The high expectations of those who purchased tickets for the Baptist choir concert last night were fully realized. Prof. Gladstone deserves much credit. The choruses and quartet which were trained by him delighted the audience.

Mrs. E. P. Nelson and Miss Pauline Allen gave several vocal selections which were well received. The accompanists were Miss Jane Smith, Mrs. E. D. Allen and Mrs. E. P. Nelson. Prof. Field and Miss Jane Smith gave several piano selections. Miss Florence Secord in her readings was much enjoyed, as also was Rev. E. E. Miller's. The Prairie State quartette is a new one and it is safe to say it will be in demand this winter.

Owing to the number of visitors in town this week there have been a number of informal card parties in their honor. Mrs. Gorwan entertained for Mrs. C. H. Jenks of Crookston Monday. Mrs. W. H. Burr and Mrs. J. Walker Smith, Mrs. Tracy Bangs and Mrs. Geo. Thomas, and Mrs. J. Nelson Kelly entertained complimentary to Mrs. L. L. Wright and Mrs. J. R. The numerous friends of Hon. and Mrs. T. O. Burquam of Arthur, N. D., surprised them Saturday, Nov. 17th on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and cards, and at midnight they feasted on the good things provided by the ladies. Being the tin wedding, partners were found by means of tin duplicate checks and the table was set with shining tinware, having for a centerpiece a tin candelabra holding ten candles. The hostess was presented with a handsome rug, and the popular representative received a tin walking stick to wield on unruly members in Bismarck this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Burquam warmly thanked the donors, both for the presents and for their expressions of esteem, and assured those present that the occasion will be long remembered by them.

Christopher Walde and Miss Louise Roseco of Dickey were married Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. A. Carnagan of Jamestown. They will make their home at Dickey, N. D., where they both reside.

The snowball dance given by the Elks of this city last night was well attended and presented a very pretty appearance with its costumes and decorations of pure white. White buttoning and white carnations were used to decorate the rooms and the tables. The music was furnished by Hall's orchestra. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. James Dinnie and daughter, R. Spriggs and wife, M. J. Moran and wife, C. E. ### CABLE-STEVENSON WEDDING.

Associated Press to The Evening Times. Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—The wedding of George W. Cable, the noted Southern author and Miss Eva C. Stevenson, of Lexington, Ky., took place in Philadelphia today. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. William Jenks, a relative of the bride. After a wedding trip in the South Mr. and Mrs. Cable, it is announced, will take up their residence at Northampton, Mass. Mr. Cable is a native Southerner, born in New Orleans, and having spent his early life in that city. It was in that city that he wrote his "Old Creole Days," his first notable literary work and which won him wide fame. Mr. Cable's bride is about 29 years old, tall and of handsome bearing. She belongs to a well known Kentucky family. She and Mr. Cable met about two years ago when the latter delivered a lecture before the Woman's club of Lexington, of which Miss Stevenson was president.

ENGINE OFF THE TRACK.

Locomotive Tied Things Up on the N. P. at Casselton. Fargo, N. D., Nov. 24.—An engine travelling over the Northern Pacific near Casselton, balky and weary of following in the beaten track, started off across a country on its own hook. It did not get very far, however, before it was brought to a standstill. Unfortunately it came to a halt just at the crossing of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern tracks at Casselton, and for a time blocked both roads. As a result it was found necessary to bring No. 2 on the Northern Pacific around by La Moure, and No. 3 was sent west over the same route.

PULLED A GUN.

Jones of Garrison Gets Mixed in Row at Bismarck. Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 24.—A man named J. H. Jones from Garrison is wanted by the police for pulling a gun and threatening to shoot another party in one of the bagnons under the hill. It appears Jones and another man came down here with two women and registered at an hotel as man and wife. Later the men traveled to the flats, and Jones got into a row with another man and invited him to go outside and get shot full of holes. An attempt was made to put Jones out of the house, when he pulled a gun. The lights were put out, when Jones is said to have flashed an electric dark lantern and held up the crowd at the point of his pistol while he backed out the door. The officers have failed to locate either of the men or the women, as they left the hotel some time during the night. Jones is said to be well supplied with crooked paraphernalia for card swindling and a very fine assortment of skeleton keys.

Amusements

A Millionaire Tramp.
The ever popular comedian, Harry Todd, and a most excellent supporting company, will be at the Metropolitan theatre next Wednesday, presenting a most complete scenic production of Elmer Walters' masterpiece "A Millionaire Tramp," which during the five seasons that Mr. Todd has been presenting it, has met with the most gratifying success.

The play depicts a story touching upon the passions of love and hatred that burn with such intense heat in the Western heart. The story of the play is as tender as the breath that caresses the clover covered meadows and as strong as the gathering tangles amidst the mighty mountains. It is a simple, but thrilling story told in the language of the West. The scenes are laid in a farming district of Indiana. The play is interspersed with enough fun and comedy to relieve the tension caused by the thrilling incidents of the more dramatic parts. The company carries all necessary scenery and paraphernalia to put on the play in first class order.

Allen Doone and Kerry Gow.
A witty Irishman is the finest humorist in the world, and Dan O'Hara, the central figure in "Kerry Gow," which was produced last evening at the opera house, is a fine sample of the witty Irishman, laughter resigned supreme. A splendid audience greeted the company, and although the final curtain did not fall until past eleven o'clock, it was with a feeling of regret that the end was reached.

Allen Doone, who is no stranger to this city, gave a good reading of the high spirited Dan O'Hara; his singing was much appreciated and he was ably supported by a strong and well balanced company. The splendid production was complete with perfect settings and grand scenery; the first and last acts were chiefly notable for the introduction of the doves in a nice garden scene. The grand forage and race scenes and the horse shoeing by Allen Doone were the chief features. The company made an excellent impression and a return engagement would mean the capacity of the opera house.

Kerry Gow will be the Thanksgiving bill at the Metropolitan both matinee and night.

The Banker's Child.
The present is certainly the "Era of the Young." The world has seen the "stone age," the "dark age," the "age of iron," and now comes the "Age of Youth." On all sides we see the comparatively young forging themselves into places where a few years ago it was thought could alone be filled by their elders; in fact, it is an open question whether a young man is not "of age" at 18. He is as able to cope with the world at that age as his grandfather was at 21. The stage may be taken in point. Recently one of New York's principal theaters was occupied by a play in which the leading role was played by a child, Little Hazel Shannon. The press and the public were loud in praise of her wonderful ability. This clever little girl will be seen in Harry Shannon's powerful scenic comedy, "The Banker's Child," surrounded by a strong company of players. Special scenery is used to properly mount the play, and adds to the beauty of the surroundings.

At the Metropolitan on Friday, Nov. 30.

Mr. Knewzee—Miss Verraplan was taken to the hospital this afternoon. Mrs. K—Dear me! I didn't know she was sick.

Mr. K—She wasn't until she saw an account of the Swan musicale in which she was mentioned as the guest of honor.
