PREPARING CITY BUDGET FOR 1907

City Auditor Now Engrossed in the Performance of a Difficult Task.

This will be a busy month around the city offices. The city auditor always has his hands full, but during the remainder of this month he will be compelled to do the work of about two men. In addition to preparing the estimates of the various departments for the city budget he has on hand a number of matters which require more than ordinary attention. Among these are the extensions of the water mains and sewers on a number of the streets in the newer portions of the city.

At first glance there would seem to be but little work on these, as the greater portion is supposed to be done in the city engineer's office. But nevertheless the business end of the work must be done by the city auditor, and all the details must be prepared in his office.

The preparation of the city budget is a half-graying matter to the average man which would require several months. It cannot be guessed at, else the city finances would soon be strung along the road like worn-out soldiers on a forced march. They must be as near the actual amount needed for the particular department as it is possible to make them. There are some of the departments like that of the police where the expenses are largely in the nature of salaries which it is an easy matter to determine to a reasonable certainty. But in some of the others where the estimates must be largely based upon unknown elements the task is no easy one.

It is true that the city council does the final stunt on the appropriations, but its work is all based upon the estimates and figures prepared and assembled by the city auditor.

"ROSH HOSHANAH," JEW'S NEW YEAR

New Year Comes on Sept 19th and "Yom Kippur" Ten Days Later.

The Jewish New Year, known as "Rosh Hoshanah" falls this year on September 19th, and with the single exception of the Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur," which comes ten days later, is the most important holiday on the Jewish calendar.

The New Year is the day for the greatest rejoicing and the exchange of presents while the Day of Atonement is observed with the utmost solemnity and self-abnegation.

At this later celebration the synagogue is attended by every Jew, however unorthodox, and every member of the race offers prayers for the forgiveness of his sins.

All day services are held and an unbroken fast obtains, except in cases of illness or in very young children.

The particularly solemn services include the singing of the impressive music all day and the offering of prayers for the repose of the souls of the dead.

NEW REGISTRAR TO BE A WOMAN

It is Stated Authoritatively That A. E. Morrison's Successor Will be a Grand Forks Young Lady.

It is stated authoritatively that the choice for registrar for the state university has been practically decided upon, although nothing definite will be given out for several days.

Grinson of Ryder was offered the position which pays something over $1,000, but declined, and the authorities have been looking for a suitable person to fill his very important place.

The new registrar, it is said, will be a young lady residing in Grand Forks and very well known. She has had several years experience in the bookkeeping department of a large store in the city and will in this way be fitted to take after the best interests of the institution.

J. W. Wilkerson will act as secretary for the board of trustees and faculty meetings.

Many of the prize dogs entered in the Manitoba meet a few days ago are entered and the dogs owned by local people will have good cause to keep in the race for honors.

CHARLES' WITHAM'S UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR

Wife and Ted Stirling of Moorhead In Jail Charged With Adultery.

Due entirely to the timely arrival of an officer who interfered, Charles T. Witham, son of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Witham of this city, is today enjoying liberty, instead of being in jail charged with manslaughter or murder.

In his place Mrs. Witham, a pretty dark-eyed girl of less than twenty summers, and Ted Stirling, a shooting gallery proprietor of Moorhead, and well known in this city, now occupy a cell in the city jail at Moorhead, charged with the crime of adultery.

It seems that Mr. Witham, a well behaved and steady young man, employed in the Evening Times press room as a pressman, started his wife Saturday on a trip home to Kalamazoo, Mich. Instead of continuing to her destination, Mrs. Witham, by a pre-arrangement, dropped off the train at Glynndon, Minn. with Stirling, spent that night there, and yesterday went to Moorhead. Mr. Witham heard of the condition of affairs through railway men, and last evening went south in search of Mrs. Witham. This morning he located her with Stirling occupying a room in the Exchange hotel in Moorhead. He endeavored to break into the room, but Stirling climbed a transom and got into an adjoining room, where he was arrested a minute or two later by an officer who appeared on the scene and forced the door. As soon as the door swung Witham pulled out a large revolver and fired. The policeman, however, saw the move and struck the young man's arm upward, diverting his aim. He then took the gun away and arrested both Stirling and Mrs. Witham, who are now in jail and both of whom, it is expected and announced by Witham himself, will be prosecuted for adultery.

SAMUEL TAYLOR SURELY DERANGED

Man Who Emulated "Adam in Garden of Eden" Grows Worse Mentally.

