fifty" game, inaugurated by Weber & Fields, the famed comedians several years ago. Friday afternoon at Fargo, shortly before the Great Northern flyer pulled out for this city.

Nimloo entered into conversation with two strangers, one a slim and one a fat man, and after considerable parley, in which it was discovered that all three were headed for Grand Forks, one of the strangers remarked that he had arranged for a shipment of groceries to this city, upon which he had to pay freight amounting to about $50.

He pulled out $100 check from his pocket and asked his companion if he could cash it and receiving a negative answer turned to Nimloo. Never suspecting anything wrong and upon the strength of the suggestion that he might keep the $100 check for security until arrival in this city, Nimloo proceeded to fork over $50 to cover the freight on the car.

The three men waited round the depot for another minute and then the small man remarked that he "guessed he and his friend better go and check over the car and get their receipt." Nimloo was asked to keep track of a grip one of them had until their return.

A minute later when an altogether different party stepped up and took away the grip Nimloo "tumbled" that something was wrong and notified a policeman. A description of the men was furnished, but up till today they had not been captured and probably never will. Nimloo has a neatly written souvenir, however, to remind him of his experience. The check was a worthless one.

WILL BE HELD FOR MURDER

Larion Extradition Hearing at Fargo Delayed on Account of Non-Arrival of an Important Witness—Hearing to be Extended into Next Week.

Special to The Evening Times. Fargo, May 5.—Owing to the difficulty experienced by the Canadian authorities in securing the presence of some of their witnesses, the proceedings in the case of Alexander Larion, an extradition case have not yet approached the end and the hearing will be extended into next week.

As Larion's operations extended over a large territory, including North and South Dakota as well as a portion of Manitoba, there are a number of people concerned. Several witnesses, including Warden Boucher, Deputy Sheriff Eriksson of Rugby, Grossard, a ranchman of Benson county, and Geo. McKittick, a farmer residing near Crystal Lake, Manitoba, have been closely examined, but M. T. Mcsidered one of the most important witnesses, has failed to put in an appearance. A subpoena has been served on him and he is expected early next week.

Meantime the corridors of the federal building are filled with officers of the law, witnesses and attorneys in the case and present rather a lively appearance. Although the matter is being kept rather quiet, it is stated on authority that if the Canadian authorities once get possession of Larion, instead of holding him on as well as a portion of charge, he will be held to answer to the crime of murder, it being alleged that he is the man who killed a farmer by the name of Burns in Manitoba in the fall of 1901.
