VALLEY COUNTY WINS AT MALTA

EXHIBITS WIN IN ALL CLASSES AT FIRST ANNUAL CORN AND POTATO SHOW.

SHOW A GRAND SUCCESS

Valley County Growers Win Sweepstakes in Potato and Grain and Grass Exhibits. Take Firsts in Other Classes.

At the Northern Montana Corn and Potato show, held at Malta last week, there were 390 corn exhibits, including over 5,000 ears of corn, 150 grain exhibits, 88 potato exhibits and 33 exhibits of alfalfa and grasses, making six hundred and fifty people viewed the exhibits, which were attractively arranged in the halls of the new Phillips county court house. The 5,000 ears of corn were displayed on raised platforms covered with green bunting, thus making it possible for every visitor to see every exhibit. The corners were decorated with sheaves of corn and pumpkins. The large number of exhibits and the quality of the corn was a surprise to all the visitors. The competition was very keen in the corn classes, Valley county getting away with one first and two second in the Minnesota 23 and sweet corn varieties.

On the second floor of the building was the potato exhibit, consisting of 88 entries. Here again the winners had to be of first quality. In this class Valley county carried away sweepstakes, the prize being a silver cup, the county collective banner and several firsts and seconds.

The third floor was made attractive by the splendid exhibits of small grains and grasses. In this class Valley county won the silver sweepstakes cup and the county collective banner and a large number of firsts. In alfalfa, Valley county stepped out and carried away all the honors. Out of eight possible awards on alfalfa, Valley county received eight, besides winning in Arctic sweet clover and brome grass.

People from outside the state who attended the show were surprised at the quality of the exhibits. This exhibition clearly proved that the type of farming in Montana is fast changing from grain to diversification. The diversified farmer, with corn, hogs and poultry and other livestock is the farmer who is going to stay and make northern Montana a prosperous farming country. At present the farmers who are practicing diversified farming are the satisfied ones. It is these farmers who are putting confidence into northern Montana and making it attractive for our eastern friends.

MALTA SUICIDE DIES AT DEACONESS HOSPITAL

David Link Dies from Self-inflicted Wound. No Reason Advanced for Deed.

David Link was brought down from Malta Tuesday suffering from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. He never regained consciousness and died yesterday morning. Little is known of the affair in Glasgow and the Malta Enterprise carried the following account of the suicide in Thursday's paper:

Some time during Monday night Dave Link, who resides on the north side of the track, shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle. The act was not discovered until early on Tuesday morning when the family came down stairs to prepare breakfast and it was then found that Mr. Link was in a serious condition. The neighbors and a doctor were summoned at once and all was done that could be done without operating and he was taken to Glasgow on the Skidoo where an attempt will be made to remove the bullet, which lodged near the left eye. The gun with which he shot himself was found in bed with him, and according to the doctor the wound had been inflicted for several hours. There is no reason advanced for the deed as he was in as good circumstances financially as ever and had been out of a job but a short time. He was at Havre a few days ago and was promised a job in that city at an early date. His son-in-law and John Ebaugh accompanied him to Glasgow.

Word was received from Glasgow this morning telling of the death of Mr. Link at the hospital in that city at one o'clock this morning. The remains will be brought to Malta today and funeral services will be announced by the family later.

LITTLE SON OF MR. AND MRS. PETER G. LINDBLOM DIES

One of the sad events of the weekend was the death of Conrad L. Lindblom, the little 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Lindblom, which occurred at the home of his parents in this city on Saturday, November 11. The child was ill only a short time, death being due to pneumonia and other complications.

Rev. A. N. Livdahl of the Lutheran church conducted funeral services at the home on Monday at one o'clock and interment was made in the local cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindblom are well known young people of Glasgow, Mr. Lindblom being employed with the Guarantee Auto company. This community extends sympathy in their sorrow.

REV. RUCKER HOLDS TWO SERVICES HERE

Rev. Rucker of the Malta Community church spoke at the Congregational church Sunday morning and also addressed a mass meeting at the high school auditorium in the evening. Rev. Rucker, who possesses personal magnetism and charm of manner as a speaker, took for his text at the morning service "The Kingdom of God Is Within You," and his discourse contained many vital truths and breadth of thought. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Friedlund, effectively sang "Seek Ye the Lord," and Miss Harriet Herman and Miss Loreta Van Ness sang a pleasing duet.

