SALMON MARKET NOW LOOKING UP
Encouraging Report Made By Samuel Elmore, Just Back From the East.

GROWING DEMAND FOR FISH
Medium and High Grade Markets are in Fine Condition and an Increased Demand is Quite Probable.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elmore returned home Sunday night from the east, where they had been visiting for the past two months. Their trip included stays at New York, Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and most eastern cities, and proved a most enjoyable one. While away Mr. Elmore paid especial attention to the salmon market, and his report is an encouraging one.

"The market for salmon is in fine condition," said Mr. Elmore yesterday afternoon. "The supply and demand are about equal, and there are no heavy carry-over stocks. Indeed, I look to see some of the jobbers replenish before spring. The demand for medium and high grade salmon is steady, and, while much cheap fish is being used, the only probable surplus will be in southeastern Alaska dog salmon. Sockeyes have been rather scarce this season, owing to the short pack, but, notwithstanding this shortage, I know of a Chicago broker who bought sockeye salmon for $1.75 1-2 for flats, whereas the price on the coast is $1.25 for flats.

"The consumption of salmon has really been wonderful. It is becoming greater with every year, and more and more salmon is being regarded as a desirable article of food. There is no special indication of a big advance in prices, but everything points to maintenance of the present offerings. I expect a stiffening in demand, on account of the shortage of the supply of some of the brokers."

The demand for Elmore salmon has been particularly healthy, and is now greater than the possible supply. The merits of this grade of fish have become more widely known and recognized over the salmon consuming portion of the country and brokers have found it a first-class seller.

Mr. Elmore states that there has been heavy demand for canned goods of all kinds, and that prices have advanced over opening figures and are high. This is especially true of corn and tomatoes. While the salmon packers are often worried because of their failure to deliver all the fish demanded of them, their lot is a happy one compared with that of the corn and tomato packers this season. The corn packers have in some instances delivered as low as 25 percent of their sales, and eastern buying is demoralized in consequence.

THE G. A. R. REUNION.
The most interesting feature of Mr. Elmore's visit was the G. A. R. reunion at Washington. Mr. Elmore was a delegate to the national encampment and was also delegated by the commander-in-chief as an aide to the grand marshal. The procession of veterans was made up of more than 40,000 persons, and in the line of march were the drummers who had beaten time in 1861. Never again will there be such a gathering of history makers in this country. The convention was remarkable, Mr. Elmore says, for the oratorical efforts of the delegates. It was, of course, an occasion for unbounded enthusiasm, and the nominating speeches were marked with scenes that will never be forgotten.

At the encampment Mr. Elmore had the good fortune to meet an officer who served with his company in the Civil war—the second lieutenant of the Seventh Wisconsin, known in that great struggle as the "Iron Brigade." Mr. Elmore had last seen him in 1865, and the meeting, it is needless to say, was a pleasant one.

Asked about the political situation in the east, Mr. Elmore said: "Well, they're all republicans back there," and then laughingly qualified by adding, "in some parts of the country." He said that millionaires were very numerous, and that the man with a million had to make room nowadays for the man with 10 millions.

While Mr. Elmore's visit was a very enjoyable one, he is glad to again be home, for in all his travels he failed to find a climate equal to that of Astoria.

SALT TRUST IS KILLED
Most Important Decision Rendered In United States Circuit Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—After United States Attorney Woodworth concluded his argument today in the United States circuit court upon the petition to destroy the Federal Salt Co. and its associates, as a trust, Judge Morrow ordered that a temporary injunction be made permanent as to all the defendants except the Imperial Salt company.

The decision kills the salt trust.

STRANGE SLEEP ANALYZED
Caused by Self-Hypnotism—Theory Already Formed Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Details concerning the autopsy performed on the body of Nellie Corcoran, the 19 year old girl who died Saturday after a trance of twenty days was interpreted as confirming the theory that her condition was due to hysteria. No sign of disease was found in any organ. The physicians believe the girl's original sleep was caused by self-hypnotism and that hysteria followed.

PROMINENT MINISTER ILL
Is Stricken In His Pulpit Just As He Was Opening Prayer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Dr. John Reid of the Memorial Presbyterian church, one of Brooklyn's best known ministers, was stricken suddenly in his pulpit just as he was beginning a prayer. His collapse was caused from acute indigestion and his condition is reported as being serious.

The church was crowded by the fashionable congregation when the minister was overcome. Several of those sitting near the pulpit sprang to his aid and caught him as he fell. A doctor who was present worked over him 15 minutes and after restoring consciousness the minister was taken to his home and the congregation which had been greatly excited was dismissed.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY
ISSUE INVOLVES DUTY ON SUGAR AND TOBACCO—COMPROMISE IS LIKELY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Cuban reciprocity treaty remains in Havana. President Palma has supplied to Senator Quesada, the Cuban minister here, full instructions as to the representations to be made to the United States government respecting it, and these have already been made known to Secretary Hay.

It is gathered that the main issue is the rate of rebate to be allowed upon Cuban sugar and tobacco entering the United States, and it is probable there will be a compromise between the 25 percent which the United States government is willing to allow and the 50 percent which the Cubans demand.

POLICE CAPTAIN IN JAIL
Charged With Having Been Recipient of Blood Money.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—After serving over a quarter of a century on the police force, ex-Captain D. C. Moynihan has been taken to police headquarters and placed in a cell there a prisoner. He was arrested at his home on a warrant issued by Justice Holbrook of the court of special sessions on affidavits sworn to by a wardman formerly connected with the station of which Moynihan was in command prior to his retirement and by two Italians.

