Sense and Non-Sense About the Plays and Players

The Lubin company have just completed "The Barrier" taken from the novel of that name by Rex Beach.

Lottie and Jack Pickford, sister and brother of Little Mary, have signed up with the Famous Player Co., and will appear in Paramount Pictures in the future.

Art Accord, the Mutual Company cowboy, was badly injured recently in the Stampede held at Sheepshed Bay. However, before being injured he had won the championship for all-around riding.

Wm. Brady, of the World Film Co., has announced that he will give $5,000 in prizes for good stories that can be made into pictures for the World Co. The first prize is for $1,000, ranging from that down to $200.

The proposed railroad strike has exhibitors throughout the country on the anxious seat as it means the immediate closing of houses too far from the exchanges to secure their films by auto. Unlike those in the mercantile business they are not able to "lay in a supply."

Mary Pickford is hard at work on her first picture to be released through her own company. The releasing company is to be known as Artercraft Picture Co., and will not be connected in any way with any other releasing companies.

The Triangle Film Corp. will soon release a picture featuring Wm. Hart in which is devoid of the so-called woman-stuff. In other words no women appear in the picture. We can't ever remember of having seen one. Can you?

The price of admission to motion picture shows is cheaper in America than any other country in the world. In Russia the price of admission to the cheapest seats is about one third of what the average laborer receives for a day's wages.

Strange as it may seem, Mary, Lottie and Jack Pickford, have never appeared together in a picture. Lottie appeared in support of Mary in one production and Jack has appeared with her in three or four pictures, but never the three together.

Motion pictures will take a big part in the trial of the bomb throwers in San Francisco. Just before the bomb went off a camera man, taking pictures of the parade turned the lens of his camera on the crowd and the result was some excellent close-ups. Among those who were suddenly and unexpectedly photographed are several persons suspected of having played an important part in the outrage.

There is a movement on foot at the present time amongst exhibitors throughout the country to show only pictures bearing the stamp of the Board of Review. If the public would support these exhibitors by patronizing only such shows as ran pictures bearing the stamp there would be much less fuss in regards to censorship as in a very short time it would eliminate the exhibitor who insists on showing objectional pictures.

We note with pleasure that the ever popular star, Wm. Hart, is to appear here again soon. In portrayals of western characters Mr. Hart is in a class by himself and has a large following among film fans. In the coming release he plays the leading role in a story of the north woods.

The largest court room setting ever built for motion picture work was finished at Culver City, this week by the Triangle Company to be used in a forthcoming release. It covers over 3,000 square feet of floor space. It is a reproduction of one of the Supreme Court rooms of New York City.

A photo drama of more than passing interest which will be seen here soon on the Paramount program is the picturization of the celebrated novel "Audrey" by Mary Johnson, featuring Pauline Fredrick. As a novel this story enjoyed one of the largest sales of any novel ever published, and in the hands of the Famous Player Co., should be one of the best productions seen in a long time.

A character actor with a well known company recently complained at the end of a day's work, of being tired. Some of his friends asked him what he had done that day that would cause him to become tired. He replied "oh nothing much except being thrown through a plate glass window, buried in a sand storm, died of drinking poisoned water, fell off a fire escape, (died from the effects of that) was blown up in an old mill, run over by a stampede of cattle, was jailed for a cattle rustler, and lost my watch, and it wasn't such a busy day at that."

MALTA ITEMS

Ten cars of sheep will be shipped from Malta tomorrow.

Election day was a fine day and 401 votes were cast here. Much interest was taken and many ladies cast their votes.

Several of the politicians from here attended the big farmers' picnic at Saco Saturday, and as usual had a good time and a fine dinner.

A crowd of young folks and politicians went to Dodson Monday evening to attend the dance at the Pioneer Hotel, and as usual had a good time.

Quite a number of teachers took the examination here Thursday and Friday at the close of summer school for teachers. Eighth grade examinations were also held.

Before mailing this letter, the only returns on the primary election were those of judge of this District. Out of a total of 401 votes cast, John Hurly received 294 and Judge Utter 36.

Miss Mae Hills, of Havre, and Clyde

V. Pence of Glasgow, were in town Monday. Miss Hills visited her home- stead and could hardly get the door of the house opened as the building had been slightly twisted by a high wind.

Mrs. B. H. Koke has so far improved that she was able to sit up a little while Sunday. The many friends of the family rejoice with them in her turn for the better and hope to see her soon restored to health.

R. R. Davis of Hinsdale, who has been manager of the Survant store and business there, has come to Malta to assume the management of the Malta Mercantile store and will move his family to this city in the near future.

J. H. Atwood was in town Monday, attending to duties as one of the members of the teachers' examining board. He was one of the instructors of the summer school at Glasgow and reports a very profitable and interesting session.

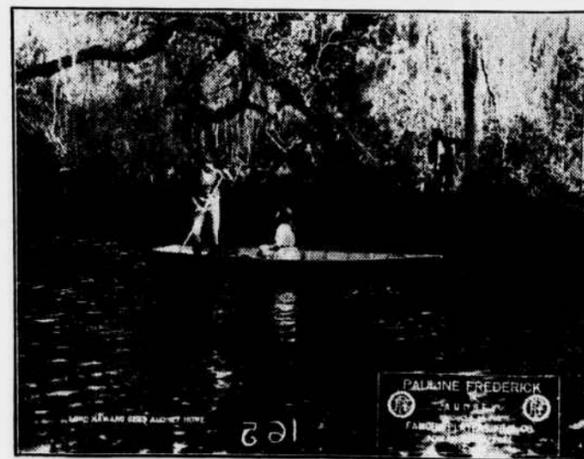

A large number attended the farewell to Rev. R. T. Cookingham and family and the reception to Rev. O. Shenefelt and family last Thursday evening. After a musical program and some speeches, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Rev. O. Shenefelt arrived from Hingham a week ago yesterday and seems quite favorably impressed with our little city. Those who were out to hear him Sunday, report hearing two good sermons. Rev. Cookingham left for Scobey Friday evening but the family will remain here for a time yet.

The Phillips County Fair to be held the first week in October at Dodson is being boosted by the people of that little city. Mrs. Mary Jones and Homer Tester from there were in town last week soliciting from our business men and met with much encouragement as Malta will do all possible to help make it a success. From here they went to Saco on the same business.