Since Sunday was especially set apart by President Harding as Red Cross Sunday the evening services at the high school auditorium were in the nature of a rally to the support of the Red Cross chapter of this community, and E. C. Hoppin, president of the local executive board, as chairman of the evening, in a few apt remarks, spoke of the meeting as the starting off of the Roll Call drive which will occur between Nov. 11 and Nov. 30. Rev. Rucker's address of the evening led up to the importance of the work of the American Red Cross and he predicted that the sweet spirit of helpfulness shown by representatives of the Red Cross in this mission to the helpless and needy would go far toward healing the hurts of the recent war. The Methodist choir, under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Vallandigham, with Mrs. W. H. Rasey at the piano, added much to the service by a selection rendered, and a male quartet composed of H. J. Adden, W. H. Rasey, Glenn Marvis and A. B. Friedlund, also appeared in an impressive selection.

PARI-MUTUEL MEASURE LOSES IN COUNTY

Valley county gave all of the special measures voted upon at the general election a majority with the exception of the pari-mutuel, which lost out by about 300 votes. All of the measures carried in the entire state with the exception of the pari-mutuel, the bill losing out by a small margin. The vote of the measures in Valley county was as follows:

For constitutional amendment relating to consolidation of county, city and town government, 1217; against same, 940.

For state tax commission, 1282; against, 864.

For soldiers' compensation, 1392; against 1058.

For pari-mutuel, 1044; against 1302.

TOO GREAT MARGIN RECEIVED BY THE ELEVATORS, IS CLAIM HELDENA.

Complaints received from a number of farmers that grain elevators are retaining too great a margin between the price paid by them and that received for grain have caused the state department of agricultural department to take up an investigation through the division of grain standards and marketing.

With that in view, a series of hearings will be held about the state by John M. Davis, chief of the marketing division, the first to be held at Hardin, Big Horn county, Nov. 15, to be followed by one at Billings on Nov. 16.

The office of attorney general will be represented at these hearings by Attorney General W. D. Rankin or one of his assistants. All farmers who have grievances and interested elevator men have been notified to be present.

The department is now engaged in making a check of the margins which are being taken by the elevators in the various parts of the state. The department has no authority to fix margins, but is interested in learning, if present margins are warranted.

GLASGOW WOOL SHOW SUCCESS

DEMONSTRATION OF PRACTICAL INTEREST TO WOOL GROWERS OF COUNTY.

MANY SHEEP MEN ATTEND

Woolgrowers Urged to Continue Association as Means of Encouraging Legislation Favorable to Their Interests.

The wool grading demonstration held Tuesday in Glasgow was well attended and the men expressed themselves as much interested in the program that was put on for them. The demonstration was held in the Wedum hall and started at 1:30.

Chairman John Etchart introduced the speakers and the first speaker was R. B. Millin, state livestock specialist, who spoke of the value of good breeding stock and the selection of rams. He also spoke of the value of selecting for wool production and its quality, thus providing the right kind of breeding stock to select for the most profit. He closed his talk by using a chart showing the value of not using wool blind ewes, and the comparisons of lambs from wool blind ewes.

The second speaker was C. J. Fawcett, assistant general manager of the National Wool Warehouse & Storage company of Chicago, who spoke of the outlook of the sheep industry, giving figures on the industry in other countries and the value of the tariff. The future of the industry, according to Mr. Fawcett, is very promising.

Mr. Fawcett then started to work on ten different samples of wool and graded them the way they are graded at Chicago for the Boston mills. He explained the different grades and how they are handled in the manufacturing process and what kinds of cloth and yarn the different grades are made into.

The growers asked numerous questions which indicated their interest in Mr. Fawcett's discussion.

After the grading demonstration the growers went to the H. O. Gamas livery barn where Mr. Etchart had 250 rams yarded. Millin judged the rams, selecting the best, while Mr. Fawcett judged them from the wool standpoint.

From there the growers went to Alsop's where the Valley County Wool Growers association served dinner for the sheepmen.

Mr. Fawcett, in his after-dinner speech encouraged the continuation of the Wool Growers' association. He also stated that the different county and state associations were the factors that made a good tariff possible.

The wool growers in attendance were: H. Magruder, C. A. Bradstreet, John Etchart, John Etchart, Gordon Jamieson, A. White, Nels Cotton, Dr. Cooper, M. Kaminski, Ed Byrum, Carl Anderson, M. Wilson and W. M. Ketzenberger.

The growers represented over three-fourths of the sheep in Valley county.

RENNICK - SEELEY

John M. Rennick and Nellie Seeley, both well known young people of Hinsdale, were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon by Judge G. W. Rapp in the parlors of the Rapp hotel, the necessary witnesses being present. Mr. and Mrs. Rennick will reside on their ranch near Hinsdale.

RELIEF FOR SHIPPERS; EMPTIES ARE ON WAY

Helena.—Relief from the severe car shortage, under which Montana shippers of grain are now suffering, will soon be available, according to advices received by the Montana railroad commission in a telegram from St. Paul Sunday evening. President Budd of the Great Northern system has informed the commission that the four northwestern lines, the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Burlington and the Milwaukee will receive from eastern lines 800 empties daily, starting Wednesday, November 15, and by Saturday, the 18th, the number will be increased to 1,000 cars per day until conditions are permanently relieved.