The specific charge against the former Captain is alleged failure to enforce the law against a resort conducted by Italians and for which it is asserted he was paid the sum of $40.

A police magistrate admitted the prisoner to bail of $2000, which was immediately furnished.

The Captain is said to be quite wealthy.

WHAT DID THEY GET BEFORE?
Salary of Native Miners Raised to $12.50 per Month.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Chamber of Mines, says a Times dispatch from Johannesburg by way of London, has agreed to the proposal that higher wages be paid to natives employed in the mines, the average being fixed at $12.50 a month.

The correspondent says that this probably will improve the chances of recruiting native labor, but it is to be feared that the scarcity will not be entirely overcome by raising the men's pay.

JURY GETS CASE THIS AFTERNOON
Fate of Roland B. Molineux to Be Determined Shortly in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The fate of Roland B. Molineux, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams, will be determined tomorrow by the jury which has listened to the evidence presented at the second trial. Justice Lambert announced late today that he would allow Assistant District Attorney Osborne two and one-half hours more to finish summing up his case, which means that the court will deliver the charge and that the case will go to the jury during the afternoon.

A great crowd of people thronged the courtroom this morning, when ex-Governor Black made his opening address to the jury. He summed up the evidence adduced at the trial; told of the trouble between Molineux and Cornish, the latter having been reprimanded by the former in his capacity as a member of the house committee of the Knickerbocker club; of Cornish's insulting attitude toward the prisoner, and the gentlemanly demeanor of the latter at the time. He asked if it were reasonable to suppose that the poison which had killed Mrs. Adams could have been sent to Cornish by Molineux when the prisoner had all along shown the utmost patience in the trouble that came about through his controversy with Cornish.

Attorney Black ridiculed the testimony of the handwriting experts who said that the address on the box which contained the poison bottle was identical with that of Molineux, and stated that Joseph Koch, the man who testified that Molineux had rented a box from him, that replies to anonymous letters bearing on the case might be received without divulging the identity of the recipient, had "peddled his story and his eternal soul at the same time." There was absolutely nothing, said the counsel, that could be regarded as proof of the guilt of the defendant, and he mercilessly scored the prosecution for its attempts to convict a man whose innocence was apparent to the counsel for the state. In reviewing the testimony of Koch, the letterbox man, Black said he testified that the renter wore a brown overcoat; that it was proven that Molineux did not wear a brown overcoat in 1898, but that Cornish did. Cornish, who was in court, seemed to be mindful of the line of argument of the defense, and occasionally laughed aloud when his name was mentioned.

Molineux and his counsel are certain that the trial will result in an acquittal. Mr. Osborne and his assistants say they have made out a strong case, and that if Molineux is not convicted there will be a disagreement.

STATE'S CASE ALMOST DONE
Former Governor Black Yesterday Summed up the Testimony and Today the Prosecution Will Finish.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—It is expected that the differences between Great Britain and Germany regarding the evacuation of Shanghai will be the subject of a number of questions this week in the house of commons, says a Tribune dispatch from London, although possibly the government is not yet in a position to make a statement on the subject, while it would be obviously awkward to have a debate when the Kaiser is a guest of this country.

It was not republican doctrine, he said, and he did not think it would meet the approval of the American people.

EVACUATION OF SHANGHAI
Discussion of the Subject is Likely to Cause Embarrassment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—It is expected that the differences between Great Britain and Germany regarding the evacuation of Shanghai will be the subject of a number of questions this week in the house of commons, says a Tribune dispatch from London, although possibly the government is not yet in a position to make a statement on the subject, while it would be obviously awkward to have a debate when the Kaiser is a guest of this country.

CHAFFEE TALKS OF PHILIPPINES
Says Civilization Has Worked Wonders in Way of Bettering Natives.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The transport Summer arrived this evening from the Philippines. On board were General Chaffee and wife, Vice-governor Wright of the Philippine commission and Mrs. Wright, General Chaffee's staff, Judge James H. Blount of the Philippines insular government, Lieutenant-Colonel James T. Kerr and wife and a large number of officers' wives returning. General Chaffee said:

"I could not be more pleased with the situation in the Philippines. Civilization has accomplished wonders and the natives are fast recognizing the institutions of this government. Of course, some provinces are unsettled and we expect to meet with further trouble, but, beyond an occasional skirmish here and there, I look for no great difficulties requiring unusual force to subdue.

"The greatest difficulty we experience in the islands is overcoming the legends and superstitions of the people. To this one feature is largely due the spread of pestilential disease among them. They cannot be made to submit to or to understand modern methods of treatment, nor can they be made to see the utility of an up to date sanitary system."

RAILROADS AT WAR
GREAT NORTHERN BUILDS ITS TRACK ACROSS ANOTHER LINE DURING THE NIGHT.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Nov. 10.—The crew of the Great Northern railway last night put in a crossing over the line of the Kettle Valley railway about three miles from town. It was discovered this morning, when the Kettle Valley people placed an engine in position at the crossing to prevent the approach of the Great Northern construction train, which was equipped to complete the track laying into the Grand Forks depot. The locomotive still holds the crossing.

The Kettle Valley road has applied for an injunction restraining the Great Northern from crossing its track. The case is to come up for hearing on the 14th instant.