Samuel Taylor, whose notoriety became great in a bound by improving on the accepted evening dress, has been found to be so badly deranged that the authorities are compelled to take some action in the matter. A brother of the man has been located at Warren, Indiana, and a telegram was sent him this morning apprising him of the condition of his brother. If the man's relatives do not take charge of him, he will probably be committed to the asylum at Jamestown. Investigation shows that he has been in this state and in this county for quite a while working at different places, so that he is in fact a citizen of the county. It is for this reason that the authorities feel that they are compelled to act in the matter.

OFFICERS DYING FROM INACTION

Little Doing as Police Circles Excepting For Last Night's Excitement.

The police officers of the county and city are almost dying of inaction these days. The sheriff and his deputies have had no active exercise for so long in the way of chasing criminals that they have been seriously thinking of enlisting in the army, and while the city police are compelled to pay more for pants goods than for sole leather. This condition in the face of the fact that the country is particularly overrun with disreputable characters and highwaymen who in other parts of the state are conducting a sort of carnival of crime indicates that they have a rather wholesome fear of the local authorities.

It is true that the class of criminals who infest the northwest at this particular season prefer the smaller towns and the thickest crowds where the police surveillance is not so stringent and where there is more chance of being taken for a common laborer, but they do not as a rule neglect the larger towns where they can hope to make a good haul and get away. A criminal in this county has about as much chance of escaping as the proverbial snow ball. Many questions are asked and if he cannot give a good account of himself he will find himself up against a serious proposition.

The truth of the matter is that officers charged with the preservation of good order earn their salaries more by preventing the commission of crime than by hunting down the criminal after he has committed the act. The latter may be the more spectacular, but the business man would much rather have the cracking of his safe prevented than to catch the criminal after he had destroyed the lock and carried off the money.

IS KILLED BY LOG FROM TRAIN

Fuller, Bemidji Teamster, Dies as Result of Injuries From Falling Log.

While working at the logging hoist on the south shore of Lake Irving, near Bemidji, yesterday Frank Fuller of Bemidji, was killed by a log from which he died. He was driving a team, used in switching the cars at the hoist. The logs came together with such force that several of the logs were hurled loose from their position and the falling log struck Fuller. No one, according to reports, saw him when the timbers fell from the cars. He was picked up and brought to St. Anthony's hospital. The funeral was held today.

EXCITEMENT CAME IN REAL LARGE BUNCHES

Alleged Holdup and Running Chase By Police Stirred Two Cities Last Night.

About 9:45 last evening a transient named Al Young and claiming Grand Rapids as his home was shot in both arms in front of Lynch and Gallagher's saloon. Young's companion, a man named Tom Collins, says that as they were conversing together in front of the saloon, a man suddenly rushed up and made a grab for Young's watch. A short scuffle took place and the assailant, whose name is not known, drew a large revolver and deliberately shot three times, two of the balls taking effect.

Immediately a crowd gathered and pursued the would-be murderer across the bridge. On this side of the river, Officer Blue hearing the shots rushed to the end of the bridge, where the man ran past him unopposed. Blue, it is said, then fired several shots in an endeavor to stop the fellow, but his efforts proved futile and the hold-up artist escaped from the spectators' thoughts was sure capture. Running a short distance along DeMers avenue, he dodged up the tracks in the rear of St. John's block and thence north toward the Northern Pacific depot. Several people on Third street near the Hotel Dacotah, hearing the noise, ran to the back of the hotel and almost into the fleeing man.

About 11 o'clock a man was seen dodging up the alley in the rear of the Hotel Northern, and it is thought that the robber double back after reaching the Northern Pacific depot and went south along Fifth street to the Great Northern hotel, where he was made as comfortable as possible. The man Collins has disappeared and the police of both cities are now searching for him.

The story of the man stealing is now a great amount of credence. The shooting of the officers caused the gathering of a large crowd of excited men on DeMers avenue.

This morning a man entered the home of Mrs. McNichol on N. Third street and purloined an overcoat and several small articles. EAST SIDE

BODY IS RECOVERED

Remains of Harry Bydal Recovered Just Before Noon Today Near Mill.

This morning about 11:45 the body of Harry Bydal rose from the bottom of the Red Lake river about 200 feet from the place of drowning, and the searchers immediately took the corpse in charge and it was brought to the home of the father, C. Bydal. The body looks natural, though a little bloated, and the expression on the face apparently shows a peaceful taking death.

All day yesterday the searchers worked, blasting with dynamite and dragging the river, and this morning crowds of people were on the spot expecting that the body would be found on the surface along the shore or caught in the net which is stretched across the river.

The funeral will be held from the home of the bereaved parents tomorrow afternoon.
