BASKETBALL SEASON WILL OPEN HERE TONIGHT

Fargo Athletics Will Play Y. M. C. A. and State University—Good Games.

The basketball season in Grand Forks will open here this evening with a game between the Grand Forks Y. M. C. A. team and the Fargo Athletics strong team. The game is to be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 9 o'clock.

Saturday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the university basketball team will line up against the Fargo bunch and the probabilities are that a new game will result.

The basketball season in Grand Forks this year is going to be a good one. With the Y. M. C. A. and the university both having good teams, there will be a schedule of games that will keep the sports interested. Besides these teams, there will be the many inter department games at the university.

Either Sorenson or Mason will play center for the university. The guards will be Mason, Farnham, or Nelson and the forwards will be O'Keefe and Netcher.

ELECT CAPTAIN OF GRAND FORKS HIGH

Audley Roddy Named to Head the Football Team Next Year.

Audley Roddy has been elected captain of the Grand Forks high school football team for 1907. Mr. Roddy has been on the team for the past two seasons, and his remarkable play has thrust him to the front on more than one occasion.

To be captain of the Granks Forks highs is an honor that any football player would appreciate, and in giving it to Mr. Roddy the boys feel that they have selected a man who will work for the good of the team all the way through.

The Grand Forks highs claim to be the champions this year. Last year they were the undisputed champions, but this year on account of the failure of Fargo to come and play when there was an opportunity for so doing there is some question.

The team will lose several members next year, but it is expected that the new material that developed this year and with what will come out next year there will be a good team.

WAS LOU DILLON DOPED?

Trotting Association Takes Up the Charges Against Smathers.

New York, Dec. 7.—The board of review of the National Trotting association began a hearing of the case against E. E. Smathers, former owner of Major Delmar, which is alleged to have won the $5,000 challenge cup offered by the Memphis Trotting association in 1904 because Lou Dillon, owned by C. K. G. Billings, had been drugged. Mr. Smathers was present.

An affidavit from Millard Sanders, a former trainer of Lou Dillon, was submitted. In it Sanders said that Edward Sanders had proposed to him that Lou Dillon be "doped" and had told him he thought $5,000 to $10,000 could be obtained from Mr. Smathers. Millard Sanders declared that he refused to do so. He also made a similar reply to George Spear on the day of the race. If Lou Dillon was tampered with, Millard Sanders said, he had nothing to do with it.

Edward Malloy, a stable man, swore that he saw Millard Sanders administer something to Lou Dillon out of a bottle.

An affidavit was also read. In it Mr. Spear declared that he had instructions from Mr. Smathers to undertake such negotiations as would insure the race to Maj. Delmar.

C. K. G. Billings, owner of Lou Dillon, in an affidavit, declared that up to a short time before the race Lou Dillon was in fine shape and made a good showing in the warming up heats.

"Before she had gone by the quarter mile post in the race," the affidavit continues, "I noticed she was not doing what she should. At the half pole she did not respond as she should and when I called upon her she failed me and long before the heat was ended showed evidences of being very sick."

SAYS WATTY MADE MISTAKE

Milwaukee, Dec. 7.—In the opinion of a well known Milwaukee lawyer, W. H. Watkins, owner of the Indianapolis club, made a serious mistake when he voted with the majority to expel Mike Kelley, ex-president of the Minneapolis club, from the American association.

"By so doing," said the lawyer, "Mr. Watkins laid himself wide open in the event of Kelley bringing suit to recover his salary for 1907, which he can do under the terms of his contract, from Mr. Watkins of the Minneapolis club. By voting as he did Mr. Watkins made it appear that he wanted Kelley expelled from the association in order that this contract would be null and void. Thus it will be evident that it was a case of forcing Kelley out for a purpose, and he will have all the best of it; whereas, had Mr. Watkins refused to vote with the majority, he no fault of his that Kelley was barred could have made the claim that it was from the association and unable to fulfill his contract.

MILWAUKEE HAS NEW MANAGER

President Havenor Names Jack Doyle of Des Moines His Successor.

Milwaukee, Dec. 7.—President C. S. Havenor of the Milwaukee American association team, has announced that Jack Doyle, one of the best known figures in baseball, would be the manager of the Milwaukee team next season. He will not don a uniform, but will be bench manager, and will be given sufficient leeway to enable him to make a close fight for the pennant.

Last year Doyle, acting for Cantillon at Des Moines, took the Western league pennant, and his success elsewhere resulted in the appointment at Milwaukee. His support by the Cantillon brothers had much to do with his appointment. He has played and managed ball teams from Denver to New York.

The Gans-Nelson Fight.

The only genuine pictures of the Gans-Nelson encounter at Goldfield will be shown at the Metropolitan theater on Wednesday, Dec. 12. The management of the Metropolitan theater came very near having the misfortune to offer the patrons a reproduction of the famous fight that was not absolutely genuine, but by good fortune avoided them and obtained the real pictures, which settle beyond dispute the question of the foul blow and also whether Mr. Siler could properly give the decision.

"THIS IS MY 58TH BIRTHDAY."

Admiral Bridgeman.

Rear Admiral Francis Charles Bridgeman, who has recently been appointed commander in chief of the British home fleet, was born Dec. 7, 1848, and is a grandson of the 5th Earl Fitzwilliam. Admiral Bridgeman is one of the best known and most popular officers in the British navy. He entered the service in 1862 and rose through the successive grades of lieutenant, commander and captain, until in 1902 he reached the rank of rear admiral. During his long career Admiral Bridgeman has been singularly fortunate in that, unlike nearly all the officers of the British navy, he has had little or no opportunity of seeing active service. But he is famous as an able tactician and gained golden opinions when last year he was second in command of the channel fleet.

Amusements

An All American Play.
 In "Arizona," an American play, by an American author, and played by American players, Mr. Augustus Thomas has written what critics and public have unanimously pronounced the greatest dramatic success that America has seen in a generation. It teems with life and action, the dash of cowboy frolics, the military duties, while the atmosphere is so subtle and real that one can almost catch the breath of the sage brush and cactus and feel the sting of the alkali dust in one's nostrils. This western favorite is so pungent with local color and force that the whole seems like a bit of real life from the Aravaipa valley itself than the artistic creation of the playwright's brain. An essentially human play, throbbing with romance and sentiment, there is withal a virile force in "Arizona" that imparts a thrill to every word and action, while the climaxes are surprises wrought with skill that disarm anticipation.

But "Arizona" is humorous as well as human, and behind each tear there lurks a laugh. In his treatment of the story, character and details, Mr. Thomas has been notably realistic, even to the picturesque swear words of a young Mexican vaquero, who has absorbed his limited vocabulary of English from his crude surroundings, learning the bad with the good. The scenery and dressing of the play are not only beautiful but wonderfully complete and accurate even to the minutest details.

"Arizona" will be seen at the Metropolitan tomorrow night.
