An over-indulgent citizen, acting according to the impulses of the spirits within him, created some disturbance on the streets last night and now lies in limbo.

Manager Selig of the Fisher opera house returned from Portland yesterday. The troupe he went to secure was not up to the required standard and he refused to book it.

Lewis H. Stinson of Salem, grand keeper of records and seal, Knights of Pythias, was in town yesterday on his way to Seaside, where he will spend a week in hunting and fishing.

No new cases of small-pox have developed. According to the rumors afloat yesterday, the disease was spreading rapidly, but there was not the slightest foundation for the reports.

The trustees of the old Rescue Club, consisting of Mrs. W. W. Parker, Mrs. Estes, Dr. O. B. Estes and Dr. August Kinney, met and turned over all the property of the club to the W. C. T. U. yesterday.

C. L. Houston, G. M. McBride, Alfred Kinney, Gus Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gilbert, C. F. Houston and Mrs. A. Rickards and Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Larsen were among the yesterday's Astorians in Portland.

A good advertiser loses the business. If a merchant is proud of the stock carries he will not hide his light under a bushel. If a man does not advertise, depend upon it, his goods are not as they should be.

Pastor Edlund of the Swedish Lutheran church, with his family, starts next Tuesday for Boone county, Iowa. Mrs. Edlund and daughter will spend the winter there. Mr. Edlund will return early in November.

The price of salmon has moved up to 4 cents, cold-storage men being behind the advance. The run is very light, and with the high price, it is probable that most of the canneries will shut down for the season.

Subjects of sermons at the Baptist church tomorrow will be: In the morning, "Procreation;" and in the evening, "The Visible and the Invisible." All other services as usual. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Nace Grant, well known in Astoria, has associated himself with W. H. Brown, and is now one of the proprietors of the Fredericksburg, the popular concert hall of Portland. Mr. Grant will be glad to welcome all of his Astoria friends.

R. L. Knapp, at one time connected with the Warrenton Tribune, and a member of the laity of the Baptist church, will, after his ordination, officiate in a ministerial capacity at Independence, where he has accepted a call to a pastorate.

Pearl, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Tabell, died at her home on Fifteenth street last night. The young girl was a sufferer from typhoid pneumonia, and had been ill for about a month. The interment will be at Bay Center, the former home of the family.

The steamers Elmore and Harrison arrived in yesterday from Tillamook. The captain of the Elmore stated the following vessels were bar-bound: Steam schooners Louella, News Boy and Amethyst, two-masted schooners Anna and Danielson, and the three-masted Maggie Searus.

There will be Swedish services in the Swedish Lutheran church at 10:30 a. m. English services at Mr. Hagsoth's on Young's river at 3 p. m. Lars Paul Edhjoen memorial service, Swedish, at 7:45 p. m. The pastor leaves for the East Tuesday, and will be back by the first Sunday in November.

The W. C. T. U. of this city has elected Miss Nellie Busby as superintendent of the local Loyal Legion. This junior organization of the temperance work is at present disbanded and it is the intention to reorganize the scattered forces and make the Legion an active body, as formerly.

A case of horse, wagon and telegraph pole in hideous confusion took place Thursday evening at the foot of Seventeenth street. The confusion started farther up the line, but the telegraph pole was the ending point. Repairs were made successfully, and the outfit is again doing business at the same old stand.

The Baptist young people gave a social last evening at their church which was well attended. A musical and literary program was rendered in an entertaining manner and was received with appreciative applause. After this the time was well spent in engaging games. If the opinions of those present are a criterion the evening was a delightful one.

F. A. Hazeltine, editor of the South Bend Journal, was in Astoria yesterday. Mr. Hazeltine says his town is in a flourishing condition. The sawmills are running over-time to fill orders and new mills are being built. The association has been buying fish there, competing with the independent cannerymen, and exceptionally good prices are the result. Mr. Hazeltine is making a tour of his country.

The disagreement between City Treasurer Carney of Astoria and Mr. Hamilton concerning the way to compute interest on warrants on which partial payments have been made, has reached Portland, according to the Telegram, which says accountants there differ. It quotes, however, an expert who explains the processes and says the merchant rule adopted by the council is unfair when applied to notes or accounts running for a longer period than one year.

What was nearly a case of man overboard, but which resulted only in a very bad scare, occurred yesterday on the water-front. A steamer had landed at a dock and one of the passengers, in haste to disembark, did not wait for the plank to be put out, but placing his foot upon the gunwale of a life boat, which was on the upper deck of the steamer, attempted to step to the dock, somewhat farther out and higher than he expected. The small boat turned, as a natural consequence of the weight on the one side, and the gentleman missed his footing on the dock and fell, barely catching with his hands where he had intended to put his foot. Deliberately drawing himself up, he stepped on the dock and walked calmly away without a word. Every one who saw the occurrence breathed easier when it was over.

A telegram in yesterday's Oregonian gives the world the vitally important information that there is snow on the summit of Mary's Peak. Mary's Peak is in Benton county, although the map doesn't show it. In connection with this now snow-capped elevation Rev. P. S. Knight, of Salem, tells a little story. A newly arrived Englishman started from Corvallis westward on the winding Yaquina railroad. He crossed a little stream and enquired its name. "Mary's river" was the reply. A few minutes later again a stream was crossed. "What is that?" asked Victoria's subject. "Mary's river," was again the reply. Four or five times the same question brought the same answer. Then the Englishman saw a large mountain. "Now what's that?" he asked. "Mary's Peak," came the response. The Britisher pondered. On a side hill he noticed a be-whiskered billy-goat. "Yes, yes," he muttered, "and there is Mary's little lamb."

