THE "YOUNG" WINTER

The cold, miserable weather which has been prevalent the past week calls forth a lot of grumbling on the part of Montana farmers and business men, but when we stop to think of the excellent season we have just had, notwithstanding, we might be more than grateful that it is no worse. The past week or more has been about as bad as harvest weather can get in Montana, but a perusal of the newspaper over the entire country show that Montana is no worse off than the other states as practically every one of them are experiencing the same kind of weather. While the weather has been very unpleasant and has set back the harvest considerably it has also had a tendency to raise the price of grain and wheat has advanced three or four cents in the past week.

With a bumper crop to be threshed and the price of wheat soaring upwards, Montana has much to be thankful for, for we are bound to have an abundance of sunshiny weather before the season is over. The past season has been an unusual one in Montana in every way. The abundance of rainfall lends strength to the theory that the vast agricultural areas which have been opened in the state are changing the climatic conditions: The Great Falls Tribune says regarding this:

"It has been an unusual season in Montana with its frequent rains. In fact the abundance of rain for several seasons has led to much comment over the fact, and the assertions that the climate is changing in this respect owing to the greater area of cultivated ground which absorbs and holds the moisture better than vast stretches of unbroken land caused the winter and spring moisture to run off into the rivers instead of being absorbed and gradually evaporated. The theory seems reasonable, especially as it is asserted that a similar change has been observed in the Dakotas, Kansas, Nebraska, and other prairie states since they became better settled and the land broken up. Ordinarily we look for equinoxial storms after September 20, so it is to be hoped that clear weather will intervene before that date arrives."

LET THE PEOPLE RULE

A riot occurred at a bull fight in Madrid recently because the bulls that were brought in to fight were unusually small. The crowd was out for big bulls and big blood and joined in storming the arena until the police reserves were called in and drove the mob back. Bulls and Blood!

During a recent month 129 persons committed suicide in the state of New York, 33 of them by poison, 28 by suffocation, 19 by hanging and 10 by drowning. This world was not good enough for them or else too good!

In Georgia, the other day, a motor cyclist in an amateur race was thrown from a cycle by a slippery track. Immediately he mounted another machine exclaiming, "I'll win this race or break my neck!" In a few moments his machine skidded again, plunged him through a fence and he lay dead!

During the Lawrence strike, sympathetic, kind-hearted working people all over the country contributed thousands of dollars to aid the striking operatives. Of this amount over $15,000 was missing. Four leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World were ordered into court to account for the money.

In a Western State recently a man bet $40 that he could swim across a lake with 10 pound dumb-bells tied to each ankle. He was drowned and the winner of the wager received $10!

In New York a woman in a fit of rage because her husband couldn't get work tore $45 in bills into small pieces and started a fire with the fragments. The police were called in. In court she said she was sorry!

These are samples of news items to be found every day in reputable journals. They require no comment. —Leslie's Weekly.

KNOCKER VS. BOOSTER

When the Creator had made all good things, there was still more work to do, so he made the beasts and reptiles and poisonous insects, and when he had finished, he still had some scraps that were too bad to put into the Rattle Snake, the Hyena, the Scorpion and the Skunk, so he put these together, covered it with suspicion, wrapped it in jealousy, and called it a KNOCKER.

This product was so fearful to contemplate that he had to make something to counteract it, so he took a sunbeam and put in the heart of a child, and the brain of a man, and then wrapped these in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a mask of velvet, and a grasp of steel, made it a lover of fields and flowers and manly sports, a believer of equality and justice and called it a BOOSTER.

And ever since these two were, mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates.

NO JOKE

The Democrats took as their campaign issue in 1912 the high cost of living, which they blamed to a protective tariff. They promised us lower prices for commodities to follow their slash in the tariff rates. According to Economic Bulletin No. 18, just issued by the Department of Agriculture, the oyster has not advanced in price. Everything else has. On this subject the Democrats have taken the oyster as their example, and they are keeping mum.

Double Six Card Club
Mrs. John Bjorstad and Mrs. Carl Ackerman were complimentary hostesses to the Double Six Card Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of the former. At cards, the chief diversion of the afternoon, Mrs. T. A. Hauge won first prize and Rose Lezie second prize. Mrs. Emily Whitbread won the consolation prize. After cards the hostesses served a delightful luncheon.

