Carl Tegnell returned this week from Plentywood, where he has been for the past month while the district court was in session.

Joe Sternhagen and Dr. E. N. Layton were at Great Falls Sunday, conferring with Lieutenant Hoffman of the National guard of Montana.

Martin Kaminski, one of the prosperous sheepmen on the Porcupine, left this week for the Pacific coast, where he will spend the holidays.

According to a news item in the Railway Review, the Great Northern railway plans the construction of an extension of the Bainville branch from Scobey to Glentana, 52 miles, the work to begin early next spring.

Rev. L. J. Christler, arch-deacon of the Episcopal diocese of Montana, was in the city Wednesday night, and officiated at the Booth-Humphrey wedding. Thursday morning Rev. Christler spoke to the students of the high school.

The work of putting in the concrete for the basement and foundation of the new Rundle building began this week, and a crew of men have been busy the past few days to get the work done before the real cold weather.

The work of flooding the ball park to make a skating rink has been given a set back by the warm weather the past few days. As soon as it turns colder the water will again be turned on and the rink thrown open for the use of the skaters.

Superintendent J. M. Doyle of Havre was in the city on Wednesday checking up the work of the Great Northern at this point. Mr. Doyle is always a welcome visitor in the city and our only regret is that he does not make us visits oftener.

The shrill blast of the fire whistle early Sunday morning wakened many Glasgowers from their slumbers and, considering the hour, the response to the alarm was very good. The fire was in the east end of the railroad yards and was soon extinguished.

A. J. Bishell, manager of the Orpheum theatre, was laid up with a severe attack of the grippe the first of the week. He is feeling much improved now, however, and is again on the job giving the Orpheum patrons the best to be had in motion pictures.

John E. Dawson of Great Falls, vice president of the Rocky Mountain Fire Insurance company, was in the city several days this week looking after the interests of the company at this point.

The Klein-Strahn company, the new grocery firm that will soon open for business in the Burke building, received a big part of its stock this week. The interior of their store is rapidly being remodeled.

Miss Anna Bratten of Ryde, Pennsylvania, arrived in the city this week and will visit for some time with Mrs. Rudberg and Miss Kinser. Miss Bratten is en route home after a visit in California and other coast states.

The Hinsdale Masonic lodge has been granted a charter and is now known as Kyle Lodge No. 96. The lodge has, since its inception, been under the dispensation of the Glasgow order and the Hinsdale members are much pleased now that they have a charter of their own.

According to advices from Helena, application has been made for leases on several thousand acres of state lands, believed to contain oil, in the eastern and northern part of the state. Under the terms of these leases the state will receive a royalty of 10 per cent on all oil recovered.

W. W. Brant arrived in the city this week from Fargo, N. D., and is thinking seriously of opening an office here and engaging in the farm loan business. Mr. Brant believes this part of Montana has wonderful opportunities and his decision to locate here was only made after looking over the other parts of the northwest.

The Saco Independent says that Hinsdale now has a basketball team and the Saco boys are just aching for a game with them. Saco has not been defeated this year and will try to arrange a game with that town in the near future. We would suggest that Saco and Hinsdale come to Glasgow to play in a tournament for the championship of northern Montana.

George Clocksin was in from his ranch Wednesday and advised the Courier reporter that a big dance has been scheduled for the Badger school house on Friday evening, December 31. Arrangements have been made to make the dance a hummer and all are cordially invited to attend and assist the crowd in dancing the old year out and the new year in. Good music has been secured and ladies are requested to bring lunch with them.

Harry Park, the Great Northern telephone inspector, who has charge of the lines between Minot and Havre, was seriously injured last Friday afternoon when his gasoline speeder, on which he was traveling into Chinook, struck a pig that was strolling down the track three miles west of Harlem. The machine, which was running at a high rate of speed, left the rails and Park was thrown to the ground with force enough to render him unconscious. A party passing in an automobile witnessed the accident and brought the injured man to Harlem.

Sam Rugg, Tom Markle and Bert Langen returned Saturday from their big deer hunt on the Missouri, bringing back three deer that fell before their trusty rifles. They stated that the hunting was very poor until their last day out, which was the last day of the season, when snow fell and they bagged the three deer. That they had a good time is vouched for by all and it was also discovered during their long sojourn in the wilderness that Sam Rugg had acquired an appetite for vinegar.

"Shorty," the La Medalla cigar maker has composed a new song which is already being sung around town with much success. It is one of the most pathetic and touching ballads ever written and reflects the musical genius of the composer. When sung by Andy Torgerson and Shuey Shoecraft it cannot fail to pull at the heart strings of the most hardened sinner. The title of the song is, "I Didn't Raise My Son to be a Fighting Guy." The words, which begin "How can one fair-haired mother's boy shoot another fair-haired mother's boy in the war," are set to beautiful music.

EQUITY CONVENTION.
About thirty-five members of the American Society of Equity in the county were in attendance at the county convention held here Monday.

F. A. Bennett of Great Falls, state manager, was the principal speaker of the day and, as he was on his way home from the national convention in St. Paul, he was able to give those present at the meeting a very good idea of what was done at the St. Paul meeting.

Plans were also made whereby expert organizers are to be sent here by the state manager to organize cooperative stock companies at Glasgow, Nashua and Hinsdale for the establishment of equity warehouses for bases of supplies, in charge of local managers, in accordance with the plans adopted by the national organization, so that the difficulties encountered in unloading from cars may be overcome.

Royce Biddle of Galpin, secretary of the county organization, was instructed to arrange dates and places of meetings at Glasgow, Hinsdale and Nashua within the next two or three weeks.

FINE CHRISTMAS PROGRAM
The annual Christmas program of the Congregational Sunday school will be rendered on Friday evening, December 24, at 7:30 p. m. This program will be unlike any of the others in that it will be a Christmas pageant given by the young people of the church, representing the boys and girls of Bethlehem. The background, 9x27 feet, is in colors and an immense attraction in itself. After the program, Santa Claus will distribute the gifts. Come early as our seating capacity will be taxed to the utmost.

Christmas Clearing House

THE ferry houses and the railway stations of New York are transformed into human clearing houses the week before Christmas, for through them pass two steadily growing streams of human exchange, men, women and children going home for the holidays and men, women and children coming into town for the same purpose.

"Merry Christmas!" and "Oh, mother, dear!" rise to the lips of the home comers, and "Merry Christmas!" and "Goodby, old chap; off to see the old folks!" echo from the equally smiling lips of those bound up state and elsewhere beyond the noise and rattle of the throbbing town.

"Where are you going for Christmas?" asks the listless club loungeur of his dinner neighbor.

"Down Van Alstyne's way. The missis is going to open their country place."

"Good! Guess I'll get a bid myself. Bright woman, Mrs. Van."

And so Mrs. Van Alstyne fills her country place till the old year is rung out. There are bridge day and night, carols in the servants' quarters, a Christmas dinner cooked by an expert French chef, outdoor sports, dancing, luxury, ease and merry Christmas, the merriest that gold can buy.

And over the ferris and up the state a more quiet stream flows, girls who work and men who are winning fame, all going home to make the old folks glad.—Anna Steese Richardson.