COUNTY CHANGES PROCEDURE. Astoria Will Get No More Money for Streets From County Road Funds.

The county court yesterday made an important decision regarding road affairs and incidentally a city council something to think about.

In fixing the tax levies, no levy was made for road purposes, and none will be made, the court announced, unless the petitions now being circulated in the county show, when filed, that a majority of the voters desire the special levy of 5 mills for a term of four years, as set forth in the text of the petitions.

If such levy is made, the proceeds will be wholly applied in the construction of new county roads.

The county court for several years has made a special levy for road purposes of 2 and 4 mills. Under the city charter of Astoria, as amended in 1885, all the road money and poll tax collected inside the city limits, which has amounted to about $4,000 each year, has been turned over to the council to be used only in the construction of street crossings and repairing of county roads in the city limits. The county outside of Astoria and Warrenton has received only about $2,500 each year for road purposes.

The county court believes that such a state of things is not equitable, and hence will make no voluntary special levy. The road supervisors will be directed to enforce the provisions of that section of the code which provides for the collection of a poll tax of $2 from every male, unless exempt by law, between the ages of 21 and 50, and $1.50 on each assessed $1,000 of property, for road purposes. The proceeds will be used as most needed.

The levies were fixed as follows: For county purposes, 14.5 mills; a decrease of 2.5 mills; interest on warrants, 2.5 mills; balance 1892 state tax, 2 mills; county schools, 7 mills. There is a special tax of 1.5 mills for the Young Bay bridge, made two years ago.

The action of the county court relative to the road tax levies opens up a new field of thought for the city dads of Astoria. The only charter provisions for street-crossing construction and maintenance is that above mentioned, which contemplates the use for this purpose of the money raised within the city limits by the county levy for road purposes. Until the charter can be amended, the council will probably have to divert the necessary money from the general funds.

Miss Sigae Palmberg, recently arriving from the East, desires to announce to the ladies of Astoria that she has opened dressmaking parlors on Ninth street, near Commercial, next door to Dellinger's printing office. Miss Palmberg has had thorough experience in cutting and fitting ladies' garments of all kinds, particularly tailor-made suits and cloaks of the latest and most fashionable designs.

A. L. Sloop is somewhat wrothy over attempts to injure his milk business made by interested parties, who are making use of the misfortune of Mr. Beecher Sloop. The latter contracted the disease with which he is now afflicted at the state fair, and he had severed all connection with the milk ranch some time before that. He lives in Astoria, and has no more to do with the A. L. Sloop milk ranch than with any other ranch that supplies Astoria people with milk. Were there the slightest ground for the doubt that rivals are trying to create, the city physician would have ordered the wagons to cease delivering. Mr. H. L. Sloop is not worried over any prospective loss of business, but the implied charge that he would in the slightest degree endanger the health of his patrons does distress him.

I desire to state that the light attack of varioloid with which I am suffering does not in any manner affect our milk route, as I have had no connection with the route of delivery for several weeks.

FINE OPENING. The North Pacific Dental College, whose advertisement appears in another column, opened its doors October 5, with 75 students on its roster. The college is well equipped with every facility to graduate students in all the latest knowledge of dentistry. A. R. Baker, D.D. S., is demonstrator in charge, and is well qualified to instruct all students who attend this college.

THE LOUVRE. Strangers visiting in the city will find the Louvre an attractive resort wherein to spend the evening. The Amme Sisters Ladies' Orchestra is still on the bills and presents nightly a musical program of exceptional merit. Handsome pool and billiard rooms are a feature in connection with the house. Palatable luncheons will be served at all hours.

LADIES' TAILOR-MADE SUITS. Ladies who go to Portland and desire something especially fine in the way of tailor-made suits will do well to remember that they can be well fitted at I. D. Boyer's 177 Fourth street, in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Not only does he keep a strictly first-class cutter for men's wear, but also one exclusively for ladies' work, and all can rest assured of getting not only good work, but the best of materials, as Mr. Boyer is an expert on woolen cloths.

WONDERFUL COMPANION. The man who works and is apt to sprain, scratch or otherwise injure himself should never be without the celebrated Century Liniment, 10c and 25c bottles, at J. A. Clemenson's drug store, 27 Yamhill street, Portland, Ore.

The woman who has a weak constitution, and who needs something to brace her up, should get the Natural Body Brace, the brace that braces the whole length of the body and that costs only $5. If you are not sure you need it, you can try it for 30 days, at the end of which time, if not satisfactory, you can return it. Write for a book with information. J. A. CLEMENSON, 27 Yamhill street, Portland, Ore.

An Attraction for the Ladies.

At the exposition in Portland there is an object of especial interest to the ladies in the way of an ideal waist and skirt supporter. By those qualified to judge, it meets every requirement of such an article. It is non-rusting, will support the heaviest skirts, is completely hidden, is very strong, is quick of action, does away with old hooks and eyes. There is a fine chance for a live agent for Astoria by addressing B. C. Wever, 175 Fourth street, Portland.