Tuesday Bridge Club
The members of the Tuesday Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Baynham Tuesday afternoon and elected new officers and made plans for the continuation of the club during the winter. It was only a business meeting, the first social meeting of the club to be held at the home of Mrs. Dan McKay next Tuesday afternoon.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were:
President—Mrs. John M. Lewis.
Secretary—Mrs. P. L. Herring.
Treasurer—Mrs. C. S. Stafford.

M. E. Ladies' Aid
The ladies aid society of the M. E. church, met Wednesday afternoon at the church. The ladies reported that they had been successful in winning two prizes on flowers at the fair. The prize of $10.00 for the best general display of flowers, also the prize for the best display of sweet peas.

The ladies wish to thank those who donated the services of their autos, also the boys who so generously assisted and those who contributed the flowers.

After the business of the meeting was over, an excellent lunch was served by Mrs. West and Mrs. Fred Wilson.

Cameron-Weldy
One of the prettiest weddings of the early autumn season occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weldy at 144 North Second Street Wednesday evening, September 15th, when their daughter, Muriel, became the bride of Mrs. Charles J. Cameron, also of this city, the Rev. J. L. Wilkinson of the Christian church officiating.

At eight o'clock the bridal party entered the room, and advanced to one corner and stood beneath a beautiful bower, tastefully trimmed in green and white, while in the center hung a large wedding bell. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. L. A. Weldy, attended by Miss Mae Rhodes as bridesmaid and little Miss Bernice Jerrow, as flower girl.

The bridegroom was attended by W. B. Halbig as best man, and Master Lyle Weldy acted as ring bearer. The bridegroom's party advanced into the room and met the bride at the improvised altar.

Lohengrin's Wedding March, was played with a beautiful effect by the Misses Margaret and Eva Anderson, the former playing the violin and the latter at the piano.

The bride was attired in a very pretty gown of embroidered net over white messaline and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Mae Rhodes, the bridesmaid wore a pretty creation in silk mull. Little Miss Bernice Jerrow was very sweet as flower girl, and carried a basket filled with beautiful sweet peas.

Master Lyle Weldy, who acted as ring bearer carried the ring concealed in a large rose.

After the ceremony the bridal couple were showered with the congratulations of the guests present and sat down to an excellently prepared wedding supper.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of silverware, cut glass, hand painted china and linen.

Those present at the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Behner, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton J. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jerrow, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lanphar, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jerrow, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grissom, Mrs. J. C. Kreis, Mrs. John Dillard, Mrs. John Gritz, Mrs. Paul Gritz, Mrs. Grace Brooks, Mrs. R. T. Covert, Mrs. Minnie Hendren, the Misses Eva Hendren, Margaret Anderson, Ione Pierce, Leah Longtin, Lillian Solem, Lorene Thompson, Phoebe E. Pynn, Marie Bell, Mae Bell, Mae Rhodes, Bernice Jerrow, Lillian Weldy, Virginia Saunders, and Messrs. J. B. Pierce, Archie Waldrum, Orville Pierce, Bert Jones, W. B. Halbig, Rev. J. L. Wilkinson, Orrin Weldy, Lyle Weldy and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weldy.

They will make their home at 144 No. 2nd St., for the present.

The bride is one of Glasgow's most popular young ladies and during the five years of her residence in Glasgow has made a host of warm friends. The groom has been a resident of the city for the past year and is held in high esteem by a host of acquaintances.

ORIGIN OF KILTS

The Scotch kilt, as an article of dress dates back to prehistoric times, and was originally, as far as can be figured out, merely a plaid blanket, worn about the shoulders, with one end gathered about the loins in cold weather. The mountaineers of the Balkans wear the kilt, and students say that the soldiers of the Assyrian kings wore a costume very closely akin to the kilt of Scotland.

The contest recently conducted by the "Ladies' World" to determine the relative popularity of motion picture actresses resulted in the polling by Mary Pickford of 1,147,550 votes, against a total of 702,550 votes polled by all other competitors together, thus showing this screen artist to be the most popular girl in the United States, if not in the world.