The Montana commission, in a statement made Sunday through Secretary E. G. Toomey, said that this was the most welcome transportation news which could possibly come to the state at this time, in view of the near desperate conditions now existing. At every grain and livestock loading point congestion is acute. Farmers, hauling grain for miles, find all elevators are blocked and are compelled to rent sheds or erect temporary shelters, or even unload their grain on the ground awaiting cars, all at extraordinary expense, in the face of short prices for grain. Livestock operators have trailed herds to loading yards, only to keep them there for days, at heavy expense for feed, awaiting cars.

The commission has worked on the situation for the past 60 days, handling all complaints by wire, and achieving, with railroad cooperation, equitable distribution of the thin supply. Its members today expressed keen satisfaction at the substantial number of cars now definitely allotted to Montana shippers to move these commodities. In the distribution of the cars track loading points will be treated on a parity with elevator loadings and shippers at competitive points.

The relief came just in time, the commission says, as the storms of the last few days have greatly aggravated the situation.

WESTERN WOOL SHIPMENTS MUST PAY MONTANA RATES

Helena.—Wool growers in states west of Montana will not be able to ship their wool to eastern markets for less than Montana growers, according to the decision from the interstate commerce commission.

The ruling by the federal body was in denial of an application by railroads for permission to apply the water haul theory, charging an East bound rate from Pacific coast points equal to the freight by water, and charging intermediate points in Washington, Idaho and Western Montana an east bound rate equal to the long haul rate, plus the local west bound rate.

The effect of the ruling, according to the state commission, will be to benefit Montana wool growers by denying shippers farther west the privilege of shipping to eastern markets at rates less than those from Montana to the same eastern markets.

TO MILLIONS OF CHILDREN RED CROSS MEANS SERVICE

Behind all service to mankind must be the desire of someone, somewhere, to be of service. Hence, in addition to its many concrete services, the American Red Cross is engendering and cultivating the source of all service—the spirit of service itself—among children.

Under the leadership of the Junior Red Cross, five million American school children are weaving into their daily lives their motto "I serve." Since 1919 the Juniors have contributed ed more than one million dollars for the relief of little children in other lands, in addition to the help given the unfortunate children in their own communities. This child service to child sufferers is to be, perhaps, the most painful of all Red Cross services.

"BUY YOUR SPUDS NOW" MOVEMENT IS STARTED

Helena.—A "buy-your-winter-potatoes" movement will be launched in Montana if an effort to relieve the glut of the potato market and find buyers for the 7,000,000 bushels raised by Montana growers this year.

Plans for the campaign to induce every Montana householder to purchase immediately all the potatoes each family will use during the winter and put them in storage in the cellar, were drawn recently at a conference of W. G. Ferguson, secretary of the Helena commercial club, with heads of the state agricultural department.

The movement, which will use posters, speakers to civic organizations and newspapers, will be directed by Mr. Ferguson, who is president of the state association of commercial club secretaries.

ROADS GRANT SPECIAL RATES TO TEACHERS

Program Arranged for Annual Teachers' Convention at Helena November 27, 28.

The program for the annual convention of the Montana State Teachers' association to be held in Helena, November 27, 28 and 29, is rapidly taking shape under the direction of Dean J. M. Hamilton, president of the association. Previous newspaper publicity has given information concerning some of the instructive addresses to be given before the convention. By no means, however, will all of the talks be devoted to strictly technical subjects. Bishop William F. Fisher, one of the most interesting and forceful speakers in the state, has consented to appear on the Tuesday evening program. Dean Hamilton has built up a well-balanced program which should attract every teacher in the state of Montana.

"The Pied Piper of Hamelin," will be given Monday afternoon in the Shrine temple by the school children of Helena. On Tuesday afternoon a demonstration of physical education will be staged by Professor E. S. Thomas. Immediately after the close of the Monday evening program a reception for all of the teachers will be given in the banquet room of the Temple.

Information being received by the committees in charge leads to the belief that the convention is to be attended by a larger percentage of the teachers of the state than any previous meeting.

All railroads in the state have agreed to the special rates asked for the convention and round trip tickets will be sold at fare-and-one-half with a minimum of $1.00 from all points in Montana, upon presentation of identification certificates. The identification certificates are for the use of the members of the association and dependent members of their families. They may be had from the officers of the local community associations, county and city superintendents, high school and other principals and the presidents of the state institutions. Tickets will be sold on November 23 to 29, inclusive, with final return limit to reach original starting point not later than midnight of December 4, 1922. Tickets will be validated at destination by ticket agents at regular ticket offices of the lines over which the ticket reads into place of meeting.

