OVER HUNDRED GATHERINGS HELD IN CHICAGO DURING YEAR

Nearly Every Industry and Profession Represented in the Meetings—Influences That Other Places Lack.

Chicago.—Chicago this year is the convention city of the world. One hundred and seven organizations, representing almost every industry and profession in the United States, have met here during the last few months, bringing it, it is estimated, almost 50,000 visitors, who filled the hotels to overflowing and made the bonificas many thousands of dollars richer. Almost every business and profession was represented, from undertakers and tombstone cutters to butcher and surgeons.

There was hardly a hotel of any pretensions that did not have its lobby filled with ribboned and badge-decorated delegates to at least a half-dozen conventions, league meetings or association gatherings.

While the majority of the conventions were held in the hotels at which the delegates stopped, others met in halls and churches in different parts of the city.

Credit for making Chicago the convention city must be given to the Chicago Commercial association, which carried on a vigorous campaign for several. Every organization in the country that meets in convention was communicated with.

All the advantages of the city were laid before them. The association exerted every influence to secure low rates from the railroads and succeeded in securing reduced fares for all the conventions, coming from east, west and south.

Most of the conventions were held during July, August and September. During those months every one of the hotels had a convention "on" each week. For October there were also many scheduled, while several are yet to be held in November.

To educational societies and organizations Chicago offers advantages equalled by no other city in the west. The public library, Art Institute and Field museum offer opportunities for research only equalled by the Smithsonian museum and Congressional library at Washington.

Another almost natural advantage Chicago possesses, which is the most important feature of a convention city, is its vast capacity to house and feed thousands of visitors at a moment's notice.

Although every one of the downtown hotels be filled there are scores of high-class hotels throughout the city that can with ease handle the overflow.

When these are crowded there remains the many apartment houses that accommodate transients, and if these ever become congested the thousands of boarding and rooming houses can always find room for untold numbers.

Among the most notable of the conventions held were those of the National Dressmakers' association, the League of American Municipalities, National Purity league, National Undertakers' association, International Railway Blacksmiths' association, the National Theosophists' society, post-masters of the fourth class, American Newsdealers' association, National Spiritualists' association, the Newton society, National Travelling Engineers' association besides the various organizations and federations of women's clubs.

FUNERAL EXERCISES TODAY

Obsequies Over the Remains of Henry Comfort Held This Afternoon—Interment in Memorial Park.

The funeral of Henry Comfort, the Great Northern engineer who was killed in the wreck near Doyon on Wednesday night, was held this afternoon from the Baptist church. Rev. F. E. R. Miller officiated. A large company of friends was present and attended the body to its final resting place in Memorial Park. The deep sympathy of the host of friends of the family is extended to them in their bereavement.

Till was convicted of killing a man named Miller in Pembina county, and was given a life sentence.

GOVERNOR FROM THE SLOPE.

Mandan Paper Believes Next State Executive Should Live There.

Pioneer says: The nominee for governor on the Republican ticket in 1908 should come from the Missouri slope country. At that time it will be ten years since the western portion of the state has been honored with that office. The last and only governor from the Slope was Frank Briggs, and since that time we had two years of Fred Fincher of Stutsman, four years of Frank White of Barnes, two years of E. Y. Sarles of Traill, and now we will have two years of John Burke. This is a long enough period for the people of the east to usurp this office, and the counties of the western part of the state should unite and demand the governorship in 1908. Here is where the Republican ticket gets its rousing majorities, and it is in this section that Republicans are loyal enough to stand by the nominees of the party and do not knife it simply because they cannot have their choice of candidates. Out here the people appreciate political recognition and show it by the support they give the ticket. The western counties of the state are unlike those in the east, as was shown in the recent election. Morton county once had the governorship. Compare its vote this year with that of Walsh, Barnes, Traill, Stutsman, and you will be convinced that the disloyal east is no longer entitled to retain the governorship.

Her fifth and sixth husband was Mr. Barrie, of Boone county, to whom she was twice married and divorced. Her seventh husband was Calvin James, the defendant in the latest divorce.

ON ONE FARM 53 YEARS.

Iowa Couple Establish Record for Continuous Residence.

Webster City.—For continuous residence upon one farm there is probably not a couple in the United States who can beat the record of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank, who reside south of this city.

Driving across an almost unknown prairie from Pennsylvania with their family in a good old-fashioned "prairie schooner," they reached the farm upon which they now reside in 1853.

"Mother, this looks like a home to me," said Mr. Frank, and they settled upon the place which still remains their home.

If they both live until next January they will celebrate their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary. Mr. Frank is 84 years of age, and his wife 86.
