The British ship Conway, Captain Simmons, arrived yesterday, after a passage of 40 days from Shanghai. The Conway reached the mouth of the river in 30 days, having made a rattling trip. Mrs. Lee Herring met with a painful accident Sunday night at her home on Commercial street. While going through the conservatory she slipped on a piece of broken glass, breaking the bones in the right wrist. A physician was summoned and the injury attended to, but it cannot yet be determined whether the hand will be permanently disabled or not.

Residents of the West Side who arrived in the city yesterday report that the storm did much damage there, nearly all the fences being blown down. At Seaside the new Calvary church was blown onto an adjoining lot, but was only slightly damaged. Great damage was also done to the jetty, 500 yards of which was destroyed. The break is some distance from the outer end of the jetty.

Admission by card only.

We mentioned last week that the Bucoda sawmill had been sold to some Portland and Astoria parties and would probably be moved away from Bucoda. Later information is to the effect that the parties who bought the mill have secured a large tract of timber at Bucoda and that their stay here will be prolonged indefinitely. The price is believed to have been $15,000 for the mill instead of $50,000 as stated in the dispatch.—Chehalis Bee-Nuggett.

The San Francisco Examiner of Saturday reports the approaching death of Dr. Levi C. Lane, of San Jose and San Francisco. Dr. Lane is one of the leading physicians of the world and the announcement of his condition will be sad news to the medical fraternity, especially on this coast, where he was well-known. Dr. Lane's last patient was Homer L. Fletcher, of this city, upon whom a most delicate operation was successfully performed. Dr. Lane's death is momentarily expected.

Mr. Hammond's advent at Eureka, California, has been a boon to property owners there. Some week ago J. H. Mannel wrote M. DeLin and asked him to look into proper values in the Northern California city. Mr. DeLin writes that before Mr. Hammond became interested in the heavy property owners were all in debt, but that prosperous conditions since prevailing have enabled them to realize handsomely. Mr. Hammond has caused more than $5,000,000 to be spent at Eureka and in the immediate vicinity of the city.

Circuit Judge McBride no longer wears the mustache that formerly adorned his face. Yesterday afternoon a reporter stopped the judge on the street to joke him about the loss of his mustache, expressing the hope that his honor would permit it again to grow. Asked why he had so altered his personal appearance, Judge McBride replied: "The first of the month came around, and it was necessary for me to disguise myself or pay my bills. Being possessed of 15 cents, I got a shave." The judge is enjoying excellent health.

The filing of a large number of deeds yesterday is understood to be in connection with a big timber deal that has just been consummated in Clatsop and Tillamook counties. Many other deeds to land are reported to have been prepared for filing, and it is expected they will be recorded in a few days. Several big timber deals are on just at present, one, it is said, involving the erection here of a large sawmill. As yet the details of this matter has not been fully closed. It is also reported that the several deals now being negotiated mean extensive development of the lumber industry.

The council is having more trouble with the alleged engine house built for it by the school board. The city gave in return the handsome brick building at the corner of Fourth and Bond. During the storm of the last few days the engine house, at Seventh and Commercial, was so badly wrenched that it is now impossible to close the big doors. Mr. Svenson last night asked for an appropriation to make repairs, and the requisition was granted. Mr. Hansen said the doors were heavier than the building, and intimated that another blow might possibly carry away the structure and leave nothing but the doors. Councilmen feel that the school board has gold-bricked the city, and that every storm that blows along will necessitate repairs.

The Ministerial Association, this city, has planned to hold a union meeting once every three months in the interest of temperance. The first of the series was held Sunday evening at the Baptist church, which was well filled by the crowd in attendance. The address, delivered by Rev. H. Oberg, on the subject, "The Saloon—Why It Must Go," was characterized by logic in thought, earnestness in style and temperance in expression. The speaker said in part: "The saloon must go because (1) it is a menace to the community financially; (2) it is a menace to the community morally; (3) it is a menace to the very life of the church. It is claimed that the saloon must be maintained because it is a revenue producer. If it is such, Astoria should be in easy circumstances, as she has a sufficient number of saloons. But instead of that the city has about reached the limit of indebtedness provided by law, although all kinds of licensed vice are run wide open. The saloon is not properly a revenue producer, but it is a revenue destroyer, because it lessens the amount of taxable property by absorbing the revenues of individuals, lessens the amount of money available for paying taxes in the same way, and by its effects creates heavier burdens of taxation, which are useless and avoidable."

Circuit Judge McBride yesterday issued an injunction restraining the county court from awarding the county printing contract pending settlement of the suit filed by the Herald

Publishing Company. The complaint in which the injunction is asked for recites that the county court has irregularly awarded the contract to the News and Budget. It goes on to relate that the law requires the contract to be awarded to the paper having the largest circulation; that the Herald filed a list of its subscribers, and was entitled to the contract. "That thereafter and on or about January 28, J. H. D. Gray, county judge of Clatsop county, sneaked around to publishers of the Budget, News and Astorian and quietly asked them to put in bids for the county printing," which was done. The complaint further alleges that the county will be required to pay $20 more to the News and Budget than the printing expense would have been had the Herald been awarded the contract. The plaintiff asked that the injunction be issued and that it be awarded $100 damages and cost of the suit. A temporary injunction was issued, to be effective only until the defendants, Judge Gray and Commissioners Peterson and Young, filed $100 bonds with County Clerk Wierthy.

The Commercial Club bowlers have given up matinee contests, owing to the poor light in the afternoon, and hereafter the practice games will be bowled at night. Sunday afternoon the alleged first team and an especially selected aggregation, with an appropriate handicap, tried conclusions, the picked team winning three of the four games. The scratch crowd bowled miserably. The next practice contest will occur Friday evening, commencing at 7:30, and it is expected the scoring will be much better than that which has characterized the afternoon games. On the return of the Multnomah championship team from the Sound the Portland bowlers will pay a friendly visit to the local club, and later the Commercial Club will return the visit. Secretary Malloy, of the cocked-hat association, writes Mr. Wise that he will endeavor to arrange for another state championship series, the competing clubs to represent The Dalles, Salem, Portland and Astoria. The three-men team contests this week have resulted thus far in a victory for Mark Hanna's crowd—Lewis, Kearney and Hannaford. These highlanders bowled a total of 578 yesterday, the greatest total yet scored. Mathena, Ralston and Ross had a chance to win the buttons last night, but fell down in the last two games, after bowling a 50 average for the first two games. Their team total was 540. Noland, Thorburn and Laurin secured 507; Prael, Mansur and Pye, 518; Wright, Struble and Morse, 528, and Higgins, McCabe and Obler, 489. The games will probably be finished tonight.

THE REVISED BIBLE.

The new American standard revision of the Bible brings it up to date, without changing its meaning; but do the people want any change from the original copy? Thousands will answer "No." This would also be the popular answer if you ask people who have once tried Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to use some other remedy. New medicines come and go, but this old reliable remedy continues to be the favorite, because it can always be relied on in the most severe cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, flatulency, nervousness, constipation or biliousness. We would feel its beneficial effect from the start, and it will eventually restore you to perfect health. Our Private Die Stamp is over the neck of the bottle.
