Sunday was the hottest day Portland has known for a number of years, it being 97 deg. there at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At that time, Astoria people were enjoying 66 deg. weather.

The gasoline launch Sappho ran into C. J. Davis' fishing boat and swamped it. No one was injured. The accident was said to have been caused by the engine of the Sappho not working right.

The run of salmon is reported as being very good, and the fish are of a fine quality. The traps were lifted yesterday morning, and excellent hauls were made. There are quite a number of gillnetters fishing, and they are making money.

The Bailey Gatzert made her first trip yesterday down the river since her accident some two weeks ago. She carried a large number of passengers who were rushing away from the hot city of Portland to come and enjoy life near Astoria. While having her machinery fixed, the Bailey Gatzert was thoroughly overhauled, being newly painted, both inside and out, and the staterooms renovated. Always a handsome boat, the Bailey Gatzert now looks more beautiful than ever.

Messrs. R. M. Gaston and Martin Fowd enjoyed the first drive over the new Nehalem road or road 77, as it is familiarly known last night. The road has been somewhat delayed owing to the necessary dyking, but this work was completed at 6 o'clock last evening by the Columbia Digger Co. and these gentlemen who have labored delightfully for this improvement had the great pleasure of driving out as far as Andrew Young's home. The return drive to Mr. Gaston's barn only took 55 minutes and the gentlemen are greatly pleased with the road. Considering it a perfect success, and feel that the importance of the road is one that will add greatly to the city benefits.

The British ship Emphrosyna arrived in Sunday afternoon from Newcastle N. S. W., with a cargo of 2825 tons of coal for Portland. Captain Thompson reports a fine passage of 63 days, with very few incidents outside of the regular routine passage. About a week out from Newcastle, they sighted the ship Natherly. They also sighted the island of Tonga. This is Captain Thompson's fifth time to visit Astoria.

The German steamer Elba, Captain Bruhu, arrived in yesterday afternoon, and proceeded up for Portland a few minutes later. She was 22 days out from Shimonoseki Japan. Soon after leaving the Japanese coast, five stowaways, all Japanese boys, were found aboard. They are to be attended to in Portland. Captain Bruhu says he did not sight a sail on the way over. The Elba will load about 6000 tons of general cargo, for South Africa. She came over in ballast. Captain L. Betts too her up the river.

The inquest over the body of Harry Lautenback, the fisherman who committed suicide last Saturday evening, was held by Coroner Pohl yesterday morning. The jury returned a verdict of suicide. Lautenback was born in Harlingen, Holland, in 1852. He had been fishing in the Columbia for a number of years. In a letter written just before his death, he left all his property to his friend, George Munsell. Mr. Munsell was asked by his friend, in another part of the letter just referred to, to pay all debts owed by Lautenback.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular session last evening. A great deal of work was done. The committee on preparing the illustrated pamphlet reported that the work was progressing favorably and that it would be finished by the end of the month. The following letters were read which were replies to communications sent by the chamber:

Mr. E. C. Holden, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Astoria, Oregon.—Sir: Your letter of the 29th inclosing copy of report of committee on commerce and navigation to the Chamber of Commerce is received.

The questions raised by the committee will receive full consideration in any plan of improvement adopted. In regard to the dredging by the U. S. dredge which is in progress, the work is done on the lower part only on flood tide, this to prevent any matter in suspension being carried down in front of Astoria.

The interest felt in the matter by your chamber, and the desire expressed to co-operate with this office, is highly appreciated and it will be the endeavor of this office to adopt the plan of improvement which will economically subserve best the interests of navigation. Very respectfully,

W. C. LANGFITT,

Captain, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A.

The following letter was received from the Astoria Water Commission: The Astoria Chamber of Commerce, Astoria, Oregon.—Gentlemen: At the regular meeting of the Water Commission, held on August 5th, 1902, your communication and also a copy of the resolution passed by your honorable body regarding the extension of the distribution system to Smith's Point and to Alderbrook received consideration and I am instructed to inform you that both projects are receiving the earnest attention of the Commission.

With regard to the Alderbrook extension the commission has already had a route surveyed from a point about three miles out on Pipe Line road into Alderbrook with the intention of supplying the east end of the city direct from the conduit, and it is now in correspondence with Mr. A. L. Adams on the subject, who, in his last communication under date of August 1, 1902, stated that a competent hydraulic engineer, who had been doing some work for him, would be at liberty in about two weeks, and that he would consult with him on the matter and that if the commission decided to make the change he would come up and permanently locate the line and take charge of the work.

Yours respectfully, ASTORIA WATER COMMISSION, By J. H. Mansell, Clerk.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED AT SEA.

The new system of wireless telegraphy renders it possible the realization of the prediction that newspapers would be published on the ocean liners. They could not, however, be as much up-to-date or effective as those published on land. In this respect they would differ widely from the famous Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, because it has been proven to be just as effective on sea as on land. We would therefore urge everyone contemplating an ocean trip to take a supply with them. It is invaluable as a tonic and preventive of sea-sickness. Those who remain on land should always keep a bottle of it in the house to cure heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and malaria. Don't fail to try it.
