

STATE GRAB BAG

Upham and Maxbass are quarreling over the merits of their ball teams. Better be like Grand Forks and have no team than quarrel about it.

Ada had a graveling bee and gravelled two and a half blocks of its streets. There is some talk of the village of Fargo doing likewise.

The Steele Ozone says that though the notice of the primary election was run in its columns for four weeks, some of the people did not get a chance to vote because they did not know the polls closed so early.

A Kidder county man threatened to shoot a neighbor's horses if they did not quit bothering him, and later was pinched for doing the act though he claimed he was not guilty.

The Rolla Star says some complaint is being made by farmers as to rust on the leaves of wheat and other crops, supposed to be due to too much moisture.

The Lakota Herald has court-martialed the Michigan City democrats for surrendering in the recent fight without giving battle.

The Sargent County Independent says the boom of insurgents for state nominations is now so tame it will stand without hitching.

Ward county has thirty-four newspapers and twenty-six of them were for the republican ticket in the late campaign.

Olé Christianson of Ransom county struck a flowing well at a depth of 700 feet and now has fountains in his yard and flowing water in every part of the house.

The Hamilton Independent is decidedly proud of the city schools.

The authorities of White Earth have ordered the citizens to clean up their premises.

Harry Hardman of White Earth, captured three young badgers last week, which he shipped to the parks at South Bend, Indiana.

In several townships in Ward county the authorities have ordered all dogs unmuzzled during the hot months killed, and some of the inhuman papers are suggesting the advisability of allowing all of the canines to go unmuzzled.

The breaking of the prairie about the location of Antlers is changing the location of the route so rapidly that the editor of the American is unable to find his way home when he goes out in the country.

Robert Gyer of Egeland attempted to spear fish with the butt of a loaded gun, and was killed by the discharge of the fire arm.

Egeland is grading and otherwise improving his streets.

A four horse team hitched to a road grasper got tangled up in a slough at Anamosa, and one of them fell in. Joseph Herringer, plowing him in the water and nearly drowning him.

The Adams Enterprise is a new sheet hung on the journalistic line at Adams by N. A. Levang.

At Anoka a 14 months old child was drowned in a pail of water.

Fargo lost in its contention that Cass county should pay it the penalty and interest collected on delinquent city taxes.

The twenty-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heinz who live about nine miles north of Minot was drowned recently in a puddle of water in the barnyard. The little girl was out in the barn yard assisting her mother feed the chickens, and was a few moments later missed.

The Sanborn Enterprise is installing a new press and the force was too busy to give much attention to the news.

From the reading of the state exchanges it would appear that every man who came from Decorah, Iowa, to this state has become the president or cashier of a bank.

The first regiment band of Lisbon, the Minot band and the Fargo band, are to furnish music for the state fair next month, to be held in Fargo. The Lisbon band will number thirty pieces, while the other two bands will consist of twenty-five pieces respectively.

The Scribes Advocate prints a story about a man in Minneapolis who operated upon for a pain in the stomach with the result that 57 varieties of nails, some glassware, and parts of wire fence were removed. The article didn't say how many fence posts were attached.

The miller at New Rockford has instituted a bread-baking contest, and offers six prizes ranging from $2 to $7 for the winners. His flour only to be used, and he furnishes a 10-pound sack free to all contestants.

Likes Bemidji Fishing. Bemidji Pioneer. Thomas Nesbit of Grand Forks, Minn., has a daughter, Jennie, and their niece, Miss Bernice Robertson of Rushford, Minn., arrived in Bemidji the first of the week and will spend the summer at the Nesbit cottage on Grand Forks bay. Tom is an ardent admirer of Bemidji, and especially of Grand Forks bay, and he never tires of lauding this community as a health resort and fine fishing grounds. Mr. Nesbit is a fisherman of repute, but he denies the allegation that he was caught red handed. Last summer fishing with three rods and dragging a troll line at the rear of his boat, and avers that he can whip the "allegator," George H. Barlow, also of Grand Forks, for his assertions. Mr. Nesbit is a large property owner at Grand Forks, and is the possessor of several hundred acres of the finest farming land to be found in the famous "Marion" country, lying east of Grand Forks.

Colorado is one of the greatest fields for gold prospecting in the United States. Its 102,000 square miles of territory are dotted with mining camps from which radiate a constant stream of prospectors in search of gold, silver, copper, zinc and other ores. A great deal of the prospecting is done in the southern part of the state, and the amount of it is fruitless of results. As a rule, the great mining camps like Cripple Creek, Leadville, Telluride, Silverton and Ouray have developed rich bodies of ore within a very comparatively small area, with a very considerable body of low grade ore covering the wider surrounding region.