HARLEM FARMER MAKES $480 FROM BEAN FIELD

Harlem.—Ed Larocok has produced a successful crop of beans this year on his farm in the lower part of the valley which proves that another valuable crop can be produced if cultivated. In spite of hail and hoppers he harvested 20 bushels of beans per acre from a five acre patch. He sold the crop for 8 cents a pound, which makes each acre earn $80.

There were others who tried out beans for a change, but owing to hail they were not able to get such good results.

SHELLY INDICTED BY FEDERAL JURY

FORMER PROHIBITION DIRECTOR CHARGED WITH ACCEPTING BRIBES.

TWO INDICTMENTS FILED

Charge that Twelve Bribes Were Paid to Shelly's Agents. Trial Set for January Second at Helena.

Twelve bribes totaling $9,202.50 were paid to alleged agents of O. H. P. Shelly of Helena while he was federal prohibition director for Montana, according to allegations in two indictments returned Tuesday by the federal grand jury in Butte. One indictment has seven counts, charging that $7,700 was paid to two breweries, and the other indictment, five counts, alleges drug stores paid $1,502.50.

The defendant, who was arrested in Butte Tuesday evening, furnished $4,000 bail, $2,000 for each indictment, and is at liberty. He is to appear at Helena for arraignment on January 2. S. C. Forl, former attorney general, who is Shelly's attorney, has indicated in Butte that Shelly will demand immediate trial.

The concerns involved and the amounts alleged to have been paid to Shelly's agents follow:

- Montana Brewing company, Great Falls, $5,000 on September 15, 1921.
- American Brewing company, Lewistown, $300 on October 12, 1921.
- Montana Brewing company, Great Falls, $500 on October 14, 1921.
- Montana Brewing company, Great Falls, $500 on November 15, 1921.
- American Brewing company, Lewistown, $600 on December 2, 1921.
- Montana Brewing company, Great Falls, $500 on December 10, 1921.
- American Brewing company, Lewistown, $300 on January 20, 1922.
- Parchen Drug company, Helena, $150 on March 13, 1922.
- F. S. Williams, Billings, $375 on $250 on March 14, 1922.
- F. S. Williams, Billings, $375 on March 27, 1922.
- John S. McKibbin and Charles McKibbin, in the drug business in Great Falls, $62.50 on May 6, 1922.
- John S. McKibbin and Charles McKibbin, Great Falls, $665 on May 24, 1922.

Shelly took office as federal prohibition director for Montana September 1, 1921. He was temporarily suspended August 10, 1922, following an investigation by federal agents.

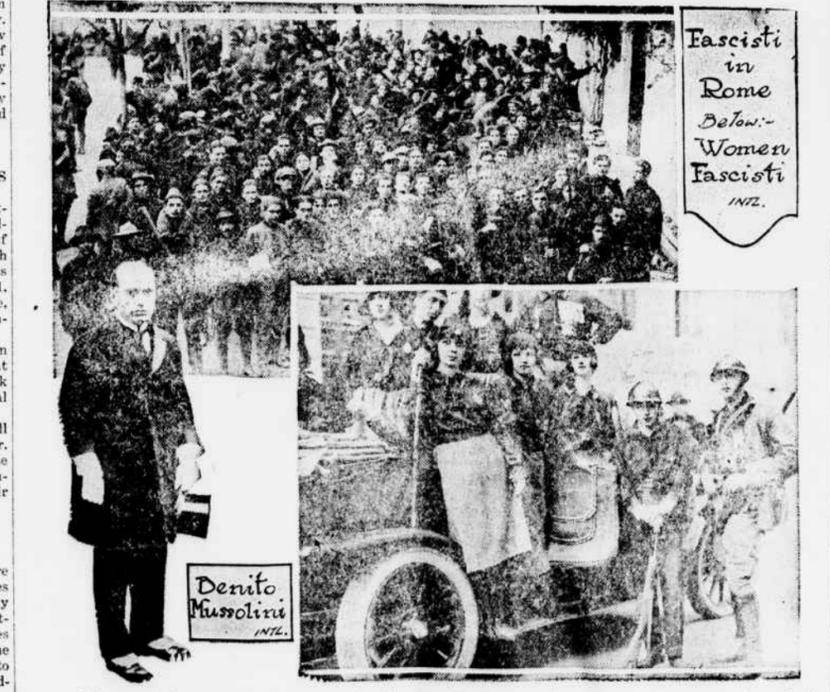

Prosecution brought by the state against the Montana Brewing company of Great Falls, alleging evasions of the alcoholic content permitted by law, failed in the district court. Action in the federal court, however, caused the concern to plead guilty in Helena October 3, 1922, and the company was fined $1,500 by Judge George M. Bourquin.

Except that to claim an attempt is being made by political enemies to discredit him and that the public should withhold judgment till the case has been tried in court, Shelly has declined to make a statement.
